Where are some unlikely places to meet a potential partner?

Cupid's Advice:

There's an old saying that you'll meet your lover when you least expect it. Here are some off-the-wall places you could meet your next partner:

1. Public county love library: Most people, when looking for books at the public library, are not finding the Kama Sutra.

2. Go team!: How many of your friends go to professional sporting events looking for a date or a spouse? Then again, a partner who has common interests in sports may lead to a solid foundation.

3. Paper or plastic?: For most guys, shopping trips are in, out and back on in life. Finding a new lover while picking out fresh fruit could make a great love story at a wedding.

Prince William and Kate Middleton Invite Exes to Wedding

There will be six (yes, six!) former lovers in attendance for Prince William and Kate Middleton's royal wedding. According to an article on UsMagazine.com, a source leaked the guest list, and it was confirmed by three palace sources. Middleton invited Rupert Finch, her ex from St. Andrews University, and her high school crush Willem Marx. Prince William, on the other hand, invited Arabella Musgrave, from his university days, Rose Farquhar, his first girlfriend, Jecca Craig, who was rumored to be his first love, and Isabella Anstruther-Gough-Galthorpe. What were they thinking?

Are there complications that arise when you invite your ex to your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be difficult to decide whether to invite your former lovers to your wedding. After all, you may still be friends with some of them. Cupid's got some things to consider:

1. 'Graduation Goggles': There is a possibility that you will see your ex at your wedding and remember the "good ol' days" of when you were good as a couple. If there's any chance of that happening, don't invite him or her. You want to be focused on the person you're marrying on your wedding day.

2. 'I, Ross, take you, Rachael': Although it's unlikely that you'll say the wrong name during your vows like Ross did on Friends, your ex may see you and realize what he or she is missing. The last thing you need is drama at your wedding!

3. 'Battle of the Exes': Similar to the old Cheers episode, your future spouse may become jealous if you feel the pull to invite your ex to your wedding. Either convince him that there are no leftover feelings and you only harbor platonic feelings toward your ex, or don't invite him.

Is it OK to wear more than one dress at your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

We buy multiple pairs of jeans, tops, shoes and bags every year, but is it okay to buy more than one dress for one of the most memorable days of your life? Here are some things to consider when deciding whether to wear more than one dress at your wedding:

1. Cost: Weddings can get very expensive, so if you're skimping on parts of the reception to afford that second dress, it may not be worth it.

2. Comfort: We all want to wear that Cinderella ball gown at our wedding. But, if you decide to go for the elaborate dress, you may want to consider a second more comfortable dress for the reception.

3. Personal Preference: At the end of the day, you've dreamed of your wedding your whole life, and if having more than one dress is an affordable goal, then go for it!

How do you make sure work doesn't get in the way of your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Balancing your personal life and your career is a task not even the most experienced workers have yet been able to master. Here are a few ways to make sure you have equal time for both:

1. Set aside time: You should make a little bit of time for your partner every day. Even if the time allotted is as little as an hour, your partner will appreciate that you feel your relationship is as important as your work.

2. Plan date nights: Even if you've been overloaded at work, that shouldn't stop you from planning nights that are dedicated completely to your relationship. Abandon your work for an evening and go out to dinner.

3. Make it up: If you're overwhelmed with work on a certain night and have no time for your partner, make it up to him or her. Send her roses the next day or take her to dinner the next night.

Should your partner be your best friend?

Cupid's Advice:

It makes the entire marriage easier if you and your spouse are best friends. Here are some things to consider when trying to determine if you and your partner can call each other BFFs:

1. A solid foundation: It's no secret that a marriage consists of hard work and a lot of stressful days. Having a close buddy in a partner makes things a lot easier.

2. Great talks: An easy way to measure how strong your friendship is is by looking at your conversations. If you and your partner can talk about the serious things as well as the random topics easily, then things look good.

3. A relaxed environment: Similar to Vartan and his bride, if you feel 100 percent calm and your spouse isn't running in the opposite direction, it's probably a great sign.

Should you have a big or small wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

There are perks and downfalls to having either a small or big wedding. It all depends on your preference and your budget:

- 1. Big budgets can equal big weddings: If you have the cash and want to make a splash, a big wedding is an order.
- 2. Keeping it small: If you are a private person or simply don't have the budget, consider a small wedding.
- 3. Size doesn't matter: Though you will eventually have to decide the size of your wedding, size isn't everything. Your wedding day should be about you and your partner and the love you have for one another.

Prince William Declines Wearing Wedding Ring

Prince William and Kate Middleton are bucking tradition once again, this time with the Prince's refusal to wear a wedding band after he's married. A spokeswoman from the palace says, "There is only going to be one ring, in accordance with the couple's wishes."

Should you wear a wedding ring?

Cupid's Advice:

Traditions are nothing to scoff at, as some are there for a reason. Others, however, hold symbolism that isn't necessarily prevalent in this day and age. Cupid has some things to consider when deciding whether to wear a wedding band:

1. Sentimental value: If a wedding band holds a lot of meaning to you and you'd feel uncomfortable not wearing one, that's nothing of which to be ashamed. Do what makes you comfortable in your beliefs.

2. Trust: You shouldn't doubt your partner's trustworthiness if you plan on marrying him or her, but there's no doubt that wearing a wedding ring helps ward off others who are single and looking.

3. Physical comfort: Sometimes it's simply uncomfortable to wear rings, especially for most men who aren't used to the feeling. If you're in a profession where a ring would get in the way or you just don't like the feel of a ring on your finger, consider abstaining from the tradition.

Should you write your own vows at your wedding?

Cupid’s Advice:

Exchanging vows during your wedding is your chance to tell your fiancé how you feel, and writing them yourself is the perfect way to personalize the moment. Cupid has some tips on how to decide if you should write your own vows:

- 1. Express yourself: If you have something you really want to say to your mate on the big day, write your own vows. It’s the perfect opportunity to share your emotions and hopes for the future with your family, friends and spouse-to-be.
- 2. Value tradition: Some religions will insist that you use certain vows at your wedding. So if you plan on having a traditional ceremony, you might want to stick to the standard verses instead of writing your own.

3. It's your day: The bottom line is, you should do what you want to do. If writing your own vows makes you uncomfortable, don't do it.

LeAnn Rimes has a theory about ensuring a successful marriage. She tweeted, “A good friend just told me that the key to a successful marriage was to argue naked! What are ways to keep conflict from escalating in a relationship?

Getting naked is just one unconventional way to prevent conflicts from escalating in a relationship. Cupid has some other tips:

- 1. Communication: Discuss things that bother you before allowing them to snowball into something that can end up causing a major rift between you and your significant other.
 - 2. Compromise: Relationships are all about working together and making the effort to show the other person you care. If certain things bother you, it's best to try to compromise so the little things don't turn into big conflicts.
 - 3. Choose your battles: Sometimes it's best that you let your partner win an argument every once in a while because there are most likely bigger things to worry about than the typical everyday issues couples face.

Will Jessica Simpson Elope with Eric Johnson?

Now that Jessica Simpson and Eric Johnson are engaged, we may end up seeing them as husband and wife when we least expect it. According to People, Simpson says that her second wedding ceremony may be a bit more low key than her previous wedding to singer Nick Lachey. In a recent interview with Women's Wear Daily, Simpson says, "We've both been married before, we're enjoying our commitment to each other. We want to take our time ... We might elope if it gets to that point." So, don't be too surprised if you see Simpson and Johnson sporting wedding rings without an elaborate ceremony.

What are the advantages of eloping?

Cupid's Advice:

A wedding can be the best day of you and your soon-to-be spouse's lives, but it can also be one of the most stressful. Cupid has some reasons eloping could turn out to be your best bet:

- 1. Money: As a brand new couple, the two of you may not have a lot of cash to spend on an elaborate ceremony. Eloping gives you the flexibility to have a small gathering on your own budget.
- 2. Privacy: Sometimes when creating the guest list, you may feel as if you need to invite your Uncle Harry's third cousin once removed. Sneaking away with your hubby gives you the opportunity to tell whomever you choose, without the added guilt.

3. Time: Many couples who have been dating a while, and even some who haven't, don't want long engagements. Eloping allows you to have your wedding on your own time, whenever you and your partner choose.

What are ways to tell that your ex is jealous of your new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Even when all seems to be said and done in an ended relationship, it's possible for leftover feelings to resurface. Here are a few ways to find out if your ex is jealous:

1. He wants to see you: Even if the two of you agreed to be friends after your relationship ended, there's still a line between being friendly and clingy. If your ex contacts you more often now that you're in a new relationship, it may mean that he's jealous.

2. Ask mutual friends: If you share mutual friends, ask your friends if your ex has been mentioning you more than usual lately, or if your ex seems to be moody. A bad attitude and a need to bring you into the conversation is a sure way to tell if your ex is jealous.

3. His dating tendencies: If it seems that your ex is taking a long time to move on from your relationship, it may mean that he still has feelings for you. While your ex just may not be the type to rush into a new relationship, his repeated avoidance of the dating scene may be cause for concern.

How can you make a wedding at home unique?

Cupid's Advice:

A wedding at home can be both convenient and personalized. Here are some tips to make the most out of this new trend:

1. Decorations: Just because your wedding is at home doesn't mean that it has to look like home. Splurge on some classy decorations to spruce up your pad for the big day.

2. Use your backyard: An outdoor wedding is always fun and romantic. Why not have one in the comfort of your own home?

3. Showcase your memories: Home is where the heart is. Having a wedding in a place that holds so many wonderful memories will be unforgettable.

How can you keep the pressure off right before your wedding?

Cupid's Advice:

Cupid knows that no matter how calm and collected any woman like Reese Witherspoon is, her wedding day is one occasion where the pressure is on. Here are some tips to keep you from being (and looking) frazzled the week before your nuptials:

1. Make a list: This is no time to rely on your elephant memory. Write down everything that needs to be done and have your maid of honor, mother or wedding planner look it over. You'll feel extra satisfied each time you cross something off that list.

2. Delegate your tasks: You have a bridal party for a reason! By including everyone in the planning process, you'll get the work done faster – and keep your head from spinning.

3. Just breathe: When wedding frustrations get in your way, think of all the happy moments you've had with your betrothed. The party only lasts a night, but a marriage is forever. By reminding yourself of the love you and your partner share, you're bound to make sure everyone will see that love when you both say "I do."

Prince William and Kate

Middleton: Honeymoon?

The fact that the pair can take their pick of pretty much anywhere in the world, makes the answer to this question that much more interesting. According to People, Prince William has hinted toward an Australian honeymoon while visiting the areas of the continent that were damaged from last month's Cyclone Yasi, saying, "I love scuba diving. I have always wanted to dive the [Great] Barrier Reef, I will have to come back – maybe we'll have a honeymoon in Cairns [Australia]?"

Where are the best places to go for a honeymoon? Cupid's Advice:

Although most of us don't have the luxury of taking our pick of anywhere in the world for our honeymoon, there are a few classic choices:

1. Hawaii: If you're leaning more toward a tropical destination, Hawaii has been a classic honeymooner spot for years. Between the beach, the sun and the luaus, you and your new spouse will have no problem getting a romantic getaway.

2. Italy: Some couples choose to go the more cultural route. If this sounds like you and your beau, a honeymoon to Italy is sure to bring great meals, fine art and traditional romance.

3. Florida: If your budget is a little tight after the wedding, Florida is a fantastic pick for newlyweds. With its festive atmosphere, beautiful beaches and famous amusement parks, Florida has something to offer all new couples.

How can you avoid getting stressed by wedding planning?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding will probably be the happiest day of your life, but it's not easy getting it to run smoothly. Cupid has some tips on how to cut back on the frustration of the planning process:

1. Think in perspective: Let's face it. Your wedding is just one day out of the rest of your lives together. Of course you want everything to run smoothly and be memorable, but chances are that the fact that you're marrying the love of your life will trump anything that goes wrong with the cake.

2. Delegate: The best thing you can do is give the people who care about you jobs to do. Your wedding party, family and close friends will be more than willing to help in any way they can!

3. Plan in advance: Get everything done as early as possible, so that you can relax in the weeks leading up to your big day. Make sure you aren't stressed from planning right before you wedding.

Is it important to know your partner's every secret?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt that it's important to know your partner well before you decide to spend your life with him or her, but it's not necessary to know every last detail. Here's why:

1. Keep the mystery alive: There's no fun in knowing everything about your partner right from the start, because then there's nothing to discover or reveal throughout the rest of your lives together.

2. It's not possible: The bottom line is that it's not possible to fully know someone. We don't remember every detail of our lives, so there's no way we can relay everything to our partners.

3. You're entitled to secrets: If your secret has nothing to do with your partner and isn't in any way deceiving him or her, it's completely fine if you have a secret or two. Being open doesn't necessary mean you have to share every detail of your life.

Prince William and Kate Middleton Invite Matchmaker to Wedding

It looks like there's one more addition to the already over 1,900 people attending the royal wedding. According to RadarOnline, that person is Sam Waley-Cohen, 28, an old friend of the royal couple who is credited with reuniting the pair after they broke up in 2007. Although Cohen is modest in taking responsibility for reuniting the two, it was at a party thrown by Waley-Cohen at his family's Oxford, England country house where the two resolved their issues.

Should you hire a matchmaker?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes it can be tough to meet people, and if you aren't interested in turning to the internet, a matchmaker may be just what you need:

- 1. Fix something that's broken: Just like you would hire a professional to fix anything broken, why not hire one to fix one of the most important things in your life?
- 2. Increase your odds: We all know it's not easy out there finding love, so leave your stressful burden with someone else.
- 3. Busy life: The busier we get, the more our love lives get pushed on the back burner. While we're busy with our jobs and careers, there are people who make love their job and want to help you find love.

What are some ways to keep your spouse involved in wedding planning?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes only one half a couple takes the reigns on wedding planning and can end up feeling left out. Cupid thought of some ways to involve your spouse:

1. Give him or her an assigned task: As simple as it sounds, giving your partner one job at a time even if you're doing the majority of the planning is an easy way to keep them feeling productive.

2. Ask for advice: Even if you have a decision made in your head, just ask your spouse for his or her opinion anyway. Show him that you value his thoughts.

3. Talk about it: Whether or not you give your future spouse a task is up to you, but no matter what you do, tell them all about the wedding plans. It wouldn't be good if your partner was unprepared for something and got upset on what's supposed to be the most memorable day of his or her life.

The theater in which the ceremony took place was decorated with props from La Cage aux Folles along with pink and red bouquets of flowers. The couple added personal touches to their emotional ceremony with a performance by Kelsey Grammer's Broadway co-star, Terry Lavell, and Kayte Walsh's brother Stewart singing "Feels Like Home" by Randy Newman. How can you personalize your wedding ceremony?

Cupid's Advice:

The most memorable wedding ceremonies always have a personal touch. Cupid has some simple ways to make your wedding ceremony unique:

1. Write your own vows: Writing your own vows is the surest way to personalize your wedding ceremony and let your partner know exactly how you feel in front of your nearest and dearest.

2. Add a theme: Though theme weddings can be corny, when they are done right they can add a very unique personal touch to your wedding festivities.

3. Color: If you don't want to go as daring as diverting from the traditional white wedding gown, you can always use two or three signature colors to be used throughout your wedding.

Is it OK for your partner to go on a wild trip without you?

Cupid's Advice:

Knowing whether or not you should trust your partner to go on a trip without you is a big decision. If you're not sure, Cupid has some things to consider:

1. How long: There's a big difference between going away for a weekend and going away for weeks. A lot can happen if you're away from your special someone for an extended period of time. If your partner plans on packing all the clothes in his or her closet, maybe you should tag along on the trip.

2. Who is going: It's not always about how much you trust your partner as much as it's about how much you trust their friends. If your beau still hangs out with his crazy single friends, make sure to remind him that he's not a bachelor anymore before he leaves.

3. Reason to worry: Ask yourself why you're worried in the first place. It's normal to be a little uneasy, but don't let the jitters get the best of you. If your partner has broken your trust and given you a reason to worry before, there's nothing wrong with insisting to go with them.

How can you tell when your mate is about to propose?

Cupid’s Advice:

While most women are surprised when their partner pops the question, some are ready and well-prepared. Here are a few ways you can tell when your man is about to propose:

1. He asks your opinion: When he casually asks for your opinion on restaurants or even on jewelry, it may be a sign that he’s about to pop the question. He could be on a mission to find a special setting and the perfect ring.

2. Your rings are missing: If you find one of your rings missing one day, don’t panic. Chances are, he’s taking the ring to a jeweler in order to find an engagement ring that will fit your finger correctly.

3. His behavior changes: If your partner is about to propose to you, he’s probably extremely nervous, excited or both. You may be able to pick up on his changing behavior and mood swings.

Should you propose at a public event?

Cupid's Advice:

Proposing in a public setting generally has two outcomes – successfully romantic or embarrassing rejection. The best proposal settings tend to have a tie to your relationship. Here are some things to consider when planning your proposal:

1. Avoid clichés: Instead of sticking with the old ‘romantic candlelit dinner, flowers and hiding the ring in champagne’ routine, make it unique and personal. Take your mate to the restaurant where you had your first date or your first kiss. Something that holds significance to your partner shows thought.

2. A romantic strikeout: Unless you plan on running across Wrigley Field or standing on the 50-yard line of Ohio Stadium, don’t take a cue from the Jared commercial by proposing during a sporting event. It’s unoriginal and the last thing you need are crazy fans surrounding your special moment.

3. Make sure it’s right: Don’t make the move if you have doubts. Proposing is a big step in a relationship, and it’s important that you have no doubts.
