Lori Vadala Bizzoco was a high profile public relations expert with 15 years of experience whose life was perfect....except for one thing. She was single and not meeting any prospects that could lead to the marriage and family she wanted more than anything. Three years ago, Lori did something radical. SHE THREW AWAY HER LIST. That's right. She took her carefully crafted list of all of the attributes she deeply desired in a soul mate and she threw it away. Now she is married to her True Love, has a two year old and another baby on the way. Lori's inspirational story will open your eyes to how a trusted soul mate manifestation tool may just be blocking your way to True Love.
