According to UsMagazine.com, Khloe and Lamar officially divorced in July 2015. Khloe likes to check in on her ex from time to time to see how he is doing, but her sister is nervous for her to do so. Kim stated on their show, “I don’t know why Khloe and Lamar are talking, but he hurt her so badly. As a big sister, I’m protective. For her to just be flirting with him on the phone makes me sick to my stomach.”

This celebrity news clearly shows family support. What are some ways to support a loved one in his or her relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Family will always be the most important thing in life, and blood will always be thicker than water. It’s important to always support your relatives and their relationships with their loved ones. Cupid has some relationship advice:

1.Put in time: A great thing to do to show your family member that you support them and their relationship, is by taking the time to get and know their partner. Perhaps go to dinner together or have a coffee date. Try and get to know the person, it will make your relative happy. They care about you and want you to like this new person in their life.

2. Ask questions: When your family member is talking to you, inquire about their personal life and their intimate relationship. Ask how their partner is doing, what is new in their life and show that you care. They will see you are putting in effort to get to know the person. As well as the fact that you are showing that this person is important in their life and it shows that you accept and respect that.

3. Show interest: When your relative is telling you about a story, or asking advice, or expressing concerns, show that you are interested in what they are actually saying. Even if you aren't crazy in love with their partner too, put on a happy face and act like you are super interested – because it matters to them so it should matter to you, too.
