

Relationship Advice: An Unconventional Marriage

By Dr. Jane Greer

Once upon a time, there was a very clear, natural progression of how a couple moved from one phase of their relationship to another: they dated, became engaged, got married, and, finally, moved in together. Any other choice, years ago, would have been frowned upon and maybe even whispered about. Of course, that has all changed and now we see and generally accept any choice people make, in the order in which they make it, and the way in which they commit to each other – as long as both members of the couple are on board.

Relationship Expert Advice: Have a Relationship Your Way

Whether they want to live together first, have a family first, or, possibly even, commit their lives to each other and never share a home, it is all happening out there. For example, actress Kaley Cuoco and her husband Karl Cook choose to be in a committed, monogamous relationship but also choose to live apart. They tied the knot over a year ago but still maintain separate residences. Rather than worry about what family, friends, fans, and tabloids think of their arrangement, the busy pair say they value their independence, relish the time they spend together, and don't worry about what other people might be thinking. In other words, it works for them. There are pros and cons to every choice a couple makes as they build their life together and it is a matter of knowing what suits the individual people the best. So, how do you know if this possibility might be right for you? Will a situation like this enhance or hurt your relationship?

One question to ask yourself is how much do you need your privacy? Can you tolerate the company of another person without your own time over a 24-hour day? Consider also the accountability that can come with sharing a home with your partner, because sometimes even if you get up to simply go to the bathroom or kitchen your, partner might be curious about your whereabouts and ask you where you are going.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: What We Can Learn From the Trials and Triumphs of Celebrity Relationships

In addition, the practicality and logistics of your lives might make it difficult to uproot yourselves, especially if you live in different places. Deciding to have a long-distance marriage can give you the opportunity to share a life while maintaining priorities of work, family, and friends. This can be especially true if you find each other a little later in life. In that case, you may have fully established an autonomous lifestyle, which includes routines and habits that are hard to break, and in some ways might not be suitable for sharing a home with another person.

That can be the case even if you live just a few blocks away from each other. If you both find yourselves sharing these concerns – and you each already love the home you created and don't want to give it up – this might be a way to have it all. Similarly, if you each keep early, late, or unusual hours at work, and coming home could be disruptive to your partner, maybe even totally conflicting with their routine, or if you travel a lot anyway and, with that in mind, it doesn't make sense to combine households, this might be something to consider. Finally, if you have a beloved pet and your spouse is allergic, it could be a way to avoid a deal breaker and still make it all work.

Ultimately, there can be many upsides to this, even beyond holding on to your daily life as you know it. There is less of a chance to get on each other's nerves, since you always have a place to go to get away and you won't be forced to be together if you don't want to be. It can keep your love fresh and more romantic because you can exercise more control over your appearance and how you present yourself to your partner. And if you have different methods of keeping house, one of you is messy and the other a neat freak, this will allow you to just be yourselves in your own homes without bugging the other person.

Related Link: Relationship Advice: Talking Through the Tough Times

On the other hand, living apart can have a real downside. You are more likely to miss out on little moments – inside jokes and shared bedtime and morning rituals – and you're putting off the inevitable step of showing each other your authentic selves while you navigate the tricky waters of splitting up household responsibilities and chores. Because of this there, may be much less chance to learn to cooperate and work together as a team, which allows you to develop an up-and-running sense of partnership. You might not be there when you need each other, if one of you doesn't feel well, or if you want a spontaneous snuggle. It is also possible that you will feel judged by family or friends, and even strangers, for doing something that might be construed as different.

This is not a dish for everyone, but it might be for those with a particular taste. It offers the opportunity to marry the person you love despite obstacles you might not be willing to change, which would otherwise make getting married impossible for one or both of you. Being married but living apart might be an option to give life to your commitment instead of making it untenable. For now, Kaley and Karl are taking advantage of the upsides of living apart. They are building a life together and don't seem to be concerned that their relationship has been labeled "unconventional." Whatever decision you make for your relationship, know it is right for you, and try to tune out the noise, focus on each other, and continue planning for your future.

Celebrity Couple News: Kaley Cuoco & Karl Cook Still Don't Live Together 1 Year Into Marriage

By Ashley Johnson

Kaley Cuoco and Karl Cook gained attention in the latest celebrity news by rejecting traditional marriage norms. According to UsMagazine.com, they are still living separately after an entire year of marriage. Their lives and celebrity style keep them traveling and working in different locations, and ultimately apart from each other. While the celebrity couple has a rather unconventional living arrangement, it proves to have been successful, and the stars say that having their own space has worked well for them and their relationship.

In celebrity couple news, Kaley Cuoco is taking “unconventional” to the next level. What are some ways living with your partner can change your relationship?

Cupid’s Advice:

While Kaley Cuoco and Karl Cook may be living separately, for now, they eventually plan on moving into their dream house, which is currently in the works. Living together can be a whole new world and a big step for a relationship, but Cupid has some relationship advice on how to deal with the ways living with your partner can change your relationship:

1. No privacy: You are perhaps going from seeing your partner at least once a week to seeing them at least once a day. Co-habitation means you and your partner will be sharing multiple spaces together, whether it is the kitchen, bathroom, or bedroom. It is essential that you not only get comfortable sharing space and materials with your partner but also get comfortable sharing yourself with your partner. With a new lack of privacy, you and your partner will only learn more about each other and each other’s most personal habits, for better or for worse. Of course, no privacy does not mean you cannot set some boundaries for each other if you need to... and that can easily be done through honest communication!

2. New fights: A new living arrangement means new rules. While you may be used to living one way, that is certainly not the only way to live. You and your partner may have different cleaning habits, sleep habits, monetary habits, etc., and it can take some time to adjust to. It is unlikely you two are going to agree on every single thing, but you can learn to find common ground. Whether it is figuring out household chores or household finances, you are going to have to sit down with your partner to make a reasonable plan for both of your well-being.

3. More intimacy: Going to bed every night with your partner and waking up every morning together can create an important bond. Living together means your partner is going to be your “go-to” person. If you need a hug or just someone to sit and listen to a problem you are having, your partner is probably the first person you will run to. Whether it is through physical comfort or intimate conversations with each other throughout the day, you and your partner are definitely going to feel a whole lot closer to each other.

After 21 months of marriage, this celebrity breakup comes as a bit of a shock! UsMagazine.com reports that in April, Cuoco was defending Sweeting, making statements that she was proud to be Sweeting's wife and that all the negative talk about their relationship was just making them stronger. Either way, another one bites the dust!

Celebrity divorce strikes again! What do you do if you realize personality differences after you get married?

Cupid's Advice:

Personality differences don't have to be a bad thing. In fact, you don't want to date a mirror of yourself – that has divorce written all over it. Cupid has some tips on how to handle your relationship when you notice differences between you and your significant other.

1. Accept that your significant other is different than you: Remember, you don't want to date yourself (no matter how fabulous you are). Your partner brings different qualities and traits to the relationship and odds are you'll balance each other out.

Cuoco has faced constant rumors about her marriage to athlete Ryan Sweeting after their whirlwind romance. The famous couple tied the knot after dating for only three months and have been married for over a year, despite the celebrity divorce rumors. The actress took to social media this weekend to address the gossip, captioning an Instagram photo with this: “So all of you who take it upon yourselves to trash our marriage, daily workings of our relationship and everything in between, go ahead and keep doing it, cause it only makes us stronger – if you were smart, you would take a look at your own marriage, relationship, job etc., instead of focusing on someone else’s. You might be surprised at what you find. ‘You know my name, not my story.’” celebrity divorce rumors help to strengthen your relationship?

If you do, don't worry, because if their love is true then it will only bring them closer together, like Cuoco and Sweeting. Here's how rumors can actually strengthen your relationship and love life:

1. You'll lean on each other for support: When your relationship is being attacked via rumors and gossip and you both know that they are untrue, it will make you lean on your significant other in ways you never have before. How do you juggle friends and a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Especially if you're used to it being just you and your friends, adding a significant other to the midst of your social life can make things complicated. But, don't worry, you don't have to completely reorganize your schedule. Just incorporate some of our tips below!

1. Update your schedule: Figure out which days of the week you're willing/available to spend time with your significant other. If your friends plan a weekly game night on Thursdays, don't skip it just to hang out with your new flame. Make sure that the time you're spending with your new boyfriend/girlfriend isn't interfering with your friend time.

2. It's the little things: It can be hard to stick to a schedule every week when so many things can pop up and throw us off our game. If this happens, make sure you're inviting a friend for a quick lunch or dinner if you've been spending more time with your significant other this week/month and vice versa.

3. Integrate them into your friend group: The easiest way to spend equal time with both parties is to do it at the same time! Slowly introduce your new boyfriend/girlfriend to your friend group so that your friends want you to bring him/her to game night or on other outings.

The Pros and Cons of a Whirlwind Romance

By Whitney Johnson

Taking a cue from some of our favorite celebrity couples – Kaley Cuoco and Ryan Sweeting, Kate Hudson and Matt Bellamy, and Jessica Simpson and Eric Johnson, to name a few – we thought it'd be fun to explore the benefits and pitfalls of quickie engagements. Plus, it's a topic our executive editor knows quite well: She got engaged to her now-husband after only nine weeks of dating! It's not a decision to make lightly though. Here are three pros and three cons of a whirlwind romance – all important things to consider before giving your heart away.

Related Link: Why Celebrities Fall In and Out of Love So Quickly

Pros

1. You tackle the big issues immediately: Under typical dating circumstances, you may not discuss the serious stuff – how many times your heart's been broken, what you want in a future spouse, how many kids you want – until a few months into your relationship. With a whirlwind romance, you're forced to get down to the nitty-gritty details if you truly want a future together.

2. There's no time for apprehension: Every relationship reaches a turning point where it's easy to let fear control your actions. When you're falling in love fast, you tend to focus on the good instead of the bad, running to your destiny instead of away from it. "There's momentum and clear interest," explains relationship expert Michelle Smith. "Everyone loves being loved, so when the feeling is mutual and obvious, sparks are going to fly."

3. It's a refreshing type of love: Sometimes, we can get burdened down with the complications that inevitably come with true love. A whirlwind romance, though, offers you a lightheartedness that's a great beginning for any relationship. "This fresh and free perspective is important to note,” shares life coach Kimberly Friedmutter. “You’re not weighted down by expectations, and it’s so much easier to breathe and just enjoy yourself.”

Cons

1. You may not have a strong foundation: The healthiest relationships are built on a friendship, but if you’ve only known each other for a few weeks, you may not have that solid starting point. “Relationships should get better over time, and you should build on the connection you started with,” says relationship expert Andrea Syrtash. “When you immediately relate in a heightened way, it’s tough to build from there. Whirlwind romances that start too fast can sometimes end too fast...”

2. You miss out on really dating each other: The first few weeks of a relationship, appropriately dubbed the “honeymoon phase,” are filled with light-hearted and carefree experiences. If you jump right into something more serious, you lose this fun time with your partner. It’s easy to combat this potential pitfall: You should “date” your significant other always, whether you’re newly together, engaged, or married.

3. You (or your partner) might be in it for the wrong reasons: If you’re getting over a broken heart or perhaps a bit bored with your current life, it’s tempting to turn to romance to fill that void. After all, there’s nothing like the allure of a handsome Prince Charming and a perfectly-fitted glass slipper! On the flip side, it’s hard to truly know someone you just met, so your partner may be looking for an escape as well.

Kaley Cuoco and Ryan Sweeting Take Mini-Honeymoon at Disneyland

By April Littleton

According to People, Kaley Cuoco and husband Ryan Sweeting took a mini-honeymoon to Disneyland. Sweeting wore a first pin and a Fantasia hat. Cuoco sported pink Minnie Mouse ears. The Big Bang Theory actress documented most of the day via Instagram. "Mini honeymoon at the happiest place on earth! @ryansweething #myhusbandisadisneyvirgin," she wrote, along with a picture of the couple at the park.

Where are some quick honeymoon destinations?

Cupid's Advice:

Honeymoons are a great way to spend the first moments of your new marriage with your honey. What type of honeymoon you decide to go on depends on your personality, what your partner enjoys doing and what the two of you agree on as a couple. Cupid has some tips:

1. The islands: Most couples love the idea of going on a romantic, island honeymoon getaway. You and your honey can rush off to Hawaii or another island of your choice. You can soak up some sun, learn how to surf or go shark diving. The memories you create with your partner during a honeymoon like this will be unforgettable.

2. Bed and breakfast: Nothing will get as intimate as having your honeymoon at a bed and breakfast. Think about the tranquility of the environment and the complete isolation from the city. You and your significant other can enjoy some much-needed time alone.

3. For the adrenaline junkie: If you or your companion prefer a bit more of an exciting vacation together, think about spending a week or so out camping or in the mountains. You can catch fish, go skiing, sledding, etc. You'll probably be on the go at all times and you might be able to experience a new activity or skill.

Celebrity Couple Predictions: Amber Heard, Kaley Cuoco and Hilary Duff

By: Shoshi

For today's column, let's take a look at three celebrity couples who have made headlines lately for shocking relationship moves – whether it's a surprise engagement, a quickie marriage after a whirlwind romance, or a separation announcement from a seemingly happy couple.

Amber Heard and Johnny Depp: Depp recently announced his recent engagement to actress Heard. Two words that came to mind when I heard this news were “hot mess.” Not because I think it’s too soon for the actor to be in a serious relationship, but because this relationship has signs of doom written all over it.

The 27-year-old actress met her 50-year-old fiancé while working on The Rum Diaries. There have been so many allegations about their romance that it’s hard to know what to believe. The main rumor that stands out is that Depp and Heard broke up not that long ago so that she could date a woman. He somehow won her back and put a ring on it.

The only thing that is clear in this relationship is that Depp is trying his best to keep Heard around. What better way than to get married! Their relationship energy is two lost souls floundering around. The biggest question is how long can the actor can keep his partner entertained before she wants to leave again. I hope he’s smart enough to get a good prenup, as there’s no way this relationship is going to last.

On another note, the media keeps trying to make it seem like Depp’s ex, Vanessa Paradis, is jealous over his engagement. This rumor couldn’t be further from the truth. Paradis left Depp; she was the one who didn’t want to get married. Depp has repeatedly confirmed this truth in interviews since their split, and his ex has moved on.

Kaley Cuoco and Ryan Sweeting: The Big Bang Theory actress ended a relationship with Henry Cavill and pulled the ultimate bounce back: She fell in love with tennis player, Ryan Sweeting, and got married. If you blinked, you may have missed the whole thing. The couple dated for only five months before sprinting down the aisle.

There is something rather awesome about this marriage. It’s a classic case of “you know when you know.” Sure, they got married quickly, but when I look at their relationship, it looks like they both knew it was meant to be. Cuoco was looking for something different when she met Sweeting. They’ve been together before in a past life, which is why it felt so comfortable when they met this time around.

The bets have started on when they’ll divorce, but save your money. These two are going to be together for awhile. Don’t be surprised if a baby announcement comes within a matter of months. Baby energy is swirling around the blonde beauty. Since they’re having so much fun together, Cuoco would like to wait a little bit before having kids, but babies have a way of sneaking in when they’re ready.

Hilary Duff and Mike Comrie: Looks like one Disney princess is about to get a divorce from her Prince Charming. This move comes as a surprise to many people who thought that Duff and Comrie were a happily married couple. As I look at the singer’s energy, she’s in a totally different place than she was when she got married. A part of her looked up to Comrie as her older and wiser lover. Well, getting married and having a baby will make a woman grow up really quickly. Long story short, she snapped out of it.

Duff will always have love in her heart for Comrie, but it’s not the kind of love that keeps a marriage going strong. The passion between the two of them left a long time ago. It also looks like Duff considers Comrie a big turnoff, and once a woman is turned off by a man, it’s hard to go back.

It’s great that they tried everything in their power to stay together, but it’s time for them to both move on. Duff is going to come back with a resurgence in her career. She’s going to gain some new fans with her hot MILF status, but dating will not be her priority; she will be focused on being a single mother during this new chapter in her life.

Kaley Cuoco's 'Big Bang' Co-Stars Says Ryan Sweeting Will 'Take Great Care' of Her

By Louisa Gonzales

Kaley Cuoco's relationship with Ryan Sweetings bloomed fast and has received skepticism from some, but not from her Big Bang Theory co-star. Co-star Kunal Nayyar, 32, only has positive things to say about their relationship. Nayyar tells People at the 2014 Golden Globes that he thinks they're great for each other and expresses only his full support. He went on to explain how they are 'family'. The newly wed couple married on New Year's Eve.

What do you do if your friends are not supportive of your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

When you are at a good place in your relationship with your partner and think you may have found 'the one' it is a major buzz kill when your friends don't think so and tell you things such as 'you can do better' and 'they're not right for you'. Support from your friends is something you need and want. Cupid has some advice on how to handle friends disapproving of your relationship:

1. Try to change their minds: Try to get your friends to see the positive sides of your relationship and see your 'love' the way you do. Explain to them how and why your honey makes you happy. Maybe arrange a time for you, your lovebird, and friends to get together and hangout to get to know each other better. Ask them to give your lover a chance to win their approval.

2. Take their thoughts into consideration: It is always best to listen to what your friends have to say. Tell your friends you will think about what they have told you. Who knows maybe they have valid points that you just didn't want to see. However, ultimately let them know the decision to remain a couple or not are entirely your choice as it is your life.

3. Agree to disagree or find new supportive friends: If in the end you can't change their opinions than either ignore them or find new friends to surround yourself with. Maybe they are not the right friends for you and you need to find pals who do respect your choices in partners. Your friends might have biased opinions. Don't let it affect your relationship as only you can decide what is right for you.

As the pictures reveal, it was a perfect start to the New Year for these lovebirds.

What are some ways to make your wedding extra special?

Cupid's Advice:

Your wedding day is one of the most exciting milestones you'll reach. Everyone deserves for their big day to be as special and memorable as possible:

1. Personalize the details: Instead of just getting a wedding planner to help you book whatever DJ is hot at the time or decide on whatever flower arrangements match the season, make your wedding special by having the details reflect you and your fiancée's relationship and tastes. Was one of your first dates at a concert or a fun jazz club? Why not have your music bring back that special memory from your relationship? What were the first flowers he gave you? Why not incorporate them into your arrangement? It's those little details that will make the day more special for the both of you.

2. Pick a date that works best for important guests: You can't satisfy everyone's schedule, but before you send out a Save the Date based on when a venue is available, consult the friends and family members you couldn't imagine not having on your big day. After all, they'll make your day feel more special than any venue or band could.

3. Make everyone feel included in your celebration: You can only have a certain amount of bridesmaids and groomsmen, but there are still ways to make other people feel included on your special day. Dedicating a song to your guests that are friends from college, or asking relatives or old friends to make a toast are ways everyone will feel involved. Does your fiancée have a sibling or close family member that's not involved in the wedding party already? Why not leave something special at the place they'll be sitting for the reception. A way of showing how excited you are that you're now family. The more people involved, the more special and memorable it will be for everyone.

Kaley Cuoco Celebrates Bridal Shower with Famous Friends

By April Littleton

According to UsMagazine.com, Kaley Cuoco celebrated her future walk down the aisle with a bridal shower Saturday, Nov. 23. Some of the guests included Ali Fedotowsky, Lacey Chabert and Melissa Rauch. The bride-to-be wore a floral-printed dress with a collared neckline and blue heels. Cuoco and fiancé Ryan Sweeting got engaged just three months after dating.

How do you decide who to invite to your bridal shower?

Cupid's Advice:

Creating a long list of names for an event like a bridal shower can seem like a difficult and tedious task. Who do you invite and who will have to miss out on all the fun? It's impossible to hold a shower with every single one of your family members, friends and co-workers in attendance. Unfortunately, you'll have to narrow it down. Cupid has some tips:

1. Ask for help: You generated a list of all of the potential invitees, which may include your friends and family, along with some of your partner's. Now you're left with the challenging task of condensing the list. If you can't do it on your own, ask someone you trust to look over the list. They'll be able to give you some much needed input on who should be at your shower versus the people who'll need to sit this one out.

2. Small or big get-together: Think about what kind of bridal shower you want. Do you want a big, fancy shindig or would you rather keep it simple with a few close friends around? Keep in mind that the bigger your party is, the more expensive it will be.

Related: Leighton Meester and Adam Brody Are Engaged!

3. Same as the wedding guests: To make things easier on yourself, just invite the same people you're inviting your wedding (unless you're having a huge ceremony). Another option you could try is simply inviting all the people who you know can't make it to your wedding – that way they can still wish the bride well without any hard feelings.

Kaley Cuoco Admits Surprise Engagement Seems 'a Little Crazy'

By April Littleton

A few days after UsMagazine.com broke the news of Kaley Cuoco's engagement, the Big Bang Theory actress admitted that the proposal even shocked her. "He surprised me at the end of the night... [when] he popped the ring out. It was amazing," she told Entertainment Tonight. Cuoco and boyfriend, Ryan Sweeting have been dating for three months.

How do you know when you're ready to tie the knot?

Cupid's Advice:

You've been planning out all of the details of your wedding since you were young, and now you've finally found someone who could possibly be the one you spend the rest of your life with. How do you know if it's really the right time for marriage? Cupid has some tips:

1. You just know: Sometimes you just know when someone is the right one for you. You're in love, have a great relationship and can't see yourself with anyone else. Some of your friends and family might not understand your decision to get married, but once they see the love between you and your partner as you walk down the aisle, they'll be more than OK with how things played out.

2. Time: You don't need to rush to get married. You and your significant other should think long and hard about the possibility of a future wedding and both of you need to agree that it's the right move to make. Remember, the importance of a marriage isn't about the wedding itself, it's about staying married to the same person for the rest of your life. Make sure you're ready for that.

3. Friends: If you're still unsure if you're doing what's best, talk to some of your friends. They can see your relationship from a different perspective than you can. How do they feel about your partner? Do they see it lasting long-term? Take their opinions and concerns to heart when you're making a final decision.
