

New Celebrity Couple? Robert Pattinson Kisses Suki Waterhouse on Movie Date

By Jessica DeRubbo

There may be another celebrity couple to follow! This past weekend, Robert Pattinson and Suki Waterhouse were spotted kissing on a movie date night in London, according to UsMagazine.com. The pair, who have been in the same group of friends for years, headed to the Electric Cinema in London's Notting Hill and watched Mamma Mia! Here We Go Again. After the movie, they got drinks at SoHo house before taking a PDA-packed walk home at about 1 a.m. "Along the way, they were very close and cuddled and kissed many times,” an eyewitness told E! News. “Robert was very affectionate to her and had his arm around her the whole way and Suki reciprocated by holding his hand and kissing it ... They were very loved up and close. Robert stroked Suki’s hair and gave her another loving kiss.”

In celebrity couple news, Robert Pattinson and Suki Waterhouse may be exploring the waters of a relationship. What are some signs that you should move your casual relationship to more of a serious thing?

Cupid’s Advice:

This potential new celebrity couple hit the town for a movie date night over the weekend, but the relationship is likely still casual. Cupid has some advice on when it’s time to move your casual relationship to something more serious:

1. You’ve had enough time to get to know each other: It may seem obvious, but you don’t want to get too serious about someone until you truly know them. The “getting to know you” process can take a long time, sometimes even years, but the initial phase of it should be complete before you invest too much in the relationship. Make sure you spend quality time with your potential partner and share the things that are important to you.

2. You’ve gotten over any past relationship hang-ups: It’s important that you're fully over your ex before you move on to something serious with someone else. It's okay to casually date if you're still getting over someone (sometimes it even helps you move on), but don't get too close to someone before you're sure he/she isn't a rebound.

3. You've decided it's worth it: Don't just get serious about someone because you want to be in a relationship and it's convenient. Make sure that the person you're considering getting close with has long-term potential. Otherwise, it's simply not worth it!

Bradley Cooper and Suki Waterhouse Become Celebrity Exes After Two Years of Dating

By Katie Gray

Bradley Cooper and Suki Waterhouse have called it quits! The former Hollywood couple have become celebrity exes after two years of dating. According to UsMagazine.com, "A source tells Us that the pair have decided to take a break because of their busy schedules." Apparently the pretty pair is taking some time for themselves. Waterhouse had claimed in the past that she definitely wanted to have children, and both of them are busy with work currently so their schedules aren't meshing together well. For now, it seems as though they are getting some space!

Another celebrity couple has become celebrity exes! How do you know it's time to call it quits on a long-term relationship? Cupid has some advice for you!

Cupid's Advice:

When you're familiar with someone and have spent a lot of quality time with them, it's hard to let go. The prospect of being alone is hard to even think about. However; sometimes you have to do so if your paths aren't moving in the right direction. It can be hard to figure out when to call it quits on your long-term relationship. Here are some tips on how to know when it's time:

1. Abuse: If someone abuses you emotionally or physically, you should leave them because you deserve better. It can be hard when you have been with someone for a long time and then out of the blue you become abused. It's hard to come to terms with. However; your happiness and safety is always most important! You deserve the best so pursue it!

2. Irritation: When someone irritates you constantly, it's time to let them go. You should enjoy being around them and spending time together. It's common to get annoyed with someone from time to time when you're around them all of the time – but for the majority of the time you should enjoy their company. Life is too short to spend time with those who don't uplift you and bring you pleasure!

3. Dishonest: People who are dishonest, disrespectful and disloyal have no spot in your life. If someone cheats on you, lies to you, disrespects you and is rude, they should be cut out of your life. Surround yourself only with those who deserve you. You should always get what you give, and don't accept less than you deserve!

Bradley Cooper and Girlfriend Suki Waterhouse Go Public at Sundanace

By April Littleton

According to People, Bradley Cooper and girlfriend Suki Waterhouse have finally gone public with their romance. The lovebirds attended the Sundance Film Festival together in Park City, Utah. They were spotted strolling down the street, while holding hands.

When is it the right time to go public with a new relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

Love is in the air. This may be true indeed, but sometimes, you just don't feel like sharing all of your happiness with everyone else. Keeping a new relationship under wraps for awhile is perfectly acceptable, but eventually you'll have to spill the beans to someone. Cupid has some tips:

1. You've dated long enough: If you've dated your partner for longer than five months, then it's definitely time to let the world know about your new romance. Everyone deserves their privacy and you don't have to give away every single detail about your relationship, but wouldn't you like to spill a little gossip to your best friend? Being able to confide in someone about your new honey will eventually be a necessity when you least expect it.

2. Feels right: Everything about your relationship just feels right. The two of you want the same things in life, have similar goals and share some common interests. When you find someone so close to being your perfect match, you'll want to share the good news with your friends and family – and possibly the whole world.
