

Ben Affleck

Ben Affleck is certainly the #mancrushmonday for many ladies! Not only is he good-looking, but he's immensely talented as an actor, producer, and screenwriter. Before he got all of those resume credits under his belt, he was just a kid who was running around Cambridge, Massachusetts with childhood friend Matt Damon. His big break came in 1997 in the Academy Award-winning film Good Will Hunting. After a great performance with long-time buddy Damon, the actor began landing parts in other great films, including Shakespeare in Love, Dogma, and Forces of Nature. More recently, he produced, wrote, and starred in Golden Globe-winning film Argo. He also appeared in films like Runner Runner and Gone Girl. He will play Batman in Batman vs. Superman, which will premiere in March 2016.

Throughout the late 90s, Ben Affleck had an on-and-off relationship and love with Gwyneth Paltrow, which lasted until 2000. After Paltrow, he was rumored to be with a series of different women, including Salma Hayek, Jaime King, and Famke Janssen. In 2003, he announced his celebrity engagement to Jennifer Lopez, who he co-starred with in the film Gigli, but the two never made it down the aisle. He seems to have a thing for Jennifers and soon began a celebrity relationship with Jennifer Garner, his co-star in the film Daredevil. He proposed to Garner on her 33rd birthday, and the two got hitched when she was three months pregnant with their oldest daughter, Violet Anne. They went on to have two more children, daughter Seraphina Rose and son Samuel Garner. In June 2015, the famous couple surprised fans and announced their celebrity divorce after 10 years of marriage.

Jessica Alba

Jessica Alba was born on April 28, 1981, and as the daughter of a member of the U.S. Air Force, she lived in California, Texas, and Mississippi before settling down in California. At the age of 12, the actress got her first big break when she appeared in the 1994 comedy Camp Nowhere. Around the same time, she also landed a recurring role on The Secret World of Alex Mack. After landing a string of guest appearances, she appeared in her first leading role in Dark Angel. She made her debut on the big screen with the film Honey in 2003. Some of Alba's career highlights include playing Nancy Callahan in Sin City and Sue Storm in The Fantastic Four as well as starring in Into the Blue, Good Luck Chuck, The Eye, and The Love Guru. Outside of acting, she co-founded a consumer goods line called The Honest Company, which is doing extremely well.

When it comes to her love life, Jessica Alba dated Dark Angel castmate Michael Weatherly for three years; the celebrity couple got engaged but split before they could walk down the aisle. Then, she was rumored to be with actor Paul Walker, golfer Sergio Garcia, actor Mark Wahlberg, and baseball player Derek Jeter. The beauty met Cash Warren on the set of Fantastic Four, and in 2008, the famous couple got married. That same year, Alba gave birth to their first celebrity baby Honor Marie Warren. Two years later, they welcomed their second child, daughter Haven Garner Warren.

Jennifer Aniston

Jennifer Aniston first stole our hearts as Rachel on the popular sitcom Friends and became an instant style icon when her layered haircut was a nationwide trend. The actress was born on February 11, 1969 in Sherman Oaks, California. Both her parents were actors, so she was familiar with show business and was encouraged to take an interest in drama. After several minor film and television roles, she landed her breakout role as Rachel, where she kept us on our toes with her dramatic, spoiled girl antics and on-and-off relationship and love with Ross Geller. The series lasted for 10 seasons, and she won both a Golden Globe Award and an Emmy Award for her role. Aniston has also made a name for herself on the big screen, appearing in both indie films and big budget movies. She is best known for her work in romantic comedies, including Bruce Almighty, Along Came Polly, Rumor Has It, The Break-Up, He's Just Not That Into You, and Horrible Bosses and its recent sequel.

Jennifer Aniston's love life has been somewhat of a roller coaster. In the 1990s, she had a few not-so-serious relationships, including Charlie Schlatter and Adam Duritz. In 1995, she started dating Tate Donovan. They were together for three years and even had a celebrity engagement, but they never took that next step down the aisle. Then, the star met Brad Pitt, and we all died a little at the perfection of the couple. The two married in 2000 and seemed happy until they suddenly separated in 2005 due to rumors that Pitt had cheated with his Mr. and Mrs. Smith costar Angelina Jolie. Soon thereafter, she filed for divorce.

The actress was quick to rebound and started dating Vince Vaughn in 2005. They lasted a year before splitting up. Once again, she moved on shortly after their break-up, having a fling with British model Paul Sculfor. In 2008, she dated John Mayer for about a year. She then went on to have brief romances with some of the hottest guys in Hollywood, including Bradley Cooper, Gerard Butler, and Jason Sudeikis. She finally settled down with Justin Theroux, and the celebrity couple got engaged in 2012.

Mario Batali

A slogan for Mario Batali's career could be "Good food creates good television." Batali is a world-renowned famous chef, with many restaurants around the country. His Italian food is delicious and was what initially launched his fame. Beginning in the early 90's, Batali opened a series of restaurants to the delight of the rather critical New York media. The success of his restaurants was so good that Batali was offered a celebrity TV show on the Food Network called "Molto Mario." The show aired for 8 years. He's also had success in his other restaurants as well. Along with Joe Bastianich, the duo formed B&B Hospitality Group. They have 10 restaurants in New York City, four in Las Vegas, two in Los Angeles, Hong Kong and Singapore, one in Boston, and an Italian market in Chicago.

Batali has a beautiful family as well. He has been married to his wife, Susi Cahn, since 1994 and they have two celebrity children, Leo and Benno. The celebrity chef also has a philanthropic group, called the Mario Batali Foundation, that he started in 2008, which educates and empowers children to dream big while providing them with the necessary tools to become an active force for change in today's world.

David Beckham

David Beckham is best known for two things: his career as a former professional footballer and his marriage to celebrity love Victoria Beckham. Born May 2, 1975, the sports star grew up with one passion: football. He made his professional debut with Manchester United in 1992 at the age of 17. With Manchester United, he won the Premier League title six times, the FA Cup twice, and the UEFA Champions League once. He then went on to play for several other teams: Preston North End, Real Madrid, Milan, LA Galaxy, Paris Saint-Germain, and the England national team. He is the first British footballer to play 100 UEFA Champions League games and is internationally renowned for his range of passing, crossing ability, and bending free-kicks, which prompted the title of the football movie Bend It Like Beckham (2002) in which he had a cameo. In 2004, he was named one of FIFA's 100 world's greatest living players.

In 1997, at a Manchester United match, David Beckham met Victoria Adams – then known as Posh Spice. Their celebrity romance quickly took off, and they become affectionately named “Posh and Becks” in the media. Beckham popped the question a year later on January 24, 1998 in a restaurant in Cheshunt, England. Their celebrity wedding took place at Luttrellstown Castle in Ireland on July 4, 1999 in high fashion. The famous couple are parents of four children: sons Brooklyn (born 1999), Romeo (born 2002), and Cruz (born 2005) and daughter Harper (born 2011).

Victoria Beckham

Victoria Beckham has been many things: a model, a singer, an actress, a fashion designer, a businesswoman, one half of Hollywood couple Posh and Becks, and a celebrity mom. Born April 17, 1974 in Essex, she became famous as Posh Spice after joining the world-famous pop group Spice Girls in 1994. The group was widely successful: They had 10 number 1 singles and sold over 55 million records worldwide before they split in 2000. Afterwards, Beckham pursued her solo singing career. Between 2000 and 2004, she released several singles, but after an initial success, her songs quickly began to decline in sales and popularity, effectively ending her solo career.

Since then, she has become an internationally recognized style icon and designer. Her fashion line Victoria Beckham launched in 2008 and has expanded considerably since then. Now a fixture at New York Fashion Week, her line has grown from dresses to include denim, eyewear, separates, fragrances, and high-end luxury handbags. In November 2011, she was awarded Designer Brand of the Year at the British Fashion Awards.

Apart from her professional success, Victoria Beckham has also been very successful in her relationship and love. She and husband David Beckham met in 1997 and were married two years later on July 4, 1999 in Ireland. Their extravagant celebrity wedding was rumored to cost £500,000, and pictures showed the newlyweds sitting on golden thrones after the ceremony. The famous couple has four celebrity kids: sons Brooklyn (born 1999), Romeo (born 2002), and Cruz (born 2005) and daughter Harper (born 2011).

Kate Beckinsale

We can't help but think this English actress has a close resemblance to the elegant Duchess of Cambridge. Same name but different Kate, Beckinsale proves to be a face of poise and grace. Born on July 26, 1973, she was practically welcomed into royalty – or Hollywood royalty, that is – as both of her parents were actors. At the age of four, she made her first television appearance, which would decide her destiny as an actress. In 2001, Beckinsale emerged on the big screen in what would be her big break in the film Pearl Harbor. Ever the acting chameleon, she has starred in films of many genres, ranging from romantic comedies like Serendipity and Click to action movies like Total Recall and Underworld.

Aside from the large success of Underworld and its sequels, Beckinsale's celebrity relationship was also affected by this film. She and fellow actor Michael Sheen had been a celebrity couple for eight years prior to filming when she fell in love with Underworld director Len Wiseman. Wiseman and Beckinsale celebrated their celebrity marriage in 2004 and have since remained friends with Sheen, with whom Beckinsale shares a daughter, Lily Mo. It's hard to keep mum about celebrity relationships in Hollywood, but she continues to do so with poise and grace.

Kristen Bell

Kristen Bell is an actress and singer who was born on July 18, 1980. In 2001, she had her beginnings on Broadway and made her debut in The Adventures of Tom Sawyer. She soon gained critical acclaim and is most famous for her role as the title character on the television series and in the movie Veronica Mars. Since 2012, she has starred in the Showtime series House of Lies. Other roles include her characters in Heroes, Gossip Girl, Forgetting Sarah Marshall, and Frozen.

In 2007, Kristen Bell ended her five-year relationship and love with fiance Kevin Mann. She later told Complex magazine that she is a serial monogamist. She then began dating actor Dax Shepard, and the famous couple announced their celebrity engagement in 2010. However, they decided to delay their marriage until the state of California passed legalization of same-sex marriage. In 2013, after the Defense of Marriage Act passed, Bell asked Shepard to marry her on Twitter, which he accepted. Their celebrity wedding took place at the Beverly Hills County Clerk's Office. The Hollywood couple has two celebrity kids together: daughters Lincoln and Delta.

Calum Best

Calum Milan Best is an American-British model, actor, and reality TV personality. He was born in San Jose, California to model Angie Beat and soccer legend George Best. Best began modeling in the U.S. as a teenager but moved to the U.K. at the age of 21. Perhaps he is best known for his bad boy image. He's the playboy son to a soccer legend and has battled drug and alcohol addiction. Often seen partying at nightclubs, he's known for hooking up and being single, even stating that being single is a part of his brand.

The infamous bad boy has appeared on a number of reality TV shows during his time in the U.K. including E4's Fool Around With, Sky One's The Match and ITV1's Celebrity Love Island. In 2008, Best starred in his own reality show on MTV, Totally Calum Best, which chronicled his attempts at celibacy for fifty days. A year later, he was a guest judge on Paris Hilton's British Best Friend, in which he tested the contestants flirting abilities. In November 2009, the actor presented the BBC TV Documentary Brought up By Booze: A Children in Need Special, which highlighted the plight of children brought up by alcoholic parents. He was able to draw upon his relationship with his own father in the making of the documentary. Most recently, the reality TV star returned stateside to be a cast member of E!'s Famously Single, a reality show where celebrities are coached by relationship experts to improve their love lives. With Best's track record of failed celebrity relationships, only time will tell if he can turn things around.

Beyoncé

There aren't enough adjectives in the dictionary to describe the one and only Beyoncé. Originally a member of the beloved band Destiny's Child, she was born on September 4, 1981, in Houston, Texas. From 1997 to 2000, Destiny's Child climbed their way to the top of the music charts before the singer started releasing solo albums. Her continued stardom has led to a record-breaking career that hasn't slowed down yet.

"Crazy In Love" for one another, Beyoncé and rapper/business mogul Jay-Z surprised the world with their secret celebrity wedding on April 8, 2008. After years of friendship and romance, the famous couple finally made their relationship and love official. After announcing her celebrity baby news, the star, with an already long list of impressive titles, became a mother in 2012 when she welcomed daughter Blue Ivy. The new celebrity mom stayed busy in the studio, releasing a new album only a year later with absolutely no notice. Gaining more praise than ever for the raw footage she shares in her videos and lyrics, she explores the complex themes of feminism, sexuality, and the joys of motherhood.

The world's most admired celebrity couple co-headlined a world tour. As they faced divorce speculation and other rumors of celebrity scandal, the two shared their love with their fans on their "On the Run Tour." Nothing revved up more rumors about this celebrity couple than Beyoncé's latest album, Lemonade. Queen Bey shocked the world yet again in April with her album and visual album that made everyone wonder if Jay had cheated on her. Later, she attended the Met Gala sans hubby causing even more speculation. What did or did not happen in this celebrity relationship is for Beyoncé to know and us to never find out. The couple still seems to be going strong.

Justin Bieber

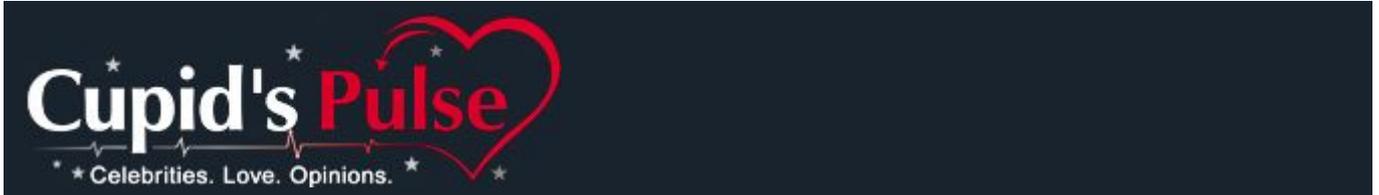

Justin Bieber is one celebrity who people love to hate. At first, it was because of his boyish good looks, but lately, it's been more about his obscene behavior and run-ins with the law. The pop star was born on March 1, 1994 in Ontario, Canada. His manager Scooter Braun first discovered him through his YouTube channel in 2007. After contacting his mother and arranging for Bieber to meet Usher, the young singer was signed to RBMG and then to an Island Records recording contract.

The performer released his debut EP in 2009, which was certified platinum in the United States. In 2010, the full album was released, helping Bieber become the first artist to have seven songs from a debut record to chart on the Billboard Hot 100. The album was preceded by the single "Baby", which coincidentally is the YouTube video with the most dislikes and the most views on a Vevo platform. His following two albums also debuted at number one on the Billboard 200, proving that preteen and teenage girls run the music industry.

In 2010, Justin Bieber started a celebrity relationship with actress and singer Selena Gomez, and the pair has been on-again, off-again numerous times since. As of now, they are still apart after having a huge fight right after one of their many celebrity vacations. The singer has been rumored to be dating at least seven other people throughout their relationship and love! In recent years, his legal issues have transformed his image from "boy-next-door" to "bad boy." In 2014, he was labeled the most annoying celebrity of the year and frequently made headlines due to his lifestyle. As his image continues to transform, so does his music. He's ditched his signature bowl-cut hair to a half bleached bedhead style, and his latest music, like his song Sorry, is gravitating to an electronic-inspired direction. He is most recently rumored to be dating Haley Baldwin.

Jessica Biel

Jessica Biel is a Hollywood sex symbol: Every guy dreams about her, and every women dreams of looking like her. Born on March 3, 1982, she always had an interest in all things theatrical, taking voice and dance lessons as a child. At age 11, she took part in a modeling competition and won an acting scholarship for a school in Los Angeles. She landed her breakout role on the family drama 7th Heaven, playing Mary Camden. She then appeared in films like Ulee's Gold and I'll Be Home for Christmas. After a year of college, she went back to L.A. to focus on acting, nabbing roles in Summer Catch, Rules of Attraction, Texas Chainsaw Massacre, Blade: Trinity, Stealth, I Now Pronounce You Chuck and Larry, Valentine's Day, and Hitchcock. Off-camera, the actress supports numerous social causes, and most recently, she used her celebrity status to help turn the spotlight on the global water crisis.

At the start of her career, Jessica Biel dated Adam LaVorgna, who she met on the set of I'll Be Home for Christmas. The young famous couple made it work for three years before they split. She started dating Chris Evans in 2004, and soon after their celebrity break-up, she was spotted spending a lot of time with baseball player Derek Jeter. Although they only lasted a year, they sure did look good together! Then, the beautiful brunette broke all our hearts and took Justin Timberlake off the market. They started dating in 2007 and got hitched in Italy in October 2012. The celebrity couple is expecting their first child in spring 2015.

Chef Richard Blais can say one thing few people can: He won Top Chef All-Stars. The fact that Chef Blais won the competition is no surprise, considering his past training experience. Educated at the Culinary Institute of America, Blais continued his training at The French Laundry, el Bulli, and other top restaurants. Blais, while being a TV personality and famous chef, also created an innovative food company, Trail Blais Inc., which operates many restaurants in Atlanta and California. The celebrity chef also wrote Try This at Home: Recipes from My Head to Your Plate in 2013, and was nominated for the excellency of the cookbook. The top chef often appears on reality TV cooking shows as a judge. In fact, he was the main judge of Top Chef Boston while also appearing in Cutthroat Kitchen, Hungry Games, and Iron Chef America. His five famous restaurants range from upscale burgers (FLIP Burger Botique) to modern tastes (Juniper & Ivy and The Crack Shack). He recently debuted a line of BLACK+DECKER and George Foreman appliances as well.

In terms of his love life, the celebrity chef is happily married to Jazmin Zepeda and they have two daughters together. They both began their careers in the restaurant world. In fact, she was a bartender at the restaurant where Blais was the chef.

Emily Blunt

Actress Emily Blunt has graced the big screen with her striking good looks, comedic chops, and gorgeous singing voice. Born in London, England, she studied drama and knew that acting was her passion since she was a young girl. Debuting her talents in 2003, the actress starred in the feature film Warrior Queen. In 2005, her celebrity relationship went public as she began dating the handsome Michael Buble. Calling it quits after three years together, Blunt didn't let their celebrity break-up slow her down. She continued her rise to stardom in the American movie industry when she was cast as mean girl Emily in The Devil Wears Prada. Starring alongside Anne Hathaway, her performance in the hit film garnered nominations for a BAFTA and a Golden Globe. The Devil Wears Prada was not just a success in the charming star's professional life but her personal one as well. Hathaway introduced Blunt to actor John Krasinski, whom she began dating promptly after. The celebrity couple began dated for a year and then entered a celebrity engagement. They married in 2010 and welcomed their first celebrity baby in February 2014.

Other hit films Blunt has starred in, include The Muppets, Into The Woods and The Edge of Tomorrow.

Tom Brady

Tom Brady was born on August 3, 1977, in San Mateo, California. He was a star baseball and football player in high school, and after graduating in 1995, he passed up a chance to go professional in baseball in order to attend the University of Michigan and play football there. During his first two years in college, he was given hardly any play time, but in his junior year, he became starting quarterback. He was then drafted by the Patriots in the 2000 NFL draft. With Brady on their team as a starter, the Patriots have earned six trips to the Super Bowl and have won four, including the most recent championship game in 2015.

The famous athlete has had two notable relationships since his rise to fame. From 2004 until 2006, Tom Brady dated actress Bridget Moynahan. In December 2006, the famous couple split, and shortly after, he began a celebrity relationship with Brazilian model Gisele Bundchen after being set up on a blind date by a mutual friend. In February 2007, it was revealed that Moynahan was more than three months pregnant with her and Brady's child. Though he wasn't in the delivery room when their son John Edward Thomas Moynahan was born, he was present the day of the birth.

The quarterback became a married man when he and Bundchen tied the knot on February 26, 2009 in an intimate Catholic ceremony in Santa Monica. After 10 months of marriage, the celebrity couple welcomed their first child into the world, a son named Benjamin Rein Brady. A few years later, in 2012, their daughter Vivian Lake Brady was born. The famous family moved into a 20 million dollar mansion in Los Angeles in 2012 and then bought a 14 million dollar condo in Manhattan one year later. Right now, they're building another home near Boston.

Wayne Brady

actor, comedian and television personality. Brady is most known for having hosted his own award winning daytime talk show titled The Wayne Brady Show, and hosting other hit television series like Let's Make a Deal and Who's Line Is It Anyways? Prior to his success in show business, Brady lived in Orlando, Florida and planned on pursuing a career in the military. However, Brady's plans changed after a chance performance in one of his high school plays that garnered him rave reviews. After high school, Brady moved to Los Angeles where he began his acting career in theater and television.

Most recently the multitalented actor transitioned from the small screen to the stage with his sensational performance on the Tony award winning Broadway musical, Kinky Boots. Brady plays the role of Simon, a former boxer turned drag queen that goes by the alias Lola. As Lola, Simon aids a footwear designer in creating a pair of "kinky boots" that look great on women but are comfortable enough to be worn on a man.

Brady is currently single after going through a celebrity divorce. However, the comedian shares a daughter with ex-wife, Mandie Taketa and remains best friends with her. In a celebrity interview with CupidsPulse.com, Brady opened up and shared some dating advice he would offer his daughter when she becomes of age to date, saying "Don't give anybody your time that won't respect your boundaries and respect you as a person." Offering such words of wisdom, perhaps this star has a chance at another celebrity marriage.

Kaitlyn Bristowe

Kaitlyn Bristowe is a reality TV star who was a finalist on The Bachelor season 19 with Chris Soules and later went on to become The Bachelorette season 11. On the premiere episode of The Bachelorette season 11, she competed against Britt Nilsson for the title and was ultimately named the The Bachelorette. Fans were shocked when the 29-year-old was sent packing by Chris Soules and were excited that she got a second chance at having a relationship. The Vancouver native is a dance instructor and is passionate about promoting confidence and self-acceptance through her work with RAW Beauty Talks.

After a dramatic season, Bristowe accepted a televised celebrity wedding proposal from fitness instructor Shawn Booth. The celebrity couple currently live in Nashville and are planning their celebrity wedding.

Brooke Burke-Charvet

She may be best known for her dramatic 2008 victory of Dancing with the Stars, a show which she also hosted from 2010 to 2013. Burke-Charvet also hosted Wild On!, Rock Star and other special events, like the Golden Globes.

Her career as a television personality and as a mother have both reached great heights. Her first marriage to Garth Fisher ended in a celebrity divorce in 2005, but before that, they had two daughters, Neriah and Sierra. In 2006, she began to date David Charvet, and the celebrity couple had two children, another daughter and son, before they tied the knot in 2011.

In our exclusive celebrity interview, Burke-Charvet shares her opinions on keeping her family and marriage thriving with a busy lifestyle. Her and her husband make sure to find time for each other, which she believes is something that is really important to the success of her marriage, and any other celebrity marriage. For more on her interview, click here!

Brie Bythewood

Brie Bythewood first stole our hearts on the premiere season of Bravo's reality TV show Blood, Sweat, and Heels. She is a third-generation New Yorker, real estate developer, fashion goddess, and now a working celebrity mom. She and her longtime boyfriend have been hearing wedding bells before they announced they were pregnant and plan on celebrating their celebrity wedding very soon. Brie Bythewood has left the reality TV world and plans to devote her time to being a mother.

Candace Cameron Bure

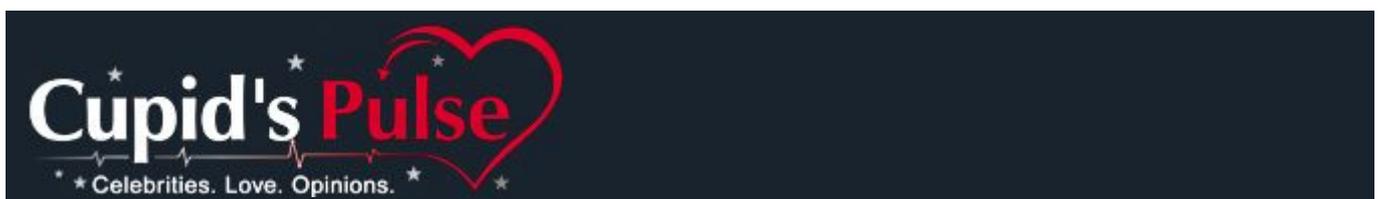

Candace Cameron Helaine Bure is an American actress most recognized for her role as D.J. Tanner on the hit ABC family sitcom Full House, which aired from 1987 to 1995. Additionally, Bure has over 60 productions under her belt, seven of which she has produced or written, including The Uncertainty Principle, Christmas Under Wraps, and Aurora

Teagarden Mystery: A Bone To Pick. Most recently, Bure has been a cast member on daytime talk show The View and has reprised her role as D.J. Tanner in the Netflix spinoff Fuller House. In 2014, Bure was a contestant on season 18's Dancing with the Stars. Unfortunately, Bure did not win the DWTS title, however, she and her partner Mark Ballas did make it to third place in the season finale.

As for her celebrity relationship status, Bure married Russian NHL ice hockey player, Valeri Bure in 1996 at the age of 20. The celebrity couple has three teenage children, Natasha, Lev and Maksim, and have had a successful and loving celebrity marriage. As a born again Christian, Bure credits her faith as the force that has kept her family together.

Aside from being a multi-talented mom, Bure is a self-proclaimed beauty lover that is also environmentally conscious. Bure is currently partnered with Unilever on a campaign that promotes the recycling of hygiene products. Other philanthropic causes Bure has been involved in, include: Compassion International, National Ambassador for National House Of Hope and Skip1.orgs.

Nick Cannon

Nick Cannon may be one of the most interesting renaissance men the world has to offer today. From Nickelodeon to America's Got Talent! (AGT), this man does it all. Beginning his career as a musician, Cannon's TV fame seemed far off. However, music was a stepping stone and connection-building process for the TV personality. Cannon began to host many award shows, including the HALO Awards, the 2005 Kid's Choice Awards, among others. In 2005, the musician hosted Wild N' Out on MTV. Following that success, he began to host AGT from season four to present day, and there are no signs of stopping.

His life love showed early signs of never stopping either, while he was dating pop sensation Mariah Carey. Their celebrity wedding was in 2008 at her private estate, and they had two children on their third wedding anniversary. The twins celebrated their birthday, along with a fifth anniversary vow ceremony at Disneyland. Carey was even dressed like Cinderella! However, this fairytale doesn't have the storybook ending. Six years after the celebrity wedding, things began to take a turn for the worst, and Cannon officially filed for divorce in December 2014. The fairytale ended in April 2015 when the celebrity divorce was finalized.

Kristin Cavallari

Whether she was the girl you loved to hate or hated to love, Kristin Cavallari was one of the most entertaining characters on the MTV shows Laguna Beach and The Hills. She was born in Denver, Colorado and moved to California with her dad after her parents divorced. Laguna Beach cast the reality TV star in a negative light and often showed her facing off with castmate Lauren Conrad over her on-again, off-again relationship and love with Stephen Colletti. In 2009, Cavallari confirmed that she would be taking Conrad's place in the spin-off series The Hills. She has since appeared on Dancing with the Stars and showed off her acting chops on CSI: NY, National Lampoon's Van Wilder: Freshman Year, and more.

In addition to her celebrity relationship with Colletti, she dated castmates Brody Jenner and Justin Bobby. In 2010, she first stepped out with Chicago Bears quarterback Jay Cutler. In April 2011, they announced their celebrity engagement, only to call it off in July and reconcile again in November. The famous couple, who live in Chicago, wed in Nashville in 2013 and have two sons, Camden and Jaxon. The reality TV star announced her third celebrity pregnancy in May 2015, and gave birth to her first daughter, Saylor, November of that year.

George Clooney

George Clooney has been eye candy for us since he first entered show business in 1978. He was born on May 6, 1961 in Lexington, Kentucky. He soon gained wide recognition for his role in the drama ER. While on ER, he branched into film, and his fame grew immensely in 2001 with the heist comedy Ocean's Eleven. Since then, he has continued to climb the Hollywood ladder and is not only an actor but a writer, producer, director, and activist as well. He is best known for his roles in The Monuments Men, Gravity, The Descendants, and Up in the Air.

George Clooney is described as one of the most handsome men in the world and always has women fawning over him. However, he is officially off the market since announcing his celebrity engagement and marrying human rights lawyer Amal Alamuddin in Italy in 2014. Before his current celebrity marriage, he was married to actress Talia Balsam from 1989 to 1993. The actor also has quite a number of beautiful celebrity exes, including Ginger Lynn Allen, Lisa Snowdon, Sarah Larson, Elisabetta Canalis, and Kelly Preston.

Lauren Conrad

Lauren “LC” Conrad was born on February 1, 1986 and raised in Laguna Beach, California. In 2004, the high schooler was approached by MTV to be cast in the reality TV series Laguna Beach: The Real Orange County. The show documented the lives of the blonde and her friends, including every make-up, break-up, and girl fight that happens in high school. The show aired for three seasons and focused on this close-knit group of friends, including Conrad, Lo Bosworth, Kristin Cavallari, Stephen Colletti, and Talan Torriero. Laguna Beach garnered thousands of viewers and led to many spin-offs. In fact, the ending of the show was what sparked creator Adam Divello and executive producer Liz Gatley to create the hit series The Hills.

The Hills focused on the reality TV star’s personal and professional life while she attended the Fashion Institute of Design & Merchandising in Los Angeles. During the show, she also held positions at Teen Vogue and Kelly Cutrone’s PR firm People’s Revolution with friend Whitney Port. Thanks to the infamous fights with her former roommate Heidi Montag and Montag’s boyfriend Spencer Pratt and the whole world wishing that Conrad and longtime friend Brody Jenner would become a celebrity couple, The Hills became a phenomenon that no one wanted to end. Bosworth, Cavallari, and newcomer Audrina Patridge were also staples on the show, which lasted for six seasons (although Conrad only appeared in the first four seasons).

As fans know, the now-author had an on-and-off relationship and love with Colletti during her high school years. She later dated bad boy Jason Wahler, even choosing a summer with him over an internship with Teen Vogue in Paris. In 2008, she stepped out with actor Kyle Howard, although their celebrity relationship was never filmed for The Hills. After three years together, the couple ended their relationship in 2011. In February 2012, the Paper Crown designer began dating William Tell, a law student and former guitarist for Something Corporate. The pair moved in together a year later and announced their celebrity engagement in September 2013. They got hitched on September 13, 2014 in a vintage-inspired ceremony in California.
