kind of people you'd be interested in dating?

Cupid's Advice:

Even when you're Selena Gomez, finding good guys is difficult. In order to have a successful relationship, there needs to be some level of compatibility between two people, and to find that you need to attract the right type of people. Cupid has some tips:

1. Know yourself: The first step to attracting people you'd be interested in dating is knowing what kind of people you're looking for. Evaluate what you personally need from someone you'd be dating, and only spend time with people who bring that to the table. You should also do your best to be yourself, because you'll only attract people you'd actually click with if you behave like your genuine self.

2. Birds of a feather flock together: Know what type of person you're looking to date, and go to a place where you'd find those type of people. If you're not into partying, don't go looking for your prince charming in a bar. If you're looking to date someone fit, hit the gym. If you're looking to date someone who works hard, consider someone in your work place or someone a co-worker knows.

3. Keep an open mind: While knowing what your ideal man or woman would be like is important, it is also important not to count people out because they don't check all of your boxes. Keeping an open mind and considering more than one time of person will give you many more people to choose from, and you'll attract more suitors.

By

Nicole Caico

French Montana were rumored to be headed for a celebrity relationship. According to EOnline.com, Azalea silenced dating rumors after the 2016 Maxim Hot 100 party saying, “No, we’re [just] collaborating.” So it looks like the rappers are not a celebrity couple after all.

Apparently there’s no celebrity relationship to be found here. What do you do in the face of relationship rumors involving yourself?

Cupid’s Advice:

Rumors spread fast, and it when a relationship rumor involves you, only you can shut it down. Here’s how to end the rumors before things go too far:

1. Ally: A relationship rumor has to involve you and at least one other person. The first step to successfully shutting down a relationship rumor without hurting feelings is to contact all parties involved and get on the same page. If each person involved is disseminating the message that there is no real relationship, the rumor should die out rather quickly.

2. Use your resources: Giving your most talkative friend all the correct information can almost guarantee that the rumor will get shut down. When people want the gossip, they won’t come to you directly; they’ll probably chat up your closest friend. Feed your friend the right lines and that information is what people will run with.

3. Distract from the gossip: If all people are concerned with is your rumored relationship, give them something else to talk about. Make posts on your social media accounts that are about other bigger and better things you've got going on. Hopefully people will start talking about your new job or most recent vacation instead of the supposed relationship drama.

anywhere, and everybody goes through it at one point or another. Regardless of if you're the breaker or the breakee, Cupid is here to help you cope:

Letting their differences get in the way! What are some ways to remain civil with your ex for the sake of your kids?

Cupid's Advice:

Not everyone can remain as friendly as Kate Hudson and Matt Bellamy. Remaining civil with an ex isn't easy. You parted ways for a reason, and it definitely wasn't because you just loved each other too much. Though you may want to run in the other direction every time you see your ex, that won't help your children at all. Here are some basic ways to remain civil with your ex:

1. Take responsibility: Chances are that when you split from your ex, some ground rules were laid out—either on your own or in court. Follow them. Do not deviate from the schedule, and be sure to hold up your end of the deal. This will help avoid additional issues and show that you respect your ex's time with your kids.

2. Mind your business: Whether your ex is telling you about a date he or she went on, or your kids are relaying information, if it doesn't have to do with you or your children, stay out of it. You may feel entitled to weigh in, but don't do it. Staying out of your ex's personal life or love life will keep everyone's lives more simple.

Surprising, and slightly comforting, celebrity news coming from Jennifer Lawrence this week as she revealed to Vogue magazine that she deals with loneliness just like everyone else. According to UsMagazine.com, the single celebrity said “no one ever asks me out. I am lonely every Saturday night. Guys are so mean to me.” She even added how guys try to assert their dominance and make her feel insecure. It’s shocking to believe that the Oscar-winning actress struggles with finding a genuine guy, but this goes to show even celebrities need love advice!

This celebrity news is super surprising! What are some ways to find the “nice guy”?

Cupid’s Advice:

Having feelings for someone is now considered a sign of weakness, and being attached to someone is deemed too clingy. With these societal norms spreading it’s more difficult than ever to find a happy relationship. But don't give up hope yet! Contrary to popular belief all of the "nice guys" haven't fallen off the face of the Earth just yet. Cupid is here to help you find a man worth falling for:

1. Be yourself from the very beginning: By never hiding your true self a guy will know immediately the expectations he has to live up to and the standards he has to meet. On the first few dates women tend to let a lot of things slide in order to come off as easy-going, but sometimes letting the guy know exactly who you are and what you want will make it clear to him how to act like a gentleman.

2. Stop playing games: After middle school there's no valid reason why men and women should continue to play mind games with each other. Making your partner guess if you like them or calculating when to text back is feeding into this concept that dating is a game. Nice guys won't want to participate in these games so just leave them at home.

3. Respect yourself: Treating yourself with dignity will be a great example for any man to follow. Say no when you want to say no and don't allow yourself to be stepped on. Don't ever bend over backwards trying to please a guy because a relationship should be a two-way partnership with balance.

At an event for Latina magazine, Adrienne Bailon kept the tabloids on their toes when she didn't technically deny recent celebrity news that she was back with her past love Rob Kardashian. According to UsMagazine.com, when confronted with fans asking about their rekindled romance, Bailon replied, "It is what it is". The celebrity dating rumors continue as she added, "He's a great guy and I always wish him well". The famous couple dated for two years in 2007, but had a rough celebrity break-up after Bailon got into a social media fight with his sisters Kim and Khloe Kardashian.

This celebrity news is a good thing in the wake of rumors surrounding Rob Kardashian. What are some ways to keep rumors from affecting your self-confidence?

Cupid's Advice:

While gossip can often seem trivial and childlike, it can actually do serious damage to a person's mindset. Once you realize that rumors are simply designed out of boredom, confusion, and jealousy then you can move on and focus on yourself. Overcoming and ignoring rumors is a step towards mental peace. Cupid has developed a few ways to keep your confidence high while dealing with distracting rumors:

1. Get to the heart of why the rumor exists: If you can have a basic understanding of where the rumor came from and how it developed then you will see it is just one big misunderstanding. In our minds rumors are thrown out of proportion to seem like the end of the world. Putting your mind at ease to realize that gossip is nonsense talk will help you disregard its message. A clear head equals a happy mind.

2. Look at the situation positively: Not letting a rumor hurt or degrade you is an accomplishment that should be celebrated. Relish in the fact that you are mightier than a combination of reckless words. You can gain something from every hard situation, especially from conquering, or even destroying, gossip.

3. Smile: The easiest and most over-looked way to achieve self-confidence is to literally fake it until you make it. Psychology shows by smiling more often and thinking positively you can trick your brain into being happier. Not only does smiling reduce stress levels, but it will make you look great too.

Celebrity Gossip: Dane Cook Responds to Miley Cyrus Dating Rumors

By

Mackenzie Scibetta

Dane Cook, 43, is clearing the air up about any celebrity gossip that says him and 22-year-old Miley Cyrus are romantically involved. According to People.com, Cook said playfully that he is “always the last to know these things” and denied any sort of Hollywood relationship with Cyrus. Single celebrity Cyrus has told reporters recently of her desire to remain unattached, “I’m going on dates, but I change my style every two weeks, let alone who I’m with.”

This celebrity gossip is apparently off-base! What are some ways to keep untrue rumors from affecting your life?

Cupid’s Advice:

A rumor is a doubtful (or completely false) truth, and that is all it should be. Don’t let rumors enter your life as anything more than meaningless words. Cupid has three pieces of dating advice to help you have a rumor-free existence:

1. Play it like Dane Cook and laugh it off: Most rumors come from such absurd places that there's nothing to do but laugh. They are generally so untrue that laughing is the most attention you should give them. This will also prove you won't let petty gossip affect you.

2. Deal with the source directly: Ask around and figure out who started the rumor. Once you find the creator of all of the drama you can ask them nicely to admit to creating the false lie. It is unlikely they will ever spread anything untrue about you again.

3. Completely ignore it: By not feeding into the negativity of gossiping, you are putting yourself in a better position for happiness. If addressed about a ridiculous rumor, don't even respond because there are more important problems in the world to focus on.

Meranda Yslas

Now, the celebrity exes are on the hunt for a new love and are showing it on social media. According to Fashion&Style, Murray posted an adorable picture of his dog on Instagram with #mommyHunting. The reality star is also open about dating when she posted a photo of her new man on Instagram. Even though it looks as if the two have moved on, Dorfman still speaks kindly and optimistically about her celebrity ex. "I never say never," she shared, "I've learned that for a really long time, to never say never, but I think I'm really happy with the life I'm living right now and all I can say is I hope for happiness with him too."

Celebrity exes Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray aren't shy about publicly displaying their search for love. What are three reasons exes should not openly flaunt their dating life in front of one another?

Cupid's Advice:

There's always the question of how long you should wait from the break-up to going back out and looking for love. Once you do start a new romantic relationship, are you suppose to let your ex know? Here are three reasons why it's better to keep your dating life away from a past lover:

1. It could look like competition: If it seems like you're purposely bragging about your new love life just to make your ex jealous, it may be difficult to start a real and true new relationship. Both your new guy and your ex will think the relationship is only for attention.

2. Maintaining a friendship: Although some break-ups make it impossible for any form of friendship to last, that's not always the case. If you still want to have your ex in your life, it's better not to bring up the subject of dating and new mates. It's uncomfortable and can put a strain on the new friendship.

3. Picking a side: If you two have dated for a long it is likely that you have mutual friends. If you're flaunting all over Facebook or Twitter about your new partner, your ex may get curious and try to get the details from one of those mutual friends, placing them in an awkward situation. Rather than making your friends feel like they have to chose a side in the break-up or play the messenger between the two, it's better to just keep that part of your life private.
