

Bradley Cooper

Need we even explain why this hunky actor was named People magazine's "Sexiest Man Alive" in 2011? Blue-eyed hottie Bradley Cooper was born on January 5, 1975, and, boy, are we thankful! The actor and producer has starred in numerous movies, including Wedding Crashers, Yes Man, He's Just Not That Into You, and the infamous Hangover trilogy, to name a few. But it was his roles in the intense and drama-filled Silver Linings Playbook and American Hustle that earned him those noteworthy Academy Award nominations for Best Actor and Best Supporting Actor.

Thanks to his jaw-dropping good looks, we all want to know what's going on in his relationship and love life. Following his celebrity divorce from wife Jennifer Esposito in 2006, Bradley Cooper has had only a few relationships in the public eye. He was linked to Renee Zellweger for two years and dated his The Words co-star Zoe Saldana after that. After a two-year celebrity relationship with model and actress Suki Waterhouse, the famous couple announced their break-up in March 2015. Ladies, this handsome fella is back on the market!

Kaley Cuoco

Kaley Christine Cuoco is an American actress that has starred on hit shows such as 8 Simple Rules, Charmed and The Big Bang Theory. Originally from Camarillo, California, Cuoco currently resides in San Fernando Valley with her horse and three dogs. Cuoco is the daughter of an Oxnard realtor and is the elder sister to Briana Cuoco, a former contestant on the hit singing competition show, The Voice.

Cuoco has received a number of awards for her role as waitress and wannabe actress Penny Hofstradter in The Big Bang Theory, which has become a cult phenomenon. Cuoco made headlines in 2014 when she and her co-stars Jim Parson and Johnny Galecki successfully negotiated salary raises with CBS from $350,000 per episode to $1 million. That same year, Cuoco was honored a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Prior to acting, Cuoco was a regionally ranked amateur tennis player, which possibly contributed to her celebrity relationship with professional tennis player, Ryan Sweeting. The young celebrity couple married in 2013, but unfortunately separated in 2015 and had their celebrity divorce finalized on May 6, 2016. Cuoco is rumored to be dating professional equestrian rider Karl Cook after recently posting a photo of Cook kissing her cheek. Perhaps there could be another celebrity wedding in Cuoco's future.

Miley Cyrus

Becoming an overnight sensation was fairly easy for country cutie Miley Cyrus. With her father Billy Ray's success ahead of her, she has proven to be nothing short of a superstar. Growing up in Tennessee, the actress, born Destiny Hope on November 23, 1992, rose to stardom after she was cast in Disney Channel's hit show Hannah Montana. Starring as Miley Stewart who doubled as Hannah Montana, her fame quickly skyrocketed. She released her first studio album in 2007, which topped the charts and was the beginning of a wild ride. She eventually signed on for Hannah Montana: The Movie, and the movie's soundtrack produced yet another hit single for the star, only making her even more popular. Slowly leaving her "good girl" image behind, she began to transform into a more mature singer with hits like "Party in the USA" and "Can't Be Tamed."

During her Disney Channel days, Miley Cyrus was linked to boy bander Nick Jonas, and their celebrity relationship lasted for a year and a half. With her hit song "7 Things," the singer sang about her love/hate feelings for the hottie. She moved on in 2010 when she starred in The Last Song. Nicholas Sparks' romantic drama captured the hearts of many, but some could argue it was her chemistry with Liam Hemsworth that stole the show. The two took their on-screen love to the real world with their relationship and love and eventually got engaged. The famous couple and their good looks graced red carpets and magazine covers until their celebrity break-up in September 2013. The performer picked herself up and came back into the spotlight with a new side. Releasing her controversial album Bangerz, she showed off a more provocative, edgy look and sound. Most recently Cyrus and Hemsworth have rekindled their love and have been spotted out together. Miley has even been wearing the engagement ring Liam had given her before their split in 2013.

Tom Cruise

Tom Cruise started his acting career at the age of 19 in the film Endless Love (1981) and quickly followed it up with several big roles. His first leading role was in 1983 for Risky Business, but it was his role as Pete “Maverick” Mitchell in Top Gun (1986) that labeled him as a full-fledged movie star. As one of Hollywood’s biggest stars, he has an impressive number of well-known films under his belt, including Rain Man (1988), Born on the Fourth of July (1989), A Few Good Men (1992), Interview with the Vampire: The Vampire Chronicles (1994), Jerry Maguire (1996), Vanilla Sky (2001), Minority Report (2002), The Mission Impossible series, and many more. 15 of his films have grossed over $100 million in the United States, and 21 of them have grossed over $200 million worldwide. In addition to being one of the highest paid movie stars, he has won several awards, including three Golden Globes.

Tom Cruise has had many high-profile celebrity relationships. He has been married three times and has three children. His marriage to his first wife, actress Mimi Rogers, lasted from 1987 to 1989; it was Rogers who introduced Cruise to Scientology. During the filming of Days of Thunder, Cruise met his second wife, actress Nicole Kidman. They were married on December 24, 1990 and adopted two children together, Isabella and Connor. Cruise filed for divorce in early 2001. Following their celebrity break-up, there was celebrity gossip that the Church of Scientology held auditions to find the actor a suitable new girlfriend; however, these rumors have been adamantly denied by both the Church and Cruise himself.

Cruise met his third wife, actress Katie Holmes, in April 2005. In the beginning of their celebrity relationship, he made a splash in the media by famously jumping up and down on the couch during an interview on The Oprah Winfrey Show as he declared his relationship and love with Holmes. "TomKat," as they were jokingly nicknamed by the media, became celebrity parents in 2006 to a daughter named Suri. They were then married on November 18, 2006. Their celebrity romance lasted until July 2012 when Holmes filed for divorce after five and a half years of marriage.

Pauly D

Paul DelVecchio, publicly known as DJ Pauly D, is an American television personality and disc jockey. In 2009, DelVecchio became an overnight sensation when MTV aired their first season of Jersey Shore. The show went on to become one of the highest rated shows in reality TV history and continued for an additional five seasons. DelVecchio was offered his own show in 2011, which aired the following year under the name The Pauly D Project and explored his career as a DJ. Unfortunately, his solo reality show wasn't renewed for another season, but DelVecchio has maintained success in the music industry and is even signed to G-Unit Records. Most recently, the DJ has returned to reality TV as a cast member on E!'s Famously Single.

In 2013, the reality TV star announced that he would be expecting his first child with Amanda Markert, a Hooters waitress that he had a one night stand with. That May, DelVecchio's daughter, Amabella Sophia was born. Since the celebrity baby's birth, the DJ has motioned for custody and stated that the mother of his child was unfit for the role. The pair has worked out a temporary custody agreement where DelVecchio is allowed to visit, but only time will tell how long this agreement will last. Baby drama aside, DelVecchio is currently in a happy celebrity relationship with Famously Single co-star Aubrey O'Day.

Matt Damon

Known as one of Hollywood's "pretty boys" with his blonde hair and blue eyes, Matt Damon has a universal appeal: Women want him, and men want to be him. He continues to prove that he's more than just a pretty face by taking the acting and film industry and showing the world exactly what he can do with it. He was born on October 8, 1970 in Cambridge, Massachusetts. At age 10, he met a kid in his neighborhood named Ben Affleck, and the two soon became inseparable. They both attended Cambridge Rindge and Latin prep school, where Damon really took to acting. He also went to Harvard as an English major, but he skipped classes to pursue acting projects, which eventually caused him to leave the prestigious university. He went on to gain starring roles in the films such as The Rainmaker and Good Will Hunting, for which he shared an Oscar for Best Original Screenplay with fellow co-star Affleck. Later films include Saving Private Ryan, The Talented Mr Ripley, and The Bourne Identity and its sequels The Bourne Supremacy and The Bourne Ultimatum.

Matt Damon's list of celebrity exes include Minnie Driver, whom he met while filming Good Will Hunting. The two dated for a year before he announced their celebrity break-up on The Oprah Winfrey Show. He then dated Winona Ryder; People magazine even declared them Hollywood's "It Couple." After three years, the pair split up. Damon also dated Penelope Cruz and Odessa Whitmire, and celebrity gossip rumored him to be with Eva Mendes before meeting his current wife Luciana Barroso. They met while he was filming the comedy Stuck on You in Miami, where Barroso worked as a bartender. They wed in a small ceremony on December 9, 2005 at New York City Hall and have four daughters: Alexa (from a previous relationship of Barroso's), Gia, Stella, and Isabella.

Meryl Davis

Meryl Davis is an American ice dancer who was born in Michigan and won the gold medal at the 2014 Olympic Games in Sochi, Russia with longtime partner Charlie White. The pair first teamed up in 1997, and they are currently the longest-lasting dance team in the United States. She appeared on the reality TV show Dancing with the Stars and won season 18 with Maksim Chmerkovskiy. Currently, Meryl Davis attends the University of Michigan, where she is majoring in cultural anthropology and studying Italian and is also an active member of her sorority Delta Delta Delta. In our exclusive celebrity interview, she discussed her relationship and love life and confirmed that she is dating someone but wants to keep it private.

Cary Deuber

Reality TV star Cary Deuber made her debut this year on Bravo's first season of The Real Housewives of Dallas. Her Bravo tagline, "I am not a Trophy Wife. I am Lifetime Achievement Award," refers to her marriage to plastic surgeon, Dr. Mark Deuber. But don't let her fool you. This housewife isn't sitting around drinking Pinot Noir everyday. The Mrs. runs her own aesthetic injectable practice, while working as an operative assistant alongside her plastic surgeon husband.

Prior to their celebrity relationship, the celebrity couple both experienced bumps in the road with previous partners and filed for divorce (Cary was married twice before). The Deubers met at work but both maintained a strictly professional relationship until they became single and decided to go on a few dates. The celebrity couple married in 2009.

The Deubers spend their free time assisting a number of philanthropic causes such as the Junior League of Dallas, Suicide and Crisis Center and Turtle Creek Recovery Center. They are definitely a power couple in D-Town.

Although this leading lady is starring on The Real Housewives of Dallas, she is originally an East Coast native from Hartford, Connecticut. When not seen engaging in high society, on-screen Dallas drama, she is busy serving one of her most important roles as a mother to a baby girl, two stepchildren and three dogs.

Leonardo DiCaprio

Leonardo DiCaprio has truly mastered almost every genre of film since he first began acting in commercials in 1989. He was born on November 11, 1974 in Hollywood, California. He is best known for his roles in Titanic, What's Eating Gilbert Grape, and Romeo and Juliet. More recently, he's starred in hits like The Wolf on Wall Street and Great Gatsby. In addition to acting, he owns his own production company named Appian Way Productions.

Leonardo DiCaprio's celebrity relationships have been widely covered by the media, and everyone wants to know who will finally steal his heart! He has dated many famous models and actresses alike, including Gisele Bundchen, Bar Refaeli, and Blake Lively. He has been dating model Toni Garrn since May 2013, but rumor has it that the famous couple had a quiet celebrity breakup in December 2014. We can't wait to see what's next for this Hollywood hunk!

Scott Disick

Always one to cause a scene, Scott Disick has made quite the name for himself. The Long Island native was born on May 26, 1983. His life changed forever when he met Kourtney Kardashian in 2006 at a mutual friend's party. The pair began dating and has since lived their entire relationship and love in the face of the media. Documenting their every make-up and break-up on Keeping Up With The Kardashians (KUWTK) has had its ups and downs for the famous couple.

Aside from his very public relationship, the reality TV star is also an entrepreneur and businessman. He certainly isn't afraid to show his success with his lavish lifestyle. Unfortunately, Scott Disick has been seen in a negative light for the past few years, thanks to his binge drinking habits that cause a lot of drama on KUWTK. The star has admitted to his troubling behaviors, which have landed him in rehab a couple of times. No doubt that the scary situation has affected his celebrity relationship with Kardashian.

The famous couple started a family in 2009, welcoming their son Mason Dash that December. Three years later, they welcomed their daughter Penelope Scotland during the summer of 2012.

Most recently, they had a third child, son Reign Aston, in December 2014. Unfortunately, the celebrity parents announced their split in July 2015 after Disick was seen vacationing with an ex-girlfriend.

Andi Dorfman

She is best known for telling off Juan Pablo Galavis and walking out during The Bachelor season 18, but Andi Dorfman is much more than that. From Atlanta, Georgia, the 27-year-old is the youngest of two sisters and an alumna of Phi Mu Fraternity at Louisiana State University. She earned her J.D. from Wake Forest University School of Law in 2012 and went on to become an Assistant District Attorney.

After her dramatic exit on The Bachelor, Andi Dorfman went on to star in The Bachelorette season 10. On the finale, she chose handsome Atlanta resident Josh Murray, and the famous couple got engaged. They kept a relatively low profile and surprised fans when they announced their celebrity break-up in January 2015. Since then, the reality TV star has moved to New York City.

Hilary Duff

The world has watched Hilary Duff grow up from a child star on the Disney Channel to a single celebrity mom. Born on September 28, 1987, she rose to stardom as the title character on the TV series Lizzie McGuire. During that time, she released her first album, the Christmas-themed Santa Claus Lane, in 2002. She then signed with Hollywood Records and released her second studio album Metamorphosis in 2003. The album was a huge success and topped the Billboard 200, selling 3 million copies in the United States alone.

Hilary Duff began to branch out from TV acting and had several lead roles in films, including Agent Cody Banks (2003), Cheaper by the Dozen (2003), A Cinderella Story (2004), and Cheaper by the Dozen 2 (2005). Her career continued to expand with the release of two additional studio albums as well as the New York Times best-selling trilogy entitled Elixir. She has gone on to do several other independent films over the years and currently is cast as Kelsey Peters in the comedy-drama series Younger. In 2015, she returned to music and released two singles from an upcoming fifth studio album.

Her relationships and love life have attracted a lot of media attention over the years. Her first celebrity relationship was with musician Aaron Carter. She then went on to have romances with other young stars, including Shia LaBeouf and Frankie Muniz. For two years, she was involved with musician Joel Madden, who was nine years her senior. The two worked together on her compilation album Most Wanted. In 2007, Duff began dating NHL player Mike Comrie. They dated for three years before announcing their celebrity engagement in 2010. Their wedding took place on August 14, 2010 in Santa Barbara, California. Together, they have one celebrity kid, son Luca Cruz Comrie, born in March 2012. Two years later, the famous couple announced their amicable celebrity divorce.

Jimmy Fallon

Many call him the “king of late night television.” Jimmy Fallon has made many of us laugh with him (and at him) during his many years of comedy. The TV host was born on September 19, 1978 in Brooklyn, New York. He started doing stand-up in high school and dropped out of college to pursue his career. He said that he always loved watching Saturday Night Live (SNL) and admitted it was the only job he ever wanted. The moment he had been waiting for came when he was only 24 years old. He got an audition with Lorne Micheal, the creator of SNL, and won him over with his impression of Adam Sandler. During his time on the show, he became known for his impersonations and his ability to laugh at himself (even if that meant breaking out of character).

In 2004, during The Weekend Update, Fallon announced he would be leaving the show. He tried to transition into feature films with roles in Factory Girl, Taxi, and Fever Pitch, but his acting got mixed reviews. He then moved into the hosting world. In 2008, he landed the challenging job of taking over for Conan O'Brien on late night television. Although he started off a little shaky, he made a lasting impression with his boyish charm and quirky games. In 2013, it was announced that he would become the new host of The Tonight Show, taking Jay Leno's spot. Since then, he hasn't lost his enthusiasm to make people laugh, and he continues to do it every night.

Jimmy Fallon has managed to keep his relationships and love life private, and besides his open bromance with Justin Timberlake, there hasn't been too much talk of his celebrity flings. He married Hollywood producer Nancy Juvonen in 2007, and they welcomed a baby girl named Winnie Rose in July 2013 via surrogate. The comedian recently became a daddy of two when the happy celebrity couple welcomed another daughter Frances Cole, also via surrogate.

JoJo Fletcher

Joelle "JoJo" Fletcher has certainly made a name for herself in the reality TV dating scene. This Dallas native first made her television debut on NBC's Ready for Love in 2013, which featured her reality TV star brother, Ben Patton and his search for a celebrity relationship. Most recently Fletcher appeared on ABC's The Bachelor season 20 with Ben Higgins where she competed against Lauren Bushnell for a celebrity wedding proposal. In the season finale, Higgins declared that he loved Fletcher, but ultimately ended their celebrity relationship and chose Bushnell. Fletcher was visibly crushed by the celebrity break-up but it's safe to say that she's over it after being chosen as The Bachelorette season 12, which premieres on May 23.

Aside from being a beautiful reality TV star looking to find someone special to complete her life, Fletcher is an established real estate developer. She owns her own company, JHF Realty Development LLC. She is also a graduate of Baylor University and earned a Bachelor of Applied Science, proving that beauty and brains can exist side-by-side. The 25-year old real estate developer is eager to take the next steps in her life. We cannot wait to find out who will be the next celebrity couple.

Lady Gaga

Lady Gaga has more than left her mark on the entertainment industry since her debut album was released in 2008. Born as Stefani Germanotta on March 28, 1986, she grew up in an affluent Catholic home in New York City. She briefly attended New York University's Tisch School of Arts before dropping out during her sophomore year to focus on her musical career. She was soon hired to write songs for pop stars like Britney Spears, Fergie, and The Pussycat Dolls. By 2008, she relocated to Los Angeles, California to work on her first record The Fame, which was nominated for multiple Grammy awards and won two. She has since released The Fame Monster, Born This Way, Artpop and Cheek to Cheek (with jazz artist Tony Bennett). She recently confirmed that she's working on her fifth studio album and that she'll be joining the cast of American Horror Story: Hotel in her small screen debut.

Known for her elaborate performances and outrageous fashion choices, Lady Gaga's love life is much more subdued. The singer has been dating Chicago Fire actor Taylor Kinney since they met on the set of her video for "You & I" in July 2011. Over Valentine's Day weekend of 2015, he proposed to her with a stunning, 10-carat heart-shaped engagement ring. Since then, the happy celebrity couple have been celebrating their relationship and love with family and friends. We can't wait for their celebrity wedding!

Jennifer Garner

Jennifer Garner is one of the most popular names in Hollywood. She was born in Texas and, at the age of four, moved to West Virginia, where she stayed until her college years. Before pursuing an acting career, she wanted to be a doctor. Thankfully, she changed her mind! Her breakthrough role was in 2001 when she played Sydney Bristow on the popular television show Alias. She has since been in movies such as Catch Me If You Can, 13 Going on 30, Daredevil, Juno, and Dallas Buyers Club. It's no surprise that the actress has won a Golden Globe award and a Screen Actors Guild award.

After 10 years of marriage, Jennifer Garner and husband Ben Affleck announced their celebrity divorce in June 2015. The famous couple have three adorable children: daughters Violet and Seraphina and son Samuel. The celebrity exes are committed to co-parenting their kids and even plan to continue living together.

Teresa Giudice

We first met this sassy Italian mama on Bravo's hit reality TV show The Real Housewives of New Jersey. She is best known for her hot temper and famous table flip. Giudice is a true New Jersey girl, born and raised. She grew up in Paterson, New Jersey, with her parents, who were Italian immigrants, and her brother. Thanks to her popularity on the show, the reality star has written four cookbooks, including Skinny Italian, Fabulicious!, Fabulicious!: Fast and Fit, and Fabulicious!: On the Grill. She has launched a few products, including Youthful 8 Milania Collection for hair, and Fabellini, a bottled bellini imported from Italy. In 2012, Giudice appeared on The Celebrity Apprentice, finishing fifth and raising 70,000 dollars for The Nephcure Foundation.

Giudice met her husband Joe in the town where she grew up. The celebrity couple, who married in 1999, are doting parents to four adorable daughters: Gia, Milania, Gabriella, and Audriana. Although they seemed to be living the perfect life, things started to fall apart when they filed for bankruptcy in 2009; it was soon revealed that they were 11 million dollars in debt. In 2011, the couple made celebrity news when they were charged with 39 counts of mail fraud, tax fraud, and bank fraud, an indictment that carries a sentence of up to 50 years. In October 2014, Giudice was sentenced to 15 months in federal prison; she was released on December 23, 2015 after serving 11 months, and her husband began his 41-month sentence on March 23, 2016.

Since her release from prison, Giudice has written two tell-all memoirs about her experience: Turning the Tables: From Housewife to Inmate and Back Again, a New York Times bestseller, and Standing Strong. She continues to star in The Real Housewives of New Jersey, with the eighth season premiering on October 4, 2017.

Leeza Gibbons

Leeza Gibbons is an American entertainment journalist, New York Times bestselling author, a Daytime Emmy Winner as well as Season 7 champion of the hit reality TV show, Celebrity Apprentice.

Gibbons was born in South Carolina and attended the University of Carolina for journalism and mass communication. She gained her start in television news in 1993 with New York's WCBS, and went on to host a number of shows after that, including John & Leeza from Hollywood and Entertainment Tonight. In 2011, Gibbons became managing editor of Extra and host of PBS show My Generation. Most recently, Gibbons was executive producer of the television series America Now and was co-host alongside Bill Rancic for 86 episodes.

After years of reporting the latest celebrity news, Gibbons has become a celebrity in her own right. In a celebrity interview with CupidsPulse.com, Gibbons opened up about her three separate cases of celebrity divorce and how she met her current husband and soul mate, Steven Fenton. In regards to dating advice and her experience, Gibbons is a firm believer that "We have to teach people how treat us," and that the world will value you when you value yourself.

Her bestselling book, Fierce Optimism was written as a practical and inspirational guide for using kindness and positivity as a winning strategy.

Aside from being one of the most recognizable pop-culture icons covering entertainment news, Gibbons is also a passionate advocate for healthcare, wellness and caregiving.

Brandi Glanville

Brandi Glanville is a former model and American television personality, best known for her role on the reality TV show

The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills, where she appeared for four seasons. Glanville has also appeared on season 7 of the Celebrity Apprentice and made it to the final four but was fired only two weeks before the finale. Glanville is also a cast member of E!'s latest reality TV show, Famously Single, and will appear on the FOX cooking competition series My Kitchen Rules against friend Dean Sheremet. Aside from television appearances, this reality TV star runs a weekly podcast, Brandi Glanville Unfiltered, where she discusses pop culture and conducts celebrity interviews. Additionally, the former model is a contributor for the celebrity news magazine NW.

In terms of her love life, the former RHOBH star hasn't had it easy. She married actor Eddie Cibrian in 2001, and the celebrity couple have two boys together. However, their relationship ended in 2010 after Cibrian was caught in an infamous cheating scandal with country singer LeAnn Rimes, who is the ex-wife to Glanville's friend Dean Sheremet. Despite the betrayal, the former model has continued to date since her split from Cibrian but ultimately has not remarried. Hopefully with the help of Famously Single, Glanville will get relationship advice that will bring her closer to finding the love she deserves.

Selena Gomez

Since her days on Barney and Friends, Selena Gomez has truly blossomed and made a name for herself as a singer, actress, and fashionista. She was born on July 22, 1992 when her mother Mandy was only 16 years old. At seven years old, she and childhood friend Demi Lovato appeared on the popular children's show for two years before being dropped from the series. After Barney and Friends, she landed a couple of small roles in Spy Kids 3-D: Game Over and Texas Ranger. Her first appearances on the Disney Channel were as Gwen on The Suite Life of Zack and Cody and as Mikayla in Hannah Montana. Eventually, she got her own show, playing Alex on Wizards of Waverly Place.

She went on to play a starring role in the ABC Family movie Another Cinderella Story, and it was then that she started transitioning into the music business, recording a song for the movie. In 2008, the former Disney star signed a contract with Hollywood Records and began working on her debut album, Kiss and Tell. Over the next few years, she started a band called The Scene and recorded a second album, A Year Without Rain. She also launched her Dream Out Loud clothing line at Kmart.

Much like the pop star's many projects, Selena Gomez's love life has always been in the public eye. While she was still on Wizards of Waverly Place, she was linked to boy bander Nick Jonas. In 2009, she was spotted with Twilight hunk Taylor Lautner, but the famous couple didn't last long. In 2010, after initially playing coy about their celebrity romance, she and tween heartthrob Justin Bieber were caught kissing, and from then on, the Hollywood couple was never far from the spotlight. As the good boy became a bad boy, their relationship was constantly on-again, off-again. Many celebrity break-up rumors, songs, and cryptic tweets later, it seems the two have officially broken up after dating for nearly four years. Most recently, the singer dropped a new single called "The Heart Wants What It Wants," which is rumored to be about celebrity ex Bieber. She's recently been spotted with music producer Zedd.

Ryan Gosling

He stole our hearts in The Notebook, and now, he's every woman's dream guy. Ryan Gosling was born on November 12, 1980 in London, Ontario, Canada. He started off his acting career like many of our favorite actors and singers: in the Mickey Mouse Club. He then moved on to a comedy television series called Breaker High and Young Hercules. He had his big break when he starred alongside Denzel Washington in Remember the Titans. He was soon cast as Noah – opposite real-life celebrity love Rachel McAdams – in Nicholas Spark's The Notebook. After this role, he appeared in many romantic films, including Blue Valentine and Crazy Stupid Love. The actor continued to challenge himself and starred in a number of serious movies as well, including Fracture, The Ides of March, The Place Beyond Pines, and Lars and The Real Girl, for which he earned a Golden Globe nomination. He recently expanded his resume to include directing and producing for his film How to Catch a Monster.

Outside of being an actor, Ryan Gosling is known for his philanthropic efforts, being a strong advocate for social causes like AIDS, poverty relief, and the humane treatment of animals. He also enjoys making furniture and is a good jazz singer and guitar player. In his love life, the handsome actor has been romantically linked to several of his co-stars, including Sandra Bullock and the previously-mentioned McAdams. He was also rumored to have had celebrity relationships with actresses Blake Lively and Olivia Wilde. Since 2011, Gosling has been dating Eva Mendes, and this past summer, the Hollywood couple announced that they were expecting a baby girl. He's now a proud papa to Esmeralda Amanda Gosling, who was born in September 2014.

Ariana Grande

A diva in the making, Ariana Grande has already proven that she can compete with the legends. The baby-faced singer shocked the world with her vocals and appears to be the heir of Mariah Carey's throne as Queen of Pop. Born on June 26, 1993, she grew up in Boca Raton, Florida. As a child, she was always interested in music and acting, playing her first roles in Annie, The Wizard of Oz, and Beauty and the Beast. She got her big break in 2010 when she was cast as the cute and bubbly Cat Valentine on the Nickelodeon show Victorious, where she was also able to show off her singing talents. Her work on the show led her to get her own spin-off Sam & Cat with friend and fellow actress Jennette McCurdy of iCarly. While keeping busy with her television career, she also began to pursue music and eventually got the attention of Monte Lipman, CEO of Republic Records, who signed the young singer. Both her first and second albums Yours Truly and My Everything debuted at number one, making her the fifteenth female artist to have had a debut album at the top of the charts.

Considering how hot Ariana Grande is, it's no surprise that many guys have been crushing on her since she hit the scene. As a teenager, she dated Nathan Kress, an actor from iCarly – a match made in heaven for Nickelodeon fans. She then dated Jai Brooks of the Janoskians; they made a cute pair, but they called it quits after a year. In 2013, she confirmed her celebrity relationship with Nathan Sykes after months of speculation. She's now dating rapper Big Sean. The celebrity news hit after the two were seen holding hands backstage at the Video Music Awards. They confirmed their relationship and love and haven't been shy about PDA since!

Renee Graziano

Renee Graziano is daughter to infamous New York City mobster Anthony Graziano, and former reality TV star of VH1's reality show Mob Wives. Graziano appeared on the series for five seasons and also happens to be an older sister to Mob Wives creator and executive producer, Jennifer Graziano.

Graziano married her husband Hector Pagan in 1993 and have a 22-year-old son together, A.J. The couple went through a very public celebrity divorce after years of a complicated and tumultuous mob-related relationship. Pagan was responsible for putting Graziano's father in jail in 2011 when he secretly recorded conversations for the FBI with his then father-in-law. The betrayal was brutal for the entire family, made headline news and became a major storyline for the show.

Graziano has steered away from rekindling her romance with her ex-husband and has remained single for the past five years. However, according to recent reports, she was recently asked out at co-star Big Ang's funeral in February 2016 and has been seeing a mystery man ever since.

In prior celebrity interviews with CupidsPulse.com, Graziano has opened up about her Playing With Fire romance novel and how she enjoys being treated like a princess on the dating scene. Graziano also has a successful clothing line by the name of Mob Candy for fans of her celebrity style.

Blake Cooper Griffin

Blake Cooper Griffin is an American teen heartthrob who has starred in hit television shows like 90210, Disney Channel's JESSIE and NCIS: Los Angeles, among many other productions. The South Carolina native graduated from the School of Drama at the North Carolina School of the Arts, where he studied acting and then moved to California to pursue his career in show business. One of Griffin's most recent works to hit theatres was Love Is All You Need, a modern twist on Romeo & Juliette in a universe where heterosexual relationships are viewed as taboo. Griffin's character, Bill Bradley, is an antagonist to co-stars Brian Evigan and Tyler Blackburn. Despite playing the role of a bully in the film, Griffin is very much against it and works closely with an anti-bullying campaign, Boo2Bullying.

Griffin has been rumored to be in a celebrity relationship with his longtime friend Emily Osment. The celebrity couple have been spotted being very close in the last few months, but have yet to confirm a relationship. In Griffin's own words, "Everyone has a desire to be loved, and we should treat that with respect." Such wise relationship advice will definitely help the young star regardless of who he is dating, and his romantic sentiments are sure to make his fans swoon!