

Celebrity News: Halsey Denies Pregnancy Rumors After Evan Peters Touches Her Stomach

By Ahjané Forbes

In celebrity news, celebrity baby rumors sparked when Halsey's boyfriend, Evan Peters, was spotted rubbing her belly. According to UsMagazine.com, the singer took Twitter to joke about the situation saying, "Is it a boy? Is it a girl? It's pancakes." Halsey had encountered a similar situation with celebrity ex-boyfriend, Youngbud. She was holding her stomach and wearing an over-sized T-shirt.

In celebrity news, Halsey is not pregnant after all. What are some ways to squash pregnancy rumors?

Cupid's Advice:

Having people assume you're pregnant when you're not can be a pain. However, sometimes a picture can make people believe that you might be "showing" or "hiding" something. Cupid has some advice on how to handle those rumors:

1. Make a joke out of it: As soon as you post a picture to Instagram with an over-sized shirt or loose dress, your followers might think that you are pregnant. This can cause frustration and anxiety, but have some fun with their assumptions. Create a video to post online talking about the allegations, and then tell them you're pregnant with a food baby.

2. Answer the question head on: Nothing is better than the truth, right? Tell your friends, family members, and social media that you will not be having a baby. If you let them know the truth from the source, they will no longer question it.

3. Leave it to time: Gossip does pass and people do figure out the truth on their own. If you're not a person that likes confrontation or a million questions, then you don't have to answer. Your silence (and lack of a continuously growing belly) will speak volumes.

amazing! While you immediately jump into the parental role 24/7, remember that while you are a parent, you are also a spouse to your partner! Here are some of Cupid's tips to keeping the spark alive in your relationship when you have multiple kids:

1. Make time for yourselves: As much as you love your kids, you have to admit after watching them for hours on end, you leave yourself feeling very drained. Have you and your partner set a day perhaps every other week where you go out on a date or try something new.

By Bonnie Griffin

In the latest celebrity baby news, Bachelor stars Arie Luyendyk Jr. and Lauren Burnham are parents. According to People.com, Luyendyk confirmed on Wednesday that the pair welcomed their first child together, a beautiful baby girl. After meeting and falling in love on The Bachelor, the celebrity couple has maintained their relationship in the public eye throughout the pregnancy, although they have not yet released the baby's name.

The latest celebrity baby news is that this Bachelor couple welcomed a baby daughter. What are some ways to work on your relationship while at the same time having a young child?

Cupid's Advice:

Having children is a beautiful gift, but that does not mean being a parent with young children is easy. Add the stress of now having a young child who solely relies on their parents to your relationship and you might find yourself asking how your relationship will survive. Cupid has some advice to keep your relationship working after having kids:

1. Have adult conversations: Just because you have a child doesn't mean all of your conversations have to revert to baby talk. You still need to communicate with each other, and as much as your young child is a very important part of your lives, they cannot be the only thing you discuss. Don't cut out your conversations just because you have a child, even if time alone is limited just have your conversations in front of your child because they will likely interrupt even if you try to take a moment and step out of the room.

2. Work as a team: It is important for both parties in a relationship to remember that you both had a child, and that means sharing more than those adorable baby grins. It means that you need to share the work with each other. You both have to help with the fun parts and the bad parts like when they have a meltdown. Be a united front when your child is having a tantrum because it will only add to your stress if you are not on the same team.

3. You both deserve time out: Every parent needs an occasional break. A break from your partner and even the occasional break from your child. We all need a little me time now and again. Give each other that time out and away to just be alone and revel in their own thoughts. Even though this time alone may seem like a strange way to help work on your relationship, your partner will love you for offering them a break.

According to UsMagazine.com, Carter was thrilled when he announced the pregnancy on Instagram saying, "Thank You God for giving us the greatest gift we could ever ask for." This celebrity couple seems to be very excited to have their second baby on the way.

In celebrity baby news, baby makes four! What are some benefits to having two kids versus just one?

Cupid's Advice:

Having one child might seem easy, but having two means your children will have a friend for life. There are also added social benefits to having a second child. Cupid has some benefits to share that might have you thinking twice about stopping after baby number one:

1. Your children learn how to socialize and share with others:

When you have a second child, both will have to learn to get along and share with each other because they don't have much of a choice. Siblings are in each other's lives all day, every day for the first few years of their lives. This social interaction will help them when it is time to go to school and start making friends.

2. They will have a life-long friend: Siblings may fight, and they may suffer from sibling rivalry from time to time, but they will also play together and love each other. They will be each other's first friend, and friends for life.

3. You are an expert now: With baby number one you had so much to learn, and you had to learn it fast. You disinfected everything, washed your hands so often they were like sandpaper, and packed half of the household whenever you left the house. However, with baby #2 you already know what you're doing because your first child taught you to be an expert, so you know what's coming with sleepless nights, feeding, and everything else involved with having a baby.

What advantages can you think of when it comes to having two children instead of just one? Let us know your thoughts in the comments below.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelor' Alum Ashley Spivey Reveals She Suffered a Miscarriage

By Bonnie Griffin

In celebrity baby news, The Bachelor alum Ashley Spivey shared her celebrity pregnancy story of suffering through a miscarriage in what was a “very wanted pregnancy.” According to UsMagazine.com, Spivey learned of the pregnancy early on, but the devastating news came only two weeks later when her doctor revealed that “the embryo actually had shrunk and the doctor concluded that [she] was experiencing a miscarriage.”

In celebrity news, Ashley Spivey is dealing with the devastation of a miscarriage. What are some ways to support your partner during pregnancy difficulties?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancy difficulties leave broken hearts and scars for both parties in a relationship. Remember to support one another during this devastating time, without trying to find fixes that will only prolong the pain. Cupid has some advice:

1. Understand there is no quick fix: Losing a child or finding out you are unable to get pregnant is a devastating loss for anyone trying to become a parent. When someone we love is in pain, the knee-jerk reaction is to find a way to fix the problem, but there is no quick fix for a loss this painful. Like the loss of any loved one, only time will bring healing, so give yourself and your partner time to grieve and the healing will come naturally.

Related Link: Celebrity Baby News: Shawn Johnson is Expecting a Year and a Half After Miscarriage

2. Do not jump into discussing having other children: When a mother has a miscarriage, to her she just lost a unique child, and that child is irreplaceable. It may seem like telling her that she can always have another baby offers reassurance, but it will likely only add to her pain and frustration. Instead, just support her by showing and telling her that you love her and staying by her side as long as she needs you there.

3. Be supportive and lift her back up: When a woman goes through a miscarriage or learns she is unable to get pregnant and have children, it often leads her to thoughts that she is broken. Whether she expresses this feeling out loud or not, it is common, and she needs her partner to be there for her. Hold her, love her, tell her she is not to blame and that it is not her fault.

Parenting Advice: How to Decide What TV Shows & Movies to Allow Your Kids to Watch

By Courtney Shapiro

Giving your kids access to TV shows and movies can be daunting. You don't want them to see or hear something that is inappropriate, but you can't keep them guarded forever. It is important to understand that each parent has different opinions on what they will show their kids as well as when they show them. Don't feel like a bad parent if you limit your child's TV consumption. Some celebrity parents, like Victoria Beckham and husband David Beckham, are notoriously strict on their celebrity babies! Here is some parenting advice on how to decide what your kids can watch.

Check out our parenting advice on deciding what TV shows and movies you allow your kids to watch

Cupid's Advice:

1. Check the ratings: This may be obvious, but the ratings of movies are decided based on the content. Usually, the ratings will share details such as language, adult content, or violence, yet you can find out more specifics by just doing a bit of research. Search the specific show or movie and find out exactly why it was rated that way; you can then decide if it's appropriate for your children.

2. Keep the generation in mind: Content in TV shows or movies isn't the same as it was when you were growing up. Something that was rated R years ago is probably now only considered PG-13, so look at the content and choose what you want to ease your kids into seeing and hearing first.

3. Reiterate that what happens on screen isn't reality: Kids have wild imaginations, so you have to be careful of what they watch. Remind them that the things they see on screen don't equate to what happens in real life and it is just for public entertainment. Also, as a parent, explain concepts that they might not fully understand yet. It's better if it comes from you rather than a stranger.

Cupid’s Advice:

The more babies, the merrier! But, your first child might not think so! Here are Cupid’s tips for preparing your little one for the birth of their new sibling:

1. Talk to your child: Once the pregnancy is official, it’s important you let your child know what’s going on. No matter what your little one’s age is, it’s important to explain what’s going on. Explain that a baby is coming and that your youngster is going to be a big brother or sister. Tell your kid what to expect from the infant so they won’t be too scared by imminent crying and smelly diapers. Letting your child hear the news early on will give him or her time to accept it and get excited.

2. Spend some quality time: Before your second bundle of joy comes along, make sure to spend lots of special time with your first born. Set special “dates” with your child to fun places like a park, children’s museum, the zoo, arts and crafts studio, or other fun spots. Giving your kid special alone time before becoming a big sibling will ensure he or she does not feel forgotten.

3. Gift giving: When it gets closer to the new baby's due date, help your first child in making or picking out a gift for the new baby. This way, your child will start to feel a connection with his or her new sibling. In return, pick out a gift for your first tot that you can say is from your new little angel. This can help your current child feel appreciation for the new baby.

The former Victoria's Secret supermodel experienced hormonal headaches, but never the less, she and her Snapchat CEO hubby were excited about expanding their family. Congrats to them!

In this celebrity baby news, Miranda Kerr is expanding her family. What are some factors to consider before adding another child to your family?

Cupid's Advice:

We all know that having a baby is a huge responsibility – imagine more than one! Therefore, there are many factors to consider. Here are a few:

1. Are you financially stable enough?: Having a baby costs tens of thousands of dollars because there is so much they need. You probably considered all this with your other child or children, but by adding another member to your family, you are obviously increasing your expenses. Make a financial assessment of your income, expenses, assets, etc. Be sure to be as precise as possible and not over or underestimate.

2. Do you have enough time?: The more children you have, the more time you need. They all require time, and sometimes some children will need more time from you than others. Are you and your partner able to afford giving so much time to your kids? If so, great, let the baby making begin. If not, reconsider, maybe it's best to hold off for a bit.

Cupid's Advice:

There are a some things that you would do differently to prepare for another child versus when you were preparing for your first one. Here are a few:

1. Prepare your children for the new baby: Let them know what they should be expecting. You don't want things to be a surprise to them. You should talk to them about how much of your time the baby will be taking up, how they should treat the baby, and also what the new rules may be. You have to establish boundaries and help your kids transition.

What a celebration!

In celebrity baby news, Khloe enjoyed a baby shower while also celebrating her partner's birthday. What are some ways to balance celebrations in your family?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrating two events in a day can create some very busy energy, but that doesn't make it any less fun! Cupid has some ideas on ways to maintain the balance between both family celebrations:

1. Plan ahead and thoroughly: One event takes time to plan, so imagine two. You don't want to stress yourself out. Ask for help planning if needed. There are many things to consider when planning, so make an agenda and get started when possible. When planning both events side by side, you are more likely to keep them balanced as well.

2. Make the events equal in size: Of course this depends on what type of events you are coordinating, but if you want to create two balanced ones on the same day, without one event outshining the other, it could be a good idea to make them the same size. When thinking of size, you should consider guest lists, themes, decorations, amount of food, etc. Again, this depends on the type of events.

3. Schedule properly: Time management is important. One event should be during the day and the other in the evening, ideally. Plan accordingly by scheduling the events at specific times for specific time periods, with enough room to change clothes if necessary and traveling. There should be a reasonable gap in between, so in order to consider this properly, the events should be on a somewhat tight schedule for the best, stress free results.

Celebrity Baby News: Kylie Jenner Plans to Keep Motherhood Journey with Stormi Private for Now

By Jessica Gomez

In celebrity news, Kylie Jenner plans on keeping her life with celebrity baby Stormi low-key, at least for now. The 20-year old reality TV star and makeup mogul kept her pregnancy on the down-low and demands that her motherhood journey be kept private as well, according to UsMagazine.com. “She is extremely protective and she is very focused on trying to keep motherhood private for right now,” a source said. “All Kylie wants is for her privacy to be protected right now and is pretty demanding about that at this time.” The source also adds that Kylie is in no hurry to get engaged to beau Travis Scott, so we guess there won’t be any celebrity wedding bells ringing there for a while.

In this celebrity baby news, it begs the question – is it okay to post photos of your child on social media? What are some factors to consider?

Cupid's Advice:

Whether you want to post photos of your child on social media or not, the decision is up to you. It's all up to preference, as long you understand the loss of control that takes place on your end once you upload a photo on the web. Here are some factors to consider:

1. It will always be on the web: When you post photos of your little bundle of joy, they will permanently be on the internet. This concerns some people, while others don't find any harm in it. Think it through and decide whether or not this factor plays a role in your preference, considering that these photos are of your child and they will one day grow older and potentially see them.

2. Cyber safety risks: Do I want everyone to see this? Unless your social media account is private, the photo is available to pretty much the whole world. So think about what you're posting and consider whether you care who sees it or not. Cyber safety is one of the biggest concerns for parents considering it has been suggested that approximately 50% of photos on Pedophile sites come from the social media pages of parents.

3. Some photos may either be misjudged, misappropriated, or both: On social media, everyone has an opinion. This makes room for people to sometimes misjudge what they see or think they see on a photo. Misappropriation also happens often, especially with memes. You never know if one your photos will fall victim to this. People all the time take photos and turn it into a post relating a totally different message, good or bad. If you're fine with this because of your care-free attitude then that's fine, but others may want to stray away from this.
