1. Communicate: Communication is key, not just in a relationship, but in its end. Finding a way to talk to your ex after the relationship is more challenging than during. Johnny Depp Files to Keep Celebrity Divorce Proceedings Private

By Cortney Moore

Johnny Depp is making celebrity news once more with his motion for privacy in his celebrity divorce against Amber Heard. The couple surprised everyone when they ended their celebrity relationship back in May, and since then, there have been rocky court hearings. According to UsMagazine.com, Depp filed for confidentiality on July 15, with papers that state, "All documents produced by [Depp] in this action and/or any third parties subpoenaed in this action ... shall be designated as 'Confidential Information' herein." Sources close to Depp say his desire for privacy comes after Heard's request to obtain personal and financial documentation. "Amber has inexplicably refused to sign any agreement to maintain confidentiality in this action," Depp's filing claims. "Johnny is therefore asking the Court to issue a protective order." Despite Heard's claims that their celebrity relationship was abusive, Depp seems to be handling the divorce proceedings well.

This celebrity divorce is definitely going to be one for the books. What are some ways to keep the details of your divorce private?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorces are never fun, especially with the court proceedings that are required for a legal separation. At times, people will ask how you're holding up and may want to know the details of your divorce. At no point are you obligated to provide an explanation. Let Cupid help you keep the details of your divorce private:

- 1. Privacy lawyers: The best way to ensure that details of your divorce will not leave the courtroom is by hiring a lawyer who takes confidentiality seriously. Find a lawyer who is good at what they do, and will put your needs first. You don't want a lawyer who will use your case to bolster their public profile.

2. Spousal collaboration: Another great way to keep your divorce private is to communicate this desire with your spouse. Working together to maintain privacy will help keep sensitive details from escaping into the public. Even if your relationship ended on bad terms, privacy may be a top priority you both can agree on.

3. Loose lips sink ships: The absolute best way to make sure that details of your divorce remain private is by keeping it all to yourself. Though you may want to talk to close friends, family, or even coworkers about what you're going through, don't let them know sensitive information. Sharing details opens the chance for rumors and changed opinions that could hurt your case, which is the exact opposite of what you want.

Celebrity News: Text Experts Says Amber Heard Text Exchange with Johnny Depp's Assistant Is Authentic

By Nicole Caico

Amber Heard recently filed for divorce from Johnny Depp. The news of the celebrity divorce surfaced just before claims of domestic abuse arose. Heard claims that the celebrity relationship had been violent. According to People.com, the alleged text exchange between Amber Heard and Depp's assistant, Stephen Deuters, was analyzed by tech specialist, Kevin Cohen, who confirmed the authenticity, "On Sunday, June 5, 2016, I was asked to examine iPhone backups of Amber Heard," he said. "It was her normal routine to sync her iPhone on the computer. I forensically imaged and examined the device containing Ms. Heard's iPhone backups, and I conclude that the backups are authentic."

In celebrity news, Johnny Depp is under fire for assaulting Amber Heard. What are some ways to seek help in a violent relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Domestic violence is extremely serious. Hollywood couples are not isolated from the reality of abuse, and neither are normal couples. Domestic violence is to be treated seriously and stopped as soon as possible in any situation:

1. Tell someone you know: A good place to start when seeking help in a violent relationship is to tell someone close to you, that you trust, what is happening. Talking about the violence that you have been dealing with alone can help you come to terms with the situation, and allow the person you tell to support you.

2. Call a hotline: There are several domestic violence hotlines, both state and national. Either search for the hotline you would like to call, or have someone make the search and the call for you. If you or someone you know is a victim of domestic violence, here is one national hotline that you can call: <http://www.thehotline.org>, 1-800-799-7233.

Celebrity Couple Predictions:

Amber Heard, Kaley Cuoco and Hilary Duff

By: Shoshi

For today's column, let's take a look at three celebrity couples who have made headlines lately for shocking relationship moves – whether it's a surprise engagement, a quickie marriage after a whirlwind romance, or a separation announcement from a seemingly happy couple.

Amber Heard and Johnny Depp: Depp recently announced his recent engagement to actress Heard. Two words that came to mind when I heard this news were “hot mess.” Not because I think it's too soon for the actor to be in a serious relationship, but because this relationship has signs of doom written all over it.

The 27-year-old actress met her 50-year-old fiancé while working on The Rum Diaries. There have been so many allegations about their romance that it's hard to know what to believe. The main rumor that stands out is that Depp and Heard broke up not that long ago so that she could date a woman. He somehow won her back and put a ring on it.

The only thing that is clear in this relationship is that Depp is trying his best to keep Heard around. What better way than to get married! Their relationship energy is two lost souls floundering around. The biggest question is how long can the actor can keep his partner entertained before she wants to leave again. I hope he's smart enough to get a good prenup, as there's no way this relationship is going to last.

On another note, the media keeps trying to make it seem like Depp's ex, Vanessa Paradis, is jealous over his engagement. This rumor couldn't be further from the truth. Paradis left Depp; she was the one who didn't want to get married. Depp has repeatedly confirmed this truth in interviews since their split, and his ex has moved on.

Related Link: Johnny Depp and Amber Heard Are Engaged: Find Out Why

Kaley Cuoco and Ryan Sweeting: The Big Bang Theory actress ended a relationship with Henry Cavill and pulled the ultimate bounce back: She fell in love with tennis player, Ryan Sweeting, and got married. If you blinked, you may have missed the whole thing. The couple dated for only five months before sprinting down the aisle.

There is something rather awesome about this marriage. It's a classic case of "you know when you know." Sure, they got married quickly, but when I look at their relationship, it looks like they both knew it was meant to be. Cuoco was looking for something different when she met Sweeting. They've been together before in a past life, which is why it felt so comfortable when they met this time around.

The bets have started on when they'll divorce, but save your money. These two are going to be together for awhile. Don't be surprised if a baby announcement comes within a matter of months. Baby energy is swirling around the blonde beauty. Since they're having so much fun together, Cuoco would like to wait a little bit before having kids, but babies have a way of sneaking in when they're ready.

Related Link: Kaley Cuoco Celebrates Bridal Shower with Famous Friends

Hilary Duff and Mike Comrie: Looks like one Disney princess is about to get a divorce from her Prince Charming. This move comes as a surprise to many people who thought that Duff and Comrie were a happily married couple. As I look at the singer's energy, she's in a totally different place than she was when she got married. A part of her looked up to Comrie as her older and wiser lover. Well, getting married and having a baby will make a woman grow up really quickly. Long story short, she snapped out of it.

Duff will always have love in her heart for Comrie, but it's not the kind of love that keeps a marriage going strong. The passion between the two of them left a long time ago. It also looks like Duff considers Comrie a big turnoff, and once a woman is turned off by a man, it's hard to go back.

It's great that they tried everything in their power to stay together, but it's time for them to both move on. Duff is going to come back with a resurgence in her career. She's going to gain some new fans with her hot MILF status, but dating will not be her priority; she will be focused on being a single mother during this new chapter in her life.

Amber Heard Talks Johnny Depp: 'Not Part of My Professional Life'

By April Littleton

Amber Heard has finally opened up about her relationship with Johnny Depp. The 27-year-old actress told Flare magazine that she wanted to keep her love life private and out of the spotlight. In 2012, a source told UsMagazine.com that the pair are “100 percent dating” and that Depp “treats her very well.” The couple were recently spotted holding hands while walking the red carpet together at Depp’s latest film The Lone Ranger in June.

When is the right time to go public with a new relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

Dating someone new is fun and exciting, especially when there’s no one around to tell you how you should act in your relationship. It’s OK to keep your love life private, but there will come a time when you need to fill in a few key people in your life. Cupid has some tips:

1. It’s getting serious: If you’re just casual dating, there’s no need to inform your friends and family, especially if you're seeing more than one person. Your loved ones should only get involved when the situation starts to get serious. It takes more than a few dates to know if who you're seeing is someone you want in your life long-term. Take your time and continue to have fun getting to know each other before you tell the whole world about a flame that may fizzle out in a few days.

2. You've defined the relationship: A lot of the time, people don't like to talk about their relationship because they don't even know if they're actually in one. Get ready to have "the talk" if your partner is playing hot and cold with you. You need to know where you stand as a couple, if you even are a couple. If you both agree that you want to try something more exclusive, then it's OK to share the good news with a few close friends.

3. The L-word: You definitely need to go public if you're in love! There's nothing stopping you from going public with your significant other if the two of you are in a committed, loving relationship. That doesn't mean you have to tell everyone you know via Facebook or Twitter, but it would be nice to be able to share some details about who said the L word first with your best friend or your mom.

Still, Depp's success starring in off-beat films like Cry Baby and Benny & Joon in the early 90's was nothing compared to what he has achieved since playing Captain Jack Sparrow in 2003's Pirates of the Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl.

3. Robert Downey Jr: Few people remember the days when Downey and Sex and the City star, Sarah Jessica Parker, dated in the 80's. He has since gone to achieve Marvel film immortality as Tony Stark in the Iron Man and Avengers franchises.

4. George Clooney: It's hard to believe that Hollywood's favorite bachelor was once a husband. Clooney hadn't achieved much in the way of fame when he married actress Talia Balsam in 1989. How do you know when the downs outweigh the ups in a relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

It can be hard to tell when your relationship has taken a permanent turn for the worst, especially if you’re working so hard to keep it intact. All relationships go through their ups and downs, but how do you know when it’s time to let go of what you once had and move on? Cupid has some tips:

1. You're not satisfied: Is it hard for you and your partner to communicate well? Do you find yourself crying more often and smiling less? This may be a sign that your relationship is spiraling out of control. If you haven't been happy with your significant other in a while, then you need to be thinking about ending the relationship – no matter how painful it will be.

2. Change in behavior: Has your partner become distant? If there's a change in your behavior or your partner's, it's time to evaluate what's important in your relationship. Maybe the two of you just need space from each other, or maybe there's a deeper issue the two of you haven't fully let out in the open yet. Whatever the case, now's the time to figure out whether you want to try one more time to salvage the relationship, or leave it behind.

3. Commitment: If you find it more and more difficult to stay committed to your significant other, now is the time to throw in the towel. The pressure may be too much for the both of you, or the spark may have fizzled out for good. If you can no longer envision yourself sticking it out for better or for worse, get out of the poor situation before it gets worse. You never know, maybe the two of you can eventually become friends in the end.

How do you keep your relationship away from prying eyes?

Cupid's Advice:

It is not necessary for the rest of the world to be in your business. Cupid has some advice:

1. Communication: When you are in a relationship, you need to talk with your partner of who you want to talk to, what you want to talk about, and the secrecy of your relationship. If you want eyes all over your relationship, talk about your relationship to everyone. If you don't want you or your mate to talk about your business, make sure you talk about it.

2. Discreteness: It is easy to keep your relationship away from others if you keep your partnership on the down low. Like Johnny Depp and all of his relationships, keep your business to yourself only. No one else needs to know about your fights, relationship status, or love. You and your mate are the only ones who need to worry and talk about your relationship.

3. Happiness: If you want to keep people away from your relationship, act happy as anything. Even if you and your beau are not exactly happy, play it off as you are. People are more likely to pry into your relationship if they know that you and your partner are having problems. So put on a smile and it will ward off any unwanted eyes.

Expert Relationship Advice: Are You Expecting Ryan Gosling Perfection?

by Jane Greer, PhD for GalTime.com

From the outside, Ryan Gosling probably seems like a flawless boyfriend – there’s certainly no denying that he’s a handsome star. But maintaining a relationship, as he and Eva Mendes have done for well over a year, requires so much more than that.

We all want the ideal relationship with the best partner, right? In our minds, that person is very clear: always thoughtful, tuned into our needs, knowing what we hope for before we even have to voice it. So when you are dating someone and they don’t act like that, do you immediately assume they aren’t right for you, or might they be worth a little more time and effort? More important, how can you make the distinction?

When it comes to your partner, many people’s notion is: If You Loved Me, You Would. If you loved me, you would be willing to spend Saturday with my parents. If you loved me, you would agree to eat vegetarian. If you loved me, you would shave every day because I ask you to.

The problem is, when your partner doesn't do these things, it seems like they are being selfish and purposefully disappointing you. That is not always the case at all. In fact, often your partner's choices are more about their own preferences and not a measure of their love for you. It is the act of placing your judgment on those actions that puts the negative spin on them.

We all come at things from a varied perspective, and much of that has to do with the families we grew up in. It might seem perfectly natural to spend every Saturday with your parents, but he is used to seeing his own parents twice a year. Or you might want to stop eating meat for one reason or another; but she loves meat, and that has nothing to do with how she feels about you.

Disrespectful behavior that makes you feel devalued or bad requires other considerations. But if it is just a matter of dealing with your differences, despite the few bumps they might generate, it doesn't have to mean the end of the journey. The goal is not to eradicate the disappointments, but to learn how to handle them, work through them, and move on.

No partner is perfect, probably not even Ryan, so you want to be equipped to face the let-downs without letting the whole thing falling apart.

Cupid's Advice:

The end of a relationship can either end very badly or in a beautiful friendship. Here are some ways to maintain a good relationship after a breakup:

1. Have friendly day dates: If you have been with someone for a long time and then break up, it's normal to still maintain some sort of friendly relationship. How do you save your relationship when it’s headed downhill?

Cupid’s Advice:

It takes a great deal of work to keep a relationship strong and healthy. When it seems that you and your man are headed in the wrong direction, here are some ways to reconnect and salvage the loving relationship you once had:

1. Get intimate: Actions say a lot more than words. Remind each other how comforting it is just to be touched or kissed. When you're not sure what to say, at least remind the other that you're there by offering a back massage or engaging in a passionate kiss.

2. Remember why you fell for each other: Do the things you used to do together. Go out to eat at that restaurant you had your first date. Take a walk through the park where he first kissed you. Bringing up old memories and reminding yourselves of the good times will help you rekindle your romance.

3. Get professional help: If you have tried communicating, but are not getting through to each other, seek out a professional. People don't like admitting they need help and therefore, relationship counselors get a negative connotation. However, therapy can be extremely helpful for the both of you as she or he is coming from an unbiased standpoint with the ability to see what you cannot.
