Ciara and second husband Russell Wilson announced their celebrity pregnancy just three short months after their fairytale celebrity wedding. Ciara commented on this choice, saying, "You shouldn't feel like you have to give your body away to get someone to like you." And it certainly seems like Wilson fits the bill when it comes to liking her! He gushed about his wife and the mother of his child, saying, "She's everything you could ever want, honestly" and added that he had suspected for a long time that they might be a good fit. "I told somebody, 'I'm probably going to end up with Ciara,'" Wilson confessed.

This duo is too cute, and they've now added a celebrity baby to the mix! What are some ways to know your relationship is ready for children?

Cupid's Advice:

Parenting can seem like a huge, daunting responsibility. Cupid is here with the top tips on knowing when you and your partner are ready for your next big adventure; kids:

1. You're financially secure: Before you and your partner start taking the necessary steps to expanding your family tree, make sure you're in a good place financially to add a member to your family unit. After all, to give your child a wonderful life, you'll need some sort of financial security, and to be in a position where you can rest easy knowing that you'll always be able to provide for kid's wants and needs. Make sure both you and your partner are ready to make the sacrifices and do the hard work to be in a good financial position for your child's future.

2. Both you and your partner want children: This may seem like a no-brainer, but it's an important conversation to have. After all, for some having children is not even on their radar, and you don't want your partner to feel pressured into the decision to have a kid by your enthusiasm or desire for one. Sit down with your partner and make sure you're both on the same page, that you know what you want and that you have similar goals and plans for the future when it comes to your family-life.

3. You can present a united front with your partner: It's never a good idea to try and use a child to "save" an already-failing relationship. If you and your partner are on the rocks, have poor communication, or a ton of unresolved issues, deal with those issues first and foremost before even considering having a kid. While it may seem like having a child would bring you and your partner together, in reality, bringing children into an already crumbling relationship is just a recipe for disaster and a lot of hurt on every side.

Cupid's Advice:

With a baby on the way, traveling can seem like a daunting proposition. But there are tons of benefits to turning a romantic getaway into a special babymoon to celebrate your upcoming family addition. Here are Cupid's top tips on why you should prioritize a trip the next time you and your partner get such happy news:

1. It's your last chance to travel kid-free: While traveling while pregnant can be a mild ordeal, traveling with a baby or small child is exponentially more difficult! 2. It's a great way to bond: Even if you're both super excited to be parents, it's likely that if you don't get away to celebrate, "real life" may distract you from your happy news. Get away from the pressure of work and other time commitments for a bit, even if just for a weekend, and really focus on the dreams, plans and hopes you have for this new special individual you're bringing into the world. One-on-one time will give you tons of opportunities to talk about your future favorite kiddo, and even make a great plan for your first few months as parents too.

Serena Williams Is Expecting a Celebrity Baby

By Wh

Serena Williams shared some exciting news via Snapchat: She's expecting a celebrity baby with fiancé Alexis Ohanian! As reported by EOnline.com, the sports queen posted a picture of herself in a yellow one-piece bathing suit with the caption, "20 weeks." The celebrity couple, who announced their engagement in late December, recently vacationed together in Tulum, Mexico – a babymoon, perhaps? Offering another hint about her celebrity pregnancy over the weekend, Williams posted a photo to Instagram and wrote, "Fighting to get up this morning." It's no surprise that this celebrity baby has already attended his or her first major sporting events: The tennis star was two months pregnant when she beat her sister at the 2017 Australian Open in January.

There's a sporty celebrity baby on the way! What are some factors to consider about your fitness routine while you're pregnant?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy changes a lot of things: what you can eat, what you can wear, and how you can exercise, just to name a few. If you have a baby on the way, here are some factors to consider about your fitness routine:

1. Listen to your body: Most importantly, pay attention to what your body's telling you. Pre-pregnancy, you may have pushed yourself to run that half-marathon as fast as you can. Now that there's a little one on the way, listen to how you feel: Are you uncomfortable? Do you feel faint? Are you drinking enough water? Do you need to take a break?

2. Drink plenty of water: Make sure you stay hydrated before, during, and after exercise. Dehydration during pregnancy can lead to a number of problems, including decreased blood flow to the placenta, early contractions, and increased risk of overheating.

3. Skip dangerous sports: Continue with your swimming or yoga practice for as long as you feel comfortable, but avoid sports that involve a lot of contact, like basketball or soccer, or that involve rapid movements and balance, like raquet ball, gymnastics, and water skiing.
