Cortney Moore

March 2016 to Present
Editorial Assistant
Programmer, video editor, and certified in fashion design, Cortney Moore is an alumna from Hofstra University, where she earned her B.A. in Journalism and Minor in Fine Arts. At Hofstra, she is pursuing her dream as a broadcast and online journalist. As a senior in high school, Cortney was inspired by the likes of Giuliana Rancic and Jeannie Mai and intends to break into fashion and entertainment news. A hopeless romantic, she aims to provide relationship advice that will help others find The One. Her favorite celebrity couple is Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith. The best piece of dating advice she has ever received is that real love takes work: "Falling in love is easy. Choosing to stay in love is hard."
Cortney's Expertise: Celebrity News, Celebrity Couples, Celebrity Beauty
