Does flirting with the opposite sex help relieve the pain of a break-up?

Cupid's Advice:

Flirting can help when you're fresh out of a relationship because it can boost your confidence with potential lovers.

Here are some tips to help you get back into the game:

1. Timing is key: It's important to remember the "mourning period" that follows a break-up. Give yourself some time to get over your ex before you start turning up the flirt. After all, nobody likes thinking about their ex when they're with someone else.

2. Man overboard: The key with flirting is that it's like alcohol—best in moderation. Taking it too far is not only a sign that you're not over your ex, but you just look silly.

3. Be playful: Remember, it's just flirting. Similar to Anthony, keep it fun, but don't try to get a rebound right after a break-up.

How do you announce your divorce to family and friends?

Cupid’s Advice:

When divorcing, it’s always better to tell your family and friends right away rather than procrastinating. Here are some ways to break the news:

1. All at once: To avoid telling the same story time and time again, round everyone up at once. Invite your soon-to-be ex-husband or ex-wife, and just as you announced your marriage to them, announce your divorce.

2. Don’t mind judgment: Divorce is frowned upon by many people, and this may happen once you break the news to the important people in your life. However, you should overlook any negativity, because at the end of the day, you are doing what’s best for you.

3. Keep it cordial: No matter what the reason for the divorce may be, let your family and friends know that you will be mature about the situation. Keep it civil with your old lover. This should release a lot of the tension in the room and prevent any misunderstandings between your ex-husband or ex-wife and your family and friends.
