This celebrity wedding was a big surprise! What are some benefits to keeping your wedding under wraps?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting married can be one of your most special moments in life, and you can feel very pressured in making sure that your big day is perfect for you and your partner. That being said, sometimes big life moments do not have to be such an event, but rather the moment itself is special enough. Sometimes getting carried away with a big guest list and making excessive plans can ruin the special moment, so Cupid has some advice on the benefits of keeping your wedding under wraps:

1. Fewer opinions: When fewer people know about your wedding or are invited to your wedding, it can put a lot less pressure on you and your partner. Everyone is going to have an opinion on something: the dress you are wearing, the food being served, the music being played at the wedding, etc., so it is best that you focus on yourself and your partner's needs/wants rather than those of numerous guests. It is yours and your partner's special day, and no one else's!

2. Less money: If you are keeping the big day just between you and your partner then you certainly have no one but yourselves to impress. You are free to make whatever arrangements you want to for your wedding and do not have to worry about it being so extravagant for a big group of people. Anything like food, drinks, or seating will be completely up to you, as there will be very few or no guests in attendance.

3. More special: Your wedding could be a whole lot more special with just your dearest friends and family. Big extravaganzas can be fun, but they will not be as intimate as a small wedding with a select guest list. When your closest loved ones are there to watch you and your partner make vows to each other it can make the moment feel a lot more special, as opposed to inviting a list of guests you have no direct relationship with.
