How can you make a proposal special yet personal?

Cupid's Advice:

Shelton's personal touches made his proposal all the more significant to Lambert – and didn't require too much extra effort on his part. When planning that special moment, think about what will mean the most to the other person so the experience is memorable for you both.

1. It's not the size that counts: While there might be societal pressure for a grand gesture, sometimes simpler is better. Make it about the personal connection between the two of you.

2. WWT?: What Would They Do? Think about how the other person would propose, which may reveal what they'd want out of an engagement. Make it about the other person.

3. Be sincere: Speak from your heart, and tell them exactly how you feel. Don't say something cheesy just because you feel you should. Every word, even something as simple as "I love you," counts. Make sure you mean each one.
