Just when it seemed all hope was lost for celebrity couples, Julianne Hough and her boyfriend Brooks Laich prove love is still real in Hollywood. As UsMagazine.com reported, Hough announced her celebrity engagement on Instagram with a black and white photo of the adorable duo embracing in a kiss. She captioned the photo expressing her excitement for the “wedding planning adventures” to come. On her blog, she continued to show signs of complete bliss as she promised to share some “exclusive details and pics” with fans in the next few days.

We're excited for some happy celebrity engagement news! What are some ways to creatively utilize social media to announce your engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

After becoming engaged, one of your first instincts will be to frantically post on social media. However, by resisting that initial urge to ramble on social media with a blurry and unfocused picture, you can wait to post and produce a well-planned engagement announcement. Cupid has some suggestions to keep your engagement announcement on social media from being too cliché:

1. "How we met" caption: Everyone already knows you're in love, but most people probably don't know the story of how you and your fiancé fell in love. Caption your engagement photo with the heart-warming story of where, when and how you met each other, as it will be sure to capture the hearts of your audience members.

2. Silly poses: Take a look at Pinterest, and you can find a million engagement photo ideas that range from ones for coffee lovers to technology geeks. Pick one that perfectly describes your relationship, whether it be posing with your dogs or modeling at the beach, and you can create an engagement photo that is unforgettable.

3. Create a wedding hashtag: Use a wedding hashtag at the end of your post so you can keep all of your special day photos connected forever. Encourage family, friends and bridesmaids to use it so you can capture (and hopefully laugh at) all of those crazy moments leading up to your wedding.
