This celebrity wedding proposal has been a very long time coming, and Bachelor Nation is ecstatic! What are some ways to get a long-time friend to recognize his feelings for you?

Cupid's Advice:

It can be frustrating when you have feelings for a close friend. How do you tell them? What happens if they don't feel the same way? More importantly, how do you end up staying friends? Talk about anxiety! Cupid has some advice on ways to get a long-time friend to recognize their feelings for you:

1. It's the little things: In this case, it's the little things that can take you a long way. Pointing out these things the two of you do for each other may make your friend think. Maybe, you are stuck doing a double shift and your friend brings food without you asking. While that is being a good friend, it is also thoughtful and shows that your friend went out of their way to make sure you were okay. Reminding each other of the little things could help the lightbulb go off.

2. What if?: The easiest thing you can do is the “what if” game. There are so many questions to ask but the obvious one would be, “What if we dated?” Remember, this question could go either way so be prepared. This casual, fun way to bring up a relationship will get you an indication on how your friend feels.

3. Say it!: Flat out asking your friend is a sure way of getting an answer. Sometimes beating around the bush not only can make you even more anxious but can be frustrating if your friend isn’t catching on. As scared as you are, telling your friend how you feel will relieve all the built up feelings you have. No matter what, you will always have your friend so just relax and speak your mind.

These celebrity exes split up amicably, but they aren't necessarily on speaking terms. What are some benefits to a clean break after a split?

Cupid's Advice:

There's something to be said for a clean break after a break-up. Cupid has some reasons to consider:

1. Piece of mind: Although you may miss your ex, a clean break often helps to heal faster. Those miserable, "should've, could've, would've" thoughts won't hound you for as long, and you can start to move on. No headaches are always a plus.

Cupid's Advice:

People will always have opinions about aspects of your life. That's okay if you learn how to deal with it and just let it go. Here are some reasons why you should ignore this criticism and not let it get to you:

1. They don't know your feelings: No one in this world is able to grasp your true feelings deep down. So how do they have the right to judge you? If you love someone and you want to be with them, that's all that matters.

Celebrity News: 'The Bachelor' Arie Luyendyk Jr. Proposes In a Dramatic Finale Episode

By Carly Horowitz

In latest celebrity news, The Bachelor finale aired on Monday! Spoiler alert: Arie Luyendyk Jr. proposed to Becca and left Lauren heartbroken. This season of The Bachelor showcased Arie's indecisiveness and abundance of love for many girls! Becca was clearly ecstatic with this result, but Lauren said she felt “betrayed” and “extremely confused” because Arie led her to believe that she was the one. That being said, she didn’t have to be confused for long, because Arie had a change of heart, broke off his engagement to Becca, and then begged for Lauren’s forgiveness! Now, the new official celebrity couple Lauren and Arie are looking for a new start!

In celebrity news, Arie is probably going down in history as the worst Bachelor ever. What are some ways to know you’re sure you’re ready before proposing to your significant other?

Cupid’s Advice:

It’s hard to imagine how your feelings would conflict if you were in the same position as Arie. Nevertheless, marriage is a big commitment and you need to make sure you truly love this person before you embark on this incredible journey of marriage. Here are some things that can help you focus your mind and determine whether you’re ready to propose or say “yes” to a proposal:

1. You’ve allowed yourself to be vulnerable: Before you devote yourself to a lifetime commitment, you need to make sure that your partner has seen every beautiful aspect of you and your personality. You’re not worried that one day your partner might realize some insecure that you have and then not want to be with you anymore. You know you’re ready for marriage if you have been comfortably vulnerable with your partner and they truly know what makes you, you.

2. Your happiness is their happiness: Whenever anything good happens in your life, the first thing you think to do is call your partner because you know they will be just as happy as you are. Form yourself a relationship where you can share good times and bad and you can be confident that your partner will equally experience all of these emotions with you.

3. If you couldn't have an amazing ceremony, you'd still marry: You need to make sure that it is truly your partner whom you want to marry, not the idea of your wedding ceremony. Sometimes when you get to a certain age, you may feel like it is time to settle and have this amazing wedding ceremony that all of your friends have already had, but please make sure that your partner is who you want for the rest of your life. Your soulmate is in this world and it's just a matter of when you find them!

Expert Dating Advice: How to Handle Heartbreak

By Megan Weks

Arie Luyendyk Jr.'s point of view on negative commentary regarding his experience on The Bachelor holds a life lesson we may all be able to benefit from, especially related to finding The One. With regard to facing a backlash from viewers, the reality TV star tells E! News, "It's all about the ending, and finding that person for yourself. That's the important part." The takeaway, then, is that, even though he had to endure hardship, he knew it was all part of the journey to finding his soulmate. This thought process can offer us an intelligent and healthy way to approach heartbreak.

Dating Advice for Dealing with a Broken Heart

Related Link: Checklist for Dating from Different Decades: Get Love Advice from 'The Bachelor'

It seems as though Luyendyk will be seriously breaking some hearts this season, especially since he destroyed the "I love you” rule by saying that powerful phrase to two women. Still, the expert dating advice here is that you must take a risk to get the big reward in life.

In Luyendyk’s case, he risked facing all sorts of negative commentary by living the public lifestyle that is on reality TV. Going on The Bachelor was, for him, the ultimate matchmaking experience. He had twenty-nine handpicked women there, all pre-screened to match his criteria. It’s a big risk, but if we look at the results, there are a lot of successful love stories created through this process. Choosing the right woman certainly was a tough choice for him, though...

The women were less fortunate, as only one out of those twenty-nine would end up not feeling disappointed. A couple of them would be severely heartbroken. And one of them might feel badly embarrassed (spoiler alert!). When we face these devastating moments in our lives, how can we handle them? What can we do to keep our sanity?

The key is to look at heartbreak as a beginning and not an ending. The more we fight the flow of life, the more pain we will endure. Look for the opportunity in everything. If you were not someone’s choice, there is a better choice out there for you.

A couple of months ago, a woman approached me for help with news of a devastating break-up. Upon working together, she decided that it could be an opportunity for her to go out and get everything she had been dreaming of in a relationship. She wasted no time in her decision to adopt the Manfunnel Method of dating: She quickly put herself back out there and reported back in exactly one month’s time that she had met an incredible man. They are now planning their summer trip together with her family. She knew what she wanted and took the action to make it happen.

If you're not looking to date right away, that's okay too. What can you do to take even better care of yourself? Perhaps you commit to your yoga mat, get into that infrared sauna, and spend extra time in the steam room. Fill your body with the highest-quality foods. Take time to sort through what might have gone wrong on your end. If you sit still, reflect, and grow from your experiences, you will eventually attract higher-quality people into your world because of your heightened level of awareness.

Your break-up is an opportunity. It happened for a reason. Soon, you will find out the reason. You may end up being delighted and thankful. So for now, just allow everything to unfold as it is meant to.

Celebrity News: 'The Bachelor' Star Bekah Martinez Says She's More Ready for Marriage Than Arie

By Karley Kemble

Bekah Martinez is one of the most talked about contestants on this season of The Bachelor, not because she caused drama, but because of her age! Though she just turned 23, this season's Bachelor, Arie Luyendyk, Jr., is 36, and he (along with many women on the show) felt Martinez was not ready to settle down. However, in the latest celebrity news, Martinez claims Luyendyk Jr. is the one who's not ready for marriage. In a recent interview with Entertainment Tonight, the reality TV star stated, "I think I'm more ready for marriage than Arie is, quite honestly. I don't think Arie knows what he wants, and I don't think he's serious about being with one person for the rest of his life," reports UsMagazine.com. Though she was mum about why she felt that way, Martinez assured all our questions will be answered during next week's finale. Sounds juicy!

In celebrity news, Bekah M. was accused of not being ready for marriage on The Bachelor. How do you know if you're ready for marriage?

Cupid's Advice:

Age and marriage don't always coincide. When you're ready for marriage and to settle down, you'll know. Check out these tips from Cupid:

1. You're ready to commit: Marriage should be a natural progression in your relationship. In fact, it's better to begin any relationship with marriage on the back burner. Instead of pursuing a relationship with marriage on your mind, focus on being present in the now. As time passes and your love grows, the progression and desire to take the next step will be a fluid change

Related Link: Celebrity News: Arie Tells Two Women He Loves Them Ahead of 'The Bachelor' Finale

2. You aren't trying to fix or save them: All too often, people enter relationships and try to be the heroic figure. In these situations, the underlying thought is that the flaws or challenges the partner is facing will be fixed over time with careful guidance from the other partner. This is never a good idea, as it ultimately is romanticizing challenges and causes you to think things will work out eventually. It's better to find a partner that you see eye-to-eye with, and to keep your mind and heart in-sync with each other.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Jenny McCarthy Says 'Bachelor' Arie Luyendyk Jr. Is a 'Snooze Fest'

3. You know it won't be easy: The honeymoon phase of your relationship will come to an end, and finding romance will not always be a walk in the park. You and your partner will certainly have your fair share of struggles to keep the romance alive. If you are accepting of this, and feel ready to face the challenges that will arise, that is a good sign. Always be sure to grow together, because the only other option is growing apart.

Checklist for Dating from Different Decades: Get Love Advice from 'The Bachelor' Star Arie Luyendyk, Jr.

By Megan Weks

There is a bit of a buzz going on about the age gap between some of the contestants and the leading man on season 22 of The Bachelor. Is it really a big deal? After all, significant age differences are often common in celebrity relationships. A notable one is Mary-Kate Olsen and French businessman Olivier Sarkozy, who is seventeen years older than the fashion designer. Celebrity couple Hugh Jackman and Deborra-lee Furness also seem to be handling the test of time: She is thirteen years his senior, and they have been married for nearly two decades.

Love Advice from Bachelor Star Arie Luyendyk Jr.

What should we look out for if we are dating someone from a different decade? Since Arie Luyendyk Jr. seems well-prepared to qualify the candidates on The Bachelor, we might be able to get some great love advice from his experiences. He has self-proclaimed “baby fever” and is therefore seeking a match who is ready to tie the knot and start a family.

Related Link: Celebrity News: ‘Bachelor’ Star Arie Luyendyk Jr. Justifies First Impression Rose Pick

A good relationship starts with good intentions – which means, if both people know what they want out of life and have similar values, there is a much better chance for success, regardless of a difference in age. Luyendyk knows what he wants, which will make it easier for him to see if the intentions of the women he meets match his own. When people do not have clarity on what they want out of life, they can easily veer away from one another on the path to self-discovery.

Regarding his decision-making process with regard to age, according to The Hollywood Reporter, Luyendyk said, “I only really addressed that if I felt it was an issue – if there was some immaturity or if I questioned whether they were really ready for marriage. It’s more about readiness and about being able to take that next step.”

Realize that, if you choose a mate from a different decade, there will be things you don't have in common. My husband, who is ten years older than me, has different musical interests and grew up knowing different movies and shows. However, since I had an older sibling and am a person who likes all the arts, we find similarities among our tastes. This difference could become frustrating, however, for those who cannot connect through the arts because inevitably, you'll be spending time listening to music and watching movies and shows together. Therefore, it's ideal to be able to find some common ground in media that you can enjoy together.

Another thing to look out for: Either you or your partner will be aging at what seems like a faster rate. Your partner may be reaching the next stage of life – middle age or elderly – before you. This difference might start to be more noticeable for you if you're the younger half. You'll want to be sure you have enough of a soul connection that this situation won't matter to you.

Overall, if your goals, values, and soul connection are intact, then age truly is just a number.
