By Megan McIntosh

Breaking up is hard to do. Sometimes it's so hard that some couples don't remain broken up. Celebrity couple Cardi B and Offset have been on and off again since his cheating scandal last year. According to People.com, Cardi B and Offset finally had a public reunion at the Grammys, making it red carpet official. Cardi B has maintained that her relationship with her husband, while rocky, remains focused on their daughter, Kulture. Like many celebrity break-ups, Cardi B and Offset had to decide for their own family whether their celebrity marriage was worth another chance.

Break ups can be hard but deciding whether or not to give a relationship another chance can be even harder. What are some tips to deciding where or not to take an ex back?

Cupid's Advice:

Some celebrity couples call it quits and never try again. Others, like Cardi B and Offset, find themselves revisiting that old flame and keeping the fire going. As long as you go into a potential rekindling with a different mentality than the one that made you decide to break up, getting back with an ex can be a good idea when done right. Cupid has some tips:

1. Acknowledge that you have both grown: You may have broken up and the wounds may still be fresh but in order to move on together you have to let go of past hurts. You are both not the same person that you were when you ended your relationship previously.

2. Don't ignore the elephant in the room: Whatever the reason was for the break up, you can't pretend that it never happened. Don't be afraid to open up the communication about the break up without holding on to grudges or letting resentment build up. Be willing to have open communication like Miley Cyrus and her once ex (but now husband), Liam Hemsworth.

Cupid’s Advice:

Just because the spark went out doesn't necessarily mean your relationship is over. Here are some ways to work on a failing relationship:

1. Back off a little: It's sometimes best to back off a bit and let your relationship work itself out. Give your partner some space and spend some extra time with your friends. Putting too much pressure on your relationship and trying too hard to move it forward, can ultimately lead to disaster.

Celebrity dating can get just as messy as our own romantic lives. What are some ways of preventing the public backlash from getting you down after a breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

The last thing anyone wants to deal with after a rough breakup is societal backlash. We have some ways to prevent getting hurt by adverse reactions from the public:

1. Avoid new romantic opportunities right away: Let's face it, if someone says something hurtful, it's hard to ignore it. It's important to not give the public something to talk about and give yourself some time to heal before getting involved with someone new.

2. Take a break from some of the activities you do in town: It's good to keep participating in things you enjoy following a breakup, but it's not necessary to force yourself to see people who are going to ask too many questions. Pick and choose which activities you still want to participate in and take a break from the others for a bit.

3. Don't feel bad about having to avoid certain people: If it seems too difficult to keep in close contact with your ex's friends and relatives, who you've become close to, then take a little break from them. They may have their biases considering they're people you met through your ex-partner. You can avoid talking to them if you want to protect yourself from any negative comments that will ultimately hurt you.
