We get along very well, it's just there's a little something missing and you can't really pinpoint what it is. That's just how I feel." Wendt confirmed, saying, "I feel like that's normal and I feel like you get those connections all the time where if you take away our outside world and just put Ashley and me on an island together, we'd probably get along really well. And that's what Vermont was."

This celebrity break-up happened after a very short relationship.

What are some ways to know your relationship doesn't have longevity early on?

Cupid's Advice:

For the most part, we want the relationships we enter to last. Sometimes there are signs to look out for to tell if the relationship is most likely going to hit a dead end down the line. Cupid has a few red flags to share, get ready for some relationship advice:

1. Lack of trust: Trust is built overtime, but if there is no amount of trust, then the relationship will likely end soon. Trust is essential and can make or break a relationship. Consider the following: do you not trust them because of your own issues or actually because of them? Sometimes we have trouble trusting people, not because of what they do or the way they are, but because of what we've been through before them. This is something to consider before you go crazy over not trusting them, and thinking your relationship won't last. However, at the end, you need to learn to trust those who have earned it.

2. You can't agree on anything: There are certain things you should be agreeing on. It's okay to have differences in opinion, but if you can't agree on things like goals and the future, then this is a red flag. There should be some similarities when it comes to the important stuff. To add on, when disagreeing on things, the situation shouldn't get out of hand. You should be able to approach and get through the conversation calmly, not always ending in a fight— so this is something else to also look out for.

3. Commitment issues: The inability to fully commit to you and the relationship is an obvious red flag. But that is not the only thing we mean when we say commitment issues. There are other things to look out for. If you notice that your partner in general has an inability to commit to things, then that's a possible red flag that you guys won't work out. In a successful relationship, we need consistency and devotion. If your partner isn't dedicated, responsible, or is unable to pull through with their obligations, then it's a definite bad sign. We need someone we can count on at the end of the day.

By Jessica DeRubbo

It looks like Vanessa and Donald Trump Jr. are calling it quits on their marriage. According to EOnline.com, Vanessa filed for a celebrity divorce on Thursday in Manhattan Supreme Court. The celebrity couple have been married for 12 years and share five children. Since she filed for an uncontested proceeding, it looks like there more than likely won't be a custody battle. Donald Trump Jr. married Vanessa in 2005 at President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago estate in Palm Beach, FL. The President reportedly played matchmaker for the duo, as he introduced his eldest son to the model at a fashion show in 2003.

This celebrity divorce is very unfortunate for the pair's five children. What are some important factors to consider regarding your children during a split or divorce?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorces and/or splits are never fun for anyone involved, but sometimes it has the most lasting effects on kids. Cupid has some things to consider:

1. Always be open and honest with your kids: There's nothing worse than lying to your children, even if they're little white lies, because eventually the truth will come out. Sure, you don't necessarily want to air your dirty laundry about issues you have with your significant other with your kids, but try to be as straightforward as possible when letting them know about your split and the ramifications of it. They'll appreciate it in the end.

3. Listen to what your children are saying: Make sure to keep open lines of communication with your kids during this trying time. It's important that they feel they can talk to both you and your significant other and can ask any questions on their minds.

"Justin's family loves Selena, but Selena's family has put her in a very conflicting spot because they still don't trust Justin. Selena has tried to convince her family that Justin has changed ... but her family just isn't budging right now." Because Gomez's relationship with Mommy Dearest was affected after she got back with Bieber, there is tons of pressure and negativity in the air. "It's been hard for her because she is super close with her mom. Her mom was her rock when she was having her health complications," the source added. "Justin and Selena decided to take a break to give her family some more time to heal and take in the idea of her and Justin being a couple again." As if that's not enough, Bieber "doesn't care about anyone but himself," another source said. "The second she saw it, she walked away, especially now with her health. She knows she doesn't need him." Let's see what happens in this messy situation.

This celebrity break-up is said to be sparked by Selena's mom. What are some ways to deal with a parent who doesn't like your significant other?

Cupid's Advice:

Being with and loving someone who your fam does not approve of can be stressful and just plain hard. Cupid has some love advice on things to consider and how to deal with a parent not liking your partner:

1. Consider if your partner is worth the fight: This may sound harsh, but if you're close to your family, you have to evaluate this. Is this person for right now or are you guys both thinking long-term? You have to assess the seriousness of your relationship before you go jumping through hoops for a person that may not be there in the not-so-distant future.

2. Communicate with your family and partner: If you're serious about your partner, then you have to talk with both parties about the situation. First talk to your fam. Express to them your feelings about the person and relationship, and don't forget to include how the disapproval is affecting you. Do the same with your partner –discuss your feelings about them and your family, along with the way their disapproval of them is affecting you and your relationship. Sometimes it will take more than communicating, but communicating constantly is important.

3. Take some time apart if needed: This may not work for everyone, but it may work for Selena Gomez and Justin Bieber, we'll see. Taking a break isn't ideal for every relationship, so you must know if it is something that is convenient and can help yours. Taking time apart may show your family that you really care about their opinions and it can even show them how you are affected by not being with your partner. This should not be taken as a sign of submission, but as a way to cope in the meantime.

Rumors are stirring about a potential celebrity break-up. What are some ways to decrease break-up speculation?

Cupid's Advice:

People have a tendency to be nosy. They may begin to assume things in regards to your relationship if there are notable changes on social media, or in person. Whether these changes have any truth to them, it can be annoying to have people constantly discussing these rumors. Luckily, Cupid is here with some advice on how to decrease this talk:

- 1. Be honest: If you don't mind people knowing the truth, then share your break-up right after it occurs. This will stop people from formulating their own conclusions as to if you and your partner have broken up and why. Let people know about your break-up, and give them an explanation to the extent at which you feel comfortable so that further rumors don't begin to arise regarding the reasons why.

2. Delete social media: After your break-up, you may want to take a break from social media anyway. Also, if you temporarily delete your social media during this time, it will decrease speculation that can form from people analyzing who you are following, who is liking your pictures, and such. Sometimes it's nice to take a break from it all.

3. Be yourself: The number one reason why break-up speculation arises is because people notice changes in individual's personalities. If you and your partner actually did not break-up but you are just going through some other personal changes, let your friends and family know so that they don't assume otherwise. If you and your partner did break-up but you don't want people to know yet, try your best to still act like yourself so speculation doesn't occur.

He only wishes the best for her. However, Brad hasn’t reached out to Jen, and has no plans to do so at this point.”

In this celebrity news, fans are speculating about Jennifer Aniston and Brad Pitt now that both have gone through splits. What are some things to consider before getting back together with an ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

Whether or not to get back with an ex is an important decision. It isn’t always an easy one either. Cupid has some things to consider before making the choice:

1. Have you both moved on from the reason you both broke up?: Think about the reason why you both broke up in the first place. Was it for a good reason or was it circumstantial? Then, also think about whether you both have forgiven each other completely for past mistakes. If you have, then that can be a good sign – if not, then not so much. If you feel like you haven’t forgiven your ex for something, then that problem will probably constantly arise during your reconciled relationship.

2. Do you see a future with your ex?: Why go back to an ex if you don't think it's going to be serious and no good future ahead? Think about this thoroughly – sometimes we see a future with someone, but that future comes with unnecessary obstacles and negativity. If this is the case, then it may be a sign that your ex is meant to stay an ex. Think about this while spending some time apart – it's something big to ponder.

3. What are reasons to get back together and not get back together?: Pro and con lists are good ones to make. Be fair and think about why you should get back together with your ex and why you shouldn't. Then, weigh it all. Certain things weigh more than others, so be honest and just with yourself when considering all the information. Making a list with a friend can help, as long as that friend isn't necessarily biased.

But even relationships that have lasted long may be due for a split. How do you know when? Cupid is here with some advice on how to know if your relationship may be ready for a change:

- 1. You only communicate when you have to: If you are in a long-term relationship, it may seem as if you already know so much about your partner. If you realize this is happening, you can work to change it, but if it feels too forced, that’s when you know.

Cupid's Advice:

It takes a good amount of maturity and open-mindedness to be able to co-exist with your ex in a healthy manner without any hard feelings. It's so important to make it work for your kids, and getting along helps with the process. Even if you don't share children together, it is still possible to build a friendship with your ex after a break-up. Cupid has some advice:

1. Don't doubt the break-up: If you are going to commit to being friends with your ex, then that is exactly what you have to do. Get it through your mind that this is no longer a person that you look at in a romantic way. They are your friend. With that said, you both may need some mourning time before you begin to form a friendship. Allow that time for yourselves before forcing things. Once you do venture down the path of friendship, try not to get so close that you begin to doubt that you broke-up in the first place. If it is meant to be, it will be, and you can make that judgement call along the way. That being said, try to stick to just being friends again at first.

2. Accept the new relationship: Don't go into the friendship with your ex with the same expectations that you had when you were in a relationship with them. It is going to be different. You won't spend as much time together and the way you interact is going to be altered. Don't get hung up on the past and long for that relationship. Rather, embrace this new pleasant friendship that you have formed.

3. Go into it with a positive attitude: This is the key for everything. If you litter your mind with doubt that this won't work out or you feed into the disapproving thoughts of others, you will become consumed with looking for a reason to make it not work. Stay positive!

1. Cut off contact: First and foremost, make sure that you have cut off all contact from your ex. Delete their number so you don't have the urge to text them. 2. Make peace: Accept what happened. Truly accept it. Even if the relationship ended badly, try to be happy about the good experiences that you got from it. Self-forgiveness is also very important to embrace during the time of a break-up. Relationships help us to uncover aspects of ourselves that we may not have shown before. Take time to examine some great personal achievements from this time.
