

Parenting Advice: How to Decorate Your Modern Nursery

By Ha

ley Lerner

When you're expecting a new child, there are a lot of things to worry about. One of those things is nesting and getting a room all set up to house your new precious baby. So, are you looking to design the perfect nursery for your little tot? We've got the parenting advice to help you perfectly decorate a modern nursery for your baby.

Check out our parenting advice on how to decorate your modern nursery!

1. Neutral tones: One way to make your child's nursery feel really modern is by sticking to neutral colors and avoiding the usual choices like pinks, blues and yellows. Try decorate in shades of gray, white and black. These neutral colors will allow colorful accent pieces in the room to stand out.

2. Fun lighting: Spruce up your nursery with some cool lighting fixtures. Find a light fixture that can be a statement piece in the room. Whether it's a funky chandelier, contemporary lamps or a neon light sign, go for something that will add character to the room.

3. Wallpaper: Another way to make a room more modern is by using wallpaper. Pick a wall of the room to be a feature wall and cover it with a funky patterned wallpaper.

4. Mirrors: If you want to make a nursery look bigger and more modern, incorporate several mirrors into the design of the room. It'll reflect light and make the room look sharper.

Parenting Trend: Royal Baby Names

By Ha

ley Lerner

Choosing a name for your child can be extremely tough. You can look through hundreds of baby name books and still not know what to name your little tot. Luckily, we have England's royal family to inspire us with some names perfect for any baby. When Prince William and Kate Middleton's first child Prince George was born, the name George climbed up the top 10 list of baby names for England and Wales, according to the Office for National Statistics. So, we've got the perfect parenting advice for you to jump on this parenting trend and give your new addition a royal baby name.

Check out our parenting advice on how to choose a royal baby name for your child!

1. Traditional monarchical names: One way to go in choosing a royal baby name is by going for a more traditional and elegant name, like Victoria or Edward. These names might not be as common as those currently in the royal family, so one may be a unique choice for your child!

2. Older names: If you prefer a baby name that won't be common, go for a name from older rulers in England, like Matilda, Joan, Edgar or Alfred.

3. Modern names: If you really love the current royal family, go for a more modern royal name. Whether it's Harry, William, Elizabeth, Charlotte, Louis, Phillip or George, these names can easily be a great fit for your child.

4. Unusual names: Looking for an extra special name for your child? Go for one that's from another royal family outside of Great Britain. Try out Xenia, Zara, Savannah, Cosima, Octavius, Lionel, Nikolai or Charlene.

Parenting Trend: Start A

Garden With Your Children

By

Rhodesia Williams

While your kids may love playing with their electronics, a great parenting trend is starting a garden with your kids! As hot as it can be during the summer months, you can still enjoy this outdoor activity in the mornings and evenings when it's cooler. Not only are you teaching your kids how to garden, you are teaching them responsibility. Picking out flowers or choosing the seeds you want to plant is just half of the fun. Turn their summer into a learning experience away from their iPads.

A little dirt never hurt anybody!

Starting a garden with your children is a cute parenting trend that is fun for everyone.

With kids complaining of boredom or who are too obsessed with electronics, try something new. Gardening is a fun relaxing way to not only teach your kids about nature, but also to give them a sense of responsibility and accomplishment. Here are some benefits of this fun outdoor activity:

1. Responsibility: Enjoy planning and setting up your new garden. After everything is set, work out a watering schedule with your children. Allow them to water and care for their new project. Not only will it keep them busy, but they will learn important life skills around the value of keeping up with your responsibilities.

2. Quality time: Although the summer months bring a shift in scheduling, this cute activity will allow you and the kids to relax and spend some time together. Taking your kids away from electronics and working on an outside project is good for them. While they have rainy days to enjoy TV and tablets, take the nice, sunny days to be outside and enjoy the fresh air, together.

3. Never too young to learn: Gardening can help teach your kids the basics of nature and growth. Showing your children how to carefully take care of their plants will encourage them to be accountable. While they will physically see the growth of their plants, you can teach them how plants survive in their environment. Explaining how they grow and the importance of feeding them, watering them and giving them sunlight will keep your kids interested and involved.

Parenting Advice: Social Media for Children

By

Jessica Gomez

Ah, social media – youth and older people alike are very involved in it. When it comes to your children, you obviously want them to be safe when it comes to the web. Social media platforms like Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and Snapchat are more for teens and adults than they are for children though. The good news is, there are social media platforms specifically designed for our youth. This is great because it can let parents relax a little. Nevertheless, you want to make sure that you have a serious conversation with your children about safety on social media.

Here are a few fun social media sites for your children to use along with some parenting advice on how to make sure your kids are safe when it comes to the web:

Make sure to sit down with your children and have a talk about the positives and the dangers of social media. Let them know that they must think before friending people and before clicking the send button. Also, make sure to monitor their activities online. With that being said, have an open line of communication with your kids and make sure there is trust there. This will really help now and in the long run.

Now, here are the social media sites for your little ones:

1. Kidzworld: What is cool about this site is the multi uses for it. Your child will have the choice to create a profile, message friends, partake in secure chat rooms, play online games, create polls, write blogs, and read movie and tv reviews, articles on family and other topics on life! The site is moderated and is for ages nine to 16.

2. Gromsocial: Parents will be spiked to know that this site is actively monitored 24/7, and adults can only access it once it is confirmed that they are the parents of a user. It's also password protected and parents can receive emails on their child's online activity. Wow! This site gives kids the option to chat, share videos, and get help with their homework. Sounds great to us!

3. Club penguin: This is more of a place to play games, but children can chat with any other penguins (other children). This is a Disney site where children are penguins and can explore. They play games with other users, live in igloos that they can decorate, and more. This fun site is a community that encourages kids to be friendly and creative. Also, this site does not allow third party advertisements and they monitor all chats.

Parenting Tips: Make Popsicles with Your Kids This Summer

By Ha

ley Lerner

In the summer, school is out and your kids are typically spending more time at home. This means that coupled with the sticky hot weather, you have rambunctious children to entertain! Everyone knows the perfect summer treat to cool down is ice cream, but instead of waiting for the ice cream truck to come down your block, why not make a yummy dessert yourself? Or even better, have your little tots help you make them. We have the parenting advice to help make your summer extra sweet with homemade popsicles.

Check out these parenting tips on how to make popsicles with your kids this summer:

1. Pick out ingredients: Head to the grocery store, and let your child pick out his or her favorite popsicle ingredients. If you're looking to go the simple route, any fruit juice is a good base. If you're ready to put more work into it (and have a juicer/blender at home), pick out some fresh fruit (and some green veggies if you can manage to sneak them in). Consider picking up whole fruits like blueberries or strawberries to throw in at the end as well.

2. Get a mold: It's important you have something to put all that fruit juice into, so while you're at the grocery store, pick out some small paper cups. Some stores even sell special popsicle molds. Don't forget to grab popsicle sticks, too!

Related Link: Parenting Tips: 5 Spring Activities To Do With Your Child

3. Put it all together: Once home with all of your ingredients, enlist the help of your kid(s) to help put the popsicles together. Help your child pour the juice or fruit puree (after you blend it) into the popsicle molds. It's the perfect parent-child activity that will be super fun for your little chef.

4. Let it freeze: After placing popsicle sticks in the middle of your fruit juice, carefully put all the molds in the freezer and take them out when the pops are frozen. Then, carefully pull the mold off and give your child the perfect frozen treat!

Related Link: Parenting Tips: Rainy Day Activities

5. Eat the popsicles outside: It's summer, so enjoy the nice weather while it lasts! Set up a picnic in your yard or at a park, and enjoy the fresh popsicles with your children. Spend a perfect summer day eating your healthy cold snack and playing in the sun.

Parenting Advice: Ways to Talk to Your Child About Sexual Assault

By

Krav Maga Worldwide

According to the Rape, Abuse & Incest National Network, 93% of children that have been sexually assaulted know their perpetrator and the recent scandal involving Larry Nassar, the former USA Gymnastics and Michigan State doctor, has reiterated how even “trusted” adults can manipulate a situation and do things that are not appropriate with a child. It’s important that parents have an open conversation with their child about what sexual assault is and what to do if someone is making them feel uncomfortable.

Below are some parenting tips from Krav Maga Worldwide, a global leader in defense training, on how to approach this difficult and sometimes uncomfortable subject with your child:

1. Begin talking to them as young as 2 years old: This may seem very early but children under 12 are most at risk, especially at 4 years old. Even if they can't speak well, children at this age are busy figuring out the world. And they certainly understand and remember a lot more than adults usually realize.

2. Share the only instances when their private parts can be seen and touched: An age appropriate concept for a young child to understand is that nobody – including a parent or caregiver – should see or touch their private parts (what a swimming suit covers up) – unless they're keeping them clean, safe, or healthy.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: 5 Tips for Co-Parenting

3. Talk openly about sexuality and sexual abuse to teach your child that these topics do not need to be "secret": Abusers will sometimes tell a child that the abuse should be kept a secret. Let your child know that if someone is touching him or her or talking to him or her in ways that make him or her uncomfortable or scared, that it should not stay a secret.

4. Babysitters, coaches and teachers can all be perpetrators: Teach children not to assume all adults can be trusted. According to the Rape, Abuse & Incest National Network, 93% of children that have been sexually assaulted know their perpetrator. It's important to discuss with children that just because the person is considered a "trusted" adult they can still manipulate a situation and do things that are not appropriate.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: How To Cope With Stress

5. Inform your child about the tricks used by sexual predators: Such as continued accidental touching, or where the predator tricks the child into thinking there is an emergency and the child must go with the predator.

6. Teach children that they must trust their inner voice: Especially that feeling we all have inside that tells us what feels right and what feels wrong or uncomfortable. Many children who have been sexually abused describe a feeling of discomfort as having a “yucky” feeling inside. You must teach your child to trust or honor their inner voice or that “yucky” feeling.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: How To Set a Good Example For Your Child

7. Teach your child that they have the right to say NO!: As the majority of child abuse is based on coercion rather than force, teaching your child to say “NO” strongly and forcefully really can make a big difference in many situations.

Parenting Tips: 5 Spring

Activities To Do With Your Child

By

Jessica Gomez

Spring is here, and kids are ready for it! There are many fun activities to do with your child this season; the list is practically endless. However, where do you start when there is so much to do? A parenting tip is to be aware of what your child's interests. With that being said, we have come up with five activities to get your spring going. Do one, do some, or do them all!

You obviously want to have fun this spring with your munchkin, so get ready for our parenting advice on outdoor activities to do during this blooming season:

Cupid's Advice:

The following five ideas are sure to keep you and your little one busy. Your child is sure to have fun with these activities, and they'll also help you bond:

1. Picnic: When it's nice out, prepare yummy snacks together and set up a picnic. During the picnic, indulge in what you've put together. You can also partake in certain activities like blowing bubbles, flying a kite, going on a scavenger hunt, and playing games like football, soccer and flag football. Sounds like a fun day!

2. Planting flowers and plants: This is a nice and productive activity. You can plant in your backyard, front yard, or in any approved place in your neighborhood. Your child will not only learn how to garden, but they'll also build a connection with nature while making the world a more beautiful place.

Related link: Parenting Tips: 5 Unique Ways to Have Fun in the Sun with Your Child

3. Take photos and make a scrap book: Go out and enjoy the spring day. Take photos in the midst of all the blooming beauty around you. Take photos of nature and yourselves, and then create a scrapbook. To give it more of a spring feel, you can add flowers and leaves to your scrapbook as decorations.

4. Bike riding: This is an activity that gets you to workout while being fun. Go for a ride at the park or by a beautiful body of water to take in the scenery. If your child doesn't know how to ride a bike yet, then its time to teach them!

Related Link: Product Review: 3 Must-Have Items for Running Errands With Your Kids

5. Go to an animal sanctuary: Ditch zoos and aquariums that capture animals to cage them for human entertainment. Instead go to an animal sanctuary where the animals were rescued and are now living happily. Your child is sure to enjoy themselves by learning about them and cuddling with those cute beings.

Which of these activities are you excited to do with your kid? Comment below!

Product Review: Make Relaxation a Reality While Traveling with Your Baby This Summer

By

Carly Horowitz

As your head lightly falls upon your satin pillow, your mind begins to wander. The white noise machine in the corner of your room prompts your dreams to travel to the beach, in accordance with the wave-like sound. The warm sun shines down on your slightly tanned skin. You taste the sweet, cold margarit... "WAHHH! WAHHHH!" Your precious baby wakes you from this wonderful dream. How great would it be for this dream of a nice, relaxing vacation to become a reality this summer? But, how will this work when you have to care for your baby? Fortunately, there are great products on the market than can make the traveling process with your baby a lot easier. Two specific lifesavers are the Lulla Doll and Mobile Changing Station.

If you are looking to vacation with your baby this summer, take this parenting advice and get these products!

Lulla Doll: This Icelandic creation works as the perfect sleep companion to give babies a feeling of intense closeness. The doll's appearance incorporates both blue and pink colors in order to work as a suitable companion for all children regardless of race and gender. The coolest thing about this doll is that when the chest is pressed, it plays a real-life recording of the heartbeat and breathing of the child's mother at rest for up to 8 hours. Now, you can travel near and far with your baby in the backseat. You don't have to worry about holding them so that they can have a restful nap because with this doll, they will be able to sleep so soundly listening to your heartbeat and breathing. The doll is made from a soft natural cotton blend so that it is easily machine washable with warm water. It also has the ability to absorb the scent of their caregiver if they hold it close to their skin before giving it to their child. Now, you can either travel far while your baby is guaranteed a restful sleep with this doll by their side, or, you can leave your baby at home with another caretaker while you have an amazing vacation and they will be so content having your heartbeat, breathing, and smell as if you were right there with them. Venture on a fun date night with your boo while knowing that your baby is safe and sound with their favorite doll. As lulladoll.com says, "nothing can replace loving human contact but the Lulla doll aims to be a second best." Purchase your Lulla Doll today for $69 and start planning your summer vacation!

Related Link: Product Review: 3 Must-Have Items for Running Errands With Your Kids

Mobile Changing Station: As appealing as a vacation alone may sound, you may not be able to fathom the thought of leaving your baby in the care of someone else just yet. That doesn't mean your vacation plans have to be halted. Take your baby with you and venture for the long drive with a Mobile Changing Station! This extremely sturdy changing station has the ability to mold to wherever you need to change your baby: in the car, in the park, on the beach, wherever! It also supplies pockets so that you can store your changing needs in there instead of lugging around a whole other bag as well. It even has a strap that you can attach to a seat in your car and just change your baby in the back seat while you venture on your travels. Don't miss out on traveling in the warm weather this summer, you can get your Mobile Changing Station for $99.

Parenting Advice: Tech-Free Boredom Busters

By

Carly Horowitz

It's time for your children to visit the pediatrician for a check-up! You gather your three anxious, jumping jelly beans into the minivan and start your journey to the doctor's office. "I don't want to get a shot!" "Mommy, are we almost there yet?" "Susie won't stop poking me, Mom!" You finally arrive and they say it is going to be about a 20 minute wait. Oh, great. The easiest thing to do right now would be to stick an Ipad in front of your children's faces and you know they will be occupied playing games until the doctor is ready to see them. But do you really want to resort to that? It is great that we have made such vast advances in technology and we have these amazing devices that have the ability to entertain for hours, but for children, this should be a regulated reward. It is not a bad idea to teach your children to spend their time doing other things to pass the time rather than relying on electronics.

Take this parenting advice and occupy your children with tech-free boredom busters!

1. Make slime: If your child is really into science or they just like slime (most kids do) then this is a great idea. All you have to do is mix school glue, water, borax, and food coloring together! The mixing process may get a little messy, but once you are done, your children can take these globs of colorful slime wherever! As long as they get the okay from mom.

2. Get out the craft box: If you're at home, and your children are in an antsy mood, shift them into an artsy mood! Gather all your art supplies like paint, crayons, markers, oil pastels, and get to work! This can occupy your children for hours. If you are on the go, there are many portable art kits that you can purchase for your little Picasso.

Related Link: Product Review: 3 Must-Have Items for Running Errands With Your Kids

3. Mad Libs: Mad Libs is a word game where you are given a template of a story, and you have to fill in random missing words. One player prompts others for a list of words to substitute for the blanks in the story. Then, they read the story out loud and it usually comes out in a funny way that barely makes sense. If your child is at an age where they are honing in on their language skills, this is perfect! Your kids will be having fun and learning about verbs, nouns, and adjectives at the same time. You can even indulge in other games similar to Mad Libs like Scrabble, My Word!, Mad Gab, or Boggle.

4. Make bracelets: There are so many cool ways to make bracelets for both boys and girls. You can get your kids a book that details how to make bracelet patterns with string and then get them a portable box with a bunch of different string colors in it. They can also make bracelets with beads, noodles, or shells! This activity will be able to get your kids focused. If they get really good at making bracelets, they can even try to have their own little business at the end of your street or at the beach. They can sell their bracelets for $1 each and start being young entrepreneurs.

Related Link: Parenting Tips to Stay Sane for the Rest of the Summer

5. Go outside!: Prompt your children to put down the iPad and video games and do some fun activities outside while there is nice weather. They can have some running races with other kids on the block or play hide-and-seek. Plan an exciting treasure hunt for them if it is really a struggle for you to get them up and out. A family bike ride is never a bad idea. Hula hoop, draw with chalk, play in the sprinklers, have a water balloon fight, organize a lemonade stand. The possibilities are endless. There are so many different activities that kids can indulge in that don't have to revolve around technology, you just have to open your mind to all of the options. If you can get your children occupied for long enough, you may even be able to squeeze in a date night with your hubby!

It's extremely important to showcase a healthy lifestyle as a parent. The eating habits that you start your children with set the pace for how your children will eat in the future and throughout the rest of their lives. It's all about balance. Obviously your kids want some treats every so often, and that's okay. As long as most of the foods you are feeding them are healthy, then that is perfect. We all know that sometimes this can be a challenge! Luckily, Cupid is here with some tips and tricks on how to get your kids to eat healthy!

Introduce your children to a healthy lifestyle with these parenting tips!

Here are some clever tips and tricks to help your kids be the healthiest they can be:

1. Go on an adventure: If your children are struggling to enjoy fresh fruits and vegetables, take them to a farm and have them experience picking the fruits and vegetables themselves! Kids love hands-on activities, and this is a great way for them to feel in charge of their own food consumption. Maybe if they pick the blueberries and tomatoes themselves, they will want to eat them!

2. Dip it in: Try adding enhancing ingredients to your children's food to make the experience more delicious for them! Dip vegetables in ranch, hummus, or salsa. Sprinkle some sugar on fruits, or dip them in a yogurt-based sauce! Also, here's another interesting tip: brown sugar can go very well with carrots. Every child has different tastes, so figure out which works best for them personally. It may take some experimenting, but you will have your kids eating healthy in no time.

3. Playful peer pressure: Invite over someone who your child looks up to for dinner –maybe their older cousin or friend. Make it clear that they are eating the healthy food on their plate and so little Johnny should too so that they can be like him! There are plenty of encouraging television shows and YouTube videos as well that promote healthy eating for children. You can even show them that celebrity kids like Bear Blu Jarecki and Rocco Ritchie eat very healthy as well!

4. Cook with them: This is another hands-on activity that can engage your child in eating healthy. When you are preparing dinner, invite the kids to help out so that they will feel like they're contributing. They would be silly not to try eating the healthy meal they have just helped prepare!

Bonus tip- Watch sugary drinks: Most kids love juice and those yummy, sugary, calorie-packed drinks. Try to limit your child's juice intake to just one cup of juice per day. Prompt them to then drink water throughout the day! Staying hydrated is very important, especially for active kids.

Parenting Advice: How to Keep Your Kids Motivated Throughout the Rest of the School Year

By

Jessica Gomez

Your child's school year is almost over! However, as they approach the finish line, some students may get off track. This is unfortunate considering that they're so close to the end! Having a support system to encourage kids with their studies is essential. The approach to motivating your children can depend on the child's age. However, some methods can be useful for children of any age if they're customized or "tailored" to the girl or boy, and that is where you, the parent, comes in!

Keep your child motivated with this parenting advice, along with some examples from celebrity parents:

1. Stay involved: When you are constantly involved in parent teacher meetings and school events, your child is more likely to keep their interest in school going. Being active in your child's school not only helps you keep an eye on them, but also familiarizes you with the environment they're in for the majority of the week. Being attentive is key. Celebrity couple Beyoncé and Jay-Z stay involved with daughter Blue Ivy's school. Bey volunteered at a fundraiser last year where she performed three hit songs, while Jay-Z attends PTA meetings. And, the duo alternates picking her up and dropping her off to school. If this busy, power couple can make the time, so can you!

2. Create a reward system while keeping yourself up-to-date: Whether the reward is big or small, a reward is a reward. For example, having your kids do their homework straight after school before taking part in other activities is one way to do it. After doing their homework, getting to play, watch TV, or do any other acceptable activity is a reward. When creating and implementing a reward system, it is important to keep yourself updated with your child's work. Make sure they do their homework and projects, and don't forget to ask them how school went and what they learned. For a little more information on creating reward systems (specifically ones based on the child's age), read on here along with other creative ideas on Pinterest.

Related Link: How to Connect with Your Teenager

3. Encourage them: This sounds simple, but many parents tend to sometimes miss it. School becomes something they expect their kids to do because they have to, but that does not mean that it requires any less encouragement than any other activity. Sometimes we're focused on tough love or are just not as involved as we should be (back to tip #1 above). Whichever the case, parents need to find different ways to keep their kids going. Be their cheerleaders! Many celebrity parents like Sarah Jessica Parker, Jennifer Lopez, Sarah Michelle Gellar, Jessica Alba, and David Beckham, took the approach of encouraging their kids on the first day of school by posting photos on social media – photos can be seen here. This can also work toward the ending of the school year because it's an exciting time that should be celebrated.

Related Link: 5 Tips for Co-Parenting

4. Create a nice, clean work space for them: Having a study area free from clutter and unlimited distractions is an important space to have. It encourages you to do work and keeps you situated. Ideally, a good work space will be organized, well-lit, and comfortable. If your child is easily distracted by what's going on outside, their study space should be away from any windows. If they work well in silence, choosing the quietest place is a good idea. If they like some low background music, choose a space where you can set that up. Learn your child's learning and productivity style, and then appoint a space as their study area based upon it.

5. Share a productive and motivating lifestyle with them: Your mentality has a big say in how motivated and productive you are. Besides controlling your way of thinking, there are a few ways to change your lifestyle and your child's. Getting eight hours of sleep is important, depending on your child's age, even 10 hours of sleep is good for them. Many kids don't get the proper amount of sleep, which makes them too tired to be fully focused and productive in school. A good diet is also important because your child needs the energy to do well in school and in the other parts of their lives. Dark fruits and vegetables along with ones rich in Vitamin B (like broccoli, spinach, celery, beets, blueberries, apples, potatoes, and beans) improve memory and cognition and are also good for alertness. And of course, stay fit by exercising together as well.

These are just a few ways to help your child stay motivated for the rest of the school year – there are many more! Being a parent is a huge responsibility, and in order to do the job right, you have to know your child and incorporate different aspects of life into your parenting style, like described above.

3. Maddy & Maize Popcorn: Sometimes, all your kiddos need is a snack to pacify them. Maddy & Maize Popcorn is the perfect solution, as long as your kids are over five years old. These snacks are awesome because they are all-natural, non-GMO, have no artificial ingredients or preservatives, and are made with organic ingredients. They have very yummy flavors that your kids will love – aged white cheddar, cookies and cream, birthday cake, and more! The popcorn is made in small-batches, which makes it perfect to pack in your diaper bag, too.

You deserve a easy and breezy shopping trip, especially when you have your kids tagging along. Do yourself a favor and bring these products into your life! May all your trips to the grocery store be tear-free and forever happy.

Parenting Tips: Rainy Day Activities

By

Karley Kemble

It's raining, and your kiddos are loving the day inside. At first, they're having a blast playing with their toys, but now they're becoming restless with their pent-up energy. (There are only so many toys, after all, you don't have a celebrity baby!) You still can't go out since it's wet and raining, so what is there to do? If you've ever been in this predicament, you know how frustrating it can be for you and your kids! The days where you can't go outside are always the days that your kids want to go outside the most! Never fear, Cupid is here. The next time rain tries to put a damper to your day, you'll have an arsenal of games and activities ready to go!

These parenting tips are sure to alleviate rainy day restlessness and boredom!

1. Build a pillow fort: Relive the days of your childhood, and build a pillow fort with your kids! The best forts don't need much: just pillows or couch cushions, blankets, and chairs. Forts are truly a timeless art form and can be used for many different purposes. Your kiddos will have a blast playing pretend all day and hanging out inside!

Related Link: Parenting Tips: How To Set a Good Example For Your Child

2. Create a scavenger hunt: Scavenger hunts are an awesome way to release pent-up energy. You can set the stakes high with a new toy, or simply hide some candy bars. Get bonus points for having a cohesive theme for the entire hunt, such as pirates or princesses. You'll find that your little ones will really get into the theme and feel as though they're actually looking for buried treasure!

3. Make a mini museum: Make the old feel new again to your kids, and turn your living room into a museum. Have your kids set up shop by making displays of whatever they feel like showing off – toys, books, and pieces of art – the list is endless! Once the museum is “ready to open,” have your kids act as the museum docents and take you on a tour. Encourage them to share the history and backstories of all the items, whether they are true or not!

4. Get crafty: There are tons of crafts you can do while being cooped up inside. One of the biggest DIY crafts with kids right now is “slime.” All you need is Elmer’s glue, borax, water, and food coloring! Crafts keep your kids occupied and engaged and truly help develop their creativity. They’ll also have tons of pride once they have a completed product.

5. Bring out the board games: Contrary to what most people may think, board games are still alive and thriving. Kids aren’t just glued to their technology; they still like board games! Rainy days are the perfect opportunity to open that cabinet full of games and spend quality time with each other. These moments will instill many wonderful memories within your kids’ lives, too!

Parenting Tips: 5 Fun Ways to Celebrate St. Patrick’s Day with Your Kids

By

Rachel Sparks

St. Patrick's Day is a fun holiday, but a lot of kids don't understand how fun it can be. Win parent of the year with these St. Patty's Day activities fit for the whole family. Celebrate with famous Irish folks, such as Gwen Stefani, John Travolta, Meryl Streep, and Harrison Ford, among so many! Cupid's parenting tips will help make this green-filled, gold-coin, leprechaun-hunting holiday an unforgettable day for everyone!

Parenting Tips: The 5 Best Ways to Celebrate St. Patrick's Day with Your Family!

1. Green-themed food: Get your kids excited for St. Pat's Day with green food! Guacamole and fried spinach tortillas are a delicious starter. Make a party of decorating a cake. Make a kid-friendly green bar, serving green ginger ale, green sprite, or Mountain Dew!

Related Link: Parenting Tips to Stay Sane for the Rest of the Summer

2. Build a leprechaun trap: Kids love imagination and lore, so let them get wild with this one! Tell them stories about leprechauns and then give them a cardboard box and all the craft supplies they need to catch that little rascal.

3. Make a traditional Irish dinner: Food makes everyone come together and, generally speaking, full bellies make happy people. Try out some traditional Irish recipes! Irish soda bread, a classic, is the heart of the meal. Shepherd's pie, Kale Colcannon, and Guinness-marinated beef are just a few hearty ideas for this grand meal.

Parenting Advice: What to Do If Your Teen Wants to Celebrate Valentine's Day

By

Rachel Sparks

With Valentine's Day upon us, we can't help but worry about how our kids are feeling at school. Cyber bullying, daily stress, and the pressure of Valentine's love can be too much for teens to handle. While it may be easier to encourage them to stay home and avoid V-Day celebrations, you can't always tell your teen "no". Cupid has parenting advice to help you and your teen survive another stressful holiday.

Help your teen rock Valentine's Day with these parenting tips!

1. Enlist your teen's help: Valentine's Day is about love, but this is a great opportunity to teach your teen not all love is romantic. Giving to others, especially the down-trodden, can warm the heart on an otherwise cold day if you're alone. Teach your teen to give to others and make a date of it. You'll be giving your kid valuable love advice, helping them avoid loneliness, and you'll be brightening someone else's day.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: How to Connect with Your Teenager

2. Give passionate affirmation: Teens are prone to thinking about nothing but romantic love. The idea of romance places value on who they are, which is an unhealthy perspective of self. Not all love need be romantic, especially when self-worth is involved. Teach you teen about positive self-images with passionate affirmations. Even if they're alone this V-Day, they will have a lot more fun with friends if they feel love elsewhere.

Parenting Tips: How to Keep Your Children From Getting Hurt at School Valentine's Day Parties

By

Rachel Sparks

Valentine's Day is a stressful day for everyone, whether you're in a relationship or not. You may be thinking about how you and your spouse can't afford a babysitter, how being a single parent sucks, or how your teenagers may be having more fun in their relationship than you. As a parent and adult, the stress seems limitless, but to your kids, they Valentine's Day stress and loneliness may be something they don't know how to cope with yet, but our parenting tips will help you and your kids survive a stressful holiday.

Protect your kids from Valentine's Day blues with Cupid's parenting tips!

Valentine's Day is full of pressure. you have to buy the perfect gift, have the perfect romantic date idea, or rush to find someone to spend the day with. Our dating advice to you and your family: rushing into a relationship you don't want will only end in heartbreak and frustration. Cupid's relationship advice will help your whole household find something better than what one night can deliver:

1. Make plans with friends: If your kid doesn't have a date for Valentine's Day and they're upset about it, encourage them to make dates with their friends. Whether it's going to the movies with all their girlfriends, having a rowdy gaming sleepover full of shouting boys and empty pizza boxes, you'll be helping your kids stay busy and prevent loneliness for the holiday.

2. Challenge them to meet new people: If they're going to a party but don't have a date, challenge them to come back home with three (or five) new people they met. The adrenaline your kids will feel right before introducing themselves to someone new will help make the night exciting and they may even end up with a new friend or two. At the very least, you're teaching them a long-lasting survival technique for whenever they feel lonely. Loneliness is the spark of a lot of depression young adults face.

3. Teach them about bullying: Ultimately, no matter what you teach your kids or how much you try to prepare them, some hardships cannot be prevented. If your kid or one of their friends is being bullied, they need to be able to identify what it is and how to react to it. Make sure you spend time with your kids telling them what signs to look for and that what bullies say should not be taken to heart. Build a support and safety network beforehand so your child knows who to go to when something does happen.

Get Inspired by These Celebrity Baby Nurseries

By

Rachel Sparks

Famous parents have created the best nurseries for their celebrity babies that even we envy! Going all out for their children has offered a lot of inspiration for how to make your own nurseries glamorous and whimsical. Kim Kardashian, the queen of luxury, decorated North West's nursery with a sheepskin rug and oversized stuffed animals in a glam-safari style. Ciara created the perfect angelic room for her son in soft, plush whites and pinks. We've been inspired by these celebrity nurseries and have parenting advice for your babies!

Read Cupid's parenting advice to get ideas for your baby's nursery!

Cupid's Advice:

While your baby may not remember their nursery, you certainly will. There's something about investing right from the beginning of your child's life that makes you feel like the parent who can conquer anything. Here are some of the latest nursery trends based on what we've seen celebrity parents doing:

1. Art gallery: Coco Rocha sets the standard for chic. For her daughter's nursery, she has a wall dedicated to artwork. Pop art pillows and name brand rocking chairs, Coco Rocha has created the perfect high-fashion designer nursery for her daughter. While you may not hire interior designers for your own nursery, you can take inspiration to recreate your own art gallery for your child!

2. Monochromatic palettes: Pastels have been all the rage the past couple of years, but we're talking using bold colors to create your child's perfect getaway. Use Penelope Disick's nursery as inspiration! Kourtney Kardashian used coral pink everywhere: on the walls, in the fluffy-clouded-wallpaper on the ceiling, all the way to the accents in the room. Juxtapose with pops of turquoise for flashes of cheery delight.

3. Patriotism: Parenting is hard. You have to evaluate your beliefs and see if they are something you want to pass onto your children. Take Jaime Ford's idea and put up flags from your country (or your family's cultural heritage). Find cultural inspiration for your artwork and stray from the norm of animal-inspired artwork to give your baby something with deeper meaning.

4. Pops of color: Kendra Wilkinson-Baskett has created a modern nursery with bold flashes of color. Keep the rest of the decor simplistic and use sunny yellows, fiery reds, or dark-sea blues to go for a dramatic style.

5. Whimsy: The most important details you can add to your nursery are the ones that add magic to your child's life.

Oversized stuffed animals, child-sized teepees, and plush carpeting create many sources of entertainment for your child!

Marriage Advice: How to Keep the Spark Alive After Having Kids

By

Karley Kemble

There's no denying that having a child changes the dynamic of your relationship. Even celebrities face this challenge after the birth of a celebrity baby. Bringing a new child into the world doesn't mean your relationship has to suffer! Sure, things might be different between you and your partner, but you just have to adjust to a new lifestyle. There are plenty of ways to bring the magic back into your relationship; sometimes you just have to get a little creative.

If you and your partner are having a difficult time with keeping the spark alive in your marriage, Cupid has some marriage advice that'll help you and your partner get out of your funk!

Cupid's Advice:

1. Flirt like nobody's watching: Post baby, it may feel weird to openly flirt in front of your kid. Don't worry; you're not alone. If you no longer feel comfortable with PDA, then leave your partner hidden love notes, or send them a cute text while they're out. Flirting should always be fun and harmless – so don't feel like you can't anymore now that you have a child.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: When Is the Old New Again?

2. Schedule those date nights: We know. Seeing “schedule” and “date night” in the same sentence feels so...old school. The reality of parenthood is that it can be hectic, but you and your partner still need a break every once and a while! Look at your calendar, find an evening that works, and call your mother-in-law or a good friend to see if they'll babysit. Date nights are essential to keeping you sane and giving you two an intimate time to touch base with each other.

3. Try going tech-free: If you and/or your partner find yourselves glued to your phones while the baby is sleeping, challenge each other to put the devices away. Instead of checking your social media accounts, use the rare moments of down-time at home to talk with each other or play a board game! You'll find the little moments of quality time will help your relationship grow, especially without the distractions of the glowing screens.

Related Link: Marriage Advice from Celebrity Couples Who Stay Together

4. Get touchy: Physical contact is so important in any relationship! As humans, we are designed to desire contact with other people. Post-baby, it's normal for PDA to decrease. (Perhaps you haven't even realized that you and your partner don't get intimate as much – that's also common!) Make it a point to touch your partner whenever the opportunity arises. Hold hands whenever you can – just do whatever it takes to keep each other satisfied.

5. Use your manners: After having a baby, it's easy for you or your partner to feel forgotten. A little kindness goes a long way. If your partner did something as small as starting the full dishwasher, or as big as surprising you with breakfast in bed, thank them! Never underestimate the power of "thank you" – your partner will feel so appreciated.

Parenting Advice: How to Combat Holiday Commercialism

By

Rachel Sparks

The holidays are filled with hand-crafted memories, cinnamon wafting through the air, and wood snapping and popping in the fireplace. As much as we love the holidays, it seems it's impossible to recreate all the warm memories we have from our own childhoods. Media is literally everywhere, and our children have grown up being bombarded by what's trending and hot. The holidays are the best time for marketers to target consumers and children are especially vulnerable. Our parenting advice will help you make it through the holidays with the best memories for your whole family.

Cupid's parenting advice can protect your children from holiday commercialism!

1. Limit commercials: One of the quickest ways to nix commercialism in your kids is to entertain them during commercials. Avoiding those bombastic sellers will help keep your kids clear of any unnecessary buys they may think they want. Find interesting ways to entertain your children during commercials. Tell a holiday story, share an interesting thing about your day, play a game of Monopoly, or decorate an ornament.

Related Link: Parenting Tips: How to Set a Good Example For Your Child

2. Share the budget: Ok, don't tell them all about your budget, but children learn about money from the example you set. If you buy numerous exorbitant gifts, all you're teaching your children is excess spending and you are setting the expectation for more spending. Show them how you budget holiday gifts and why it's important, teaching them a valuable lesson about money and the significance of sincere gift-giving.

3. Explain the meaning: No matter your spirituality, every winter holiday has some meaning behind it. Sharing this with your children will explain why the holidays are important and create deeper meaning for the season. Explaining the significance will combat the materialism of society.

Related Link: Holiday Gift Guide "Must-Have": Personalized Books For Kids

4. Holiday activities: The holidays are traditionally about spending time with family and doing crafts and activities with them. As stereotypical as some of those activities may be, your children will love doing them. Make a gingerbread house, giving your kids free reign to decorate the house how they want. Make cookies, go on a sleigh ride, or have a hot chocolate bar. Your children will remember these moments more than the gifts they are likely to toss by next year. Watch Mariah Carey celebrate in full-festive style with her daughter for some inspiration!

5. Recreate traditions: Children look up to their parents. Of course, they seem to outgrow this as soon as hormones hit, but the holidays have a sort of magic that makes everyone go back to being a kid. Share your favorite tradition with your kids and recreate it. Make popcorn ribbons for the tree, make a beaded angel ornament, find the best real tree rather than a store-bought plastic one. Sharing your past joys with your kids will help create new traditions and they will love you for the genuine moments spent together. Beyonce and Jay-Z create their own traditions but never hesitate to share with their kids.
