Tyler Cameron addressed his future with Bachelorette Hannah Brown after she asked him out during the show's two-part season finale, according to UsMagazine.com in celebrity news. Does this mean there's a possible celebrity couple on the horizon? On Tuesday, July 30, Brown opted to make a "bold gesture" when she suggested the pair "go for a drink" on Nick Viall's "Viall Files" podcast. Cameron responded that he would love to and he wants to take things slow.

In celebrity news, Tyler is looking to take things with Hannah “one day at a time.” What are some ways to take things slowly in your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Amidst speculation that Tyler Cameron may be the next lead man for The Bachelor, things may change if he keeps things going with Hannah Brown. We hope the best for these two! Cupid has some advice on how to take things slowly like Hannah and Tyler:

1. Have self-discipline: Taking things slow means you're allowed to step back and think about your dating situation before you commit to anything. Don't rush into bed, living together, or constantly text each other because you're worried your potential partner will lose interest. Be sure to keep your head on straight before listening to your heart.

2. Be honest with each other: Honesty truly is the best policy, so be honest with your partner about why you want to take things slow. Maybe you want to get to know them better or you've been burned by an ex in the past, so you want to be ready you can go all-in before you take your relationship further.

3. Longer lasting relationship: Taking things slowly with each other will mean your relationship has the potential to last much longer than those moving their relationship much faster. You'll have time to build a solid foundation and partnership so you can work together as a team in your relationship and that means it could last for the rest of your lives together.
