Cupid's Advice:

As exciting as your big day is, planning it can often be stressful because of family drama. Cupid has some advice on ways to keep family drama out of your big day:

1. Plan smart: The most proactive way to eliminate any possible problems on your big day is to plan ahead. If Uncle Louie doesn't like his ex wife, don't have them sit near each other. While you can't control who will sit near who during the ceremony, the reception is easily where you have more of a handle on what happens. Although it is your big day and you want to enjoy it the way you want, sometimes you have to bite the bullet and compromise on some things. It's safe to say you rather get to have a wedding with family rather than a wedding turned WWE Smackdown match.

2. Set everyone straight: An aggressive yet proactive way to deal with family drama spilling onto your big day is to simply address it. Let your family know that you will not tolerate any issues on your big day. With emotions running high during a day like a wedding, it is important to speak to anybody who may pose a threat to your big day. Remember keep it short, sweet and respectful. Sometimes people need to be reminded that it's YOUR day and not theirs.

Cupid's Advice:

In some cases it's hard to see an ex with someone new. As hard as it can be, you have to keep it together. Cupid has some advice on how to handle jealousy when your ex moves on with someone new:

1. Try not to look!: With social media taking over, it can be hard to avoid finding out about an ex and their new partner. As much as you may have the urge to lurk, don't look. Whether you broke up on good or bad terms, it will hurt the same when you see it. As long as you keep lurking, the more upset and angry you will get. Don't do it to yourself.

2. "I don't want to hear it": While your friends may think they are doing you a favor by telling you your ex's every move, you have to tell them that you don't want to hear it. Constantly hearing about your ex won't help you heal and move on. A good idea is to have a conversation with the people closest to you and have a mutual agreement on not bringing up your ex. This combined with fun with your loved ones will help you have a smooth and healthy healing.

3. It's not a competition: When seeing your ex with someone else, your first instinct may be to go out there and just jump into something with someone else. Bad idea! Keep your cool and take your time with getting back on the dating scene. Don't go out and hurt someone else to make your partner jealous. Not only will you hurt someone else, it will only hurt you more. Keep calm and work through it. Sometimes it gets worse before it gets better.
