Weddings are definitely a time of pure and wonderful bliss. While there are certainly a lot of little details to plan, one of the key elements to any wedding is location! If you’re wondering if a resort wedding is for you, Cupid has some benefits that might just interest you:

Kate Upton Admits Fiance Justin Verlander Will Hate One Aspect of Their Celebrity Wedding

By Noelle Downey

Celebrity couple Kate Upton and Justin Verlander have hit a minor snag while planning for their upcoming celebrity wedding

– Verlander is allergic to the main decorations! According to UsMagazine.com, Upton, who announced her celebrity engagement to adorable athlete Verlander in 2016, confessed that while she wants, “a lot of flowers” and “petals already down by the time my niece, who will be my flower girl, walks down the aisle” she is also aware that this may be a bit of a struggle for her handsome soon-to-be-husband. “Justin has terrible allergies!” she admitted, “He’ll have to take any allergy pill.”

A celebrity wedding wouldn't be complete without flowers ...even if your fiance is allergic! What are some ways to make your wedding pretty without flowers?

Cupid's Advice:

Any relationship flourishes when compromises are considered. So if your special someone is sniffing when it comes to saying your vows in the midst of all that allergy-inducing pollen, here are Cupid's top three alternatives to make your special day still as gorgeous as ever:

1. Handmade bouquets: While it may sound tacky at first, it's amazing the kind of realism and beauty that can be captured by tissue paper flowers. Check out online art stores like Etsy for pretty pre-made alternatives when it comes flowers and patrol sites like Pinterest if you feel up to the crafty challenge of creating your own bridal bouquet. If you're looking for the essence of flowers without the smell, the pollen or the cost, check out tissue paper flowers, a genuinely pretty alternative that will add a touch of extra care to your already gorgeous ceremony.

2. Concentrate on lighting: If you're forgoing flowers entirely, why not focus on another vital and often underutilized way to make everything sparkle; the lighting. Using Christmas or twinkle lights to add some starry shine to your big day, or walking down the aisle via flickering candlelight are two great ways to show off your style when it comes to your wedding. Based on your venue, try floating paper lanterns or light streaming through prisms for a rainbow effect to add your own personal touch to the lighting on your wedding day. A bonus to this tactic is good lighting makes for great photos, so your wedding pictures could come out looking even more beautiful than you ever expected.

3. Rely on lace: If what attracts you to flowers is their delicate prettiness, why not try lace as an alternative? Its gorgeous spidery beauty could outshine any flower when used correctly. Use lace and sprigs of white (fake) flowers to decorate the church or other venue, then fashion some lacy roses out of your favorite delicate white fabric for your bouquet. Have your attendants carry matching ones in different shades for a special stand-out look that will be elegant and eye-catching.

1. Spa day: One of the best things you can do for yourself before your wedding is to go to a spa. Splurge on a massage or a facial that will get you photo-ready for your big day. Diddy tweeted, “Attention all Media. I don’t even know Kate Upton personally!...I’m not dating her! What’s being reported is not true. END of story!” Upton’s response was, “Really??? Not at all true...”

How do you keep rumors from negatively affecting your relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner should watch carefully out for rumors. For which, they can thoroughly affect your relationship, and not in a positive manner. Although rumors can negatively affect your relationship, there are ways to distance them from you and your mate. Cupid has some more advice on this:

1. Communication: You and your beau need to communicate with one another if rumors are present in your relationship. Make sure you both know the rumors floating around, and the physical truth. Talk to each other of how you can abolish them, and what you can do as a couple to strengthen your relationship. Rumors can negatively affect your relationship, but if you talk to your mate, rumors are not factor.

2. Ignore them: As with communication, the first step with rumors is to talk to your partner about them. However, you have to leave them aside. Do not let them get under you or your mate's skin. If you let the people spreading lies about your relationship get to you, your relationship will suffer. After you discussed the rumors with your beau, don't think about it again. Let them go.

3. Don't dwell: Dwelling on situations or rumors will negatively affect you and your partner's relationship. Hence why you should not dwell on the rumors going around. Although it may be challenging to not think about the rumors and why someone started them, it is possible. And as soon as you make it possible, your relationship will not suffer negatively whatsoever.

Celebrity News: Kate Upton Responds to Viral Video Prom Invitation

By Jessica

Conigliaro

According to People, after being asked to his prom through a YouTube video, Kate Upton just had to respond to high school senior Jake Davidson. “When a guy has a good sense of humor and confidence, that’s attractive,” she says. “This video was creative and funny. It made me laugh, and everyone loves a good laugh! Upton explains. “I’m not sure if I’ll be able to go with him or not, due to my schedule,” she says. “I want to, but I just don’t know if I can make it work. But I really appreciated being asked; it made me feel really great!”

What are three unique ways to ask someone to be your date?

Cupid’s Advice:

Asking someone out can be a stressful and worrisome experience. You want to be with the guy but don't want to embarrass yourself if he is not interested. Cupid's here to offer some advice:

1. Get creative: You have been crushing on one of your guy friends for the past few weeks and want to get the ball rolling already. Why not make it fun? Take the man you're interested in to a local park and ask him out while you both are on the swings. The guy will feel special while gliding through the air with you. Find a fun place you both enjoy going to and ask them out. Your crush will realize how much fun being around you is and will be sure to say yes.

2. Utilize their hobbies: The guy you are interested in teaches guitar lessons to young kids. Show him you're interested and ask him to teach you how to play. Once you get the hang of the strings, play him a silly song and ask him out after you are done. The guy will love watching you perform for him and will want to learn more about you.

3. Make a big gesture: Your crush is definitely the life of the party. He is always the one making jokes and is friends with everyone. He's the kind of guy that creates a scene, so of course he'll respond well to yours. Throw a party with all of your friends and invite him as well. Make a tray of his favorite appetizers and spell out the word 'date?' with it. Cover the surprise with aluminum foil and ask the guy you've been crushing on to get it from the kitchen. Once he reads the words, he is sure to have a good laugh and accept the invitation.

Kate Upton Responds to Victoria's Secret Snub

The modeling industry is full of critics, but the cover girl for Sport's Illustrated Swimsuit's 2012, Kate Upton, showed she can handle the competition and criticism with as much beauty as she exudes in her photos. Recently, Victoria's Secret casting director, Sophia Neophitou, said Upton would never walk down the catwalk for the famous lingerie company. According to UsMagazine.com, Neophitou said that Upton was "like a Page 3 girl," and added, "She's like a footballer's wife, with the too-blond hair and that kind of face that anyone with enough money can go out and buy." Even though the comments were harsh, Neophitou's words didn't seem to phase the model, and she politely responded to the slams by saying, "I'm doing fine in my career, I don't need to walk down their runway so it's all good. She can think that, and I can think whatever I want about her."

What are some positive ways to deal with negative comments?

Cupid's Advice:

Being able to take criticism and negative comments gracefully without getting caught up in drama is a great trait to possess. Cupid has some tips to help you be the bigger person in a bad situation:

1. Confidence: Anyone who's trying to break you down with negative comments doesn't deserve to see you act vulnerably, so stay confident. Stand up for yourself without criticizing the other person, and you'll win the battle.

2. Class: Perhaps the worst thing you can do is to give in to the teasing, and join in by firing back with more negativity. Nothing good can come out of it, and you'll leave feeling defeated and frustrated. Instead, ignore their comments or use the criticism constructively to better yourself.

3. Turn the tables: No matter what age you are, you're going to come across bullies. If someone starts bothering on you, calmly and curiously ask them, "Why do you feel the need to pick on me? What did I do to you?" Often, they're not going to have a justified reason, and it has a lot to do with their own insecurities.
