How do you know if your relationship is “real”?

Cupid's Advice:

As any new relationship develops, you begin to realize your true feelings towards one another. Being fully committed to someone definitely comes with challenges—but is even more rewarding when you find the right person—Cupid offers some advice on how to know if you are in a genuine relationship that offers future potential:

1. You feel comfortable with them: You're out to dinner with your boyfriend when all of a sudden you realize there's food all over your face—and we've all been there. Early in the relationship, an incident like this may leave you embarrassed; after a while however, little things like that shouldn't bother you anymore. Being comfortable around your partner is the beginning foundations of a healthy and serious connection. See if they accept you for who you are—annoying quirks included—The right person will love everything about you and will encourage you to be comfortable around them at all times.

2. He's your best friend: You should be able to talk to your boyfriend about anything and be excited to do so. For instance, you get a promotion at work and run home to tell your boyfriend. Take that as a good sign: you're in a strong relationship that is important to both of you. Your partner should want to know how your day was and seems to care if it was good or not. He should be concerned when you are upset and will do anything to uplift your mood.

3. Their family becomes yours: After talking about you for weeks, your boyfriend's family is dying to meet you. It's normal to feel a little nervous at first, fearing they will disapprove. Soon enough, you will be spending so much time together that their home feels like yours. Your partner will start inviting you to spend the holidays with them; this is one way to know he is serious about you. Get to know his family—they might become yours one day.

Brand jokingly replied, "Worse or better, depending on how you view it." But on a serious note, Brand spoke highly of his ex. He claims he has nothing bad to say about Perry or her new boyfriend, who she has been dating since July 2012. Despite Stern trying to dig a little deeper, Brand continued to claim that his ex-wife was perfect from top to bottom. What do you do if someone you once cared about is dating someone you view as dangerous?

Cupid's Advice:

When you care a great deal about someone, you just want to see them happy. But what if the new person they are dating seems dangerous to you? What should you do? No worries, Cupid is here for you:

1.Voice your opinion: Tell the person that you are concerned about their new relationship, but do not start questioning their relationship or become too nosy. Just let the person know that you have a concern and that you do not want them to get hurt in their new relationship. After voicing your opinion one time, do not bring it up again otherwise this will chase the person away from you.

2. Let them know you're there: Let the person know that you care for them and you will be there for them no matter what. Let them know that you want them to be happy and you will back them up in any situation. This way if they decide to leave their boyfriend/ girlfriend, they will know that they have your shoulder to cry on and they won't be alone.

3. Stay out of it: After voicing your opinion and letting the person know you are there for them, you have to stay out of their relationship. Do not constantly voice your opinion and do not pick apart their relationship. They are the one that is in the relationship so they are the only one that knows if it is a bad relationship or a good relationship. You can't force them to do anything that they don't want to do. So stay out.

5 Celebrities Who Don't Know How to Date

By Courtney Allen

Some of the hottest celebrities in today's world find their soul mates on the Hollywood forefront. Couples from the likes of Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie and Justin Bieber and Selena Gomez are deemed "the lucky ones" in just a handful of celebs who have hit the jackpot on love. But for others, dating is nothing more than a love taboo. After endless relationships, dates, splits, and shots at love, these five just can't seem to settle down with the right one:

1. Taylor Swift: If there's one thing Taylor Swift is known for, it's her willingness to share her heart-wrenching and disastrous relationships with the entire world. This seems to be one of the many reasons why this flawless Cinderella can't find a Prince Charming to last forever. Swift has dated a series of celebrities ranging from John Mayer to Jake Gyllenhaal and she has the songs to prove it. The musical genius even confessed her dating troubles, telling British Cosmopolitan, "I don't know how to make relationships last." Swift may not be able to make them last just yet, but practice makes perfect. The gorgeous musician recently split from One Direction's Harry Styles.

2. John Mayer: Heartthrob John Mayer has a way with musical lyrics, but certainly not with the ladies. The smooth singer and his unfavorable habits were exposed with release of Taylor Swift's "Dear John," in which she calls Mr. Mayer out for a number of wrong-doings during their rocky relationship. The song called fans to speculate the 35-year old brown-eyed boy's past relationships, which includes celebs like Jennifer Anniston, to see if he was a repeat offender of breaking hearts. It's clear Mayer was nothing less than a heartbreaker for Swift. Let's just hope Mayer takes better care of alleged new girlfriend, Katy Perry.

3. Emily Maynard: Both The Bachelorette's and The Bachelor's Emily Maynard has been in the center of love's battlefield for the past two years. This sweetheart momma has been engaged twice since both shows have ended and still remains single. Her relationship status leaves us wondering exactly how this tan, blonde bombshell's fairy-tale like relationships take a turn for the worst so quickly. Not only are her engagements called off, but they end rather messy with ex-fiancée Brad Womack's insults and Jef Holms' digs on Twitter. Seems like the last thing Miss Maynard needs is for her next few dating experiences to be televised for millions to see.

4. Joe Jonas: One-third of the Jonas' Brothers, Joe Jonas, has had his fair share of dating experiences amongst some of the youngest and hottest Hollywood starlets. His flings include powerhouse singer and actress Demi Lovato, Twilight star Ashley Greene, and even girl next door, Taylor Swift. It is said that Miss Swift's "Forever and Always" is all about the boy band's lead singer, but Swift wasn't as forward in revealing who ripped her heart to shreds in this tune. Not much is said about the musician when it comes to dating, but it seems like he has some trouble keeping a girl around for good.

5. Flavor Flav: It's hard to forget Flavor Flav as he was once the face of VHL for his popular reality television show Flavor of Love. The ex-rapper searched for three long seasons for a woman to call his own, with at least twenty five girls to hand-pick for himself, and still ended up with nothing. Flavor Flav did eventually find what he was looking for, but none of the girls from his show proved worthy. Even so, we can't help but think the long chain-wearing goofball has trouble dating after several failed opportunities placed directly in front of him.

your mate to your family can be intimidating. Here are some signs that it's time to take the plunge:

How do you know if your new partner is a player at heart?

Cupid's Advice:

There's nothing more painful than a one-sided relationship. Don't pour your heart down a bottomless pit. Relationships need sharing, vulnerability, and devotion. Find out if your partner has these qualities by looking for these signs:

1. Values: Getting a baseline for the personal values of your partner is a good way to decide if they're ready for a serious relationship. Discuss the principles you hold when you enter into a relationship, such as monogamy and honesty. It should be clear if they're looking for one person, or if they have a constant flirtatious attitude.

2. Priorities: Does their lifestyle support your relationship? Recognize if they'd rather spend time with you, or go out drinking with mixed company. If they don't have room for you in their schedule, it could be that they're very career oriented, but make sure you're their preference. If they're willing to spend the time to develop as a couple, it shows sincerity.

3. Intimacy: Fostering a connection with your partner, takes time and patience. If they're afraid to open up to you, maybe they're afraid to be honest. Players, though charismatic will be reluctant to share too many details of their life. As zealously enigmatic creatures, the fact that you haven't yet figured out if they're a player or not is a bad sign.

How to Tell If He's 'The One' After One Date

By Carley Forrester

Have you ever found yourself on a date, wishing that people came with an instruction manual that contained all the information you ever needed to know about them? You don't need an instruction manual to tell if your date is 'the one' – all you need to do is learn how to get them to tell you exactly what they are looking for, without them even knowing.

This can be especially difficult when it comes to finding love on an online dating site. Members will often wrongly advertise themselves, leaving it very difficult to work out whether or not they are the one for you. So how can you work out if your date is 'the one' on the first date?

Decide what you are looking for

What is it that you are really looking for? Working this out is the first step to working out whether or not your date is the one for you. Do you want marriage? Are you looking to start a family? Or are you just looking for a little fun? Decide on your own romantic goals and don't apologize for them! Look at Jennifer Aniston: it's always been more than obvious that she's an advocate of marriage.

Question time

Inexperienced daters will steer clear of asking loaded questions on a first date as they think it'll put their date off. In reality, the first date is perhaps the only time you can get away with it! Ask your date what they believe in when it comes to love/relationships/life. If you want to dress the question up a little more ask them if they believe in 'the dream' – if they ask what that is, then give them your answer, without telling them it's yours. Now all you need to do is smile and listen.

By asking your date what they 'believe' in rather than demanding to know what they are 'looking for' you will receive a truthful answer, rather than the answer they think you are looking for. According to experts, this method encourages men to openly discuss their opinions of marriage, divulge information about past relationships and even their own finances.

Don't ask about 'the ex'

But listen very carefully if they do give you a little insight to their previous relationships. If your date makes a statement about their past relationships 'all ending the same way' be aware of why they ended. Relationship patterns are usually repeated and negative statements about past relationships could be a sneak preview of what he'll be saying about you after you break up.

Ahem... John Mayer, we're talking about you!

Rather than interrogating your date (which is easy done) your subtle method of questioning will leave them feeling relaxed. At this point, don't reveal too much about your own relationship mishaps; this isn't a therapy session, it's a date.

Use this simple dating method as your relationship sieve, sifting through the bad, to get to the good.

Taylor Swift Calls John Mayer “Presumptuous” for Thinking Song is About Him

By Nic Baird

Taylor Swift’s 2010 hit “Dear John” hints at a broken heart from her 2009 relationship with 34-year-old singer John Mayer, according to UsMagazine.com. Mayer told Rolling Stone that the song made him feel terrible and that it was undeserved. “How presumptuous!” Swift responded in November’s Glamour magazine. “I never disclose who my songs are about.” However the age gap between the former couple makes some of the song's lyrics suspiciously fitting: "It was wrong/ Don't you think 19's too young/ To be played/ By your dark, twisted games/ When I loved you so." Swift said she never read Mayer's comments on the song because she's too fragile for media gossip, but admits that her music follows her personal life. "I feel like you can share enough about your life in your music to let people know what you're going through," Swift said. For the past two months, the pop-country singer has been dating Connor Kennedy, 18, of the famous Democratic family.

How can music help you get over a breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

Your feelings often affect your choice of music, but after a breakup sometimes you need the music to influence your feelings. Using breakup songs in combination with more cheerful subjects can be just the musical cocktail to cure your aching heart. Music is a powerful tool, so always make sure it's steering your emotional rollercoaster in the right direction:

1. Understand your feelings: Talented lyricists can put into words feelings we cannot. A breakup can hit you a million different ways, but since love is the main subject of nearly all music every scenario has already been considered. There's no reason you should be taking advice from the hit single of the day, but if breakup songs are what your mind needs to find closure, then indulge it for awhile.

2. Cheer yourself up: While you may empathize more with a sad ballad of heartbreak and betrayal, it is known that music directly affects your mood. If you want to feel uplifted, listen to uplifting music. If you want to feel fun, listen to fun music. If you want to obsess over the similarities between Taylor Swift's disappointing boyfriends and your own, maybe you can still find some dismal solidarity, but nobody's dancing to “Dear John”.

3. Get new experiences: Besides song composition being a great outlet for creative energy, exposing yourself new music post-breakup demonstrates you’re moving forward and opening yourself to fresh possibilities. If you music is your passion, then now is the chance to get some friends together and go see some shows.

How can you help yourself move on after a breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

It's always hard to start looking for romance after a divorce or a breakup, especially if it was a messy one. However, eventually you'll have to move on and start dating again. Here are some tips for getting yourself ready to find love:

- 1. Change your look: After a breakup, you have the perfect chance to try something new and exciting with your appearance. Getting a makeover, some new clothes or even just a different haircut are simple ways to help you move past your ex.

On & Off: When Celebrities Should Call it Quits

By Daniela Agurcia

With fame comes glamour and wealth. These are things everyone wants, but they can also take a toll on a relationship. With a celebrity's busy schedule and a seemingly bottomless bank account, it's hard to make time and decisions for things other than themselves. The fact of the matter is that there's only so much a relationship can take before the best decision is to just call it quits. Here are some of the issues that can ultimately break up a celebrity couple:

Related: How to Master Being in a Relationship

1. Your age becomes an issue: There are many celebrity couples whose age difference is more than a couple of years and this starts to become a problem. Demi Moore and Ashton Kutcher seemed madly in love and happy to be with each other, until the issue of their ages caught up with them and they realized they both wanted different things in life. When your age difference is significant and you both have a different mindset, this will catch up with your relationship, causing a split. When you're young, you want to continue experiencing life, while when you're older, you're usually ready to settle down .

2. Distance: The life of a celebrity can be hectic. Hollywood stars such as Katy Perry and Russell Brand have crazy schedules that barely give them time to relax and spend time with each other. Celebrities get caught up in everything they have to do and eventually the growing emotional distance between the couples becomes inevitable on both ends. There are only so many times you can Skype before you both realize it's just not enough. If you realize that you're only seeing your beau a couple of times a month, you're not ready to settle down with each other just yet.

Related: 4 Ways to Make Long Distance Work

3. There's someone else in the picture: Celebrities are constantly on tour or on set with many different people so they're bound to meet someone who they have a lot in common with. When celebrities work apart from their partner, they sometimes get lonely and end up finding that missing company and comfort in someone other than who they're in a relationship with. How can you avoid falling in love with someone like Robert Pattinson when you're cast to play Bella Swan? Sometimes things just happen.

4. Fame and Money: A lot of fame and money can get to some people's heads, and problems for celebrities are easily solved with having both, allowing them to avoid making rational decisions. With a lot of money, celebrities can make a quick escape out of a marriage or relationship, and it ends up being a trend in Hollywood to change your mind last minute about a huge decision, just like Kim Kardashian's 72-day marriage. If you notice a pattern in someone's love life that seems too fast paced, stay away!

Top Five Reasons Why Women Fall Out of Love

By Julia Slovich

Although stories of cheating men have been dominating the news lately and falling out of love seems to be happening a lot more frequently than people are falling in love, the situation isn't exclusive to men. Losing those loving feelings for your husband or boyfriend can happen just as easily to women. If you've experienced this in the past or maybe you're going through it with your partner now, the first step is to be aware of why it's happening. Follow these five reasons your fairy-tale romance could be slipping away:

1. Feeling Adored

It's important that a woman feels appreciated by her partner.

Men are usually good at this in the beginning of a relationship when it's still new, but as the novelty ends, the attention may die down, too. Just look at Jennifer Aniston and John Mayer. She broke up with him because he was obsessed with Twitter, telling her that he was too busy for her, but in the meantime, his Twitter page was saturated.

2. Bored to Tears

We want excitement! And, if we can't have that, give us variety. If a relationship gets into a rut and you end up doing the same things every weekend or having sex in the same positions every time, a woman can get bored and lose interest altogether. Both people need to put some work into the relationship or they'll find themselves quickly falling out of love.

3. Honeymoon is Over

Sometimes, we can be completely unrealistic and think that our relationship will turn out alright because "we love each other so much." Unfortunately, that's not always the case. Once the honeymoon phase is over, the reality of the relationship can be a slap in the face. Pamela Anderson and Kid Rock were married for a mere four months before they called it quits. Both agreed that it was time to end it, and Pam said that they just weren't meant to be together. It's easy to ignore all of the red flags when you're caught up in romance and passion.

4. Lack of Chemistry

Most women are looking for that spark that makes them feel all tingly and giggly whenever their man touches or looks at them.

However, a relationship can't be built on sparks alone. Eventually they will fade if the relationship doesn't have substance.

5. Emotionally Disconnected

Poor communication (or no communication at all) is one of the main reasons women fall out of love. We need to feel connected to our partners emotionally as well as physically in order to love and be loved. When there's little communication, some women will shut down. Maria Shriver was extremely unhappy in her marriage to Arnold Schwarzenegger. Apparently, they hadn't been spending much time together in the last few years, and she was frequently absent from Sacramento where Arnold was the governor. If that doesn't signal a problem, nothing does.

It happens to the best of us. Sometimes we just fall out of love, but if you don't want to be another divorce rate statistic and want to make it work with your partner, use these five signs as a starting place to determine what may be going wrong and see if there's a way to fix it before it's too late.

90210 Star Shenae Grimes Denies Dating John Mayer

According to UsMagazine.com, Star recently connected Shenae Grimes of 90210 to singer, John Mayer. However, both parties deny this claim. While a rep for John Mayer simply stated that Star isn't a credible source, Shenae Grimes took to Twitter to set the record straight by tweeting, "According to Star magazine John Mayer and I are in secret sexy cahoots. How wonderful for me...if wonderful meant embarrassing." How do you tell if he's a bad boy?

Cupid's Advice:

John Mayer has established his reputation as a bad boy in Hollywood. The thing is, they don't always come in leather jackets. Here are some tell-tale signs:

1. Your parents don't like him: Sometimes mother really does know best. Your parents will always want the best for you and can almost always sense when the guy doesn't have your best interests at heart.

2. He's unpredictable: If you can't count on him to keep his word or show up to dates on time (or at all), he's probably bad news.

3. He won't fully commit: If he tends to always keep his distance, you probably aren't the only woman in his life.

'Millionaire Matchmaker' Patti Stanger Against a Kim Kardashian and John Mayer Union

doesn't have her own show Millionaire Matchmaker for no reason. After the New York Post reported that reality star Kim Kardashian was spotted out and about in NYC with singer, John Mayer, Stanger had some serious advice to share: "No!

He's a douche bag." US Magazine caught up with the matchmaker to discuss whether she thought there would be fireworks or if the date would be a disaster. Stanger insisted, "She'd chew him up and spit him out and chew him up again." If his dating history with celebrities such as Jessica Simpson and Jennifer Aniston wasn't reason enough, Stanger insists, "Kim's a class act, so I'd never put her with him." While Mayer might not be the one for Kim Kardashian, there is hope for love in her future. The Millionaire Matchmaker believes Kardashian needs "an A-list actor who likes a brunette hottie...She needs someone who is strong, who will allow her to build her empire. She needs some one serious." Sorry, John; maybe next time.

What are some tell-tale signs of a player?

Cupid's Advice:

While you might not have the advice of a matchmaker at your disposal, with these helpful hints you'll surely be able to weed out the rogues from the real gentlemen:

1. Midnight phone calls: While it's great that he wants to hang out with you, phone calls or text messages consistently coming after midnight should have you concerned. What are his intentions? And at that hour, are you the only one he's been talking to that night?

2. Rumor mill: There is a reason Hollywood starlets are wary of John Mayer. When rumors circulate, you can't always tell what's fact and what's fiction. But when your friends voice concerns, listen up! They have your best interests at heart.

3. Authenticity: When it comes to getting to know you, if you feel like he's simply asking questions without really being concerned with the answers, trust yourself. Not being genuine is probably just the beginning of disappointment. Chances are his insincere side will be sure to follow.

upcoming album dropping next week, speculation has begun circulating around one of the tracks, entitled "Dear John."

Does it reflect Swift's once-rumored relationship with crooner John Mayer? Us Magazine reports that Swift, 20, and Mayer, 33 years her senior, were romantically linked last year when the country crooner collaborated with Mayer on the song "Half of my Heart" for his album, Battle Studies. Although Swift refuses to confirm the song is about Mayer, with lyrics like, "You'll add my name to your long list of traitors, Who don't understand, And I'll look back in regret, I ignored what they said, 'Run as fast as you can,'" one can only assume all signs point to the soulful singer and serial dater.

What are some appropriate ways to deal with anger after a breakup?

Cupid's Advice:

It's normal to be angry after a breakup. While it may be fun to sit with your girlfriends and plot revenge on the one who broke your heart, think twice before you pull a Carrie Underwood in her "Before He Cheats" days:

1. All talk and no action: This may be the one time you should run your mouth with no intention of following through. Take a cue from Taylor Swift and write it out. Her lyrics are her personal way of getting through an emotional time without doing anything outrageous and harmful. The individual in question may end up being a bit embarrassed, but doesn't he deserve that anyway?

2. Gather your girls: Release your anger in a positive way. Grab some friends and go out dancing. Part of the friend code means that you'll automatically have someone to lean on. Feel free to vent as you dance out your post-breakup frustrations. Don't worry – your roles will eventually reverse, and your friend will need you for comfort and take-out pizza.

3. Work it out: Find a gym that offers a kickboxing class, and let loose! Fill your iPod up with your favorite songs and run your anger right out of your system. Exercise is a great way to filter your emotions and burn off those pizza night calories. Your ex will be sorry once he sees your hot bod, and the look on his face will be the perfect revenge!

Can being labeled as a "single" destroy your chance for romance?

Cupid's Advice:

Being known as an eternal single can actually be a hindrance to finding a serious relationship. Cupid has a few reasons why being sans boyfriend or girlfriend could keep you single:

1. Commitment-phobe: Male or female, when you bounce from one relationship to another without finding anything permanent, people might think you are afraid of commitment. If you're chronically single, you may also give the impression that you're a player and therefore unlikely to settle down.

2. Undesirable: While it can be fun to be single with no attachments, the opposite sex might think it's because there's something wrong with you. Even if that's not the case, people may jump to conclusions or tread with cautiousness if you're always riding solo.

3. Not serious: If you've never been in a serious relationship, it may send a message that you lack emotional maturity. Someone looking for a serious partner may not want to put their heart out there if they feel that the other person isn't able to sustain a long-term relationship.

Cupid’s Advice:

1. Don’t always cooperate: Constantly rearranging your day to meet his schedule is not going to pique his interest. Make him come to you. Your unavailability will make him more eager to see you.

2. Give him free reign: Be independent. Let him know that you don’t need him, and that it is up to him to really get the relationship going. Your apparent disinterest will make you seem less desperate and more mysterious, which will interest him.

3. What are you willing to tolerate?: Taming a bad boy is a near impossible task. You need to ask yourself what you are willing to put up with in a relationship. If you are not willing to give him free reign, then your relationship with a bad boy will probably not end happily.

What do you do when you can't let go of an ex?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups are difficult, and sometimes it's hard to let go. Cupid has some suggestions about how to move on:

- 1. Realize this has to happen: Whether you understand the reasons behind your breakup or not, you need to move on. There's no sense in staying attached for longer than necessary.
- 2. Don't be desperate: If your ex tries to contact you, don't drop everything to make yourself available. If things aren't meant to be, this will only delay the pain.
- 3. Have self-confidence: It's important to work on your self-esteem after a rough break-up. By no means should you feel completely responsible for the split. "What ifs" do nothing but bring you down further.
