How do you quickly adapt to the idea of having a baby?

Cupid's Advice:

Pregnancies aren't always planned, so it's often necessary to come to grips with the idea of having a baby quickly. Here are some things to consider:

1. Tell your family: Telling your family about your unplanned pregnancy can be difficult, but there are a myriad of benefits. They can be a valuable source of support when it comes to difficult decisions, can provide financial help, and may even go with you to your appointments.

2. Stay healthy: Be aware of necessary lifestyle changes such as the one Jack Osbourne plans to make for his baby. Make smart diet choices as well as smart physical choices. Avoid alcohol and dangerous movements.

3. Trust the professionals: When in doubt, there is no better advice given than that of your doctor. Make sure to have regular appointments with your doctor, and don't be afraid to ask them any questions you may have.

How do you balance an impending marriage and soon-to-be parenthood?

Cupid’s Advice:

Though both wedding planning and pregnancy are exhausting, it is possible to balance both. Here are a few suggestions:

- 1. Enlist help: Planning a wedding is difficult even for people who aren’t pregnant. If a wedding planner is outside the budget, rely on your bridesmaids or phone a close friend for some extra help.
- 2. Remember your schedule: If you’re planning on getting married while pregnant, make sure to keep your biological calendar in mind. For example, don’t buy a wedding dress that will soon be too small.

3. Take it one step at a time: If planning the wedding is too stressful or if you're having a rough pregnancy, it's okay to put the wedding on hold. Extend your engagement and wait for a time when you're feeling up to the task.
