

Are Celebrity Couple Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield Overcoming Jealousy?

By Dr. Jane Greer

It's rumored that celebrity couple Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield are having issues lately, stemming from the fact that Stone is close to her colleague Ryan Gosling. The possibility has spawned a lot of discussion about jealousy and how the famous couple might move forward from here. While the two of them have not addressed the situation publicly, additional reports surfaced suggesting the pair have resolved their issues.

It's very important to tackle jealousy head-on rather than letting it simmer within the relationship.

Believe it or not, your partner doesn't have to be working with a movie star, as is the case for Emma and Andrew, for you to feel the green-eyed monster in full force. In fact, most people go through this at one time or another, especially if their loved one is working closely with someone who is attractive and smart. When this happens, it is hard not to be rattled by the possibility that they could fall for this person and you could wind up losing them. So, what can you do to keep your fear and jealousy from taking over, and possibly creating more of a problem with your relationship than actually exists?

Recognition.

First, recognize that acting jealous can actually cause tension between you that may drive you apart rather than bring you closer. If you are feeling threatened, you may accuse your lover of doing something he or she isn't doing, lash out in anger, or just generally make things so unpleasant that you unwittingly push them away from you and possibly in the direction of the other person.

Focus on your connection.

The bottom line is that it is always uncomfortable knowing there are appealing men or women around whom your lover might come into contact with and find attractive. However, the real key to staying together happily is to focus on the connection you two share, rather than putting an emphasis on that perceived interloper. In other words, pay attention to ways to build on and strengthen your intimacy and closeness. If you are having problems over sex and/or money, for example, then now is a good time to invest your energy into problem solving and finding ways to compromise and resolve them, so that you can feel more confident, happy, and safe in your relationship. This way you use your energy productively to focus on considering and loving each other, rather than use it to act on your anxiety and possibly end up having it work against you.

Eliminate the space.

When you are in sync and feel harmonious, it can eliminate any room for someone else to come between you. It can also help to ask for reassurance, making sure to avoid placing blame but rather raising your concerns and giving your significant other the chance to bring clarity to what is actually going on that will help you feel better. Despite jealous feelings occurring, when you have a strong foundation and trust each other, you can feel secure that you are the person your partner wants to be with. Hopefully, that will be the case, too, for Emma and Andrew.

Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield's Body Language: In Love or Stressed Out?

By Jared Sais

On April 10th, at the World Premiere of The Amazing Spider-Man 2 in London, Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield's body language didn't exactly scream love – proving that even Hollywood's cutest couple can feel the strain of a long work day. The two met while filming The Amazing Spider-Man in 2010, and since then, they have become one of the most buzzed about celebrity couples. They've been known to gush about each other during interviews, but the lovebirds were strictly business on the red carpet.

Although Stone's eyes and dimples say playful, her and Garfield's upper bodies are telling a different story. Her hand is touching her dress is a self-touch gesture, which is usually used to comfort oneself in high stress situations. This touch can come in the form of simply rubbing or playing with one's own clothing or body parts. In this case, we see the actress use her dress as the non-verbal cue that she's stressed out. This snapshot indicates that, while they may be absolutely in love with each other away from the cameras, at this moment, their affection seems more like a strategically posed photo.

Related Link: Celebrity Couples: What True Love Looks Like

The final and most useful cue to identifying Stone and Garfield's true emotions is by looking at their feet. Your feet point to the direction you want to go. If you're interested in someone, your feet will be pointed in their direction; if not, then your feet will be pointed away. Stone's feet are pointed straight in front of her, not toward her beau. Similarly, his feet are also pointing away from Stone. But I think this speaks more for the situation than it does the state of their relationship. Their bodies and faces may be in photo shoot mode, but their feet are ready to get inside, away from the cameras.

Photo 2: Here, their lack of enthusiasm is more evident. Stone is giving a standard glamour photo smirk. Her smile isn't genuine because it's missing ocular muscle movement, also known as crow's feet or smile lines. When people truly smile, their eyes and mouth both move to form a distinct facial expression. Because Stone and Garfield are smiling only with their mouths, this means that they are smiling purely for the cameras.

Stone has her head tilted away from Garfield, which is a bit odd because couples usually tend to gravitate towards one another. If you covered up either Stone or Garfield in the photo, it would seem like they were alone on the red carpet. When a couple is being photographed together, they usually pose as one unit, which isn't what I see here. However, this could be the 30th photo taken of them, and they most likely just want to mix it up when it comes to posing.

Related Link: Celebrity Couples Who Met on Set

As we saw in photo 1, Stone is still rubbing her dress with her hand, and Garfield continues to have his hand in his pocket. Both gestures indicate that they are trying to bring down their stress levels.

The actor is also holding his girlfriend pretty tightly. Combined with his "bad boy" facial expression, this body language tells me that he is establishing his dominance. Your state of mind can trigger your entire body to follow suit. In this case, he is portraying high confidence and a rebel persona, which is leaking into his body language and how he holds the actress in his arms.

Despite the visible signs of stress, how do I know that Stone and Garfield are still in love? In both photos, we can see that they're mirroring each other's body language, which is a strong indicator of affection. From their gestures of destressing to the direction of their upper bodies and feet, the similarities in their poses show that these two are like-minded and compatible. Stone-Garfield fans can breathe a sigh of relief!

Celebrity Couples Who Met on Set

By Kerri Sheehan

Like many other people, Hollywood relationships are likely to form at the workplace. For them, this means on the set of their latest movie and television ventures. People tend to date who they're in close contact with, so if you're famous then your close contacts will most likely be other celebrities. Hollywood co-stars who become romantically involved are a common occurrence; still America can't help but to be fascinated by it. Here are six of our favorite celebrity couples who met on set:

1. Kristen Stewart and Robert Pattinson: Known affectionately as K-Stew and R-Pats, these two met on the set of their vampire flick, Twilight. Although they tried to make the relationship work after Stewart had an indiscretion with "Snow White and the Huntsman" director, Rupert Sanders, the duo has recently parted ways for good.

2. Andrew Garfield and Emma Stone: Andrew Garfield and Emma

Stone played love interests in last summers hit The Amazing Spiderman, but it seems they let the love stay after the cameras stopped rolling. The movie's sequel is currently under production and set to be released in 2014.

3. Jennifer Garner and Ben Affleck: Many think the Oscar winner and his wife met on the set of their 2003 movie Daredevil, but they really met two years prior while filming Pearl Harbor. However, they didn't begin dating officially until 2004, as Affleck was previously part of another Bennifer, with Jennifer Lopez. Garner and Affleck tied the knot in 2005 and have three kids together.

4. Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie: The start of this couple was a tad controversial as they met on the set of Mr. and Mrs. Smith when Pitt was still married to Jennifer Aniston. Pitt and Jolie claim they didn't start dating until after his divorce from Aniston. They are not yet married, but have six children together, three of which are adopted.

Once they finished watching the performance, the pair went backstage to meet the cast where they gushed over the spectacular performance. Garfield and Stone saw the production at the Dolby Theatre in Hollywood on Tuesday evening where they were joined by Andrew Armstrong who is Spider-Man's stunt coordinator.

What are some other productions you can attend as a couple?

Cupid's Advice:

There are tons of productions you and your partner can see as a couple instead of visiting the same old dinner and a movie type of Friday night date. Here are some different types of productions you two can attend.

1. The Broadway Play: Broadway, especially in New York City and California, are fantastic date night ideas. Seeing a play together is a great anniversary outing or a birthday celebration. Rather than dinner and a movie, try dinner and a play out in the city. Some plays include but are not limited to Rent, Les Misérables, Hairspray, Mamma Mia, etc.

2. The Circus: A more fun, filled exciting date can be to the circus where there is something for everyone. You can bring the kids or the family members since it is a family friendly entertainment outlet for everyone. There are often various times so that you can either attend earlier in the afternoon or later in the evening.

3. The Murder Mystery: A less common production date idea is a murder mystery dinner in an unconventional dinner and a show type of setting. In an interactive, entertaining setting where you are the guest to a show, a staged crime or murder is executed. As the guests, you mingle with staged actors and work together with other guests to solve the mystery.

Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield Indulge in a Group Date

Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield, the stars of Amazing Spider Man, were seen out together at the W in Los Angeles- Westwood Thursday night. The two were not alone, however. According to People, they were out to dinner with about ten other people, but held hands the entire time. Although Stone didn't order anything, Garfield showed his affection by spoon feeding her some of his meal.

What are the advantages of group dates?

Cupid's Advice:

While going out on dates one-on-one offers you and your partner some alone time, there are definite advantages to going out with multiple people:

1. You get to know the person better: One-on-one, the conversation tends to start as small talk. However, if you each have some friends there, you can really get to know what the other person is like by sharing stories you otherwise would not hear.

2. It's less nerve wracking: Everyone gets nervous before a first date, but if you have other people around to talk, it can ease the tension. Also, it can be hard to decide what your boundaries are. If you end up really liking the guy, how do you show it? What if you don't like him? If other people are around, it takes the pressure off of you both.

3. It's more fun: When you go out on a group date, you're more comfortable because you know other people. It's not just you and him so you can interact with your friends, tell funny stories and play games.

Celebrity Couples Who Shy Away From the Spotlight

By Whitney Baker

Some celebrity couples flaunt their relationship for the entire world to see, posing for the paparazzi as if they're at a photo shoot (hello, Kardashian sisters!). Other couples, regardless of whether they've just begun dating or have been married for years, choose to hide from the spotlight and stay mum about the details of their love. Below are five Tinseltown two-somes who are keeping their lips sealed when it comes to romance:

1. Kristen Stewart and Robert Pattinson: Although this cute duo has refused to officially confirm they're a couple, they did come close to doing so on Oprah in 2010. The two jokingly referred to Kristen Stewart's "baby" when asked if they were dating. Also, an Oprah insider insists that Pattinson and Stewart revealed their relationship to the queen of talk shows before the taping. More recently, Stewart casually mentioned her "English boyfriend" in an interview for British GQ. Even so, don't expect too much PDA from this couple – despite their intense love scenes in Twilight's latest installment.

2. Sarah Michelle Gellar and Freddie Prinze, Jr.: Gellar and Prinze first met while filming I Know What You Did Last Summer and have been together for more than a decade. In a recent interview with Self, Gellar calls her daughter Charlotte “my best friend” and says that she values time with her family above all else.

3. Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin: The Oscar winner and Coldplay frontman have been married for over eight years, but have been tightlipped about their relationship and are rarely photographed together. That’s not to say that they don’t realize how lucky in love they remain. As Martin recently told CBS Sunday Morning, “From being a loser to going out with an Oscar winner? It’s a giant leap. Let’s face it: It’s like winning the lottery.”

4. Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield: With this rumored romance, Stone, who starred in Easy A, The Help and Crazy Stupid Love, has met her match. This publicly-shy couple has been spotted hiking and going to the movies, but they haven’t yet officially confirmed their relationship.

5. Carrie Underwood and Mike Fisher: Since Fisher’s trade to the Nashville Predators early last year, country’s all-American sweetheart and her hockey-playing beau are enjoying a low-key life in Nashville. The couple is still relishing their status as newlyweds, often opting for trips to the local Whole Foods Market and cooking at home as opposed to fancy nights out.

What are the benefits of keeping your new relationship from your ex?

Cupid’s Advice:

Though the “oo’s” and “aww’s” can be flattering when you and your partner happily expose your relationship to the public, timing is key. Cupid has some thoughts on why keeping your relationship from your ex may be the best thing for now:

- 1. Army material: Your ex may be ready for a fight. That is, he or she might not be afraid to lash out at your newest love interest. Keep that from happening at all costs.
- 2. Secrets: We all have secrets, even though sometimes we’d like to forget some of them. Your ex-partner might be feeling bitter and vengeful after your breakup. To keep him or her from being tempted to let loose all of your secrets to your new flame, keep the news of the relationship to yourself for a while.
- 3. Trust: Building trust is easier for your partner if no worrying is necessary. If your past relationship remains history, there’s no point in discussing it in too great detail. Keeping your ex at bay will certainly convince your current partner that your past relationship is over.
