Music is truly beautiful, because it effects everybody in different ways. For every problem in life, there is a solution in a song. We dance with our partners, go to concerts together, have a special song that we refer to as 'our song' and we even describe our feelings for them through lyrics:

1. Choose your song as a couple: Many couples have a special song that they identify as their song. Pick 'our song' as a couple. Then every time you hear it you will both think of each other. It's a great way to connect with your partner!

Reality TV Host Chris Harrison Reveals Twist for Next Season of 'The Bachelorette'

B

y Emma L. Wells

Fans were shocked last night when Chris Harrison named two women to be the stars of the upcoming season of The Bachelorette. According to the WashingtonPost.com, the producers of the reality TV show were divided on whether to pick Kaitlyn Bristowe or Britt Nilsson, both former contestants from The Bachelor season 19, so they're going to let the men make the decision for them. This has never happened on The Bachelorette before, but it's actually not a first in franchise history: The Bachelor season 6 also began with two potential guys. It's no surprise that Bristowe and Nilsson seemed underwhelmed and unenthused by the announcement, both trying to stay polite during their joint conversation with Harrison.

On the next season of The Bachelorette, Bristowe and Nilsson will again be squaring off on their quest for a relationship and love. How can you use dating competition to your advantage?

Cupid's Advice:

1. Stand out from the crowd: Normally, it's not very healthy to compare yourself to others. But in this case, you can make it work to your advantage. 'The Bachelor' Chris Soules on First Night Jitters

y Emma L. Wells

First dates can be stressful enough, but can you imagine having 30 first dates simultaneously? That's how Chris Soules felt on Monday night during the premiere of The Bachelor Season 19. "It was nerve-racking but exciting to be in the same room with 30 amazing women and knowing that one of them could potentially become my fiancée," Soules said in an interview with People.com. While some women handled the stress of the evening better than others (a few contestants were noticeably intoxicated by the evening's close...), they all made lasting impressions. From motorcycles and karaoke to secret admirers and a pig nose, the women used a variety of tactics to try and catch the handsome bachelor's eye. Some ended up being more successful than others, as the 33-year-old farm boy from Iowa eliminated eight women during the first rose ceremony on The Bachelor Season 19.

‘The Bachelor’ Chris Soules was pretty nervous Monday night. What are three ways to deal with nerves on a first date?

Cupid’s Advice:

Everyone has to deal with nerves from time to time, but you don’t want to let some overly energetic butterflies interfere with what could be a really amazing first date. Cupid has some ways to reign in those jitters:

1. Just breathe: It may seem like simple advice, but it’s often what people forget when they are under pressure. Focusing on your breathing helps in many ways. First, it helps center your mind on something else. Second, it’ll slow your heartbeat and your thoughts, and you’ll quickly start to feel less flustered and crazy. Being in control of your breathing will help you feel in control of your situation. Try counting to five as you inhale and counting to seven as you exhale; repeat this ten times, and you’ll be calm again in no time!

2. Remember you’re not the only one: You’re not alone! It’s good to keep in mind that the person sitting across from you is most likely feeling just as nervous as you are. Believe it or not, shared nervousness can even be something you two can bond over. Try joking about it and see where the conversation takes you.

3. Understand your anxiety: First date nerves can have many causes. They might just mean you're really excited. Or perhaps you always get restless when you meet new people. The jitters could also be your body's way of telling you that you already know this isn't a good match. Diagnosing the reason behind your butterflies will help you figure out how to handle the situation. Most importantly, remember that nerves are normal; don't let them stand in the way of your happily ever after!

The new season of The Bachelor debuts on January 5th, and Soules will have 30 women to choose from at the start. With one woman arriving on a motorcycle, another proclaiming Soules could "plow her field any day," and yet another giving him a "great squeeze," there's no doubt that this season's Bachelor has his work cut out for him!

'The Bachelor' is a unique way to meet someone. What are three other ways to meet a potential mate?

Cupid's Advice:

If you're single and you keep going to the same places expecting to meet someone new, your odds probably aren't that good. Maybe it's time to mix it up! Cupid has some dating advice:

1. Try online dating: Finding a potential partner online is no longer such an outlandish idea, but there are still many of us who haven't given it a shot. Instead of going to a bar or club, consider creating a profile on Match.com, OK Cupid, or eHarmony. It's a great way to find someone with similar interests right away instead of having to strike up multiple conversations with random people every time you go out.

2. Go grocery shopping or to the gym alone: This tactic tends to work better in big cities, but meeting someone while grocery shopping or at the gym is becoming a great way to get out there. These are things you have to do anyway, so why not keep an eye out for potential mates while you're at it? If you go by yourself, you'll be less intimidating than if you're with a group of friends.

3. Go on a blind date: Sometimes, it's best if you're left completely in the dark when it comes to picking the right partner. By letting your friends set you up on a blind date, they can be more unbiased and may actually choose someone with a personality you'd love. Though looks are obviously important, they aren't the only thing that leads to a solid relationship. So take our dating advice and go on one blind date a month.

y Maggie Manfredi

Hot, hot, hot! According to the latest celebrity news in UsMagazine.com, Hollywood couple Robert Pattinson and FKA Twigs are really enjoying their beach time together. The two, in board shorts and a bikini, shared a single beach chair while lounging and having drinks. FKA responded to being bombarded by the fans in The Guardian, saying, "I look uncomfortable because I am uncomfortable. But then it's like, is this person in my life worth that? And he is, without question...In comparison to how happy I am. And how I feel with him. It's 100 percent worth it."

How can you show PDA in a classy way like the hottest celebrity couples do?

Cupid's Advice:

PDA can be excessive at times and inappropriate in certain settings, but there are many ways to show you care for your partner, even when you're out and about. Here are Cupid's thoughts on public displays of affection:

1. Hold hands: Follow the lead of many of our favorite Hollywood couples and hold hands as you stroll through the neighborhood. Cupid likes to be reminded now and again that there are happy pairs walking the streets!

2. Display gifts: So your guy got you that scarf for your birthday? Wear it proudly when he isn't with you and shoot him a selfie. It is like PDA without the public actually knowing it.

3. Keep it natural: The hottest celebrity couples never force PDA. Intimacy is an obvious perk of a monogamous relationship, and you should enjoy it, but be yourself, no matter what. Stay true to who you are and make sure your partner is comfortable too.

Cupid's Advice:

Deciding when to go public with a relationship and love can be a tough decision to make; therefore, it requires a lot of thought. You should be sure that you genuinely like the person and that you're in it for the long haul. Cupid has some love advice:

2. Be serious: A great way to decide if you should go public with a new love is if the relationship is serious. Tons of celebrity couples jump into relationships (and even marriages!) too quickly, but in reality, nobody wants to take a boyfriend or girlfriend home to meet their families if they are simply a fling. When you know your partner will be around for a while, it's time to show the world.

3. Be sure: When you know, you know. If you are absolutely positive that you like this person, it is an acceptable time to take the relationship public. By this point, you're sure they aren't a psycho; you know they're responsible; and you know their likes and dislikes. Thus, you can feel comfortable sharing your happiness with your family and friends.
