Channing Tatum

Channing Tatum was clearly created by the gods to fulfill every girl's dream – he is one hunky man! He is an American actor who has starred in several films, including Foxcatcher, 22 Jump Street, Magic Mike, The Vow, and Step Up. He was born on April 26, 1980 in Cullman, Alabama but spent most of his life in Tampa, Florida. He was offered a football scholarship to Glenville State College in West Virginia but turned it down to pursue other interests. He was a stripper at a local night club before he was discovered on the streets of Miami by a modeling agency. He was then featured in print ads for Gap, Nautica, and Abercrombie and Fitch. As his career continued, he appeared in Ricky Martin's "She Bangs" video as well as several commercials. After a small role on CSI: Miami, he decided to pursue acting and hasn't stopped since.

Channing Tatum has managed to keep his relationship and love life mostly private. In 2009, he married his Step Up co-star Jenna Dewan, and in 2013, the famous couple welcomed their first child, a celebrity baby girl named Everly.
