Five Ways To Cope With A Relationship Breakdown Just Like The Celebs

Yes, the title of this post might be a little confusing. After all, celebrities aren't exactly known for being calm and mature in the face of a celebrity relationship breakdown! However, there are lessons to be learned, because unlike the rest of us, celebrity couples have to move on, or everyone would kind of notice. There are loads of steps you have to take after a break-up, but you can also take it in small chunks. Not handling things the right way and assessing your situation properly can lead to trust issues, according to The Circle, which is unlikely to help you in the future.

So, where do you go from here? Let your famous favorites help you out with some relationship advice:

1. Have Some Distractions.

If you're sitting moping and thinking about what went wrong, you're never going to get over it, which won't bode well for the future. When a celebrity breaks up, do you notice that they throw themselves into other things? Whether it's their work, charity launches or a vacation, they're forever being snapped by the paparazzi loving life. It's easier for them to regain their life, and it can also work for you.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Julianne Hough Relaxes in Miami One Month After Split From Ryan Seacrest

2. Get Therapy.

To be honest, life can be rough, and when you're living that life in the public eye, who can blame you for wanting to talk it out? Non-celebrities get therapy as well, and it's a really useful thing to help work through your problems. Mental health issues can be brought about by bad breakups, and they're serious. One in four people in any given year go through mental health problems, and they're the leading cause of disability and disease burden worldwide. There is help out there!

3. Be Seen With Someone New.

Now, we wouldn't recommend a rebound relationship, but there's no harm in being seen flirting with a new good-looking stranger after some initial time has passed. Celebrities are doing it all the time, teasing us being snapped with a mystery man or woman. Providing you're not using anyone or hurting them – or yourself – it's all a bit of harmless fun. Don't obsess over making someone jealous, though, it's all a little juvenile. But just enjoy yourself!

Related Link: Blake Shelton and Gwen Stefani Flirt on Set of 'The Voice' After Respective Celebrity Break-Ups

4. Stay Classy In Public.

You'll notice that a lot of celebrities won't trash talk their exes. When asked in interviews, they'll give a forced smile, and come out with some PR jargon along the lines of "it was mutual" or "we just didn't see eye to eye, but we're working on being friends". Unless someone has done something to you which is illegal or abusive, it's best to stay private and dignified about your problems, especially on social media.

5. Work On Yourself.

Whether you're to blame, or they're to blame, there's always room for self-growth. Celebrity couples often do this by working on a hot new body or investing in killer outfits. But, you can also do it by improving your karma by volunteering or something else as well. Working on the issues which lead to the breakdown will help you!

Relationship Advice: 5 Ways

Our Authentic Self Builds Healthy Relationships

By Steven DeSalvo

When we are our true, authentic selves in a new relationship, we begin it with honesty about who we are and what we desire. It gives the partnership a solid foundation from which it can grow into a long-term friendship or potential romantic adventure. When we are not our authentic selves, the relationship starts on uncertain ground. Despite good intentions, over the long run, it can create bigger problems.

Here are five pieces of

relationship advice to help you put forth your authentic self:

1. State clearly what you need: You can't go into a relationship saying "yes" to everything, or you will end up pleasing your partner at your personal expense. You can say "yes" when it is comfortable, but you must also be willing to say "no." "No" is not always rejection when it comes to articulating desires, needs, and expectations. Both answers can provide your partner with timely feedback so all desires or expectations are known and understood.

2. Be your authentic self to develop trust: You want to be liked or loved for who you are, not for who you think a person wants you to be. This can be the hard part because we all want to be liked and find love. To do so, we may go down a path of being someone different just to please another person, but eventually, the truth will come out. You can't fake it 'til you make it!

Related Link: Love Advice For a Stronger Long-Term Relationship

3. It takes energy to be someone else: Being yourself is the most comfortable and easy state of being and it is actually more attractive to people than being someone you are not. It also makes the time you spend with someone more authentic. The fact is, if you act in a different way just to please someone, you'll eventually tire of the façade and revert back to being yourself somewhere down the road anyway. It takes too much energy to be someone else. So, why not start as yourself from the very beginning?

4. Over-giving eventually exhausts you and your resources: When we give too much of our time, energy, or other personal resources in a relationship without getting anything in return, we will eventually feel exhausted or put out. Giving what you feel comfortable giving – versus over-giving to please someone – is the most optimum. Over time, there must be a reciprocal give and take in your relationship for both parties to feel satisfied.

Related Link: Top 5 People Tools for Relationships and Love

5. Articulate your feelings clearly: This is important in all stages of relationships, as our true feelings should be known and shared. New relationships need reassuring signals along the way to show that there is enough interest to continue. In longer partnerships, we have to continually be true to ourselves and express our feelings on an ongoing basis to show how we love, care for, and value our significant other.

As these five pieces of relationship advice show, being anything other than our true selves builds a relationship on the shaky ground of untruth and uncertainty. When we show up as our authentic selves, we set a relationship in motion from a foundation of honesty and respect that endears us to others and deepens our connections.

Relationship Advice: Are You Ready For Storybook Love?

By Elaine Taylor

A couple of decades ago, my dog was sprawled out snoring on the sofa, belly on a pile of unfolded laundry, tail stuck in an empty Ben & Jerry's tub. I was slouched beside her stroking her hindquarters, glumly ticking through the carcasses (figurative, not literal) that made up my dispiriting trail of my relationship roadkill. I had recently completed a reverse sprint down the aisle (not my first) with Peggy Lee's, "Is That All There Is?" echoing through my disenchanting heart.

Was I ever going to find a true love who didn't walk on four legs and woof for his breakfast? Here's # what I found in the way of relationship advice.

Desperate for an answer, I took a jaunt into California woo-woo: went to see Allie B, astrologer/psychic. She closed her eyes, did that deep-breathing, blahblahblah chart-reading thing and assured me I was destined for the kind of love about which stories are written.

“But,” she said, “not until you’re ready.”

Related Link: Relationship Advice On Finding True Love

Ready? My mani-pedi was fresh enough you could still smell the polish; I’d had a Brazilian so recently you could ... well, I’ll let you come up with your own image. My roots had been darkened, my highlights brightened. How much more ready could one woman be?

“What the heck am I doing wrong?” I whined.

“Guess what, chickie-poo. Wrong question. Try asking, ‘Why do I keep doing it wrong?’”

“OK, why?”

“I’m a psychic, not a mind reader. Go sort it out with your therapist.”

Seriously? Ugh.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: 5 Ways to Unpack Relationship Baggage

With teeth-grinding resistance, I trudged off to sit on Julia’s couch and ask my why question. She countered with, “Do you love yourself?”

Uh oh ... Strong stench of psychobabble. I tapped my finger on my bottom lip. “Hmmm. Do I love myself?” Was I supposed to? The concept alone made me squirm.

So I yuck-yucked and went with a wise-ass, “Oh, you mean self-love. Like they do in porn films. Kinda personal, don’t ya’ think?”

Julia gave me that undeterred shrink stare. I knew she could outwait me; and I definitely did not want to go where she seemed to be trying to lead. So I canned therapy and took another run at California woo-woo.

Allie B said, “You want storybook love? Start with these three things.”

1. Understand that emotions are an all-or-nothing deal: “You want the light, happy ones—like true love and contentment—you have to embrace the heavy, ugly ones. Heartbreak. Fear. Jealousy. Shame—the whole shtick.”

2. Examine, from a different perspective, the stories you’ve always told yourself about the people who did serious damage to your little-girl psyche. “Those adults with all their human flaws? Their little-kid psyche was wounded, too, by someone who was supposed to love and protect them.”

3. Knock down that barricade you built around you heart: “Confront the abandonment and betrayal and loneliness of your redneck-Texas, girls-aren’t-worth-a-damn childhood.” (Oh brother, not that cliché childhood thing, again.) “Unless you do all that,” she said, “you won’t be able to forgive. If you can’t forgive, you’ll never heal the wounds of the past. Until you heal the wounds the past, Prince Charming ain’t GPS-ing you.”

I argued, I fretted, I weaseled. But a few months later, my devoted four-legged love was diagnosed with cancer and soon after departed my world. Heartbreak, fear and loneliness crashed my heart defenses. I was on my emotional knees. I crawled back to Julia's couch and began to clean out the hurts and betrayals of the past. Both those done to, and by, me.

Over a years-long process I discovered three critical truths:

1. It is not possible to find long-lasting, deeply satisfying love until you believe yourself worthy of it. (Yes indeed, I had to learn self-love.)

2. As a woman clawing her way in a man's world, I defined "emotional strength" as all sharp-edges and impenetrable boundaries. I had to relearn that tenderness and vulnerability are the DNA of true emotional strength. When the time came, I used that strength to love Jake, a Ferrari-driving doctor who had once broken my heart. A man who, then on his deathbed, desperately needed to receive love, even as he could not return it.

3. I accepted and found peace with the fact that Allie B might be wrong. I might never have that storybook life hiding in her crystal ball. So what would I do with all the love my newly opened heart yearned to give? I stopped focusing on what I did not have . . . and sought a way to offer compassion and caring to those who needed it most. I began to volunteer at a homeless shelter for families—the kind of place that, but for the grace of God, I could have landed in my early, below-the-poverty-line, single-parent years.

As for that long-lasting, deeply satisfying storybook love? The psychic foresaw that it would come via a "karmic pact" between me and Jake, that dying man whose hands I cradled as he breathed his last breath.

Two years after his death Allie B said, "I was channeling Jake. He's sending someone who will love you for the rest of your life. Someone who will love you the way you deserve to be loved."

Ten days later I was introduced to a man whom I never would have met had I not reopened my heart to Jake. This year we celebrate our fifteenth Valentine's Day together.

Thankfully, I was ready for love—I was ready for him ... when he found me.

Dating Advice: 7 Signs of Cheating You Need to Know

By Dejha Carlisle

Being cheated on is like having your heart ripped to shreds, and it's nowhere near enjoyable. In order to know your partner is cheating, you don't need to catch them red-handed. There are signs you can look for that are very telling. Most people tend to ignore these signs, as well as other dating advice that could actually help. We don't agree that's the best way to handle things.

Cupid has dating advice on the signs of cheating you should be aware of:

1. He suddenly needs privacy: If you've been with someone long enough, you pretty much know that person's behavior and habits. One sign your partner could be cheating is a sudden need for privacy (hiding out in the bathroom with their phone, always staying late at work, going into another room when the phone rings, etc.). If you see any of that happening, it's time to look into things.

2. Loss of interest: Another sign of cheating is his loss of interest in you. His quality time with you has lessened, and he often seems pretty bored or distracted when he's around you. Plus, he's not paying attention to you from a conversational or physical perspective.

Related Link: Dating Advice: 7 Guys You're Probably Not Going to Marry

3. He's secretive with his phone: Now, this may not exactly be a sign, but it can bring suspicion, especially if he didn't used to act this way. If your partner always shields his phone from your view, or he always positions his body to where you can't see the screen, then he may be cheating.

4. Picks fights for no reason: This can also be a reason for thinking your partner may be cheating. If your partner is always on edge and starting fights with you for no reason, they may be taking their guilt about the situation out on you.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: 5 Ways to Unpack Relationship Baggage

5. Accusations: The main sign of a cheater is when your partner constantly accuses you of cheating, when you haven't changed how you're acting at all. This is because they have guilt built up inside of them, and they'd rather you take the blame than having you catching them for whatever they're doing.

6. Transformation: Another sign is if your partner has developed a new "interest" in how he looks. If he changes his entire appearance from the way he dresses to the way he smells, he may be cheating. This is because he could be shaping his image to fit someone else's.

7. Trust your gut: Just because you feel that someone is cheating on you doesn't mean you should accuse them right away. It is a good idea to trust your gut instinct, though, as most times it's right. Proceed with caution.

What are other ways to know if someone may be cheating on you? Share your thoughts below!

Relationship Advice: Love the Second Time Around

By Dr. Jane Greer

Pop star Miley Cyrus was spotted wearing an engagement ring after she and former fiancé Liam Hemsworth reunited over New Year's in Australia. Multiple sources revealed that Miley had been struggling to move on from Liam after the end of their celebrity relationship, and has never fully gotten over him. It appears the feelings are mutual, as the celebrity couple is giving it another try. And, they aren't the only ones people are talking about when it comes to wondering about the possibility of rekindled love. Superstar Madonna and movie star ex-husband Sean Penn have reportedly been spending more time together lately, and were recently seen at a hotel bar together. All of this can be heartening for those who wonder about doing something similar with a previous partner. Hearing these stories can make people believe in romance and the value of a shared history. But, it also raises questions.

How do you know when an old loved has the potential to come back to life, and when is it best to leave an old relationship where it is, in the rear view mirror? Here is some relationship advice:

When you see old lovers like Miley and Liam, and Madonna and Sean, get back together, it might make you think about reaching out to an old, but extinguished flame. There are times when that might require a deliberate act, actually calling or contacting someone from your past, or it can happen in a more spontaneous way, such as when you run into someone you once dated at a wedding or a reunion. Either way, it is good to take stock before jumping in with both feet.

Related Link: Miley Cyrus Is 'Hanging Out' With Celebrity Ex Liam Hemsworth Post-Split from Patrick Schwarzenegger

The most important barometer for gaging what to do is to consider how and why your connection ended in the first place. It is ironic that in wondering if you should begin again, it helps to go back to where it ended, but that is where you might find the best answers. If the circumstances that broke you up didn't have anything to do with the attraction and passion you felt for each other, and might still feel, it is possible that giving it another go could be a fine idea. It is also possible that even if there were problems, you have both grown and changed, and with the wisdom and distance you now have might be better able to deal with and manage them. The same issues that were front and center when you were first together might not bother you anymore, or might be more easily worked out.

Related Link: 10 Celebrity Couples We Never Knew Existed

On the other hand, if your relationship ended badly and there is still a lot of unresolved anger, there is the chance you will find yourself returning to that unhappy place. Also, if there were behaviors, habits, or personal traits the other person had that were intolerable for you, and that person still exhibits them and has not changed his or her ways, it may be better to leave the relationship in the past with the fond memories of what you once shared.

Once you have sorted that out, it may be that you feel your ex is really your lost love. In this new time and place, where both of you have mellowed, it may be viable and pleasurable to give it another chance, as Miley and Liam seem to be doing, and as Madonna and Sean may be flirting with trying. Only time will tell if they will prove to be stronger than ever after their time apart. Madonna said it straight out in her song Stay: When you walked out my door, I knew you'd be back for more, Let's leave the past behind, True love is so hard to find.

Relationship Advice: 5 Ways to Restore Trust in Your Relationship

By Katie Gray

Trust is the most important aspect of a relationship. Without trusting your partner and having that trust reciprocated, your relationship won't be a healthy and happy one. We can take cues from celebrity couples and their celebrity relationships to see how they restore the trust in their relationship when it's lost. For example, Pink and Carey Hart married in 2006, and announced their separation in 2008. After marriage counseling and song therapy, they reunited in 2010, welcomed daughter Willow Sage in June 2011, and just celebrated their 10 year celebrity wedding anniversary. According to Psychology Today, 41% of first marriages and 60% of second marriages end in divorce. Wow! Nobody told us relationships would be easy; they just promised it would be worth it!

Cupid has some relationship advice on how to restore the trust in your relationship:

1. Open communication: You can't trust someone if you don't have a mutual open line of communication. Tell your partner how you feel and what you are thinking, and also encourage them to do the same. You have to feel comfortable speaking with your partner about any topic. It's important for both partners to know that they can talk to the other about anything and that it stays private between just the two of you.

Related Link: 3 Ways to Live Happily Ever After in the Face of a Love Triangle

2. Establish boundaries: You must establish boundaries with your partner right away. If something makes you uncomfortable, then you need to let your partner know. You two must decide as a couple how to deal with exes, privacy, outings, and so forth. If something makes your partner uncomfortable, it's up to you to respect that. Establish guidelines that you both agree upon. It's all about compromise in a relationship!

Related Link: Celebrity Couples: Music's 5 Most Powerful Pairs

3. Affirmations, therapy and exercises: Staying positive goes a long way. To restore trust in a relationship, you must work hard at it. Saying affirmations, doing exercises as a couple and going to therapy and counseling will help a lot.

4. Date night: It's imperative to spend quality time with your partner. It gives you time to bond and to remember why you fell in love with them in the first place. You won't start trusting someone again unless you feel like you know them. Therefore, having a date night ritual is a good place to reconnect.

5. Forgive and forget: You won't be able to move forward if you are harboring feelings of resentment and anger. It's imperative to work past those issues and clear them up right away. You must practice forgiveness. Whatever your partner did to make you distrust them, you have to first forgive and then forget, in order to move on. Clear up the issues that arose and solve them so you can start trusting your partner again. After all, you care about them or you wouldn't want to stay with them.

What are some ways that you have restored trust in your relationship? Comment below.

Dating Advice: 7 Guys You're Probably Not Going to Marry

By Dejha Carlisle

You've dreamt about finding the perfect man for so long! You finally meet him, but what if he's not what you expected? Cupid has some pieces of dating advice so you can save yourself some headaches.

Cupid has relationship advice to help you see what types of guys you need to steer clear from!

1. The guy who forgets your birthday: This guy doesn't remember your age, is empty-handed on your anniversaries, and can't recall if you were born in June or July. A simple thing such as a birthday can make a huge impact on whether or not to date Mr. Forgetful. If he can't remember the day you were born, do you think he'll remember your wedding date?

Related Link: Expert Dating Advice: Top Four Places to Meet Mr. Right

2. The self-righteous guy: This man is walking "perfection". He doesn't drink, smoke, curse, or anything else that may seem vulgar to him. You'll know you're dating him if he criticizes anything you do, even something as small as ordering dessert. He may as well be your father!

3. The jerk: He's rude, offensive, and probably dishonest to those around you, but not necessarily to you. Want to know how to point this guy out? Pay attention to what he says when your group of friends or loved ones are around.

Related Link: Dating Advice for Women: Getting Out of Your Dating Rut & Find the Right Man

4. Mr. Cheapskate: This guy is probably the worst of them all! You know you are dating a cheap guy when he accepts your offer to pay...on the first date. He'll never fail to suggest that it's better to get the cheap wine, and he whines daily about the tight budget he is on. Of course, he doesn't have to spend a fortune on you, but do you always have to be worrying about his financial shyness?

5. The guy who enjoys arguing too much: You should spend time enjoying your date, not defending yourself every few minutes. This guy, the "Arguer", stops at nothing to pick a fight with you. He doesn't value any of your opinions, and will give you a stressful experience with him.

Related Link: Get Back in the Dating Game This New Year

6. The needy guy who clings to you: This guy never keeps his feelings in check, especially the first time you meet him. He is not the suitable strong person to lean on; he'd rather lean on you all of the time. This guy will burden you with his insecurities, instead of being the firm man you need. When you're looking for a potential man, you should be seeking one who has confidence in himself.

7. He's jealous ... even of your girlfriends: This guy wants you to himself...and to himself only! He doesn't like the idea of you going out with the girls, and can often seem controlling at times. You'll never really have your own space with this guy, because he believes he's the only friend you need.

Relationship Advice: 5 Ways to Unpack Relationship Baggage

By Donna Arp Weitzman

It's virtually impossible to enter any new relationship without hauling in some personal baggage. We all have our histories—children from a former marriage, ex-spouses, ex-partners, or ex-in-laws. Your new special someone comes with emotional luggage. We all do. Even celebrity couples like Jada Pinkett-Smith and Will Smith have been there. So have Kate Capshaw, Steven Spielberg, Demi Moore, Bruce Willis, Catherine Zeta-Jones ... the list goes on. Each of them ventured into the world of new coupledness with a hearty amount of histories on their shoulders.

Here are 5 pieces of relationship advice to help you change your outlook, and unpack relationship baggage:

1. First of all: Do you want to carry his bags?: If you peer into the future and see nothing but problematic suitcases standing between you and your partner, it's time to figure out what you're going to do about it. If he's not worth the luggage, move on. But if you think he's got what it takes, get ready.

Related Link: Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith Discuss How They Make Their Relationship Work

2. Don't view the past as a burden: If you truly care about your partner and want to make things work long-term, don't run from the past. Welcome it. You can't shift into the future if you're stuck in the past.

3. Remember: You have baggage, too: Even if you don't have an ex-spouse or children from a former relationship, you aren't perfect. In an ideal world, we would meet our soul mates, fall in love, and live happily ever after. Life unscathed. But that's not how it works. There's nothing wrong with looking at someone else's luggage—just be sure to check yours, too.

Related Link: Will Smith Says Family Is All About Love and Communication

4. "Divorced" doesn't mean "damaged": Unless you're in your 20's, you can hardly throw an engagement ring without hitting a divorced guy. But just because he's divorced doesn't mean he's damaged. Think about it. He's been divorced, which means he's been married, which means he understands what it means to commit, and what it takes to make a marriage work. (I know what you're thinking: If he knows how to make a marriage work, how come he isn't married anymore? But keep this in mind—one way to find out what works is to know what doesn't.)

5. Don't be afraid of kids: They aren't that scary, I promise. Yes, I know that kids come with that aforementioned ex-spouse, which means they come with a mother, which means you have to be compete. But here's the catch: You don't have to compete. They already have a mom. If your partner is worthy of serious commitment, you can't view his kids as "add-ons." They're essentials. One great thing about dating a dad is they understand and appreciate what it means to put others before yourself. If your catch is also a great father, that tells you volumes about his character.

Dating Advice: Don't Be Afraid to Sparkle During the Holidays—Even If You are Single

By Cathy Maxwell

No one special in your life? The holidays can be tough for single celebrities and non-celebrities alike. Many activities around this time can intensify whatever doubts we are feeling about ourselves or our relationship status, if we let them. The main piece of dating advice is to enjoy all the fun of gatherings without the angst of being the odd man out. Or worse, wallowing in pity for being alone.

So, how do we do that? First, I believe in grabbing hold of life with both hands. I not only survive the holidays, but thrive by putting # into practice three sparkling principles:

Love is a word of action.

I love. Feel the power? The statement breathes. It speaks of me: I love ideas. I love community. I love men with glasses. I love being at the gym. I love to read. The list of my passions goes on and on. When I focus on what makes me feel alive, I get out of my own head and begin to enjoy what is happening around me. Who cares if there is an odd number at the table and I'm the one responsible? Let's talk about books, movies, tidbits from the news. Better yet, let me love my friends for who they are. Let me demonstrate my care for them by being interested in their lives, instead of mooning over what mine lacks.

Related Link: Top 10 Sexy, Successful and Single Celebrity Women Over 40

Always be ready to participate.

Yes, this goes for introverts as well. Just because I don't have a date doesn't mean I shouldn't spend some money on myself for fun holiday polish and bling. Indulging is what this happy time of the year is about. Winter is coming; shine now! And life should never be lived waiting for some mythical someone to come along. Or feel I must shoehorn myself into a relationship to fit in with social groups. Yes, I understand shyness. Without a partner, it would be easier to stay home . . . but the cost is high. We were meant to live fully and completely. Decorate where you live. Act as if the holidays have meaning. Take part in the traditions. When you are invited out by friends and family, don't say no automatically. Remember, you are special exactly the way you are, and don't be afraid to flaunt it. There's power in being able to come and go as you please. Use it.

Create the party.

I adore dinner parties. When I found myself single, I refused to be cut out. I invited the most interesting people I know to my place and I sit at the head of the table. If I want to go to the movies, I put out the word. If I want to carol or go dancing or hiking, I'm happy to organize. Plus there are groups I can join and form new friendships around these activities. When I found myself single, I let people know I wanted to be included by reaching out first. There is more to me than the man in my life. Yes, it is a couple-ly universe, but true friends value my presence.

After all, life is meant to be celebrated and I don't want to miss a second of it.

Dating Advice for Your First Thanksgiving as a Couple

By Abbi Comphel

Thanksgiving is an important family holiday. When you begin a new relationship and the holidays come around, you have to make the decision of what you are going to do. There are many options on Thanksgiving Day, and you should both talk about it and see what fits you best. Just remember, there will always be another Thanksgiving!

Cupid has some dating and relationship advice for your first Thanksgiving as a couple:

1. Split your time: If you both have families who host their own Thanksgivings, then split your time. Sure, you'll be eating a lot of food that day, but it's about your family. Go to one home in the morning and the other in the afternoon. It will be exhausting, but you get to spend time with both families.

2. Host Thanksgiving: Instead of having separate Thanksgivings, ask your family to come to your home so you can host. This is your opportunity as a couple to show your family how well you are doing. It will probably be stressful, but it will turn out great. Just don't burn the turkey!

4. Make time for yourselves: Thanksgiving can sometimes be a stressful holiday. So make sure you remember what it is all about. Thanksgiving is a time to be grateful for what you have and love. So let your significant other know how much they mean to you.

Celebrity Couple Sarah Michelle Gellar and Freddie Prinze Jr.: How Does A Couple Cope With Illness?

By Dr. Jane Greer

It's been a tough few months for celebrity couple Sarah Michelle Gellar and Freddie Prinze Jr.! Freddie is reportedly on the mend, but it has been a long haul. The actor underwent spine surgery, and it looks like he will make a full recovery. While his celebrity wife, Sarah Michelle Gellar, has been supportive throughout the process, it can be very difficult to deal with illness in the family. It's a stressful time for everyone involved, individually and as a couple. In the end, it can either strain a relationship, or it can ultimately strengthen it.

There are certain steps you can take to try to better deal when you or your partner is ill, or recovering from an injury or # surgery, to make sure it doesn't tear you apart.

When you are dealing with illness and recovery, the uncertainty and anxiety you might feel can totally drain you. There can be so much going on that it is easy to lose sight of the bigger picture. The sick partner is not him or herself, and the healthy partner must become the caretaker, not sure when or if their loved one will be what he or she once was. When the ill person isn't available the way he or she usually is, the other person might feel unsupported, angry, overwhelmed, frightened, and even alone. That can get even worse if the sick person becomes demanding and takes the other for granted, or is constantly unpleasant because of the pain or discomfort they are feeling. Also, that person might be afraid and worried about the future, putting even more of a damper on the household. The healthy one might resent having to carry the lion's share of the household work. They might feel burdened and overloaded, in addition to all the other emotions they are already experiencing.

Related Link: 3 Celebrity Couples That Waited to Have Kids

As with so many other issues in a relationship, resentment can creep in when the communication creeps out. So often if you are the healthy one, you might feel you have no right to complain or ask anything of your sick loved one. If they feel bad and yell, so be it. If they tell you they need you to cancel the plans you made to be out of the house for a few hours, what choice do you have? But that is not the case at all. In order to get through, there has to be a give and take.

Talk about it.

The first step is talking about it, and sharing your feelings. Of course the person who is ill is going through an awful time, but you are going through it with them. There isn't just one person being affected, there are two. It is very challenging to navigate that difficult road of juggling helping and supporting with honesty and advocating for yourself and your needs. It can be hard to give yourself permission to be upset. But it is so important that you are able to share your thoughts and feelings, and work together to acknowledge what you are both experiencing and thinking.

Related Link: Celebrity Couples Who Shy Away From the Spotlight

Have mutual empathy.

The life you shared (and presumably enjoyed) before your partner got ill is no longer the life either of you is living while the recovery is taking place. Without mutual empathy, that reality and all the stress you are both feeling can take a toll because most people eventually run out of emotional stamina. Talk about how you are each feeling, what is working and what isn't. Discuss what you have lost, and what you hope to get back. Come together as a team and be aware of a recovery plan. What is a realistic timeline to expect to get back to normal? That will give your partner time to rest without feeling pressure from you, and it will give you something to look forward to.

Freddie and Sarah are now closer to the other, healthier side of this. They are facing this challenge head-on, and hopefully will find it makes them stronger as they go forward.

Relationship Advice: How to

Survive Thanksgiving with the In-Laws

By Mackenzie Scibetta

So you drew the short stick for the holidays this season. Thanksgiving will not be held at your loving, comfortable parents house, but rather you will be forced to put on your most convincing smile as you enter your in-laws home for the festivities. For the majority of us, venturing into in-law territory can be terrifying, stressful and impossibly frustrating. It's an unavoidable nightmare that must be endured with charming comments, positive vibes and endless efforts of offering help. If you want to make it out alive to enjoy Christmas, then you better prepare to exert yourself.

Cupid has some relationship advice to help you endure Thanksgiving with your in-laws

1. Don't take anything personally: Don't put up a fight or a defense when your in-laws come off cold towards you as this will only increase the tension. Preparing a giant, delicious meal for your closest friends and family can be extremely stressful so if your in-laws seem aggravated cut them some slack. They took the time to ensure your and your family's holiday is enjoyable so show them that you are appreciative.

2. Offer to help with anything and everything: Consistently, almost to the point of annoyance, ask if there is anything you can help with because this will show that you are not just asking to be polite, but that you genuinely want to help. Thanksgiving is all about authentic appreciation so helping out without being asked is a sincere way to win over your in-laws.

Related Link: Dating Advice: Find Out If Men Really Want the 'Cool Girl'

3. Agree in advance when you are leaving: Nothing is more uncomfortable than hinting and nudging at your partner that you want to leave. You don't want to hurt their feelings so instead of interrupting family game night to tell your loved one you want to go home, plan a rough time for leaving. Lay out an exit strategy complete with back-up excuses if you know your in-laws are the type to beg you to stay for "just one more game".

4. Find a place to catch your breath: If you can sneak away from the mayhem for a few moments to relax and decompress then by all means go for it. Do a few dishes by yourself or sneak outside for some fresh air. Offering to take the dog for a walk is a practical way to sneak out and seem helpful.

Related Link: Dating Advice: 5 Ways to Keep Boundaries with Your 'Work Spouse'

5. Be prepared for the worst: If you usually have an unpleasant time then don't expect this Thanksgiving to be any different. Learn from previous family events and know what not to say, when to refrain from offering relationship advice and what to wear. If you're miserable just remember it is only short-term and momentary.

Dating Advice: Find Out If Men Really Want the 'Cool Girl'

By Abbi Comphel

When you ask many guys what they're looking for in a woman, they said they "just want the 'cool girl'." The problem is, everyone has their own opinion on what qualifications a girl must have to be the 'cool girl'. That being said, mostly this girl will be hot, smart, funny, and will love football. Of course, that's not an exhaustive list, and it totally depends on the guy in question.. Maybe he is just looking for a girl who has a great personality and who will love him. The question is, do men really want the 'cool girl,' or do they want bits and pieces of multiple definitions of a 'cool girl'?

Cupid has some dating and relationship advice on what makes a 'cool girl' and what men are looking for:

1. Understanding: Guys are looking for someone who understands them. If they want to go out with their buddies for the night, they want you to be totally okay with that. They don't want a girl who is going to watch their every move and not trust them when they just want a night out with the fellas.

2. Healthy: They want a girl who looks good and has a nice body. That's a given, because being attracted to your partner is key in every relationship. Each guy has their own preference, but they are most likely looking for a girl who is healthy and loves her body just as much as he will.

Related Link: Dating Advice: 5 Ways to Keep Boundaries with Your 'Work Spouse'

3. Funny: A great sense of humor is always a huge plus. They want someone who will laugh and joke with them. They don't want a girl who is going to get upset over a small joke. If you can dish the jokes back at them, then that is even better.

4. Smart: A guy always wants a girl who has not only beauty, but brains. He will always be looking to see if you can keep a conversation and have the smarts to hold your own. He wants someone who he can have meaningful conversations with when the time comes.

Related Link: Dating Advice: 7 Warning Signs That You May Be Dating a Taken Man

5. Yourself: Just be yourself. If you can be the best version of yourself, then that makes you a 'cool girl' no matter what. There is nobody else like you, and that is what will make you unique for special guys. Be confident with who you are and always strive to be happy.

Dating Advice: Is Trick-or-Treating with Your Love Life a Good Idea?

By Mario P. Cloutier and Diane Sawaya Cloutier

Yes, it's that time of year again. Soon we'll have legions of little devils and princesses running high on sugar, banging on our doors and willing to put on their best act in the hopes of stocking up on more sweets. Quite frankly, we love Halloween. For us, it's an opportunity to bask in the excitement of the smiling faces at our door and share some love.

But when it comes to love, is Halloween a metaphor for what your love life has become? Could trick or treating describe the type of encounters you have with romantic partners? We have some dating advice for you.

If you keep attracting the wrong individuals or repeating the same mistakes in your choice of partners, you may be prey to the trickery behind this cast of characters and missing out on the treat:

The desperate treat beggar:

This one will keep his finger on your doorbell until you open the door... even if the lights are out! He is so needy, he'll do ANYTHING to seduce you—disguise his true self, compromise his values, lie, accept mistreatment, and more. This is a role nobody should ever take on. Disguising oneself to become love-worthy is not sustainable in a romantic relationship.

The deceiving treat giver:

This person appears to be nothing but giving, but she's only passing out rotten apples and stale candy. Do you know why? Because she loves the deception! She loves to cheat and oftentimes she'll pursue more than one relationship at a time. Be wary, because this person can frequently be found offering her "treats" on multiple online dating sites.

The savvy treat seeker:

This one has a specific strategy to her treat collecting. You'll never see her knocking on a door with limited candy supplies. She's after the big, opulent, flashy treats—the full-size chocolate bars and the like. As a result, she will completely disregard more modest offerings, even if they were lovingly handcrafted for the occasion. Such treat seekers find instant gratification, but rarely end up in a fulfilling relationship.

The leveraging treat giver:

This guy gets a kick from negotiating and... he never stops! "Ok kids, who's willing to count to 100 for these two candies here?" And, once you've performed it, he cranks up his request! "Alright, now do it backwards." He's the perpetual "I'll give you this if you give me that" kind of person in his relationships. The ultimate "what's in it FOR ME!" kind of guy. Even if you like the looks of his treats, the question is, do you really need that?

If you have known one or more of these characters, we have only one piece of advice to give you: Take control of your FEAR. Identify what it is that prevents you from slamming the door on these pretenders, and start to confront it. Don't fall for the same tricks or settle for mediocre treats. Otherwise, you'll end up trick or treating a lot more than just your love life.

Dating Advice: Dinner Date Dos and Don'ts

By Jessica Tom

For most of my career, I've been immersed in two things: love and food. For years, I was the Community Director at an online dating site, meaning I helped thousands of people in all things romantic. I'm also the author of Food Whore: A Novel of Dining and Deceit, a book about a young woman who secretly writes the New York Times restaurant review because the real critic has lost his sense of taste. Cue lots of drama.

So, I guess you can say I'm an expert in dining and early-stage dating. Dating while dining? Well, I have a couple thoughts on that. Here's some dating advice:

Do: Share some – if not all – dishes. It's more intimate. And, hey, if you like the person, you're sharing saliva anyway.

Don't: Eat off each other's plates. You're not a dog.

Do: Read up on the restaurant. A little background knowledge is a good thing and can help you both get situated.

Don't: Go overboard. You want some mystery.

Do: Have a drink to take the edge off and lighten the mood.

Don't: Test your limits. Tipsy is cute. Drunk, not so much.

Do: Order adventurously. Approach dates with an open mind ... and that includes with the menu.

Don't: Get something that's totally foreign. Maybe not the best time to get spicy alligator sweetbreads, ya know?

Do: Order courses that are subtly sexy: ricotta with honey and speck, dates stuffed with goat cheese, sticky toffee pudding.

Don't: Order cheesy "romantic" courses like chocolate fondue. (Though chocolate in general is always okay.)

Do: Tell him if you have a restaurant or cuisine in mind.

Don't: Try to run the show over multiple dates. Sometimes it's nice to be surprised (and let him do the surprising).

Do: Notice how he treats the waitstaff.

Don't: Pursue if he's an asshole to them, even if he's sweet to you. Red flag central.

Do: Get dessert!

Don't: Get so stuffed that you'll feel like a balloon about to pop afterwards. Especially if the restaurant isn't the last stop...
