In the latest celebrity news, Kristin Cavallari and Jay Cutler celebrated Halloween together with their kids despite being in the midst of a divorce. According to EOnline.com, Cavallari shared an Instagram post showcasing the celebrity exes' costumes, along with those of their three children. The couple first announced their divorce in April of this year after ten years of marriage, and Cavallari has been rumored to be casually dating comedian Jeff Dye.

In celebrity news, these exes took the high road and celebrated Halloween together with their kids. Why should you come together as a family for holidays if you're not together as a couple anymore?

Cupid's Advice:

Holidays can be challenging for separated families, especially when both parents want to be present. Even though it may be difficult to come together for a holiday with your ex, it may be worth it. If you are looking for some reasons to come together as a family for the holidays, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Create new memories: Holidays are the perfect occasion for creating memories with your children. It is important not to skip out on these types of memories just because you are no longer with your partner. Looking back, both you and your children will be happy you chose to spend these days together as a family despite any differences.

2. Demonstrate healthy relationships: Spending the holidays together despite no longer being together is a great way to demonstrate healthy relationships to your children. They will learn that even if two people have a differing opinion on something, it is still possible to compromise and communicate effectively. They will also learn how to set realistic expectations and boundaries in their future relationships.

3. Relieve family stress: Whether people are showing it or not, the holidays can be stressful for everyone involved in a separated family. While you may be worrying about not being able to see your children on a specific holiday, they may be facing the same fear. By making an effort to all be in the same house, you'll be relieving stress for everyone involved.
