What are some ways to prepare yourself for being a first-time parent?

Cupid's Advice:

Becoming a parent for the first time is a life changing experience. You won't know what you're doing for awhile, but you'll pick up the new baby duties in no time. There are a few things you can do that will help you ease into the transition a little more smoothly. Cupid has some tips:

1. Read: Go to your local library or bookstore, and find some parenting books to read. There are so many different ones to choose from. If you need a little help with reducing the selection, ask a loved one to assist you. Maybe they'll have a few favorites of their own if they've already been through your experience before.

What are three funny ways to announce your pregnancy?

Cupid’s Advice:

Why not imbue one of the most exciting announcements you'll ever make with a little creativity and humor? Cupid has some ideas for unique ways to announce your pregnancy.

1. Hide the sonogram in a card: If you plan to make the announcement around the holidays, place several copies of your sonogram in your annual holiday cards. Ideally, you should hand these cards to your friends and family in person so you can see the look on their faces when they find out that you're going to be a parent.

2. Wrap the announcement up as a present: Place a pregnancy announcement in a box place within a box placed within another box. Wrap the largest box up and hand it to to your friends and family members. The building excitement as they open each box will make their joy at the news all the more worth it.

3. Decline a drink: Invite family and friends out to a restaurant. When the waiter offers you some wine, politely refuse, saying that you won't be drinking for the next 9 months. It's a nice, simple and somewhat cheesy way to announce your pregnancy.
