By Meghan Khameraj

In celebrity news, Anna Faris and Kat Von D opened up about their unfaithful exes. Faris and Von D bonded over similar celebrity relationship woes, including self-doubt when in an unfaithful relationship. According to UsMagazine.com, Von D revealed that one of her exes allegedly slept with 18 people during the course of their relationship. She said, "I think I was in denial a little bit. I wanted this to be real and it wasn't. I used to be a hopeless romantic." Faris, who was previously in a celebrity relationship with Avengers star Chris Pratt, opened up about her own experience, but did not reveal if Pratt was the man she was speaking about. The two women also spoke about the negative stigma surrounding women who are emotional. Faris stated, "Not to be too gender-specific, I do think as women we're sort of taught to suppress fear or suspicion, because we might be deemed as suspicious or neurotic or crazy."

These two women have cheating celebrity exes in common. What are some telltale signs that your partner may be cheating on you?

Cupid's Advice:

Anna Faris and Kat Von D opened up about their past celebrity relationship failures due to partner infidelity. If you're unsure if you're in the same boat as Faris and Von D, Cupid has some relationship advice to help you notice some telltale signs of unfaithfulness:

1. They spend more time on their phone: While increased phone usage can be benign, it's worth putting your guard up if you notice your partner has been spending an excessive amount of time on their phone. It is more so suspect if they will not allow you to see what they're doing on their phone.

2. They are more secretive: This is probably the most obvious sign that something is awry in the relationship. Couples shouldn't keep secrets from each other. If you see your partner hiding their phone when you walk into the room or spending more time outside of the house without letting you know where they are going, that might be a hint that they are up to no good.

3. An overall change in behavior: If your partner's mood and behavior have done a complete 180, there must be a reason for it. Before jumping to conclusions, analyze if there is anything else that could be causing the behavioral change such as stress at work. However, if there is no plausible reason then it is time to sit down with your significant other and figure out what is going on.

Celebrity Parenting: Hayden Panettiere 'Hasn't Had Much Time' with Daughter Kaya

By Megan McIntosh

According to UsMagazine.com, in the last year, Hayden Panettiere went through a celebrity break-up from her fiancé of nine years, Wladimir Klitschko, and as a celebrity parent, she hasn't been able to spend much time with her child. She's opted instead to do what's best for her child and allow her to spend more time with her father and grandmother overseas. Break-ups are hard to handle for everyone, but they can be especially difficult for parents.

Break-ups are hard, and that doesn't change when you're a celebrity parent. What are three tips to successfully co-parent your children with your ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Many celebrity parents have found a way to put their children first after a break-up and are able to successfully co-parent. As long as you find that the child is the center of the relationship, you will be able to successfully parent your child with your ex, too:

1. Put the child first: Like Hayden Panettiere, you must always think about your child first rather than your own feelings. It might be better for the child to have a set schedule or live with one parent full-time, but ultimately it's whatever is best for the child. Co-parenting can lead to happy co-families.

Celebrity Exes Chris Pratt and Anna Faris Give Co-Parenting Tips!

By Mara Miller

In the latest celebrity news, celebrity exes Anna Faris and Chris Pratt remain on good terms while they co-parent their son, Jack. According to US Weekly, Pratt and Faris remain close for the sake of their child. Jack's well-being has been their main focus, especially now, with Pratt's celebrity engagement to Katherine Schwarzenegger and Faris's long-term relationship with Michel Barrett. Faris said, "I think the general idea is making sure he's surrounded by lots of love and happiness." Jack is a lucky kid to have two parents who work together to make him safe and happy even though they are no longer together. Pratt and Faris should start offering parenting advice!

Chris Pratt and Anna Faris are setting the golden standard on co-parenting. What are some ways to co-parent when the relationship is less than friendly?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorce isn't easy, especially when you might never want to see your ex again. How should you set your own golden standard for co-parenting your child(ren)?

1. Remember that you were a happy family once: Even though things are tough now and you might not be able to stand each other, remember that you were a happy family together once. Divorce isn't just hard on the both of you, but on your kid(s) too.

2. Never speak negatively about the other parent: Hearing bad things about their parents can leave a long-lasting impact on children that might cause them to act out in school or at home. Never, ever say anything nasty about the other parent. Remember, kids are like sponges. They like to repeat what they hear, and your other co-parent is likely to find out what has been said about them eventually. Would you rather get through this co-parenting thing together relatively unscathed, or hardly be able to stand each other when you're in the same room together if your child needs you?

3. The both of you need to swallow your pride: There will be birthday parties, family nights, holiday gatherings, and school events. Your child(ren) needs to feel loved first. They will need reassurance that Mom and Dad can still get along. Put aside your differences and have a board game night. If you've moved on already, include your new S.O. if the other co-parent has agreed to let your kid(s) meet them. While things might be awkward at first, eventually the less than stellar relationship as co-parents will become easier.

What are some ways you suggest making the co-parenting relationship work when things aren't great with your ex?

Celebrity Break-Up: Anna Faris Learns Important Lesson From Divorcing Chris Pratt

By Carly Horowitz

In latest celebrity news, Chris Pratt finally broke the silence in regards to his celebrity divorce from Anna Faris. Pratt and Faris announced that they were “legally separating” in August 2017 after eight years of marriage, and they filed for divorce by the end of that year. “Divorce sucks,” Pratt ultimately revealed in an Entertainment Weekly interview this week. He continues to explain that him and Faris are still friends and are kind to one another for the sake of their five-year-old son, Jack. From Faris’ view, she said, “We have a great friendship, we really do and we always have. And it’s always tough to envision your future as one thing, but I think there is a lot of love,” on a SiriusXM’s Hits 1 in Hollywood interview. According to EOnline.com, Faris added, “I think it’s a lesson learned a little bit in terms of keeping relationships a little more private, potentially, even though I pride myself on being a pretty open person. But, I don’t know, it’s tough when you’re under the scrutiny.” In other news, Faris is currently dating Michael Barrett, while Pratt is allegedly still single.

This is the first we are hearing about the opinions of Chris Pratt and Anna Faris since their celebrity break-up. What are some benefits to keeping your post-relationship details on the down-low?

Cupid's Advice:

It can truly be a tough time in your life after you split from a partner you were together with for so long. You don't need to expose all of the details to every single one of your friends and family if you do not wish to. If you keep to yourself and a few close friends, here is what can happen:

1. You will be able to explore your true self: Without the input from others, you will have the opportunity to really understand what you are feeling. Sometimes, it isn't bad to have input from the ones you trust most, but this can occasionally lead to you thinking that you are feeling one way when you are really not. It is most beneficial to get to know yourself alone during this time.

2. You won't receive as much judgement: This is hard for you as it is, you don't need further scrutiny to just make this situation even worse. When people go through break-ups, it is really difficult for outsiders to truly understand the emotions and feelings that you go through. Therefore, they may judge. You can minimize that by conducting your life in a more private manner.

Related Link: Celebrity News: Is Anna Faris Dating Again After Split from Chris Pratt?

3. You won't be bombarded: The more details you put out there, the more people will crowd you with questions. "Why did you break-up?" "Was there cheating involved?" "Are you guys still talking at all?" It can become overwhelming. It is okay to just stick to talking to one specific person that you trust most to help get you through this time and then let the magical self-growth occur.

The 37 year old actress took it upon herself to shoot down rumors that she and Chris Pratt are dating, and even shared a screenshot of messages between herself and Pratt's ex, Anna Faris, according to People.com. "1. Not every woman is scorned and upset after a breakup," Munn wrote on her Instagram story. "2. Not every woman is 'furious' at another woman for dating her ex. 3. So even if I was dating @prattprattpratt, some tabloids got me and @annafaris all wrong," she continued. "4. Women respect and love each other a lot more than some people like to think." She then went on to make fun of her and Pratt's potential celebrity couple names. She then shared a screenshot of some texts exchanged between her and Faris, showing that it's all love between these ladies.

These celebrity dating rumors just aren't true. What are some ways to shoot down untrue rumors about your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes rumors go around, and it can really suck. People handle untrue rumors differently, and it depends on the situation and the type of people involved. Cupid has some ideas on how to approach false rumors:

1. Be straightforward: Don't go around the bush. If you want to shoot down a rumor, being straight up is one of the best ways to go. Don't stay quiet and act like things are just fine. Just like Olivia Munn did publicly, face it head on and express yourself – shoot it down! Whether you're being upfront in person or otherwise, laying things down on the table is the simplest way to do it sometimes.

2. Don't show frustration: Do not allow others to see how much the rumors are affecting you because it can lead to the rumors escalating. Many times people make up rumors out of jealousy, boredom, attention, revenge, etc. Therefore, it's not a good idea to show that they're actually getting to you. Try to stay as calm as possible and handle the situation with grace.

3. Don't fight fire with fire: Handle things correctly. Don't let your emotions get the best of you because you need to think clearly. Think about what gives this rumor credibility, and tackle it from there. Find out where the rumor started and confront the source. Doing these things with a clear mentality is important because the situation can easily get out of hand when neither party is thinking straight.

This celebrity news shows us that sometimes comfort overpowers style. What are some style tips for staying comfortable for dressier occasions?

Cupid's Advice:

As awesome as it is to get dressed up, it's not always the most comfortable thing. If you're dreading an event because of the inevitable discomfort, Cupid is here to help:

1. Predict the mishaps: Nothing is more uncomfortable than getting blisters or cuts from wearing heels all night! Invest in blister bandages, and wear them before putting on those heels and leaving for the evening. Make sure to put a few extras in your purse or the back of your phone case, too. Predict the problem beforehand to prevent it from happening – it's a game-changer!

2. Have a backup plan: Don't let painful feet stop you from tearing up the dance floor! If you know you won't be able to wear your heels for longer than a half hour, bring a backup set of flats. (Or, just ditch the shoes all together if you don't mind dirty feet!) Your feet will thank you...we promise!

3. Wear what feels right: Comfort directly correlates to confidence: if you feel comfortable in your outfit, you will be more confident! Make sure to accentuate and play-up your favorite features. Relationship Advice: How to Navigate a Separation

By Dr. Jane Greer

Actors and celebrity couple Anna Faris and Chris Pratt announced that they are separating. This comes after eight years of celebrity marriage, and the birth of one son, Jack. It's always a shock when a seemingly stable couple decides to split. It appears that Anna and Chris are now finding some of their differences in family life difficult to reconcile, given their respective careers and professional demands. Chris needs to travel more for his career which is at a high point, making it necessary for Anna to handle many home responsibilities solo. Additionally, there may be other issues that they are not in agreement about.

Head below to check out some relationship advice regarding similar situations to Anna Faris and Chris Pratt's!

There is no question that once the decision is made to break up, disentangling your life from your partner's is almost always difficult and messy on so many levels. In addition to the obvious hardships, there is often collateral damage. One of the areas in which it can be particularly complicated is with the family and friends you share in common, and deciding how those alliances will shake out once you are no longer a couple. If you are in the same business, as is the case with Anna and Chris, that group probably also includes your colleagues.

There are so many possible scenarios: your brother has become good friends with your ex-husband, your kids go to the same school as your sister's and your ex-wife is used to spending mornings with her after drop-off, or your parents still invite your ex to holiday dinners. You might expect all of that to stop automatically now that you've split, but sometimes it isn't that clear cut and people want to continue relationships even though you might prefer they don't. Your instinct may be that they will be joining you in the separation and parting ways with your ex as well. However, demanding that they stop being involved in your ex's life can lead to conflict. How, then, can you begin to navigate this so that you can become more comfortable as you try to move forward in your new life?

Related Link: Celebrity Break-Up News: Anna Faris and Chris Pratt Split After 8 Years

The first step is to evaluate what your hopes and expectations are in terms of family and joint friends and colleagues. Do you want them to unquestionably take your side and never see or speak to your ex again, or are you simply hoping they will let you know when they do interact with your ex or invite him or her to an event? Once you have a sense of that, consider the relationships these important people to you have with your ex. Have they become great friends, or are they just passing acquaintances who see each other a few times a year? Obviously, the request would vary depending on the intensity of what you are asking someone to give up. If they are very invested in their relationship with your ex, are you able to accept and make room for it? You can look to do this by trying to recognize that it is something separate from you, instead of seeing it as a threat.

Rather than trying to control their behavior, telling them what to do and what not to do, explain to them the way it feels for you, that their staying in touch with your ex might even feel like a betrayal, and let them know how that might affect your relationship with them. For example, it might be harder to talk to them about your feelings, or it might have an impact on the amount of time you spend together. Additionally, you can also let them know there are certain things you have already shared with them that you hope they can respect and keep private, and how important that would be to you. And finally, you can ask them to give you a heads up if there is a possibility that you and your ex will be invited to the same event. This will give you the opportunity to decide if you do or don't want to go, rather than being blindsided by your ex's presence when you show up. Keep in mind there can be many extenuating circumstances that can be confusing – a family illness or even a death – so it helps to be as clear with yourself as possible about what you can handle, so you can be equally honest with the people you love as you move forward.

The goal is to figure out what it will take to give you the most peace in an already difficult situation. As Anna and Chris work their way through the murky waters of separation, hopefully they, too, will be able to minimize the collateral damage.

Celebrity Break-Up: Anna Faris Opens Up About Split from Chris Pratt

By Melissa Lee

Earlier in the week, former Hollywood celebrity couple Anna Faris and Chris Pratt announced that they were separating from one another. Though the news was revealed via social media, Faris finally broke her silence after opening up on her podcast, Unqualified. She offered relationship advice to one heartbroken listener, eventually hinting at her own situation with Pratt. People.com reported that Faris found herself feeling lost in relationships, explaining that one should always know their worth and independence.

This celebrity break-up has left Hollywood shocked and sad. What are some factors to consider when it comes to independence in a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

After eight years of marriage, coming to terms with divorce must have been a hard pill to swallow for both Anna and Chris. It seems like a lot of the issues stemmed from Anna's struggle to understand her independence in the relationship. If this situation sounds familiar to you, head below to read some of Cupid's tips:

1. Try not to lose yourself: In serious relationships, it can become increasingly difficult not to lose sight of the person you are at heart. At times, we may find ourselves changing our likes and dislikes (among other things) simply due to our partner. While there's nothing wrong with change, you should always remember who you are. You should know your boundaries, in addition to knowing when you've changed too much. At the end of the day, you should always recognize the person you are.

2. Do things on your own: Going out to eat, trips to the super market, and walks in the park are always fun to do with your sweetheart, but that doesn't mean you should do everything with them. If you are constantly performing tasks and going places with your partner – and find yourself having difficulty doing the same things by yourself – you may be losing your independence as a human being. While it's enjoyable to have company when doing mundane tasks, you should still be taking the time to embrace your independence by doing things on your own as well.

3. Never stop working on yourself: A common misconception is that it's harder to grow as a person when you are in a relationship. This can be true at times, but that's usually because you're not putting the work in. Regardless of the relationship you find yourself in, you should never stop working on yourself. You should always take the time to do beneficial things for yourself, along with putting yourself first every now and then.
