What are some ways to get your partner to stop nit picking?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're with someone almost all the time, you can't help but interfere with parts of their life. But sometimes, it gets to be a little too much interfering. How do you get your partner to back off a little? Here are some tips:

1. Have a talk with them: You can first start the nice way by simply sitting them down and explaining to them that you need to do some things your own way. They should be understanding and respectful that you approached them the way you did.

2. Leave them hanging: If you slowly stop telling them your daily plans, they'll feel know something's up. They'll ask what's wrong, and you can tell them why you don't want them to know what you're doing, because they'll get in the middle of it.

3. Do it right back: If nothing else has worked, try the Odom method and do what they're doing to you right back to them. Your significant other will see how annoying it is to be meddling all the time that they'll get the picture and eventually stop.
