What are some ways to separate your work life from your personal life when you work with your partner?

Cupid's Advice:

So, you work with your significant other? That is a lot of face time, and Cupid can see how that could get tricky. Here are some ways to keep the personal out of the professional:

1. Set ground rules: make sure that you have a open and honest conversation with your partner before entering into the work place (or if you are already in it and have not discussed work place etiquette do so now). You will feel better once you talk through the day to day routine of how you will present the relationship and work together.

2. Zero tolerance policy on fighting: There should never be any reason to be having a personal argument at work. Nothing is more awkward than having it out with someone in front of other people, the last thing you want is for that other person to be your boss.

3. Work hard to play hard: Make sure you are both doing your best and giving work your all. Because if you are working for the weekend with your partner, make the work count so that you can have some fun together off the clock.
