By Brittany Stubbs

Could there be wedding bells in the future for Ashton Kutcher and Mila Kunis? Multiple sources tell UsMagazine.com yes! The couple has been dating for nearly two years, and now that Kutcher and Demi Moore have finalized their divorce, Kutcher is most-likely getting ready to pop the question. "They talk about getting married and having kids. An engagement is imminent," says a source.

How do you determine the right time for a marriage proposal?

Cupid's Advice:

Getting engaged is not only about finding the right person, but the right timing:

1. Financially stable: Money isn't everything, but if you or your partner are currently going through a hard time financially, it's probably not the right time to start planning a wedding. Not only could money problems have influence on the wedding details, but it's also an extremely stressful time, which is not the state of mind one should be in when getting excited about an engagement.

2. Family approves: If you've talked to both your family and their family about an engagement in the near future and they're supportive, this is a great sign it's the right time to propose.

3. It's a stable time in your relationship: Sure, couples will have their fights every now and then, but if you've been going strong for a while without any serious fights or having to "take a break," this is a sign your relationship might be ready to take the next step. Many couples will try and get engaged to fix their problems when they're going through a rough patch, but their conflicts will still be there at the end of the day. Wait till you feel you and your partner are strong and secure as a couple before popping the question.
