New celebrity couple alert! In the latest celebrity news, Miley Cyrus and Cody Simpson seemed to be all smiles on their coffee date on Sunday afternoon in Los Angeles. According to UsMagazine.com, the two singers kept the date very casual. This comes after Simpson shared his romance with the news outlet saying, "We just have a ball and that's the most important part of a relationship. It hasn't been a really crazy sudden thing. We've been friends for so long that when we sort of found each other again in a space where we're not partying and working really hard, [we] just like [to] keep things healthy.”

This new celebrity couple seems to be hitting it off. What are some ways to know your new relationship is strong?

Cupid's Advice:

When you get into a new relationship, it can sometimes seem like everything is going so fast. There's the whirlwind romance, the attraction of everything that is fresh and new, and learning everything there is to know about this person. It can be fun and exciting, but it can also be difficult to know when a new relationship is becoming more than just a casual date. Fortunately, Cupid has some love advice on a few ways to know when your new relationship is going strong:

1. You're happy: This might seem obvious, but you'd be surprised how many people aren't genuinely happy with the one they're dating. Strong and healthy relationships should be full of as much fun and laughter as possible. We're not saying that every single moment of each other's relationship should be nothing but joy, but it should outweigh a lot of other emotions that make you both well... not happy.

2. There's trust: Strong relationships cannot be built unless they have a sturdy foundation of trust. You must be able to have a very healthy level of trust and commitment with each other before you can label your relationship a strong one. Communication and openness are a big key to having a successful bond with your significant other.

3. The relationship makes you feel safe: This is probably the most important aspect of a bond. Knowing that you have a sense of comfort and safety within another person is one of the best signs of knowing if your relationship is going strong. Your significant other should be a safety net to you when you need them. They should provide you with a stable home and a sense of calm when you need it. If you don't feel safe within your relationship, maybe you shouldn't still be with that person.
