After dating your partner for a while, you start to hear those wedding bells. How do you know when you are ready for the big "I do?" Cupid has some advice:

1. Communication: Communication is very important. However, Cupid isn't referring to the selective hearing we all fall victim to. Good communication is one of the biggest foundations of a relationship. Expressing yourself and having healthy conversations or arguments is important. Like the relationship as a whole, communication is a two-way street, and if you feel like your communication is one way, then work on it. Better to work out the kinks now than later.

Marry someone who continuously makes you laugh and smile, someone whose company you enjoy; whether you are hiding out at home with junk food and Netflix or having a little too much fun at Dave & Busters. Your happiness, as well as your partner's, matters.

Cupid's Advice:

Moving on isn't always easy, and while it can be a sensitive time, it still has to be done. Cupid has some ways to keep your new relationship from hurting your recent ex:

1. Respect: Respect is the most important part of this whole situation. You and your ex called it quits, and it's important to respect the fact that it takes time to move forward. Not only should you respect this, but your new partner should as well. Parading your new partner around can be hurtful and can cause unwanted drama. Your new love interest may be inclined to stir the pot; don't let them. Make sure everyone respects each other and things go smoothly. Who wants the drama anyway?

2. Distance: Distance can actually very much help the situation. We're not saying that you and your new flame cannot enjoy going out, but maybe for a while avoid going to places that you and your ex used to frequent. Keeping your new relationship separated from the old is one of the best things you can do. Keeping a respectful distance helps to build a healthy relationship for all parties involved.

3. Time: Time is an important part of the healing process as well. To "soften the blow," allow your ex to have some time to heal. With some time, your ex should be better about the situation, and you and your new partner will be able to thrive with no drama. They say time heal all wounds, so, in this case, give your ex time to adjust to the fact that you are moving on. Just think about if the shoe were on the other foot.

According to People.com, on the show, Underwood told Kufrin about his time with her friend in January, “We had a weekend together and we had a good time, but for me the timing wasn’t right to grow what was a spark into a flame. Cupid’s Advice:

Dating a friend’s ex is a tricky situation. Cupid has some tips to help you decide whether or not you should do it:

1. Is your friend over it?: Before dating your friend’s ex, it’s important to assess how your friend feels about the old relationship. If your pal is still devastated by the break-up and harbors feelings for their former partner, dating their ex would likely really hurt their feelings. Along with this, it’s important a lot of time has passed between when you start dating this person and when your friend dated them.

2. It’s worth it: If you’re considering dating a friend’s ex, you should make sure you truly see a future with him or her. If you’re willing to risk a friendship for this person, it’s important your feelings for them are genuine and very strong. Don’t go for it if you don’t think the relationship will last long.

3. You have your friend's blessing: After contemplating whether or not to date your friend's ex, the best thing you can do to give yourself peace of mind is just to talk to your friend. See how they feel about you having a romance with their ex. If they are okay with it, then that's great! If they aren't, you should consider their feelings about the situation strongly.

Want to know if your teenager is ready to date? Cupid's has some advice that can help:

1. Can your child handle it?: If your child is expressing interest in wanting to start dating, it's important you recognize if your teen is mature enough to handle the ups and downs that can come with a relationship. If your kid is easily anxious or upset by things, adding a boyfriend or girlfriend into the mix can just make things more stressful for your teenager.

Celebrity Couple News: Gwen Stefani & Blake Shelton Attend Wedding Together

By Rhodesia Williams

In celebrity news, celebrity couple Gwen Stefani and Blake Shelton attended a wedding together this past weekend. According to UsMagazine.com, although Shelton, 41, was already a part of the wedding, Stefani was no where near left out. She posted a video of the bridal party dancing to her song, "Hollaback Girl," on her Instagram. When on the Ellen show, Stefani, 48, said she always thinks about marrying Shelton. This celebrity relationship has been going strong since 2015. I guess we all want to know when this celebrity dating will turn into a wedding? Stay tuned!

This celebrity couple is just like us – attending weddings and dancing together. What are some ways attending a wedding can bring you closer as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

Date nights are great, but attending special events like weddings helps you figure out just where your relationship is going. Cupid has some advice on how attending weddings can bring you closer as a couple:

1. Presentation: Weddings aren't like attending the annual 4th of July family BBQ. This event is family and friends seeing the two of you dressed to impress. People will see you as a real couple; your parents or even Nana may even ask, "So, when are you two tying the knot." When you get all dressed up, it just gives others another view of you and your partner. Embrace it! While it can be embarrassing at the moment, they just want the two of you to have your own special day like this one... until they get the bill that is.

2. The talk: There you are, sitting at the table watching the bride and groom dance their first dance. Right there in that moment you will think, "that will be us one day." Eventually, you and your partner will have "the talk." Weddings help you to see yourselves as the ones getting married, even though it is not your wedding. Talking about marriage is important because ultimately, that is why you date someone; to grow and build a future. While you shouldn't force the issue, a light discussion to see where your partner's head is at when it comes to marriage is a good idea.

3. Fun: While it is natural to consider your own wedding, this is the time to still have fun. While you might take mental notes and may secretly be planning your own wedding in your head, remember to actually enjoy the wedding. When its time to dance, have fun. You and your significant other are dressed up and looking good. Dance the night away. Take pictures, participate in the dance contests, and you know there is always that one drunk person(s). There is plenty of time to plan your day, today isn't the day. Have fun!

After Williams' celebrity divorce, he dated actress Minka Kelly. After they called it quits earlier this year, Williams met Rooks. The new celebrity couple were seen Memorial Day weekend in Atlantic City, attending Kevin Hart's comedy show.

Celebrity couple alert! Jesse Williams has moved on after his divorce. What are some ways to know you're ready to date after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes you don't want to start over, but in most cases you have no choice. Cupid has advice on ways to know when you're ready to date after a split:

1. You need time: Nine times out of 10 if you think you are ready to date after breaking up with someone a day earlier, you aren't ready. Once you've taken a good amount of time for yourself, then you will be ready. There is no specific amount of time, but when you are ready, you will feel it mentally and emotionally. Don't be afraid to take time for yourself; date yourself. It sounds cheesy, but this will help you in the long run because we all know you will kiss a few frogs before you meet your prince.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: I'm Scared to Get Back Out There and Date!

2. Listen to your feelings: Are you waking up every day with a smile or a frown? When you finally start waking up with a smile and are able to go about your day, you are just about ready. On the contrary, if you are still hurt and cry a lot, you may not be ready. Some say the best way to get over someone is to jump back on the horse, but sometimes we are just not emotionally ready. Be mindful and careful because just like you don't want to get hurt, you don't want to hurt someone else either.

Related Link: Dating Advice: How Long Should You Date Around, After You Meet a Man You Like?

3. Check your vibes: Putting time and feelings together pretty much makes up your vibes. What kind of vibe will you be giving off? When you project positive vibes, you usually get them back. Will you be able to go out on a date without mentioning your ex? Will you be able to mention the break up without getting upset? Your vibes have to be just right because people will pick up on them. Nobody wants to go on a date with the person that constantly brings up their ex or, once they mention the break up, the mood of the date changes. The best practice is with friends and family.

After a split, what are the indicators that you use to know when you are ready? Share below.

On-Again! Celebrity Couple Nikki Bella & John Cena Are Back Together After Calling Off Wedding

By Rhodesia Williams

In celebrity news, it looks like Nikki Bella and John Cena found their way back to each other. According to UsMagazine.com, almost two months ago Nikki Bella called off her engagement to the WWE star. The deal breaker for the celebrity couple was Cena not wanting children. After six years, the pair split, but once Bella, 34, heard that Cena, 41, wanted to be “the father to her children” on television, five days later the couple were spotted together again. Sources close to the couple say the break ended up helping their celebrity relationship. Sounds like a happy ending for the WWE stars.

It looks like this celebrity couple weren't ready to call it quits after all! What are some ways to decide whether to get back together with your ex or not?

Cupid's Advice:

Apparently time does heal wounds. A deal breaker for Nikki Bella turned into the very thing that saved her relationship. Cupid has some advice on how to decide whether to get back with an ex or not:

1. Evaluate: Evaluate the situation. Specifically, what was the straw that broke the camel's back? From there you ask yourself, “can it be fixed?” Sometimes when you stop and assess the situation, you find your answer. It's possible you realize your break up was over something petty and you can move forward. On the other hand, you could also recognize that maybe it's best that you part ways with your ex. While happiness is the goal in a relationship, keep in mind that you both have to be happy. It would be like going the wrong way down a one way street; after you pass the “Do Not Enter” sign, it's on you.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: Don't Let Him Be the One Who Got Away

2. Compromise: You have to ask yourself if you are willing to compromise. You should never change for anyone, however, there is nothing wrong with a little negotiating. Stop and figure out where the problem is coming from. Nobody is perfect so maybe a slight tweak on both ends could help. If your partner truly makes you happy and you aren't ready to let them go, discuss a compromise. Cupid encourages you to remember, a compromise is a settlement involving two or more; both sides need to work on things to better the relationship.

Related Links: Relationship Advice: 4 Reasons To Leave The Past In The Past

3. Acceptance: This may be the hardest part of considering going back to an ex. For whatever reason you broke up, the two of you are now communicating about mending your relationship. If everything is a go, remember you are now accepting what has happened in the past and moving forward. It's like that annoying, "Terms and Conditions" box that nobody reads but just hits "accept". If you are not careful, it could come back to hurt you. You are agreeing that you will give this relationship another go. Cupid's only advice with this is to never bring up the past. Cue the "Terms and Conditions" coming back to hurt you.

Cupid's Advice:

Having a partner with a time-consuming career is difficult. Cupid has some tips on how to make it work:

1. Make time: Even if your partner has the busiest schedule ever, it's vital you set aside designated time to be in each other's company. Have weekly dates that fit into both of your schedules and stay in communication. It's tough when your beau is busy at work, but it'll all be worth it once you guys get to spend time together.

In celebrity news, Khloe Kardashian's boyfriend Tristan Thompson is tired from dealing with cheating allegations. What are some signs that your partner is being unfaithful?

Cupid's Advice:

Being cheated on is a completely awful experience. Cupid has some signs to tell if your partner isn't being faithful:

1. They're keeping secrets: If your partner is hiding things from you, it definitely means there's something up. Relationships should be open and honest and it's not right if your companion is refusing to talk to you about certain things. But, it doesn't necessarily mean that you're being cheated on, it could be something else your beau is hiding, so make sure to talk to him or her about it.

3. Constant fighting: Sure, the occasional fight is normal, but if your partner is constantly trying to pick fights with you, it could be because they are trying to validate their reason for cheating (as in they want to believe your relationship is already on the rocks). If your beau is being constantly defensive and looking for ways to start conflict, then they could potentially be cheating on you.

There may be a new celebrity couple in Hollywood! What are some ways to keep your budding relationship on the down-low?

Cupid's Advice:

When entering into a new relationship, your first instinct is to show off your new reason to smile. In a time where social media runs society, it may not be the best idea. Cupid has some advice on how to keep your budding relationship on the down-low, at least initially:

1. Stay off social media: Do yourself a favor and stay off of social media! Give the relationship a chance to grow naturally before bringing in outside forces. While people will always have something to say, staying off of social media cuts out all of the chatter that could potentially ruin this new found relationship.

2. Keep it to yourselves: This new relationship should just include you and the other person. Keeping things quiet can help build the strong foundation needed for a relationship. There is no need to bring any outsiders into what you two have started building; this will also keep your relationship on the down low. Why have everyone in your business from the very beginning?

3. Deny, deny, deny: While lying is generally considered wrong, if you both agree that you want to keep things private, denying you're in a relationship could be the solution. When seen together, you can explain that you're out as friends. Granted, at some point people won't believe you, but to keep things low key in the beginning, it may help.

Cupid's Advice:

Every person is different and so is every situation. You can take the advice of others, but at the end of the day the choice is yours. Cupid has some relationship advice on things to consider before deciding whether to forgive your significant other or not:

1. Can you truly forgive them?: Forgiving them means accepting the situation and their apology, and moving on from it. It means that all the fighting about the problem happens before the forgiveness. There is no point in saying you will forgive your partner, if the problem will keep popping up in the future. So, analyze and evaluate whether you can actually forgive them or not.

2. Have you given yourself enough time?: Depending on the situation, you may need a little time or a lot of time to think things over. Don't make any impulsive decisions. Don't rush, take the time you need. You need time to decide whether what your partner did is something you can forgive, and if so, how will you move on from it then.

Every couple needs space, some more than others. It really all depends on who the people are. Missing someone can actually be a good thing though. Cupid has some benefits to missing your other half:

1. Distance does make the heart grow fonder: When you miss someone, you get that warm feeling inside that makes you think about how much you love them. This can stir up some cute and/or sexy texts, phone calls, or video chats. Embrace the distance instead of completely hating it. And when you see each other again, it's on, let the in-person loving resume.

2. You'll have more to talk about: Don't get us wrong, when the right people are together, they never run out of things to discuss. However, when you're away from the other person, you obviously have more to tell. This is a good opportunity to also work on your story-telling skills!

3. You both get to do your own thing: Whether you're out learning something new, doing anything productive, or just having fun – do you. You can also come back and bring something new to the table after you both go out and do things because technically you guys are “covering more ground.”

Sometimes when others find out about the problems in our relationships, they can't help but chime in with their thoughts. Here are a few ways to avoid acknowledging their opinions:

1. Know where you stand: If you are unsure where you and your significant other stand, the comments others make will most likely affect you. There is no right or wrong answer, but here are some signs that it might not be too bad if you got back together with your ex:

1. Your relationship was not toxic: After you have had enough time to reflect on your past relationship, you may come to the conclusion that it was truly a wonderful time. Make sure you are not blinded by a toxic relationship and then throw yourself back into that same sticky situation. If you have a clear view that maybe it just wasn't the right time to be together with your partner but you want to try again now, then go for it.
