

Celebrity Exes Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray Flaunt their Search for Love Online

By

Meranda Yslas

On the latest season of The Bachelorette we all watched and cheered when Andi Dorfman chose Josh Murray to be her fiance. Unfortunately, their celebrity love story didn't last long. Now, the celebrity exes are on the hunt for a new love and are showing it on social media. According to Fashion&Style, Murray posted an adorable picture of his dog on Instagram with #mommyHunting. The reality star is also open about dating when she posted a photo of her new man on Instagram. Even though it looks as if the two have moved on, Dorfman still speaks kindly and optimistically about her celebrity ex. “I never say never,” she shared, “I’ve learned that for a really long time, to never say never, but I think I’m really happy with the life I’m living right now and all I can say is I hope for happiness with him too.”

Celebrity exes Andi Dorfman and Josh Murray aren’t shy about publicly displaying their search for love. What are three reasons exes should not openly flaunt their dating life in front of one another?

Cupid’s Advice:

There’s always the question of how long you should wait from the break-up to going back out and looking for love. Once you do start a new romantic relationship, are you suppose to let your ex know? Here are three reasons why it’s better to keep your dating life away from a past lover:

1. It could look like competition: If it seems like you’re purposely bragging about your new love life just to make your ex jealous, it may be difficult to start a real and true new relationship. Both your new guy and your ex will think the relationship is only for attention.

2. Maintaining a friendship: Although some break-ups make it impossible for any form of friendship to last, that’s not always the case. If you still want to have your ex in your life, it's better not to bring up the subject of dating and new mates. It's uncomfortable and can put a strain on the new friendship.

3. Picking a side: If you two have dated for a long it is likely that you have mutual friends. If you're flaunting all over Facebook or Twitter about your new partner, your ex may get curious and try to get the details from one of those mutual friends, placing them in an awkward situation. Rather than making your friends feel like they have to chose a side in the break-up or play the messenger between the two, it's better to just keep that part of your life private.

as shocking and controversial. Justin Bieber Says He Isn't Looking for a Romantic Relationship Right Now

By

Meranda Yslas

Sorry ladies, it seems that Justin Bieber isn't looking for a new girlfriend anytime soon. As told in UsMagazine.com, Bieber is happy being a single celebrity. The singer shared, "At this point in my life I'm so focused on myself that I'm not looking for a girlfriend. I'm just trying to make sure I'm 100 percent so I can add to the person I want to be with. I want a girl I can trust, who I can lean on. This business is hard, and I want someone I can confide in.” As the 21 year old star is concentrating on himself, his romantic relationships are taking the backseat.

You won't find any romantic relationships here! What are some reasons to delay entering into a new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sure; relationships and love are fun, but they aren't always what you need. Sometimes the best love advice is to take time for yourself and figure out what you want. Here are Cupid's reason for holding off starting a new romantic relationship:

1. Not willing to settle: Don't get into a relationship for the sake of being in an relationship. If you're waiting for your Mr. or Mrs. Right, then you can keep waiting and not settle for flings that you know aren't going to last.

'The Bachelor' Winner
Courtney Robertson Says Her
'Reality TV Days Are Over'

By

Jessica DeRubbo

Former The Bachelor winner Courtney Robertson is single and ready to mingle! The contestant we used to love to hate has moved on since her celebrity break-up with Ben Flajnik on the reality TV show, and just recently got out of another relationship and love that stemmed from Tinder. According to UsMagazine.com, Robertson met a “normal guy,” Adam, on Tinder and they started dating right after they met. Now, though, she says, “I’m single and I’m happy. I have love in my life, and I have great people in my life. And I’m not rushing that part of my life.” She also said, “Ummm, I don’t think I’ll be back on Tinder anytime soon. I’ll just put it that way!”

This former Bachelor star found love on Tinder. What are some drawbacks to using Tinder to get dates?

Cupid's Advice:

Tinder and other dating apps are sometimes a good way to meet new people, but other times it's best to explore other avenues. Cupid has some things to be wary of when it comes to Tinder:

1. Unclear expectations: Tinder originally debuted as a hook-up app. It's since evolved into both a hook-up and dating app, but the line is grey and it can be hard to tell whether a person you're going to meet up with is looking for friendship, a date, or intimate relations.

Related Link: New Celebrity Couple: Courtney Robertson is Dating New Tinder Boyfriend

2. Fake profiles: Tinder especially has been known for harboring fake profiles. It's very easy to create one, and a lot of people think it's a funny thing to play with. By using the app, you're opening yourself up to possible deception.

3. Lack of romance: There's no reason to let go of romantic notions and desires, and Tinder can sometimes strip that away. If you are traditional and want to be sought after, this type of app will not facilitate that.

Celebrity News: Jennifer Lawrence Says Bradley Cooper Is Her Work Husband

By

Jenna Bagcal

Having a work husband or a work wife is a great relationship to have at your job. The chemistry between you and your work spouse can promote productivity and create an overall welcoming and pleasant work environment. In the latest celebrity news from UsMagazine.com, Jennifer Lawrence referred to newly single celebrity Bradley Cooper as her “work husband.” Cooper’s celebrity break-up from model Suki Waterhouse was reported after the famous couple had been dating for two years. Lawrence and Cooper have been known for working together on a number of films, and the two have a mutual respect for each other's craft with "no sex" in their relationship, according to Lawrence.

This celebrity news is no news in this case! What's the difference between a real husband and a work husband?

Cupid's Advice:

These stars made celebrity news for their status as "work spouses," but this trend happens in regular offices as well. While the term "work husband" may be a little misleading, there are differences between your work husband and your real husband that you should be aware of. Here are Cupid's tips for differentiating between the two:

1. You don't have a sexual relationship with your work husband: Although you may spend hours on end with your work husband and have great chemistry with him at the office, there are boundaries that should not be crossed. You should not engage in any kinds of sexual behavior with your work spouse. Your relationship with your work husband should be strictly professional, making sure to not blur the lines between your work relationship and your marriage.

Related Link: Bradley Cooper and Suki Waterhouse Become Celebrity Exes After Two Years of Dating

2. Issues with your real husband should be resolved between the two of you: Arguments and drawn out fights with your husband are inevitable. However, this does not mean that you should bring your issues you have with your husband to your work spouse. When you have a disagreement with your husband, work it out between the two of you at home instead of telling

Brian from work how frustrating your partner can be.

3. Don't spend alone time with your work husband outside of work: If you eat lunch with your work husband during your break, that's one thing. But grabbing drinks with him during happy hour is something that should be avoided, because it crosses the line between your work relationship and your romantic relationship with your husband. Always remember that while you have a great relationship with your work spouse, it's something that should be limited to the office.

Single Celebrity Meghan Trainor Auditions Husbands in New Music Video

By

Maggie Manfredi

Another hit from Trainor! According to People.com, Meghan Trainor released her new music video for pop song “Dear Future Husband” on Monday. Cupid’s Advice:

Finding the right match can be a tricky thing, even for single celebrities like Trainor! Cupid has some dating advice on how to evaluate your potential matches:

1. What are you looking for?: It's not only about the things that attract the eye, but also what your futures hold. Are you both single and looking for something casual, or is one of you thinking you'd like to settle down and start a family? These are some things to figure out early on in your relationship and love life with someone.

2. Etiquette early: It may be a bit old fashioned, but there's nothing wrong with simply being polite! Does your date have manners and treat you with respect? Perhaps he or she even holds the door for you? Take these moves into consideration, because if your date is rude, that is a quick deal breaker in Cupid's eyes.

3. If you want to be my lover...: Yes, it is the Spice Girls special, and as they say, "You gotta get with my friends." Make sure your date is not only compatible with you, but is also compatible with the people you care about most in your life. If this person is going to be your partner, you need the support of your friends and family. Trainor sings, "Don't leave me lonely and know we'll never see your family more than mine."

Chris Harrison Jokingly Slaps Chris Soules in New 'Bachelor' Promo

By

Jessica DeRubbo

The promos for the upcoming season of 'The Bachelor' Season 19 are upon us! In a recently released promotional trailer featuring Chris Soules' quest for relationships and love, host Chris Harrison is seen jokingly slapping Soules in the form of a reality check when his women contestants begin arriving in the first episode. "I am the luckiest man alive," Soules said, according to UsMagazine.com. "I really do believe I can find that special someone."

Finding relationships and love can seem like a dream. What are some ways to give your friends a reality check when it comes to their dating lives?

Cupid's Advice:

There's no doubt about it: sometimes you and your friends need a reality check in your relationships and love lives. Cupid has some ways to dole them out:

1. Be straightforward: Sometimes the best thing you can do is tell it like it is. If you see a friend idolizing their partner or doing things they wouldn't normally do in a relationship, call them out on it. If they are a close friend and trust you, that's all it should take.

2. Stage an intervention: In extreme cases, it might be necessary to get a group of their loved ones together to stage an intervention. For instance, if you know your friend is in an emotionally abusive relationship, you may want to take this approach. Get together and let your friend know you all care, but that something needs to be done. He/she may pay more attention if there's more than one person.

3. Gradually work up to it: Dropping hints here and there in a subtle way may be the way to go if what you're pointing out is something fairly minor.

Ryan Seacrest Aspires for a

Marriage Like His Mom and Dad

By

Sarah Batcheller

As Ryan Seacrest nears his 40th birthday in December, he's thinking about what it is in life that matters forever- love! According to People, Seacrest thinks this means a marriage like his mother and father's, which is a healthy and happy one. His parents have been married for over 40 years, so now the multi-media mogul is thinking about how and when finding the same kind of love is in store for him, and the 40-year milestone is a wonderful time. Seacrest says his goal is to find balance in the coming year, which means focusing a little less on work, and a little more on the sweeter things in life.

How do you know when you're in a healthy relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Balance is important in any relationship, and it can be hard to see the signs if you're in an unhealthy relationship. Cupid has some hints that point to a healthy relationship:

1. You spend quality time together: Even amid all the craziness of work, school, and all other responsibilities, you and your partner make sure you set aside time to be together, and not just to sit around the house, but to have fun and bond. Spending quality time together allows both people to continue to feel connected throughout the days, even when they haven't seen each other for a bit. In long-distance relationships, this means making time for quality conversations, and not just texting all the time.

Related: How To Turn A Summer Fling Into A Healthy Relationship

2. You both make compromises: Being in a relationship means being part of a team, and when you're on a team, the goal is not for individual members to win, but for the whole group to win. This means that in a healthy relationship, both partners consider the team when it comes to big decisions, like relocating, and even little ones, like where to get dinner. Compromise means considering what will sustain a happy, functional relationship, rather than one person only considering themselves.

3. You're not afraid to be vulnerable: Masking your feelings will set you on the fast track to the demise of your relationship. If both partners can be vulnerable, it makes it easier to compromise, because you know what each other truly want, deep down. Showing your true colors will allow your partner to nurture your deepest feelings.

Taylor Swift References “Dramatic” Ex-Boyfriends at Teen Choice Awards

By

Laura Seaman

Taylor Swift struck again as she made a clever comment about her ex-boyfriends at the Teen Choice Awards, according to UsMagazine.com. The country star was presenting the award for Choice Actor in a Drama Movie when she made the comment, “I was excited when they asked me to come and present this award, because no one knows more about dramatic males than I do.” One of her exes, Harry Styles, won multiple awards with his band One Direction that night, and he ended up beating Swift for the Choice Smile award.

What are some ways to deal with dramatic exes?

Cupid’s Advice:

Most people try to avoid drama, and for good reason. It’s immature, annoying, and can seriously mess up relationships. It’s hard enough to date a dramatic person, but sometimes it’s even more difficult to deal with a dramatic ex. They can’t seem to just move on, and they want everyone to know about it. Here are some tips to deal with that ex who doesn’t know when to end the drama:

1. Unfriend and unfollow them on social media. Passive aggressive Facebook statuses and mopey song lyrics on Twitter can get really old really fast. If you really want to get rid of this annoying virtual drama, the solution is simple: get rid of that person on your social media. No more notifications from them!

Related: Ed Sheeran’s New Girlfriend is Taylor Swift Approved!

2. Avoid places where they might be. Dealing with a dramatic ex is even worse when it’s in person, so while it might be a bit inconvenient at times, it’s worth it to avoid the award staring, whispering behind your back, or even a scene if your ex is super dramatic. If you know your ex is going to be somewhere, do your best to avoid that place at all costs! It’s not cowardly, it’s smart.

Related: Taylor Swift Cuts Off Selena Gomez Post-Reunion with Justin Bieber

3. Don’t give in to the drama. Sometimes your ex will try to drag you into the drama and try their best to make you respond. Whatever you do, don't give them the satisfaction of reacting! Ignore them and don't let their words get to you. Maintain your composure and let them make a fool of themselves without you. Source Says Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin Look 'Genuinely Happy' in Hamptons

By

Laura Seaman

Despite their 'conscious uncoupling', Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin have been getting along just fine. The two were seen at the premiere for Hector and the Search for Happiness in New York. The film stars Simon Pegg, the godfather to one of their children. The two showed their support for Pegg while also seeming happy and supportive of each other. It wasn't until the end of the cocktail party after the premiere that the two were seen speaking to each other, but an insider told UsMagazine.com that "they looked genuinely happy to be in each other's company."

What are some ways to remain civil with your ex post-breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

Couples break up for a reason, and very rarely is that reason a pleasant one. It's understandable to be angry and upset with your ex, but sometimes you have to move past the hurt for the sake of the children, your friends, or your own sanity. It can be hard to move on from the hurt and learn to forgive, but never fear! There is always a way to set things right, even with your ex, and cupid is here to help:

1. Don't put the blame on anyone. Whether it was you or your partner that ended the relationship, nobody is at fault. Something was wrong between the two of you and it had to end, so someone had to speak up. Any relationship is a two-way street, so don't start pointing fingers. Instead, acknowledge that something just didn't work and move on from there.

2. Admit that it's over, and that's okay. Nothing causes friction like an ex chasing after you and attempting to get back together. Don't be that person! Tell yourself it's for the best and that you'll be happier in the long run. If you have to, give yourself some distance from your ex before trying to patch things up. Friendship is a much better option than a one-way attraction.

3. Remember why you liked them in the first place. Many people will shout the disgusted phrase, "Ugh! I don't even know why I dated them! They're such a scumbag!" after a breakup. It's understandable; you're angry and hurt. But after that frustration wears off, you have to remember that there was a reason you two were together. There was something there that you liked, and you have to focus on the good times instead of the bad. It will make any future encounters a lot easier.

How do you know when to put love before your career?

Cupid's Advice:

How can you choose between the person you love and what you love doing? In matters of the heart nothing is ever simple. Take a step back from the situation and weigh out your options. Love involves taking risks so take into account these three points before making your decision:

1. It all comes down to your happiness: If your partner is asking you to blatantly choose between them or your career, you need to proceed with caution. If this person isn't who you want to spend the rest of your life with, and they're asking you to quit what you love doing, they probably aren't the best match for you. Ambitious women are a force to be reckoned with, so don't let any man stand in the way of you reaching your goals. But if you have asked your partner to make significant sacrifices with their career for you, it may be your turn to return the favor.

2. Go with your gut: As people, our intuition can be one of the most useful tools we have. With first impressions, job interviews, and when meeting new people our gut feeling about the person is generally accurate. When it comes down to making a difficult decision with your relationship and your career, flip a coin. When the coin is in the air, you'll realize what you're wishing for most, and that should be the choice you make. Going for what you want most and things not panning out is better than wonder "What if" for the rest of your life.

3. There is always other jobs, but there is only one of him: Yes, leaving the security of a job can be scary, or even just putting it in the backseat can be terrifying. There are millions of organizations out there that would be a good match for you, but there are very few people in the 7-billion that are compatible with you. If you truly love him, then there should be no decision. He is your decision.

How do you join the dating world after splitting from you own long-term relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Once you split with the person you've been with for a long time, it can be hard to even think of putting yourself back out there and be open to explore. Getting back into the dating game after being in a long committed relationship can be fun and exciting if you let yourself go there. Cupid has some advice on how to join the dating world after a long-term relationship:

1. Reinvent yourself: Nothing says starting fresh, than reinventing or re-evaluating your life and it's priorities. You don't have to drastically alter yourself or your looks, but this can be a good time to maybe try something different with yourself or consider trying new things. It can be anything whether it's you buying a new outfit or wardrobe, changing your hairstyle, or experimenting with new things.

What are some ways to tell your loved ones about the one you love?

Cupid’s Advice:

You have someone new in your life, but you’re not sure how your family and friends will react to the news. You don’t want to avoid telling your loved ones about your new significant other – especially if they might find out the news from someone else. Cupid is here to help:

1. Ease your way in: Don’t just blurt out the news about your new partner right away. Have a general conversation with your family like you normally would do. Ask about their day, tell them how you’re doing, etc. When you feel like the discussion is going well, then bring up your love life.

Brandi Glanville Talks About Dating as a Single Parent

By

Sanetra Richards

Dating as a parent can be tricky. Brandi Glanville of Real Housewives of Beverly Hills is one of many women who come across the 'dating worry pot.' Brandi Glanville, who was once married to Eddie Cibrian, has her fair share of issues as a member of the single parent dating community, according to People. The mother of two went on to talk about the challenges of dating as a single parent, saying, “It’s hard for me to take the leap of trust. I’m a little bit tough because I can’t afford to get my heart broken. When I do bring someone to meet [my sons], it’s going to be for good.”

How do you balance dating and being a single parent?

Cupid’s Advice:

As a mom or dad, you constantly worry about your child – from the time they take their first breath to their first school crush. It is completely natural to develop a concern in everything that involves them. With all of this in mind, dating as a single parent is just another ingredient to add to the pot of worries. Although it may be challenging, it is possible to balance by taking a few steps:

1. Waiting a little while: The first mistake many single parents sometimes make is introducing the person they are newly dating to the child(ren) early on. Who’s to say this person will be around for the long run? Unless you are fully devoted and committed, your best bet is to wait to take this step. Children are often exposed to their parents’ personal lives at young ages, which can possibly lead to development issues in later years. There is no need to rush.

2. Being honest: One of the most, if not the most, important keys to successfully mingling is to remain honest at all times. Be upfront with the person you are dating and inform them that you are a single parent. If this done in the beginning, it will not come as a surprise down the line. Also, you will likely find out if he or she wants to be involved with someone who is a parent.

3. Don't forget to be 'mommy' or 'daddy': If the previous steps have been taken in a timely manner, the meeting between your significant other and child(ren) is next. Communicate with your child(ren) before and after the introduction, in order to avoid any ill feelings or misbehavior. In addition, give him or her time to warm up to your new partner – group outings and activities may help in this department.

By

Brittany Stubbs

Despite the rumors going around, Austin Mahone, 17, and Selena Gomez, 21, are not dating. “We’re just friends,” Mahone says. “She’s really cool...I mean, I think she’s really pretty but every time I’m in L.A., she’s like, ‘Hey, you’re in L.A., lets hang out,’” he added at the Aquafina FlavorSplash press conference this Wednesday. “So it’s cool.” An industry insider, having worked with both of the teen stars, claims that though they are not dating, Mahone and Gomez certainly have a special connection. “They’ve been hanging out over the last few months,” the source tells People. “They have a lot of respect for each other.”

How do you know whether to risk your friendship for a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Deciding whether or not you should take your friendship to a romantic level is tough; it can often be messy and end badly. Despite the potential consequences though, sometimes the best relationships begin with a friendship, so it is important to know when to take the risk:

1. If the feeling is mutual: If you're starting to feel something for your friend that's more than just friendly, it's important to try and assess their feelings before taking it to the next level. If you haven't actually spoken about these feelings, pay attention to the way he speaks to you, speaks about other girls in front of you, etc. If you're going to risk your friendship by telling him how you truly feel, you want to make sure there's at least a chance he could feel the same way, because once you speak up, your friendship will never be the same.

2. If the timing is right for both of you: Timing is everything when it comes to any relationship. Deciding whether or not to take it to that next level, consider where you both currently are. Are either of you seeing other people, even if they're not serious? Are either of you fresh out of a relationship? It's important to consider these complications before deciding to be something more.

3. You can no longer see them as just a friend: If you're at the point where you no longer can look at each other without wondering if you could be something more, you might as well risk your friendship because you're already past the point of acting as friends. Although things might go south down the road, it will beat a long friendship of wondering, what if?

Taylor Swift Says, “I Only Write Songs About Crazy, Emotional Love”

By

April Littleton

According to People, When it comes to her songwriting inspirations, Taylor Swift has let plenty of ex-boyfriends off the hook. “I only write songs about crazy love,” Swift told

What are some ways to use music to cope with a broken heart?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dealing with a broken heart can feel unbearable at times – especially if you weren’t the one who wanted the relationship to end. Every individual handles a breakup in their own way, but music seems to be a common form of self-therapy. Cupid has some tips:

1. Get creative: If you’re musically inclined, think about writing your own song or creating your own depending on what instrument you play. You can make your own heartbreak song or try something a little more positive – think Destiny’s Child’s Survivor.
