Kate Hudson Opens Up About Celebrity Break-Up From Matt Bellamy

By Katie Gray

In celebrity news, Kate Hudson recently opened up about her celebrity break-up from Matt Bellamy, as the two are no longer a celebrity couple. According to UsMagazine.com, Kate Hudson explained the two ended their celebrity engagement due to different visions of what their future would look like together. The previous pair hope to maintain a friendship. Hudson's relationship advice is, "Relationships ending are painful, and you can choose to carry that or you can choose to reframe it."

The details are coming out about this celebrity break-up! What are some ways to know you aren't meant to be for the long-term?

Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes you see a future with somebody and then you realize that what you had envisioned is different from what your partner had in mind. In some cases, this means it's time to go separate ways. Cupid has some advice on how to know if you're not meant for a long-term relationship:

1. Different goals: Sometimes you love a person a lot, but when it comes down to it, you have different goals. If one person really wants to get married and have children, but their partner doesn't ever want that, then they either need to compromise or part ways. It's important for a majority of life goals to be the same!

2. Different paths: Oftentimes people travel different roads in life at different times, and that's okay, because we are all unique. We create our own paths in this beautiful thing called life. If you're not going the same direction as your partner though, it could be a sign that you're not meant to be. You have to be at least headed in the same direction when it comes to life aspirations and routines.

3. Different lifestyles: Opposites do attract, however; birds of a feather flock together too. If your lifestyle is completely opposite from your partner's, then you may run into issues at some point and need to call it quits. If one partner wants to go out and party a lot, but the other partner is a homebody – there will be a clash. The person you spend forever with, needs to have somewhat of a similar lifestyle!

Kate Hudson and Matthew Bellamy Spotted Shopping in Aspen Post-Split

By Courtney Omernick

Who says exes can't be friends? Kate Hudson and Matthew Bellamy were spotted in Aspen this week as they were finishing some Christmas shopping, according to UsMagazine.com. The pair recently ended their relationship after a three-year engagement. Hudson and Bellamy have one child together, son Bingham.

How do you know how much space to give your ex post-split?

Cupid's Advice:

Breakups can have different outcomes depending on the couple. Sometimes, it's mutually beneficial and no harm has been done. Other times, one or both members are left feeling many different emotions all at once. So how do you know how much space to give your ex post-split? Cupid has listed some tips below:

1. Assess their emotions: If it was a mutual breakup and the other person also clearly thought that it was for the best, you probably don't have to give them too much space. However, if you both disagreed about the breakup and there are hard feelings, you may want to give your ex more space before you're able to be friends or hang out post-split.

2. Consider how long you've known them: If the two of you have been friends since you were teenagers and you've been dating for the last five years and if the relationship didn't end because of a cheating scandal, you won't have to give the other person too much space. But if you haven't known each other very long and it ended because you both want to go different directions with your lives, you might want to hold off on a lot of contact.

3. Blended friend group: If you've been together for a long time or if you both work at the same office, went to the same school, etc., you might have the same friends, and you may not be able to take a break from each other for long. If this is the case, you should figure out how to behave around each other as friends as quickly as possible.

Reese Witherspoon & Jim Toth
Double Date with Kate Hudson
& Matt Bellamy

Onlookers told People that the group “seemed to be having lots of fun.” Witherspoon was spotted laughing the night away with her friends and enjoying a delicious meal of fresh baby artichoke, lemon vinaigrette salad along with spinach fettuccine with veal Bolognese sauce.

What are some advantages of going on a double date?

Cupid’s Advice:

Many couples associate double dating with a much younger and less serious kind of dating. Group movie dates and making out in parked cars come to mind. However, group dates can be extremely beneficial when pursuing serious relationships later in life. Here’s how:

1. It allows you to get to know your date: If you met your date through a friend, a double date could take the edge off the initial “getting to know you” period, prompting him to share more than he may have if the two of you had gone out one-on-one.

2. It allows your friends to get to know you and your date as a couple: If your friends are not used to being around you and your beau together, a double date is the easiest way to work them into your circle of friends. Let your friends see what you love about your partner.

3. It can help you get a different perspective: If you are uncertain about how you feel about your date, take him out on a double date. Your friends may be able to validate some of the issues you have or help you realize that you are just being overly-critical of your new man.

Actress Kate Hudson has been engaged to the Muse lead vocalist and guitarist, Matt Bellamy for about a year, and he will remain her fiance for now. "Darling once again twisted the truth. They aren't married." said the tweet according to People. The happy couple gave birth to their son Bingham last July, but are waiting to tie the knot until a later date.

What are some ways to keep your wedding date a secret?

Cupid's Advice:

Weddings can be a big to-do, and some couples who want to keep things low key may decide to keep their wedding date a mystery. Cupid has some tips to keep the word of the wedding getting out:

1. Run away: Perhaps the easiest way to keep anyone from finding out about your wedding is to elope sporadically. If you plan to elope, you might break down in excitement and tell someone, but if you go on a whim, only you and your fiance will know.

2. Don't go public: Sure, people may know you're engaged, but who says you have to announce a wedding date? Keep the date strictly between yourself and a few loved ones so you can keep things as private as possible.

3. Last Minute: Planning a wedding can be stressful, so take the stress out and plan a quick last minute wedding without all the fuss of decorations and a guest list. Only tell the people close to you a few days beforehand and word is less likely to get around.

What are some differences when raising a boy versus a girl?

Cupid's Advice:

There are many differences between raising a boy and a girl. Girls tend to cling more to their mother while boys are more around their father. You notice these differences as they grow, but here are three that might surprise you:

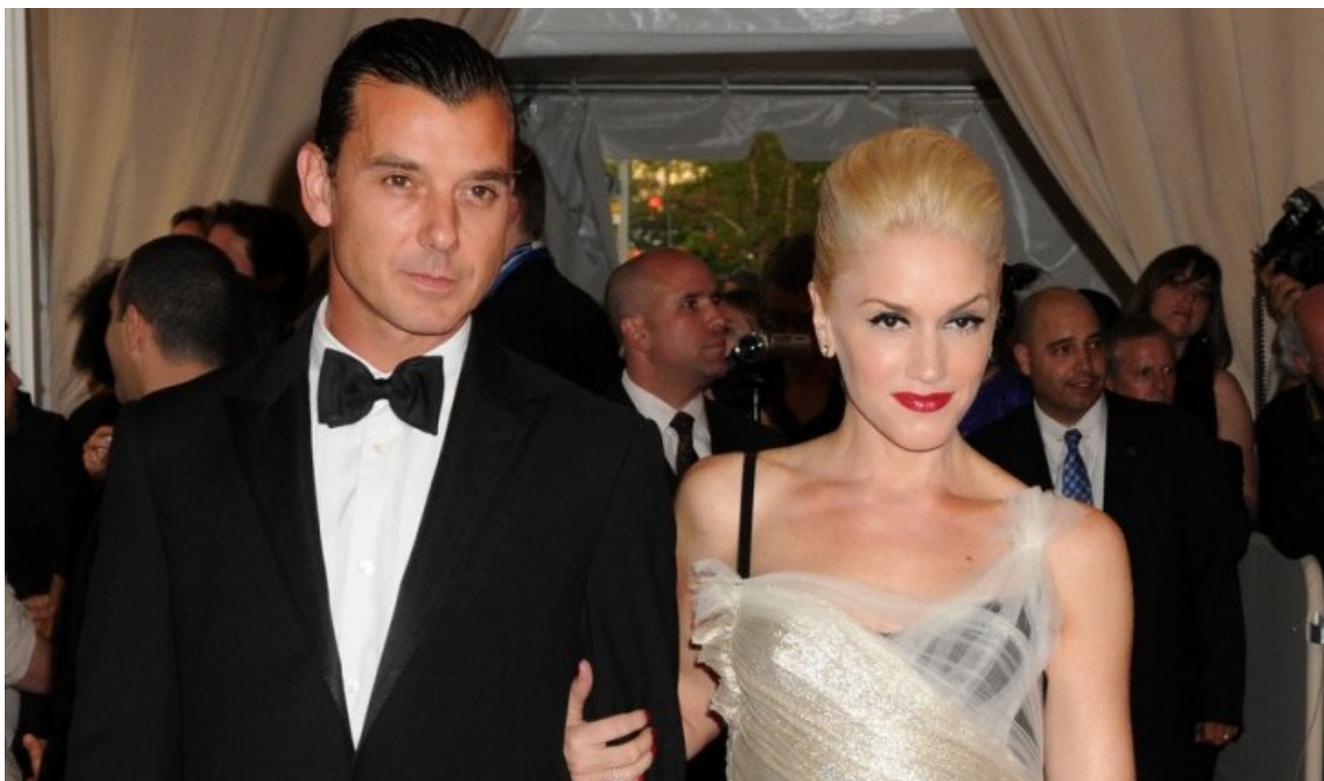

1. Movements: According to research, girls learn to walk and talk before boys. Once they are past preschool, boys are stronger and better at athletics, while girls excel at school.

2. Emotional: Boys might appear to be less emotional compared to girls, but one study reveals that they are in fact more emotional than their female counterparts.

3. Motor skills: According to Parenting.com, girls learn how to use kitchen utensils, toys, and how to write neatly sooner than a boy does.

Kate Hudson and Matt Bellamy Are Engaged!

Kate Hudson, America's favorite blonde beauty, announced her engagement Wednesday to Matthew Ballamy on the Today show. After Matt Lauer noticed her ring, the actress proclaimed, “I’m engaged! It just happened a week ago. I’m so glad you noticed. I haven’t really announced it. ... I was waiting for someone to notice.” According to People, she would not reveal any more about the engagement ... only that it was very romantic.

Does it take the intimacy out of your proposal story if you share it?

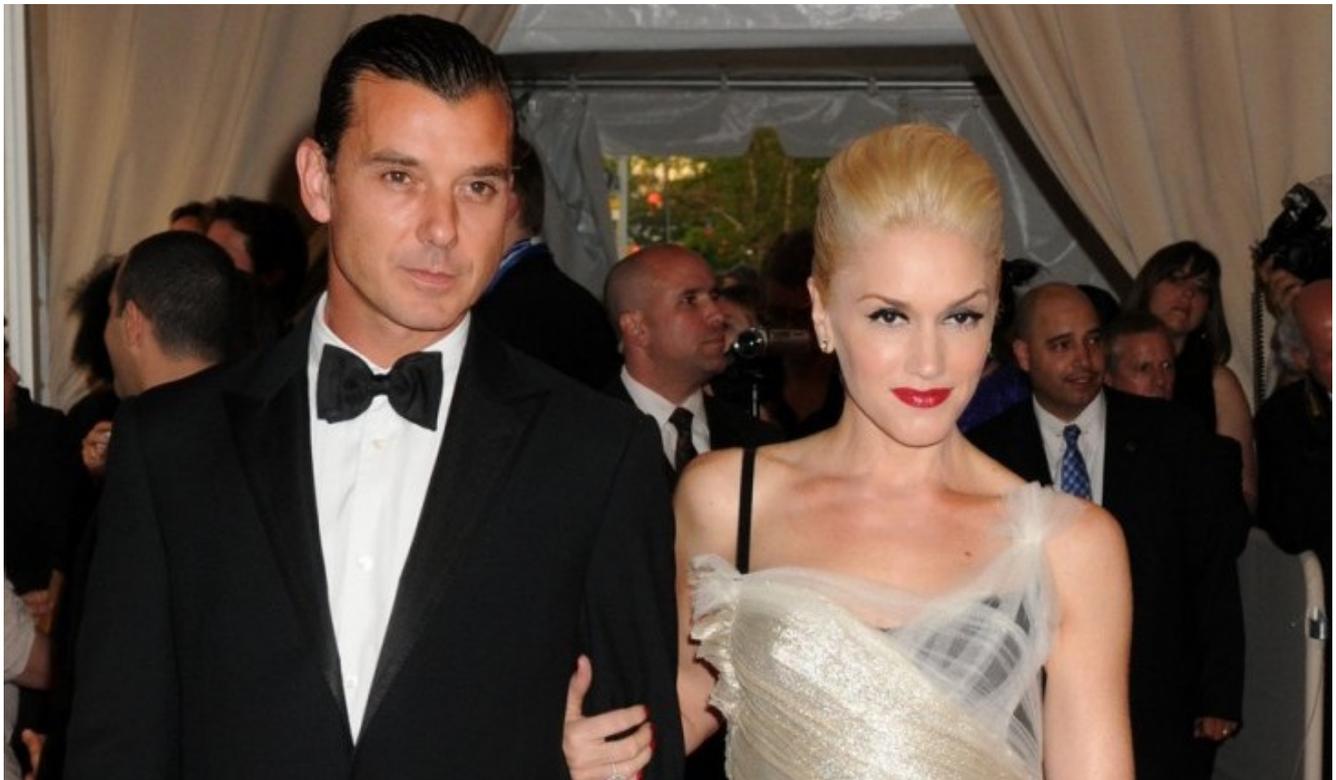

Cupid’s Advice:

Though secret proposals and/or marriages may seem romantic, most people who go that route find it difficult to keep something so joyous a secret. It’s not a matter of intimacy; it’s a matter of practicality:

- 1. Give me a ring: Even if you choose not to share your engagement with friends and family, the ring is a dead giveaway.
- 2. Share the love: You may agree to keep your engagement a secret, but one of you is bound to crack.
- 3. Eloping: It ends up being more of a surprise than secret.

People reports Hudson, 31, told InStyle that what made her fall in love with her British rock star boyfriend was his kindness. “Matthew was polite and immediately protective, which for somebody like me who’s all over the place – one minute I’m over here and the next I’m over there – is important... He is just an amazing person.”

Is it important for your partner to be protective of you?

Cupid’s Advice:

Being protective is wonderful, but it’s easy to cross the line into being overprotective. Cupid has some tips on how much your mate should defend you:

1. The good: It’s extremely important that your mate at least feels protective of you. That way you know that someone's always got your back no matter what.

2. The bad: Sometimes a partner can use being protective as an excuse to be possessive and keep you from doing things you want to do. Make sure your significant other isn't crossing the line.

3. The ugly: Being watchful over you can sometimes result from jealousy. If your significant other won't let you see certain people, talk to him or her about the real reason for their sheltering.

Matt Bellamy Thanks Pregnant Girlfriend Kate Hudson at Grammys

At the Grammys, Muse's lead singer Matt Bellamy was a winner in more ways than one. When the band accepted the Grammy for Best Rock Album on Sunday night, he seized the opportunity to gush about his girlfriend, Kate Hudson, in a very public way. UsMagazine.com reports that Bellamy, 32, ended his band's acceptance speech by thanking his "beautiful pregnant girlfriend." Hudson was present at the show, but didn't walk the red carpet. The 31-year-old actress, who has a 7-year-old son with ex-husband Chris Robinson, has said that she doesn't think she will get married again.

What are ways to thank your partner for being there for you?

Cupid's Advice:

While most of us don't have the chance to thank our significant others on TV in front of millions of people, there are plenty of everyday opportunities to say thanks for being there. Cupid has some ideas on how to show you care:

1. It's the little things: Attention all men: no woman doesn't like getting flowers. She'll like it even more if you give them to her out of the blue just to let her know you appreciate her.

2. Put yourself out there: If you want to thank your partner for being there, doing it front of an audience shows you're not afraid to celebrate your love publicly. Try making a speech at your mate's birthday party or on your anniversary in front of your friends.

3. Actions speak louder than words: Thanking your significant other doesn't always mean saying "thank you" out loud; it's about showing you're thankful by doing something for them. If your partner nags you about how messy you are, try cleaning the house before they come home.

Why Kate Hudson Kept Pregnancy a Secret

Kate Hudson isn't keeping quiet any longer. The actress has publicly announced that she is pregnant with her second child by her rockstar boyfriend Matthew Bellamy, People reports. Hudson tells The Times that she has been having bouts of morning sickness but couldn't tell anyone, not even her closest friends. "But I didn't want anyone to know for a long time," she said. "I was just hoping that all of a sudden, I could show up somewhere with a big belly." Hudson says her due date will come this summer, making her son, Ryder, 7, who she had with her ex-husband Chris Robinson, a big brother.

Should you keep the news of your pregnancy from your friends?

Cupid's Advice:

There are few things more exciting in life than announcing a pregnancy to all of your friends and family. But sometimes, depending on the situation, it may be best to keep mum for the first few weeks:

1. A new chapter: Your new life isn't going to start once you leave the hospital nine months from first finding out about your pregnancy, but instead right then and there. When you first hear that you're pregnant, it's a lot of information to take in all at once. It's okay not to tell anyone until you yourself can handle the news.

2. Work-related: You may be ecstatic about being pregnant, but will your employer feel the same way? It can nerve-racking to tell your boss that you'll be needing to take maternity leave, especially if you've just received a recent promotion. Take a little time and some deep breaths before you announce it to the workplace.

3. Everyone wants a piece: Others may not realize that your pregnancy is yours alone. Advice, questions, belly touches and name suggestions will be flying their way right into the delivery room. By not making your pregnancy public right away, it will give you a little more privacy and a lot less stress.

Kate Hudson Talks Pregnancy and Engagement Rumors

Actress Kate Hudson's pregnancy is igniting many rumors, most of which are absurdly untrue, reports UsMagazine.com. While on the England-based talk show The Graham Norton Show, Hudson effectively debunked several rumors. She revealed that while she is pregnant with boyfriend Matt Bellamy's child, she's not engaged to him. When asked about the possibility of a marriage, she replied, "I don't like putting that sort of pressure on it and I don't feel it necessary to get married." The actress went on to explain, "I just want to be happy."

Is getting married unnecessary pressure to a relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Many feel that a relationship is only worthwhile if it results in marriage. However, more and more people are finding this untrue. Before you begin to stress over a dead-end relationship, consider the following factors:

1. Don't rush: Your relationship will pan out in its own time. Even if it seems to have a long way to go before marriage enters into the equation, have no fear.

2. Think things through: Before you sprint to the altar, think about the reasoning behind your decision. Do you want to marry to please others, or is it really what you want? Marriage is life-changing, so take it seriously.

3. Your happiness: Ultimately, the point of marriage is for the couple in love to be happy together. If you and your partner are happy already and you don't think marriage will enhance it, it's totally fine to keep things the way they are.

Pregnant Kate Hudson Will Not Marry Matt Bellamy Anytime Soon

Kate Hudson may be three months pregnant, but she has no immediate plans to marry the father of her child, Muse musician Matt Bellamy, according to UsMagazine.com. The actress, 31, has a previous child with rocker Chris Robinson; her son, Ryder, is now 6. “[Hudson] wanted Ryder to have a sibling, and Matt happened to be her boyfriend,” explained a source. “[Bellamy] went along with it.”

Should you marry the father of your child?

Cupid’s Advice:

Single mothers are becoming more and more common. Before committing to the father of your child, you should consider a few of the following:

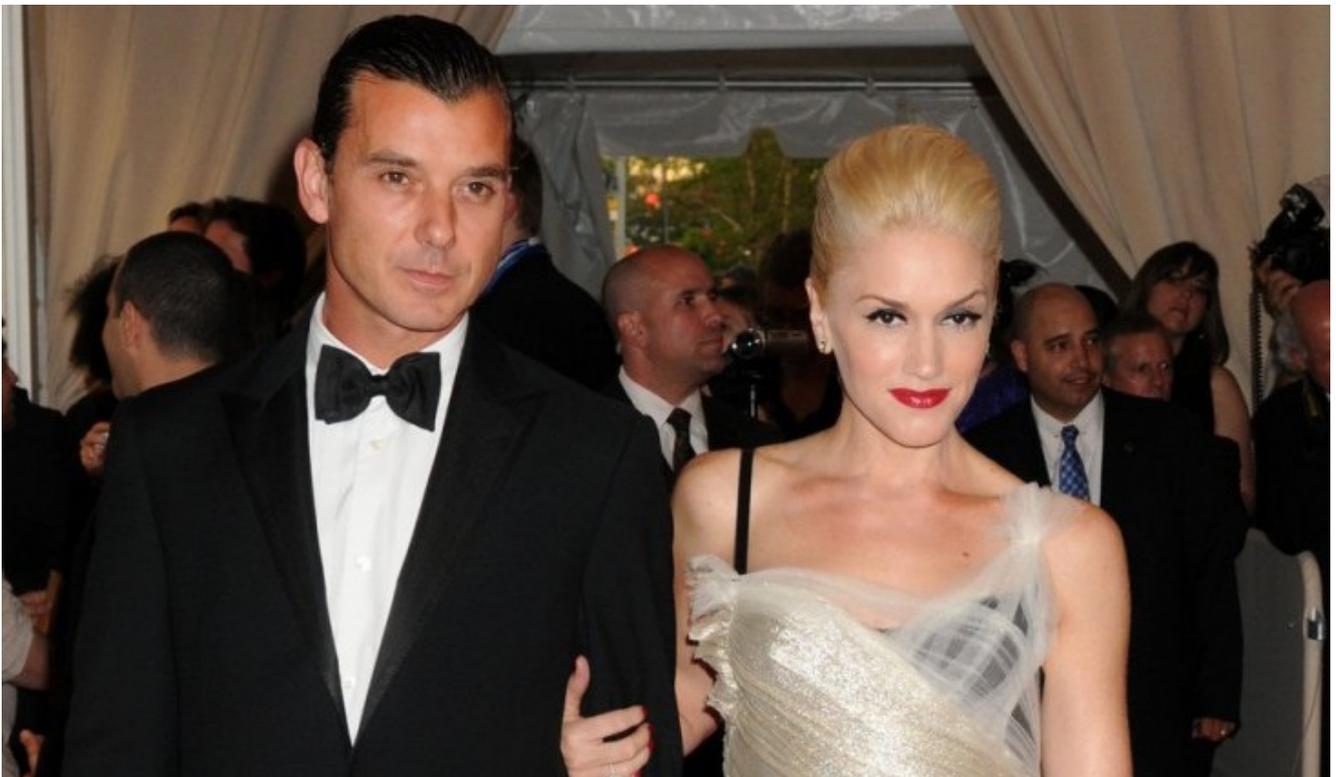

1. The baby: Make sure that you are marrying your partner for the right reasons. If you’re only tying the knot because of your pregnancy, take your beliefs and values into question. Having a child together may not be good enough of a reason to commit to each other for life.

2. Your financial future: Don’t get married for financial reasons. Money is one of the key factors that can ruin a relationship. There's always child support if you'd rather not tie the knot with the father of your child.

3. Your feelings: Analyze your relationship with the father of your child. If you're in love, and you feel that a life with him would make you happy, then go for it! Having a traditional family arrangement is just an added bonus.

Kate Hudson Looks for Love, Not Marriage

Kate Hudson isn't planning another trip down the aisle anytime soon. As the blonde bombshell recently told People, she is looking for love, but not necessarily marriage. Having split from rocker Chris Robinson in 2007, Hudson now has a new rock star in her life in the form of Muse member Matthew Bellamy. Even after her divorce, she refuses to be reluctant to fall in love again. "I'll just see what happens. I think a lot of times people are terrified of love and stop themselves from experiencing it. I don't ever want to get that jaded," said Hudson.

Do love and marriage go hand-in-hand?

Cupid's Advice:

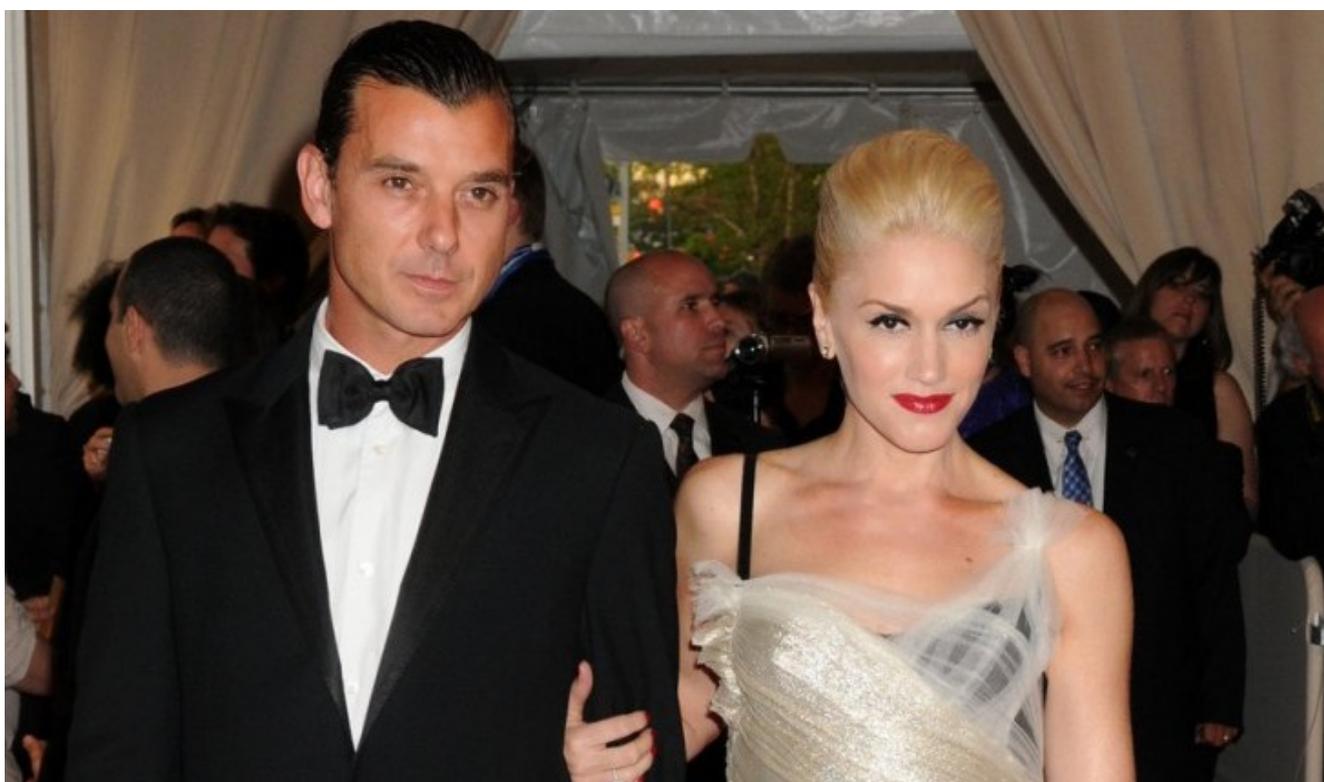

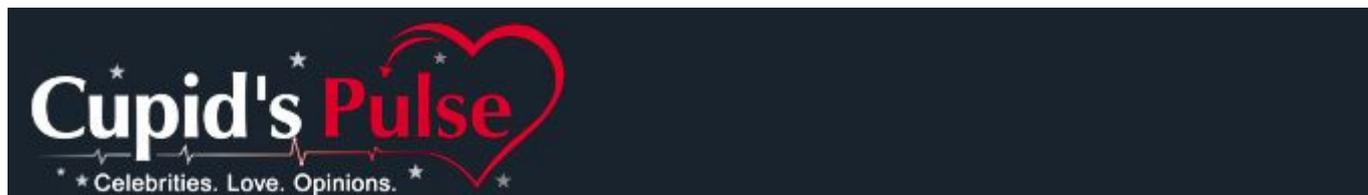

A white wedding is often idealized in society as the way a couple is expected to express their love for one another. The fact is, marriage doesn't necessarily equal love, and love doesn't necessarily equal marriage.

1. Times have changed: Today, many couples are seeking alternatives to marriage. Those who want a modern take on an old tradition are sharing commitment ceremonies, spiritual unions or are simply cohabitating.

2. Outside factors: When it comes to the legal and financial aspects of marriage, walking down the aisle isn't the best choice for everyone. Oprah Winfrey's 20-year relationship with Stedman Graham is a good example. Though the two are deeply in love, marriage is not for them due to their need to protect their wealth and business assets.

3. It's about the couple: Weddings can be beautiful and if that is what you dream of as a couple, go for it. However, the planning and execution of a wedding can end up being so focused on the guest list and the caterer that people forget about the couple and the love they have for one another.

Kate Hudson Muses About New Beau

Kate Hudson has finally broken the silence about her new boyfriend, Muse singer Matt Bellamy. Hudson calls Bellamy, “lovely” in the new issue of Elle UK. She says, “Matt and I are just learning about each other and it’s wonderful.” Hudson has a long history of heartache, including ex-husband Chris Robinson and former flames Alex Rodriguez, Owen Wilson and Lance Armstrong. But Hudson hasn’t let her romantic past cloud her future. Us Weekly reports that although she’s not looking to marry again, she is still open to a new relationship. “I think a lot of times people are terrified of love and stop themselves from experiencing it. I don't ever want to get that jaded. I do believe in love." How do you avoid being jaded by past relationships?

Cupid's Advice:

It's easy to feel like giving up and turning into a reclusive cat lady when you look back on your history of failed affairs. Cupid has some ideas about how to stay open to new relationships:

1. Gain perspective: Don't assume that just because your relationship's ended, you failed. Remember that every partner teaches you something about yourself and what you want, so that next time, maybe you can make it work.

2. Don't let your past dictate your future: Just because your past boyfriends were jerks, doesn't mean the next one will be. It's up to you to make sure history doesn't repeat itself.

3. Be optimistic: Kate had every reason to give up on finding the right man. But by staying open-minded and never losing her faith in love, she eventually found someone "lovely."

Cupid’s Advice:

Meeting a partner’s parents for the first time is always stressful, but being uptight won’t make things easier. Here

 - 2. Dress up a little: Unless you're going to a five-star restaurant, there's no need for a three-piece suit or ballgown, but stay away from sweats and baggy clothes on your first meeting.
 - 3. Keep it classy: No matter what f-bombs they may throw at you, refrain from using foul language. Parents can do whatever they want – you, however, need to make a good impression. Save your potty mouth for someone else.
