Who needs to spend all that money when "stay-cations" are a thing! You don't need to go abroad to have a good time, everything you need for a good vacation is right at home. If a stay-at-home vacation is something you're interested in, then try one of these great ideas Cupid has lined up for you:

1. Disconnect: The first thing you should do is turn off the wifi. When you're on vacation, you're outside doing things instead of staring at a computer screen all day. Take this time to kick your technology addictions. Experience the world again without cell phones, tablets and laptops. You'll be surprised how refreshed you'll feel without these items.

This celebrity couple is making their relationship public! What are some things to consider before bringing your relationship into the public eye?

Cupid's Advice:

It's not always easy to introduce your new partner to your friends and family, and it's often even harder to know the right time to do so. Before you bring your relationship into the public eye, read this love advice below:

1. Cancel your Match.com account: Before you bring your loved ones into the equation, make sure you and your partner are on the same page. If you're falling in love but he's still seeing other people, now isn't the right time to take a big step forward. Once you're both ready to be exclusive, you can talk about making friend and family introductions.

2. Don't rush it: Wait until you've been dating exclusively for at least three months (like this celebrity couple!). It's important that you've worked through the early dating ups-and-downs and that your relationship is stable. You don't want to introduce your man to your BFF, only to break-up with him after a silly fight a few days later!

3. Keep it low-key: Don't introduce your partner to your loved ones at a wedding, family reunion, or holiday dinner, as these events add an extra level of pressure. Not only will they be meeting nearly everyone in your circle at once (talk about nerve-wracking!), but it's hard not to jump ahead to the future when you're celebrating a new marriage or gathered around the Christmas tree.

Celebrity News: 'The Bachelor' Nick Viall Calls Two-on-One Date with Corinne & Taylor a 'Disaster'

By Whitney Johnson

On Monday night's episode of The Bachelor, reality TV star Nick Viall says his two-on-one date with Corinne and Taylor is "pretty much a disaster." For viewers of this season of ABC's hit reality show, this celebrity news, as reported by UsMagazine.com, shouldn't come as a surprise: The two ladies fought at the end of last week's episode as Taylor questioned Corinne's "emotional intelligence." On their two-on-one date, Corinne, this season's villain, tells Viall that Taylor "emotionally attacked" her, and Taylor later reveals that Corinne lied to him. Talk about drama!

Not many of us can relate to a two-on-one date scenario like in this celebrity news. What are some factors to consider when you're deciding between two potential partners?

Cupid's Advice:

On this season of The Bachelor, fan favorite Viall has to pick between 30 women – what a challenge! Luckily, for those of us not on reality TV, the choice is often between only two potential partners. But what factors should you consider to determine who is the best fit for you? Check out our dating advice below:

1. Compatibility: Physical attraction will only take you so far. Do you enjoy spending time together? Do you share the same values? Do you want the same things out of your relationship? Determine if you're truly compatible before moving forward.

2. Common interests: Sure, opposites attract, but for a long-term partnership, it's equally important to have similar hobbies and passions. If you enjoy spending a lot of your free time outdoors, it'd be difficult to main a relationship with someone who'd rather be on the couch!

3. Compromise: A relationship will never last unless you're both willing to compromise. You want to be with someone who will take your needs into consideration and meet you halfway.

Sharing common interests will bring you closer together and make your relationship even stronger. Below, Cupid reveals three benefits to having the same likes and dislikes as your partner:

1. You'll be happier: Research suggests that couples who try new things and share common interests, particularly active pursuits, are happier. These celebrity exes probably aren't on the best of terms at the moment. What are some ways to keep things civil when your ex moves on with someone else?

Cupid's Advice:

Dealing with exes can be tricky. Although you may be angry or hurt about the breakup, there's no need for additional drama. If you've noticed that your ex has moved on with someone else, then let Cupid help you keep things civil between you and your ex with the following tips:

1. Cut them off: People struggle with this, but cutting off communication with your ex is the best way to get over them, especially if you notice they've been dating again. Speaking to an ex regularly or stalking their social media accounts are just a way of latching on to the “good old times.” Remember that you broke up for a reason, so it's important to not fixate on them. And don't worry about being the “uncool” ex; you don't have to be friends with an ex!

2. Get your date on: If cutting them out of your life isn't an option, another great way to be civil towards your ex is to date other people. Going out and having fun will release endorphins in your body that will help you forget the heartache you experienced during the break-up. However, make sure you're out dating for your own enjoyment, not because you're in competition with your ex and their new partner.

3. Find a focus: Being single can be also be a good thing. It allows you the freedom of making those big changes in your life. Take on a new hobby, find a job you love, study something that you've always found interesting. Whatever it is you've wanted to do, pursue it and make it a priority. Distracting yourself from the breakup will allow time to heal your heart. And with a healed heart, it'll be much easier to keep things civil with your ex.
