Though a proposal may not be the surprise you're ready to give your partner just yet, there are many other ways to surprise your lover that are super romantic and keep that spark alive. Cupid has some tips:

1. Breakfast in bed: It may seem like a stereotype, but you can't go wrong with breakfast in bed. You get a chance to show off your cooking skills and make it so your partner starts their day on the right foot. It also gives you an excuse to spend a little extra time before you go about the normal business of your day.

2. Get them off their feet: Surprise your partner with a day that's all about them. Give them a massage, make dinner, and run any little errands they may have needed to do.

This celebrity engagement was a huge surprise to Jennifer Lopez! What are three fun surprise proposal ideas?

Cupid's Advice:

Proposing should be fun and memorable. While you may not want to get a huge ring for your partner, here are a few ways you can get creative:

1. On a keyboard: Remember those old clacky keyboards that had keys you could remove for cleaning? Some updated gaming desktop keyboards can be used for this, too (fun keyboard lights are sure to be eye-catching). Take the keys and rearrange them to ask your partner to marry you!

3. A themed proposal: Probably one of the most fun, choose either your partner's favorite book, show, or movie, and theme your entire proposal around it! Dress like Darcy and Elizabeth from Pride and Prejudice; build some Legos into a Star Wars themed wedding ring proposal, or put the ring in a mini Tardis if you're asking a Whovian to marry you.

There are many advantages to secretly tying the knot with the one you love. Along with many other perks, for starters, you'll leave out all of the pre-wedding drama and save tons of money. Here are some benefits to a secret wedding:

1. Less outside pressure and influence: Family and friends tend to push their wedding ideas and agendas on couples. While meaning well, the outside influences put pressure on the couple to choose a venue that doesn't suit their style or select entertainment that's out of their budget. Having a secret wedding relieves some of this pressure and allows you both to focus on what's important.

1. Don't be afraid to geek out: Are you a Star Wars and Legos fan? If you're going for a galactic-themed wedding, use Legos to make your wedding cake topper. 2. Go for `something simpler: Okay, so maybe you don't want to take your wedding theme off of Earth. Instead, you want your own Twilight inspired wedding. You don't need to spend an arm and a leg on candles and lace for the bride and groom table. Go to a craft store and buy some lace to put across the table and, if you live in a rural area, let nature be the backdrop for your wedding photos.

3. Be a bargain shopper bride: You don't have to have the most in-style wedding dress right now for your special day. Absolutely make sure you love it before you buy it, but make certain you're aware of your budget and don't shy away from a deal. Also, keep the bridesmaids in mind if you're going to buy their dresses. Dress shops are bound to have dresses on clearance as long as your girls are willing to be flexible. The shoes don't even have to be from the dress shop either. Discount shoe stores sometimes have buy-one, get-one-free: take advantage.

What justifies telling your ex about moving on?

Cupid's Advice:

Even though you might feel it's not their business, there may be times you need to let your ex know that you're moving on. What reasons would justify telling your ex about the details of your new relationship?

1. You're still friends: Not all relationships end completely with social media and number-blocking. In some cases, you might decide to stay friends with your ex. Maybe you work together or have the same circle of friends and don't want to cause tension or strife. Letting them know you're moving on before anyone else can soften the blow.

2. You have children: Whether you are just starting to date again or are ready to propose to an amazing new person, you're going to want your ex to know. You will want your child(ren) to meet them, since the person you're in a relationship with is now a big part of your life and theirs. Letting your ex know before anyone else that you're moving on will help prevent any potential arguments and will protect your child's well-being.

3. You want to let them down easy: Maybe you've tried telling your ex that you're moving on, but it's had the opposite effect; they think you actually want to get back with them. It's totally okay to let them know that you're moving on, but make sure you let them down easy. If you want to maintain the friendship with them eventually, they need to know that you have met someone else; potentially leading them on could turn disastrous later.
