What are some ways to present a united front to your children post-split?

Cupid's Advice:

It's difficult to maintain a positive relationship with an ex, but when they co-parent your children you must set aside your differences. Find ways to work together, and avoid any slips that will add tension to your already worn dynamic:

1. Respect: No matter how you tailored your relationship in the past, it should have included respect. This must continue even now. You should be careful to treat each other well when your children are around, and avoid instigating any fights or arguments. Appreciate them as an important part of your child's life and foster a mutual respect.

2. Team Decisions: A united front means making decisions as a parenting unit. It's important both you and your ex understand that there has to be a consensus between the two of you before discussions with your child. Undermining a parent will make them less respected, so be careful what you say in front of impressionable eyes. Don't negate their input!

3. Sharing Responsibility: Make sure your child is able to experience special occasions with both parents. A child will have an easier time with a separation if both of you can offer positive feedback during their development. Even if you don't want to attend soccer games with your ex, rotate the responsibility game by game. This is how you keep a family intact after separating.

Tom Cruise Is Moving On But Misses Suri

By Jennifer Ross

Although Tom Cruise has moved on from his divorce to ex Katie Holmes, he deeply misses Suri. With his new role in the upcoming action film All You Need is Kill, Cruise has been based in London since August for pre-productions, which has made it virtually impossible to see his 6-year-old daughter. As reported by a friend to People, Cruise, 50, has said, "I've got to see her.” Adding to that difficulty is Suri’s permanent relocation in New York City, where she began first grade at the private Avenue’s School in Chelsea. However dim, all is not lost. The first grader is still able to have a relationship with her father, via phone, several times per day.

What are some ways to remain in your child’s life after a split?

Cupid’s Advice:

In any break-up, the relationship between you and your child may become estranged. In order to regain that special bond between parent and child, Cupid’s Pulse has a few tips to help you stay connected:

1. My home is your home: When you are settling down in your new home, be sure to create a personal room/space for your child as well. Allow them to decide on the room decorations. Their very own room will make them feel wanted and welcomed, giving them a sense of security during the time they are with you.

2. Share a common interest: Start a hobby that you both like and can enjoy together. Whether it is an outdoor sport like football or something calmer, such as starting a book club, the interest needs to be exciting for both of you. This will give you a common ground to relate and help create a positive connection with your child.

3. Always remain consistent: No matter how busy your life may get or how difficult your ex may be, there must be consistency between the parents! Therefore, set the ground rules with your ex regarding your child and follow them. Otherwise, different rules in different homes will only lead to emotional chaos and destruction.

Sources Say Katie Holmes and Tom Cruise's Divorce Has Been Hard on Suri

By Nicole Weintraub

Ever since Katie Holmes filed for divorce from her former beau Tom Cruise, their six-year-old daughter has been acting out, according to UsMagazine.com. Ever since the power couple decided to call it quits, Holmes has been toning down her lavish lifestyle and is trying to spoil her daughter, Suri, a little less. Cruise has been known to spoil his little girl to pieces, for example, spending over $6,000 on their recent helicopter excursion to The Hamptons. Holmes, though, is taking a different parenting route by enrolling her daughter in an elementary school that calls for a strict dress code. The young Cruise is not too happy about the recent changes, though. According to Holmes, she still needs time to adjust.

How do you keep the drama of a split from affecting your children?

Cupid's Advice:

A separation can be brutal and ugly, especially when young children are involved. Here are some tips on how to shield your children from the drama of your split:

- 1. Don't drag the kids in: Under no circumstances is it ever okay for a child to think that they caused their parents to split up. Assure your children that this was a decision made by the two of you as adults and had nothing to do with them.
- 2. Don't badmouth: Don't badmouth your former partner in front of your children. Not only will that affect your child's relationship with that partner, but also you're only going to get yourself into trouble with the other person.
- 3. Remain civil: Children absorb everything, especially things that they pick up from their parents. You don't have to like each other, but try to be civil with one another and "play nice" while in front of your kids.
