1. Abdominal exercises: When you are a new mom, you'll want to start out with low-risk exercises such as abdominal bracing.

For this exercise, pull in your lower tummy towards your spine and brace for a few seconds. These can be done three to four times a day in reps of eight to twelve. Stop working out if you experience any pain. Physical activity is beneficial, but not if you push your body too hard too soon.

Turns out, it is meant to be!

Eva Longoria’s very own celebrity baby is coming into a full house! What are some ways to prepare step-children for a new baby?

Cupid’s Advice:

Parents are not the only ones that need to be prepared for a baby. Everyone in the household needs to be, including children. Cupid has some advice:

- 1. Involve them: Allow the children to bond with the baby. They can read a bedtime story, play music, or sing. Get them excited to be an older sibling! Or have them talk through your belly. This connects the children to the baby before he or she is even born.

Marriage is an exciting relationship milestone, but when the nuptials are over, you might find yourself wanting to expand your family. Cupid is here to help you figure out when you should have your first child:

1. Security: A perfect time to have a child is when you are secure financially and emotionally. Children are huge responsibilities, especially when they’re infants. Making sure you can provide all that they need and deserve will help you get through this sometimes stressful stage.

Eva Longoria Discusses Victoria Beckham's Involvement In Her Celebrity Wedding

 By Nicole Caico

Eva Longoria and Jose Baston's celebrity wedding took place at a stunning location, Baston's estate in Acapulco, Mexico. But, what wedding is complete without a custom dress celebrity style? Eva Longoria revealed that Victoria Beckham was the mastermind behind her gorgeous gown. Not only was Beckham the dress designer on the big day, but she was also a witness for the marriage. According to UsMagazine.com, Longoria wouldn't have wanted it any other way, saying, "She was the best, sweetest person to have there on this day, not only did she do my wedding dress but she's one of my best friends so for her to be there was so special.”

Even in celebrity weddings, friendships play a big part! What are some ways to incorporate your friends in your wedding festivities?

Cupid's Advice:

While we may not all be lucky enough to have a celebrity designer as a BFF, having friends add something to your wedding is a meaningful experience in a friendship. Aside from asking them to join your bridal party, there are many more ways to let your friends play a role in your wedding. They play a huge role in your life, so it's important to incorporate them in your special day:

1. Part of the planning: Try to loosen your grip on the wedding planning reins and allow your friends to contribute ideas. If they know you're normally a control freak, they'll be touched by your consideration and incorporation of their ideas. Your friends have your best interests at heart and may even be able to talk you out of some bad ideas, from your dress to your decorations. Friends who have already gotten married may have some extra valuable advice.

2. Bigger than the bridal party: If you keep your bridal party small, but still have friends attending the wedding who are not part of the bridal party, be sure to get a professional picture taken with them, too. Not everyone has to be a bridesmaid, and not everyone wants to be a bridesmaid, so make sure to take the time out to get a great group photo with all of your closest friends. Sending them copies of the photo after the wedding will be a nice touch.

3. Speech, speech, speech!: The only person making the rules for who can and cannot make a speech at your wedding is you. Give your friends the opportunity to say a few words about you and your years as friends. Let them get creative with a group speech or give the honors to one specific person. Giving the spotlight to a few of your closest friends on your special day will show them how important they are to you, and it will be a memorable moment in your life.

Celebrity couple Eva Longoria and Jose “Pepe” Baston first made their celebrity relationship public in November 2013, and just this past weekend, the longtime love birds celebrated their celebrity wedding in Acapulco, Mexico on May 21 in front of friends and family. According to UsMagazine.com, Longoria wore a custom-made gown from Victoria Beckham, who was in attendance at the celebrity wedding on Saturday with her husband, David Beckham. The ceremony took place outside at Baston's luxury estate, a setting almost as exotic as the couple's picture-perfect engagement in Dubai this past December.

Mark another celebrity wedding down in the record books! What are some reasons to have your wedding in an exotic location?

Cupid's Advice:

Celebrity weddings are on another level, but just because celeb couples spend at least double or triple the usual couples' budget doesn't mean they can't serve as fantastic inspo.

1. Stand out: Taking a hint from the rich and famous, and having your wedding in an exotic location is a surefire way to set your wedding apart from the rest. Mexico, Hawaii, or anywhere in the Caribbean are good options.

This celebrity wedding news has us excited! What are some ways to decide the location in which you'll tie the knot?

Cupid's Advice:

Wedding bells require some major planning and lots of decisions. The location should be one of the first things to consider. Cupid is here to help:

1. Guest list: Depending on how many people you are planning on inviting to your wedding, you have to pick a venue big enough. If you want a small intimate wedding, choose accordingly. Whatever you so desire should be laid on the table before deciding on a location.

Celebrity Couple Predictions:

Drake, Eva Longoria and Lea Michele

By Shoshi

In the latest celebrity news, three famous couples have caught the public's attention, whether it be Drake and Rihanna's rumored celebrity relationship, Eva Longoria's third celebrity wedding, or Lea Michele's next shot at love. Who's stepping out in Hollywood this time around hand in hand? Join me as I look into the crystal ball of relationships and love. Below, I share my predictions for these celebrity couples.

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Celebrity Relationships That May or May Not Last

Drake and Rihanna: It seems like nobody believes that Drake and Rihanna are just friends. Who doesn't twerk their booty on a friend any chance they get? It's time to let this rumor go! They aren't a secret couple, contrary to the anonymous sources that keep popping up in the press. Recently Drake was asked point blank if he was dating RiRi and his answer was that they are just friends. That is not to say that they do not practice being friends with benefits from time to time. Why shouldn't they? They are both attractive adults, so why not help each other maintain pleasure when necessary? It would be nice to see these two in a relationship with each other, or with whoever makes their heart skip a beat. It looks like Drake and Rihanna aren't making time for romance, though. They are both working, traveling, and involved in their careers. However, look for Rihanna to be in the relationship by the end of the summer.

Eva Longoria and Jose Baston: Looks like the third time's the charm for Eva Longoria. She walked down the aisle with Jose Baston, President of Televisa, Latin America's largest media company. This is Longoria's third marriage and it looks like her last. The celebrity couple was married in Mexico in front of A-list guests. It would seem Longoria has hit the jackpot with Baston. He sees her as his equal and loves that she is a strong and passionate woman. After two failed marriages, Longoria knew exactly what she was looking for in a partner. She has definitely found the right one this time around. Before the wedding, they had already been calling each other husband and wife. I see a new dog in their future and a discussion about children. Right now a baby is a possibility, but if Longoria is not pregnant by next year, more than likely the couple will not have children together. Either way, they will continue to be just as happy as ever.

Lea Michele and Robert Buckley: Lea Michele has not been so lucky in love. That is not to say that she isn't trying. She dated that so-called model/actor and ex-gigolo Matthew Paetz, who allegedly broke her heart. Then there was her boyfriend and Glee co-star, Cory Monteith, who died of a drug overdose. Most women would have locked up their heart and thrown away the key. Despite these negative experiences, Michele is currently dating actor Robert Buckley, and says that she is very happy. That's definitely good news. It's nice to see her find love again. Where is it all going? That remains to be seen. Michele wants to be married with kids but not necessarily right now. It looks like it's on her mind. Buckley may not be the guy she walks down the aisle with, but he is getting her ready for when the time is right.

Actress and Producer Eva Longoria Decides Not To Have Kids

 By Sanetra Richards

From the looks of it, Eva Longoria decides not to have kids anytime soon. "It's just not in my future," said the 39-year old to People at the Brita Burbank YMCA special event on Wednesday, which acknowledged the company's donation of water filtration pitchers and dispensers to nationwide YMCA locations. The Devious Maids producer went on to talk about her interest for the cause: "With kids, I love their energy and spirit and innocence," she said. "It's really important for us to be here today to talk to them about water because that stays with them. Water's the original energy drink. Water is really good for you. Water can be fun." The former Desperate Housewives actress also revealed her methods to staying lean and fit. "I run a lot. I'm a big runner. And I do yoga," she said. "So, I just alternate. Run, yoga, run, yoga. I do weight training as well."

How do you decide if it's the right decision to have kids?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner have been contemplating whether or not to start a family. One minute you all want to, and the next you are rethinking the entire thing. Indeed, a lot does come along with having children – it is a lifetime commitment. How exactly do you decide if it is a bright idea? Well, Cupid has some advice to see if parenthood is right for you:

1. Compatibility: The most important step when deciding to have kids with your partner is figuring out if you are truly compatible. As stated before, parenthood is a commitment for life – you will be forever connected to your partner. You want to be as “friendly” as possible, just in case things turn sour later down the road, your bond with him/her will still remain and co-parenting will not be a big issue.

2. Same morals: Raising a child(ren) is certainly not a piece of cake. Before having a baby, you and your significant other should thoroughly discuss what kind of parenting skills you are aiming for. Also, talk about the environment/household you wish to expose your child to. This especially matters when it comes to teaching the child values as they grow, as well as obedience.

3. Finances: You have probably heard before that over the course of 18 years, a child costs the parents nearly a million dollars. Whether you believe this or not, pretend that is true. You want to be as financially ready as possible before starting a family. Why so? There may come a time when things get a little difficult money-wise – you always want to have that cushion, so your child can be provided for, as well as the additional household.

What are some ways to put past relationships in the past?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be hard to move on sometimes, especially when you feel like you’re not ready to let a person go. However, sometimes you have to let the person in your past relationship or even the relationship itself go, in order to let your heart be open to something or someone new. Cupid has some advice on some ways to put past relationships in the past:

1. Focus on the new: Whether you are in a brand new relationship or single and ready to mingle, try to stay focused on what you currently want in your life. Live in the moment, don't let the ghost of relationship pasts, prevent you from forming new relationships. If you keep yourself busy, let yourself grow and move on eventually you will stop letting past failed relationships haunt you, and start living life in the present.

2. Grow from past relationships: It's okay to acknowledge and learn from things in your past, especially when it comes to past relationships. It can be good to reflect on some of your past relationships and realize why they didn't work or what you liked or didn't like. Doing this reflecting can help you move on, grow and let you know what you actually want in relationship or what to look for.

3. Find closure: Finding closure from past relationships is essential to be able to finally put the past in the past. How each of us get our closure depends on who we are or how our relationship ended, so just do whatever works for you. Whether that is some kind of ritual or routine, talking it through with people close to you, going out, or even writing it all out, it doesn't matter what you do what is important is what helps marks the end of your past relationship.

The couple married in 2010 and have made their home in Music City, where Underwood is often spotted cheering her husband on as he plays with the Nashville Predators.

3. Hayden Panettiere: Panettiere is yet another tow-headed singer who gravitates towards sporty boys. The Nashville star first dated Ukranian boxer Wladimir Klitschko in 2010. She was then seen out and about with former New York Jets wide receiver Scotty McKnight before reuniting with Klitschko. After months of speculation, the petite actress confirmed their engagement on Live With Kelly and Michael in October 2013.

4. Khloe Kardashian: It looks like Kim – who dated not one but three athletes before starting a family with rapper Kanye West – isn't the only Kardashian sister who likes muscular men. Her younger sister got hitched to Los Angeles Lakers forward Lamar Odom after only one month of dating. This past fall, she announced her divorce from him after four years of marriage and has since been linked to Los Angeles Dodgers star Matt Kemp.

How do you know when to reveal your partner to family and friends?

Cupid’s Advice:

How soon is too soon to tell your friends and family about the new lover in your life? Let Cupid help you decide.

1. Once you’re exclusive: Bringing home a guy before you two are exclusive can be uncomfortable for all parties involved. Your family and friends won’t really know what kind of boundaries you two have so things can get pretty weird pretty fast. It’s best to keep your new guy private until you migrate out of that awkward gray area.

2. Check with your partner: Meeting friends and family is super nerve racking, so make sure your new beau is okay with taking that step. Some people may want to be together longer than others before making that move which is perfectly normal.

3. Let it happen naturally: Don't try to force anything with an overly planned dinner or an elaborate show. You'll likely be with your new partner a lot of the time so them meeting your friends and family will come organically with time.

Are Eva Longoria and Eduardo Cruz Back Together?

 By Kerri Sheehan

The stars can't hide from Cupid! Eva Longoria and Eduardo Cruz were spotted in New York City having lunch at Serafina. The couple has been on and off since they called it quits in March. This lunch date shows that they may be back on. An onlooker dished to People, "They cuddled subtly at first and eventually shared a more passionate kiss. They really looked like they were in love during the lunch."

How do you know whether to get back together with an ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes a long lost love can be become your one and only. Let Cupid help you decide if you should get back together with your ex:

1. You've grown: The only way that a failed relationship can be renewed is if one or both parties have had significant growth since the end of the union. If something went wrong the first time then it will likely go wrong again if neither party has changed.

2. You miss them: If you find that both of you miss being together then that may be a sign to give it another go. However, you should proceed with caution because you can never love someone as much as you can miss him or her. Keep in mind that when you miss him or her you may be remembering the good times far more clearly than the bad times.

3. Open connections: The only way to renew a failed relationship is to sit down and talk about what didn't work during your first breakup. If you two can make it through this conversation with a big blow up then all will be well.

Celebrity News: 10 Hot Latin Celebrities

 By Jennifer Harrington

It's no secret that the influence of Latino celebrities is growing every day (Latino celebrities have 600 million followers on Facebook and Twitter!). And with a new South American pope in office, Cinco de Mayo quickly approaching, and frequent news coverage of the growing Latino population in the United States, we figured it was a good time to look at the hottest Latino/Latina celebrities. Here's Cupid's opinion of who is sizzling!

Jennifer Lopez

Jennifer was born in New York City to Puerto Rican parents, and she's been a staple in the entertainment world for years – as a dancer, actress, entrepreneur, fashion designer, singer, and American Idol judge. When J-Lo joined American Idol as a judge, it was seen as an important move because the show is very popular with Hispanic audiences, and she brought a kinder, more positive attitude to the show. While she's moved on from the popular show, there's no question she will continue to remain a staple in pop culture.

Related: Jennifer Lopez Still Believes in the Fairytale Marriage

Alex Rodriguez

Like Jennifer Lopez, Alex was born in New York City. He was raised in a Dominican family and currently plays baseball for his hometown team, the New York Yankees (although he grew up a Mets fan!). In addition to making plays on the baseball diamond, Alex has also been linked romantically to several major celebrities, including Kate Hudson, Cameron Diaz, and Madonna.

Eva Longoria

Eva is a Mexican-American, and best known for her roles on The Young and the Restless and Desperate Housewives. Her role as the saucy Gabrielle Solis on Desperate Housewives may have ended when the series wrapped last year, but Eva remains in the spotlight. Most notably, she was actively involved in President Barack Obama's re-election campaign in 2012, and she even spoke at the Democratic National Convention!

Mario Lopez

Mario is a close friend of Eva's, and like Eva, he is of Mexican descent. Mario is best known for his role as A.C. Slater on Saved by the Bell, and in recent years, he's remained in the limelight with an appearance on Dancing with the Stars and as host of the daily entertainment program, Extra. Recently, it was announced that Mario's family with dancer Courtney Mazza is expanding; the couple is expecting their second child in the fall.

Sofia Vergara

Sofia is a Colombian-born actress, television hostess, and model – and if you watch television, it's hard to miss her. A star of ABC's hit TV show Modern Family, Sofia is also featured in advertisements for Diet Pepsi and Cover Girl cosmetics. Sofia has also made a splash within the Latino community because many wonder if she takes the Latino stereotype too far with her portrayal of loud and boisterous Gloria on Modern Family and remarks she made in a 2012 interview with Esquire magazine about common Latino stereotypes.

Enrique Iglesias

Enrique was born in Spain, and his father was a well-known singer and entertainer. Enrique established himself as a singer in the late 1990s with songs such as "Bailamos" and "Hero". He has performed at the Super Bowl, and has been dating tennis star Anna Kournikova for the past decade. Enrique is extremely private about his relationship with Anna, and has even remarked that marriage is not a priority for the couple as long as they are happy and committed to each other.

Penelope Cruz

Penelope was born in Spain, and is well-known worldwide for her work as an actress. She first burst on the scene with films such as Blow and Vanilla Sky (this movie also sparked her three-year romance with co-star Tom Cruise; the couple allegedly broke up because she refused to embrace his Scientology beliefs). She's now married to Spanish actor Javier Bardem, and she is expecting the couple's second child later this year.

Antonio Banderas

Antonio is also Spanish. He was in several high-profile movies in the 1990s, including Evita, Interview with the Vampire, Philadelphia, and The Mask of Zorro. He is married to fellow celebrity Melanie Griffith. Today, Antonio does voice work for movies such as Shrek and focuses on parenting his daughter, Stella. He's spoken out about the importance he places on fatherhood by saying that he takes Stella out on "daddy-daughter" date nights once a week.

Shakira

Shakira is a Colombian singer-songwriter. She crossed over into the English market in 2001 (a native Spanish speaker, she's fluent in English and Portuguese, and can speak some Italian, French, and Catalan) with hits like "Whatever, Whenever" and "Hips Don't Lie". Shakira is featured on this season's installment of The Voice and recently welcomed her first child (son Milan) with her boyfriend, a Spanish football player.

Salma Hayek

Like Eva and Mario, Salma is Mexican-American. She's known for her roles in films like Desperado, Dogma, and Frida and the television show Ugly Betty. She is married to French billionaire François-Henri Pinault, and the couple has a young daughter. Her charitable work over the years has increased, and she focuses her efforts on raising awareness of violence against women and discrimination against immigrants.

Cancelled: Why NBC's "Ready For Love" Fueled America's Hatred

 By Marni Battista, Founder of Dating with Dignity

Let's face it: while Disney, RomCom's and The Bachelor have consistently fueled American women's desire to be swept off their feet by the dashing handsome, successful, and sensitive man, they are, simply put, not stupid.

As a dignity dating and relationship expert who works with thousands and thousands of single women around the globe, I can tell you that women are, in fact, ready for love. However, just as NBC has promptly cancelled its newest reality dating show Friday, with the same title, women are taking a stand for their dignity and what they really want to experience when it comes to finding love.

Related Link: Guiliana and Bill Rancic Talk About Marriage, Parenthood and Hosting NBC's New Dating Reality Show 'Ready for Love'

My clients (who posted hundreds of comments in a private Facebook group on Wednesday morning, the day after Ready for Love's second episode aired) became disheartened by the message the show was sending to single women just like them, reinforcing the beliefs they are desperately trying to shake.

Amy posts...

...after watching last night, there was a part of me that feels as though the show reinforced some of my limiting beliefs that in order to find love you have to be America's version of perfect (two of the women were runners-up in the Miss Universe pageant).

Luckily, Amy has the benefit of being in a community of women who have drawn a line in the sand and are beginning to understand how important it is to, in Amy's words, "really know and believe in oneself to combat subtle messages the media relentlessly broadcasts that impact my thoughts."

So, does NBC's cancellation of the show as result of dismal ratings mean that they are ready to finally admit that American women no longer want to watch flawless looking women with low self-esteem throw themselves at men they don't know?

And, while having the matchmakers on the show was brilliant in that it pointed out that pretty women actually do not necessarily have any sort of advantage when it comes to surviving in the dating jungle (FACT: when gorgeous blondes talk about farting on a first date or share that they have a list of 50 characteristics a man has to have in order to be her partner, looks become insignificant), it quite frankly isn't enough.

Related Link: Matthew Hussey Helps Women "Get the Guy" as One of Three Coaches on NBC's 'Ready for Love'

If television executives want to produce dating shows, perhaps they ought to create programming that real women want. They want advice. They want direction. They want tips and strategies they can apply now, in real life. They want to know how to love themselves even when Disney, RomCom's and The Bachelor say that pretty girls always finish first and that love doesn't last. They want hope. And they want inspiration.

Perhaps, it's time for something akin to The Biggest Loser meets The Bachelor, except that there aren't three men himbos whining about wanting to find their "best friend," and the women have, in fact transformed, realizing that THEY have the power to choose their partner, and that getting "rejected" means it wasn't the right match, and that they are still valuable, loving and love-able humans with or without a man in their life.

I believe it is time for a new era in the television dating arena. Perhaps my mission to help women love themselves so that they can then find someone to love is actually taking hold.

Bravo to the viewers who said "no," and thank you to NBC for listening.

NBC's 'Ready for Love' Contestant Ben Patton Says, "When You've Fallen in Love, You Can't Deny That It Exists"

 By Whitney Baker Johnson

It's no secret that dating-based reality shows like The Bachelor and The Bachelorette are a huge hit among fans – even if they very rarely end with a match made in heaven (or on some Caribbean island, as is often the case). In twenty-four seasons of the ABC shows, only two couples, both from The Bachelorette, have made it to the altar: Trista Rehn and Ryan Sutter and Ashley Hebert and J.P. Rosenbaum. For those of us who can't give up the hope that someone can find their soul mate on television, NBC introduces Ready for Love, a show that enlists three talented matchmakers to help three eligible men find the one thing missing in their lives: true love. Adding credibility to the show, which premieres tonight, are three big names: Eva Longoria is an executive producer, while Bill and Giuliana Rancic are the hosts.

One of those lucky bachelors is Ben Patton, a 30-year-old international financier from Dallas. Patton moved back to Texas from Dubai in 2011 because, even though business was great overseas, he was missing balance in his life. “I didn’t have a personal life that was really growing, and I wanted to move back to the states so that I could establish my roots a little more,” he shares. “Truth be told, I wanted to start dating again and hopefully meet someone special.”

Related Link: ‘Ready for Love’ Host Giuliana Rancic Says, “Having a Strong Marriage is the Greatest Example You Can Set for Your Child”

As for why now was the time to look for love, Patton says it was mostly social awareness. Attending wedding after wedding without a date – “I’ve attended more weddings as a single guy than anyone else I know!” – he realized that a part of his life was missing. “Everyone I know is getting married, and all of the sudden, it started moving up on my priority list. Everything was great, but I wanted to fill that gap – and really, that gap, at the end of the day, is the most important thing.”

Of course, even fans of similar shows would be skeptical of actually finding love on television. And Patton was no different. As he explains, “I wasn’t home but eight months before I got a call from NBC. Eva got on the phone, and she’s pretty good at selling you on an idea. She convinced me that the format was completely different than other dating shows.”

Unlike The Bachelor, Ready for Love shows the process of picking the girls who will be the best fit for the three guys. Matchmakers Amber Kelleher-Andrews, Tracy McMillan and Matthew Hussey each select four compatible girls to introduce to each bachelor. “It’s not about finding a bunch of cute, little girls who are going to be dramatic for the cameras,” Patton says. “It’s about introducing you to the other guys first; then, when women apply for the show and the matchmakers see real compatibility, that’s when they decide who they want to put on the show.”

He adds, "If there's any sort of competition, it's among the matchmakers to prove that they know what it takes to find a match for us – not among the guys or the girls."

During the first week, the guys talk to their twelve matches and get to know each of the ladies without ever meeting them face-to-face. Based on the chemistry that they feel, they eliminate three girls and then start the dating process with the nine remaining contestants.

Related Link: Tracy McMillan Says 'Ready for Love' Will Change the Way America Dates

Like many people, Patton had never worked with a matchmaker prior to the show. In fact, he never felt like he needed help from a professional when it came to his love life. He describes Ready for Love as a "learning experience" and says it definitely changed his mind. "I started to realize that it's really okay to go to someone for help and admit that you're obviously doing something wrong. At the end of the day, 90 percent of what matchmakers tell people is pretty much common sense, but it's easier to hear it from a professional than to hear it from your best friend, your girlfriend or your parents."

Even with professional help, Patton still had to believe that true love exists. It's easy to become jaded after a few failed relationships, but this bachelor didn't let a broken heart deter him. "When you've fallen in love – and I've been in love before – you can't deny that it's there, that it exists," he says with conviction. "When you are really, absolutely in love with someone, everything takes a sideline to that relationship. You just want to make sure that person is okay because she means so much to you."

So did Patton find that all-consuming, lasts-for-a-lifetime love? While he can't reveal too much about the show's ending, he does say that he's very happy. Of course, it's been a struggle to keep his relationship under wraps for so many months. “We’re always having to see each other in secret,” he shares. “It’s like, ‘Hey, I’ll meet you in Arkansas for the weekend.’ We’re going to towns where people won’t recognize us so that we can go out to dinner together.”

Filming the show last summer, he’s had a lot of time to reflect on his journey, and given the outcome, he encourages people to never give up. “It’s really easy to get frustrated in relationships and just throw in the towel. For a long time, that’s what I did,” he explains. “But you should just hang on because there’s somebody out there who probably feels the same way. You guys will run into each other one day and be like, ‘Where the hell have you been my whole life?’”

In other words, always be Ready for Love.

Giuliana and Bill Rancic will host the series, where preeminent matchmaker Amber Kelleher-Andrews, relationship author Tracy McMillan and professional dating coach Matthew Hussey will help the men find their perfect matches.

Krakowski thinks her previous personal connection with Ben will reignite their flame.

KATIE COYLE (Age: 34) – Resides in Pella, Iowa – Coyle is a mother to two wonderful children. She lives by the philosophy that life is too short not to be happy. Coyle thinks her energetic lifestyle makes her the perfect match for Ben.

KRISTINA ZAPATA (Age: 26) – Resides in Los Angeles – Zapata is dedicated to her family and her education. She studied broadcast journalism at the Universidad Catolica de Colombia to work towards her dream of becoming a Spanish news broadcaster. LYNSEE GONZALES (Age: 26) – Resides in Portland, Oregon – Gonzales is a small-town girl that turned her dreams of becoming an international model into a reality. She has traveled around the world to pursue her career, modeling for print publications and working the runway. Does Your Past Interfere with Your Present?

By Relationship & Sex Talk, Jane Greer, Ph.D., for GalTime.com

how past betrayals can hurt new relationships

Did Eva Longoria's recent breakup with Mark Sanchez have anything to do with the memories of Tony Parker's infidelity?

There didn't seem to be any indication that they were having trouble, but sometimes there is nothing to see because it is what's going on below the surface that can cause the problem. For many, it's hard to start over, especially if you've been betrayed in a previous relationship. All of the anger, suspicion, and fear come through and can affect your current romantic situation.

You don't have to be a celebrity to ask the question: is your past interfering with your present?

Sometimes all it takes is one betrayal in your love life to leave you so devastated and reeling that it becomes a challenge to trust future partners. If you have experienced deception, it is not unusual for your reaction to that to be unwittingly repeated with new people even if they have done nothing to deserve it.

Take my patient Hillary, for example. Her boyfriend had been cheated on by his previous girlfriend. He always wants to know where Hillary is, who she is talking to. She has no intention of hurting him or being with another guy, but his demands and constant questioning make her feel boxed in. The other day, when an old friend called, she didn't tell her boyfriend, not because she had anything to hide, but because she was afraid of how he would react. He found out later and blew up, saying she didn't tell him so how can he trust her? There was no actual problem, but he was creating one. His jealousy and accusations were perpetuating the very thing he was looking to avoid.

Try your best to take your partner at face value. If Hillary had been able to explain it was just an old college friend who had called, and her boyfriend had been able to listen and believe it, things would have been smoother.

Look at the consistency between what someone says and what they do. My patient wasn't making any moves to elude him, or attempt to be with someone else. If he hadn't been carrying over the fear from his last heartbreak, he would have been able to see that things were good between them.

And most important, focus on the present, not the past or what scary thing might happen in the future. That way, you can stay connected and work toward building your own, strong relationship.

What are some ways to remain civil with an ex shortly after a breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

After a breakup, there will be instances where you will need to remain in contact with your ex, such as you both work together or share custody of a child. Whatever the situation is, you will need to be respectful and courteous with him/her, regardless of whether you want to reconcile or not. To keep things even keel and successful, here are a few tips on how to approach situations with your ex:

1. Be kind: A great way to get along with you ex is to be kind in a respectful manner. If your ex doesn't agree with your mature attitude, don't stoop to his/her level. Continue in the same way, and eventually, he/she will come around to understand that you are serious about moving forward positively.

2. Avoid intimate history: The only way to leave your intimate relationship in the past is to not bring it up in the future. Therefore, don't dwell on why you two broke up or any of the bitter/sweet moments you had together. While the breakup is still fresh and new, focus only on the important topics and being amicable towards each other.

3. Don't get others involved: So as not to start any fights with your former partner, and show the respect they deserve, don't get outside parties involved by talking negatively about the breakup. It simply is too risky. There are many ways your words can get misconstrued and relayed back to your ex.
