Cupid's Advice

Relationships can be very demanding and overwhelming sometimes. If you're feeling trapped or suffocated in a relationship and you're wondering what to do, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Be honest: If you're having concerns about being suffocated in a relationship, the first thing to do is to be honest with your partner about it. Your partner may be able to change their behavior and cater to your needs so that the relationship is more suitable for what you want.

By Carly Silva

In the latest celebrity news, Demi Lovato and Max Ehrich's celebrity break-up got messy after the two broke off their engagement last week. The celebrity couple went public with their relationship in May, and Ehrich quickly put a ring on it in July. According to UsMagazine.com, the split came after distance made their relationship complicated, and Ehrich took to Instagram to call out the former Disney star.

In celebrity break-up news, this broken engagement isn't going smoothly so far. What are some ways to keep your split as uneventful as possible?

Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups don't always end peacefully, and sometimes the drama can get out of hand. If you are looking for ways to deescalate the drama and keep your split as uneventful as possible, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Try not to make a scene: When you're going through a breakup, there will obviously be a lot of emotions and pain, but it's important not to blow it up too much. Try your best to maintain composure and refrain from making a scene. This will make it easier to end the relationship peacefully and move forward without some huge blow-up making the situation worse.

2. Stay off social media: A lot of times, couples will use social media to communicate with their ex, and it can get really messy. Saying anything over social media is so public and makes matters worse. Instead of messaging, commenting, following, or unfollowing your ex on social media, try to only communicate with them in person to remove the excess drama that comes with social media.

3. Keep it private: Another way to keep your split uneventful is to keep it as private as possible. Obviously your friends and family are going to find out about the split, but you don't necessarily have to air all of your dirty laundry to everyone in the world. Keeping the fallout of your relationship and the details of the break-up somewhat private will help to keep the drama to a minimum.

Celebrity Break-Up: Max Ehrich Reveals Details About How He Learned of Split From Demi Lovato

By Nicole Maher

According to EOnline.com, Ehrich first learned that his celebrity relationship was over when he saw the headline of a tabloid on his phone. At the time, Ehrich was on the set of his new movie, Southern Gospel, and not with his then-fiancé Lovato. The actor described how his cast members watched the event unfold and helped him get back into character to continue filming.

In celebrity break-up news, Max Ehrich claims he heard about his break-up from Demi Lovato via a tabloid. If you've decided to break things off with your partner, what are the best ways to go about it?

Cupid's Advice:

Breaking up with your partner can be one of the most difficult conversations to have. However, just because the conversation is challenging does not mean it's okay to go about ending the relationship without consulting your partner. If you are looking for the best ways to go about breaking things off with your partner, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Address the issues: Before you even get to the point of breaking up, it is important to discuss the issues you are having within the relationship with your partner. Try to find any last minute areas of compromise before you decide that the relationship is officially over. If the issues that the two of you are facing appear to be unrepairable, then continue forward with the split.

2. Privately and in-person: Even though a relationship is failing and there may be some ill-feelings between you and your partner, it is still important to respect the other person throughout the process. One of the main ways to show respect is to go about the break-up in a private setting and preferably in person. If distance is an issue, try to make the conversation as personable as possible by making a phone call rather than sending a text.

3. Listen to their requests: After a break-up, there are often new boundaries that need to be established between you and your ex. Take some time after the break-up to establish what kind of relationship the two of you will have moving forward. While one of you may wish to remain friends, the other may need some time without any contact to process this new change before agreeing to an ongoing relationship of any kind.

Throughout the date, the lovebirds were given the VIP treatment, being escorted by bodyguards and given their own personal tour.

In celebrity couple news, Demi Lovato puts on a happy face with her boyfriend at Disneyland. What are some ways an amusement park visit can be romantic?

Cupid's Advice:

Some might not think theme parks can be a romantic date location, but there's something about the smell of fried food, goofing off with one another on the attractions, and being surrounded by others who are having just as good a time as you that can actually bring you and your partner closer. Especially if your relationship is fresh, amusement parks are the perfect way to ease into more comfortable territory with one another. If you're looking for more casual places to share some romance, don't worry! Cupid has some relationship advice on how theme parks like Disneyland can bring about love:

1. Ferris wheels are always romantic: Almost every amusement park has some sort of Ferris wheel. A large contraption where you're suspended high up in the air doesn't seem like it would bring sparks, but it can. Being up there with your partner overlooking the skyline is romantic because you're trusting yourself in the hands of your significant other. Besides, sharing a kiss or two at the top is cute and it can feel just like the movies.

2. You can laugh together: If there's one thing that you'll find taking a date to an amusement park it's that you and your partner will be laughing with one another all day. Finding someone that you can goof around with and be comfortable in your own skin is important to every relationship, and if you get along well in this environment, it is pretty telling. Also, the more you laugh around someone the quicker your bond will grow.

3. Firework shows: Like Disneyland, most of these parks have some sort of firework display at the end of every night. The colors lighting up the sky and the surreal vision of the show can stir romance between you and your partner. Hold each other tight as you gaze up at the attraction or even kiss at the fireworks' finale. It's the perfect way to end the night.

Cupid's Advice:

Showing your partner that you love being with them isn't always easy for some. PDA and verbally expressing “I love you!” can be difficult! But, if you’re struggling with showing your partner how much you care about them, don’t worry! Cupid has some love advice to make sure your partner knows exactly how proud you are to be with them:

1. “You make me a better person:” If you’re not big on PDA or telling someone how you feel, directly, saying that they make you a better person can be a powerful comment to make. We don’t meet many people in life that inspire us to be better than we are, so when we do, it is important. Telling someone this will not only make them swoon, but they won’t have to worry about where you guys stand with one another.

2. Tell them how much you appreciate them: There’s nothing like being told that you are appreciated. Think about how you felt the last time someone expressed that to you. Celebrity Break-Up: Demi Lovato Splits from Fashion Designer Henri Levy

By Mara Miller

In the latest celebrity break-up news, Demi Lovato has called it quits with fashion designer Henri Levy, according to UsMagazine.com. Both sober, the two met years ago in rehab and became friends. They sparked news of their celebrity relationship after they were spotted in early November 2018 enjoying a dinner date at Matsuhisa restaurant in Beverly Hills. Neither has commented on their split.

This celebrity break-up comes after only four months of dating. What are some ways to know your relationship has long-term potential?

Cupid's Advice:

All new relationships have a honeymoon stage. Whether you decide to stick with your partner after a rough time or not is the true test of a relationship. Cupid has some advice on how to know when a relationship has long-term potential:

1. You feel like yourself with them: You're okay with letting them see you limp in the morning because you tripped while walking the dog. You don't care if your partner sees you with bed-head. You let them see you worrying because your paycheck wasn't as large as you thought it would be. While all of these may be examples, it's important to be yourself around your partner. If you have to fake who you are to impress the person you're with to avoid judgment, then the relationship will not last.

2. You know what your partner needs: They know how you like your coffee, and they can tell when you're about to have an emotional breakdown days before it happens. When your partner instinctively knows what you need, then they just may be the one you're meant to live your life with – and it's not just from their side. When you know that your partner needs something without them saying anything, then it means that you have reached the point where you're both in a solid partnership.

3. You're physically intimate: A relationship with long-term potential isn't about the sex. You can both be virgins up until marriage if that is something you both value before making a life-long commitment. Holding hands, innocent kisses, and hugs are a sign that you are both comfortable. And if you aren't waiting until marriage, the time between the sheets will help build a stronger connection as long as you both understand that it's a way for you both to show how much you love each other.

Lovato and Wilmer dated for almost six years until breaking up in 2016, but have remained on good terms. These celebrity exes still clearly hold love for one another. What are some ways to support your ex during a trying time?

Cupid's Advice:

In difficult times, sometimes the right thing to do is to be there for your ex. Cupid has some tips on how to support them:

1. Show up: Just like Valderrama did, sometimes the best thing you can do when your ex is struggling is to show up and be there for them. Just because you are no longer in a relationship doesn't mean you don't have to be supportive of them when they are going through something difficult. Just going to them to offer your support and presence is a huge help.

2. Keep it platonic: One thing to remember when supporting your ex during a trying time is to not let things go too far and end up getting romantic. Your ex is going through a lot and a past relationship is easily something they can turn to for comfort, but you could end up getting hurt in the end if it doesn't work out. Make sure to support your ex only as a friend and make your boundaries clear.

3. Rally their friends: If you actually being around your ex might be too stressful for them, maybe try supporting your ex in a different way. If you still have mutual friends, contact them and let them know they should reach out to them. You can also try to organize a get together where you all can be there for him, without things being as awkward as meeting with just the two of you.

Regardless what others may say, getting back with an ex is not always a bad idea. Sometimes time apart is what's needed to grow stronger. Cupid weighs in:

1. It's all on the table: If you're thinking about getting back together with an ex, the most important thing you must do is talk with each other. If there is any unfinished business or unresolved resentment, you must lay it all on the line. Once all the feelings are accounted for, be sure to set clear guidelines before jumping back in.

2. You've forgiven: Forgiveness isn't easy, but it is possible! Contrary to popular belief, forgiveness does not weaken your character: it shows you have the strength to accept the past, look beyond the mistakes, and move on. Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes break-ups don't end badly, and in those times you may want to stay friends with your ex. Cupid has some advice on the benefits to staying friends with an ex:

1. They know you: If you guys end on a good note and stay cool with one another, then they can give you advice. The people we date get to know us in ways others don't. This comes in handy when it comes to your new relationship, because your ex can give you advice based on your past experiences and the fact that he indeed knows you in that way. Celebrity Break-Up: Demi Lovato & Guilherme 'Bomba' Vasconcelos Split

By Noelle Downey

There's trouble in paradise for one celebrity couple this week! According to UsMagazine.com, Demi Lovato and MMA fighter boyfriend, Guilherme "Bomba" Vasconcelos, have officially called it quits. The celebrity exes first started seeing one another in July of last year, shortly after Lovato and long-time boyfriend Wilmer Valderrama had their celebrity break-up. Although Lovato and Vasconcelos were "just having fun" a source close to Lovato confessed, the two rekindled their Hollywood relationship in January of 2017 and have since been verbal on social media about their celebrity love story.

Lovato gushed over her celebrity relationship to TV talk show host Ellen in April, saying, "I'm very happy. Life is really good." So what happened to break apart this famous celebrity couple? A source close to the exes claims, "It wasn't a dramatic split. Bomba is a good guy, but the relationship just ran its course."

This relationship has ended up a celebrity break-up. What are some ways to know your relationship is done for good?

Cupid's Advice:

Break-ups are never fun, but Cupid is here with the top tips on how to know when your relationship has officially run its course:

1. When the end feels inevitable: If you feel as though you're just counting down the days until something snags and you guys finally have the final fight that leads to the demise of your couplehood, it may be already time to call it quits. Relationships generally shouldn't feel like they have a looming expiration date, and if you feel as though any good times you have are constantly overshadowed with your gut-feeling that this relationship isn't going to last, then you should trust your instincts.

2. When neither of you is upset: If you feel as though your relationship has deflated to the point that neither of you is particularly invested in it continuing, then do yourself both a favor and cut it off so you can go find something that really fills you both with passion. If you can broach the topic of your break-up without either of you feeling like you're really losing anything of value, then it's probably time to cut the cord and get on with your lives, separately.

3. When you feel consistently unhappy: If you're in a relationship where you feel as though you're always waiting for the "good time" and the moment when you'll really feel like you and your partner are clicking, then take a step back and consider why that is. It could be that your relationship isn't really what you want it to be, and that could be because of the person you're in that relationship with. Remember, you don't need to have a million reasons to leave someone, you just need one good one, and being consistently unhappy in your relationship is a great reason to call it quits permanently.

Thank you to everyone who has offered us kindness and support over the years." This is a celebrity break-up no one saw coming.

In celebrity news, another celebrity couple bites the dust! What are some ways to know you are better off as friends with someone?

Cupid's Advice:

Whether you are a Hollywood star or not, love comes and goes just the same—and sometimes it's for the better. It's not always easy to see that a break-up is beneficial when it's happening, but often times it ends up as a good thing. The love you shared as a couple has the potential to turn into a stable friendship if things go correctly:

1. Identity thief: This doesn't necessarily mean a significant other stealing your credit card number. It could mean losing yourself in your relationship. If you get to a point where you feel you've taken on so much of your significant other's qualities and interest over the course of your relationship, it may be time for a break or break-up. Choosing to step back from your relationship to be friends instead will allow you to rekindle your own interests before you forget what they were to begin with.

2. No spark: At the beginning of a relationship, the butterflies come easily because everything is new, but if you're a few months in and it feels more like a few years, it may be time to turn this romantic relationship into a friendship. You two may enjoy each other's company, but without a real spark, you're headed for friendship bracelets rather than wedding bands.

3. Fundamental differences: In order to have a long lasting romantic relationship, certain things need to line up. You should like each other's families, have similar priorities, want to live in the same region—basic, necessary things like that. If you want to lead an expensive lifestyle and your significant other pinches pennies at every turn, or you need to live in a city and your significant other wants to live in the country—those may be an early indicators that you two will be better as friends in the future.
