Cupid's Advice:

Sometimes we encounter a person who we find both attractive and kind, but inevitably do not have the best chemistry with. These situations can be challenging because you may be reluctant to let go of someone when nothing is necessarily wrong, they are just not your perfect match. If you are looking for some ways to know that someone is right for you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Your bond feels natural: While it may not be love at first sight, creating a bond with someone should feel easy and natural if they are the right person for you. There may be awkward silences in conversations or mild miscommunications while you are getting to know someone, but the overall progression of the relationship should never feel forced.

2. You're progressing at the same pace: There is no set timeline that you need to follow when you are getting to know or dating someone new. However, the two of you should be progressing at relatively the same pace as the relationship continues. If one person is still holding back months into the relationship, it may be a sign they are not the right person for you.

3. You don't feel stressed: Your intuition is your best friend when starting a relationship with someone new. Sometimes we still feel stressed with things appearing to be going perfectly, which may be a result of some underlying factor you are avoiding. If the current situation you are in causes you to feel a constant low level of stress, it may be a sign that person is not your perfect match.

Cupid’s Advice:

Even if we are not planning on going on a dating television show, it is still possible to find love in unconventional settings. However, these settings may cause us to feel closed off or skeptical. If you are looking for some ways to find love in an unusual setting, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Drop preconceived ideas: When we find ourselves in a new setting, we often have preconceived ideas about what the people and experiences will be like once we arrive. In order to give the idea of finding love a fair chance, it is important to get rid of those preconceptions. Having a clean slate and open mind is the best way to find love in unusual situations.

2. Don't force anything: Sometimes when approaching a situation with the hope of finding love, we may unintentionally feel ourselves trying to force a connection. Even in unusual settings, it is better to let things progress naturally. Make sure that the person you are finding interest in is someone you would want present in your normal life as well, and not simply the best option out of the people around you.

3. Take advantage of your time there: Whether your unusual setting is a business trip or simply your local gym, it is important to take advantage of the time you have there. By using your time wisely, you'll open as many doors as possible for potential bonds.

Cupid's Advice

When gossip and rumors are circulating about your relationship, they can put a major damper on the excitement of being in love. If you're looking for ways to keep outside chatter about your relationship from affecting you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Address it: The most direct way to handle gossip regarding your relationship is to address it directly. This may mean confronting those spreading rumors in person, or even acknowledging haters online. While this may be an intense way of stopping the noise surrounding your relationship, it will definitely make it clear that you want the chatter to stop.

2. Go private: Another way to avoid letting the negative rumors about your relationship affect you is to make your relationship less public. It will be extremely difficult for people to comment on and critique your relationship if they don't know anything about it. Try to limit how much you express your relationship on social media and start to enjoy your time with just your partner.

Cupid's Advice:

Ending a relationship, especially a marriage can be a tough decision to make. It's difficult to know if you should keep trying to work on it, or if it is time to call it quits. If you're having trouble in a relationship and need some signs that your relationship is unfixable, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You don't trust each other anymore: One of the most difficult issues to resolve in a relationship is a lack of trust. Although trust and loyalty can be regained sometimes, once they are lost over and over again, it becomes even more difficult to replace. If you and your partner have tried regaining trust, and it is just not working, it may be a sign of irreversible damage.

2. You make each other unhappy more than you make each other happy: Another tell-tale sign of an unfixable relationship is unhappiness. If you and your partner usually make each other unhappy or upset more often than you make each other happy, this may be a sign that the good parts of the relationship are long gone. Although you can try things to fix this problem, if negative feelings and unhappiness are persistent in your relationship, it may be difficult to change that.

3. You've tried everything: The most telling sign that your relationship is unfixable is when you both feel a sense of exhaustion because you have tried everything, and nothing has worked. Once you have tried everything without seeing progress, it may be time to call it quits.

Celebrity Break-Up: Victoria Fuller Says She & Chris Soules Split Due to Geography

By Nicole Maher

In the latest celebrity news, Bachelor Nation stars Victoria Fuller and Chris Soules called off their relationship due to geographical reasons. According to UsMagazine.com, Fuller was not ready to move to Iowa and join Soules on his farm. The two had been traveling to see each other since April of this year, but were ultimately unable to reach a decision on where to settle down together. While the pair agreed to a celebrity break-up, they have reportedly been staying in contact with each other.

In celebrity break-up news, Victoria and Chris split due to location. What do you do if you're in a long distance relationship and can't agree on a place to live together eventually?

Cupid's Advice:

Distance can be one of the most difficult factors of a relationship to navigate. Whether someone is a long car ride away or only accessible by plane, the challenge of seeing each other can have a toll on the relationship. If you are looking for ways to overcome the challenges of distance as a couple, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Meet in the middle: One of the main reasons people do not want to uproot their life and move is because they are familiar with their current surroundings. It can be difficult to convince a person to leave their family and friends and move to a completely new place where they only know one person. But if both partners are willing to meet someplace in the middle, it would allow both of them to remain closer to home and to each other.

2. Continue to travel: If the impending distance does not need to be resolved right away, then continue your current travel methods. 3. Be honest with yourself: If you and your partner have had multiple conversations about the distance and there has been no compromise on either side, it might be time to consider the alternative of breaking-up. Breaking-up does not mean that the relationship failed, it simply means that the two people involved are progressing in different directions. In this case it may be two different geographical locations.

Dating can be hard enough even without added speculation and criticism from others. Being able to handle rumors and judgement during a relationship is a must. If you need to stop rumors from affecting your relationship, cupid has some advice for you:

1. Don't listen: One of the easiest ways to let the opinions of other people is to stop listening. Try blocking comments on your Instagram posts, or take a break from social media. This can help you to stop worrying about the thoughts other people have about your relationship.

When dating, finding the one is always the main goal, but knowing if you found the right one can be hard to determine. If you're looking for ways to know if you've found the perfect person for you, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. You're comfortable and vulnerable with them: You know you've found a keeper when you're vulnerable enough to share your hidden hurts and pains and they handle that information with care and empathy. You should be able to be yourself around them 24/7 and they should love every part of you.

Cupid's Advice:

In a perfect world, your friends will love your partner as much as you do. Unfortunately, your friends may not be so supportive of your relationship. It can be hard to navigate a relationship when you don't feel supported. If your friends dislike your partner, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Hear your friends out: Your friends (hopefully!) have your best interests in mind, so give them the benefit of the doubt. Give them a chance to explain why they don't like your partner. They might see something unhealthy in your relationship that you couldn't. Even if you end up disagreeing, your friends will appreciate you listening to their worries.

2. Don't force a friendship: As much as we want our friends to love our partner, it's not possible for everyone to always get along. If your friends dislike your partner, you shouldn't force a friendship between the two parties. Accept that you'll miss some group hangs with your friends to spend time with your partner. Accept that your partner may not want to hang out with your friends and that you can't force them to tag along.

On a recent episode of UsMagazine.com's "Here For the Right Reasons" podcast, Sutter explained why "women do it better." The reality TV star claims a season's success is based on how well it was cast and how open the lead is to finding love on the show. Sutter also acknowledges how easy it is to "get caught up in the lust factor." In the franchise's history, six Bachelorettes are still with their season's winner, while only one Bachelor is married to his season's winner. Several Bachelors have ended up with someone from their season after proposing to someone else.

In celebrity news, Trista Sutter opens up about why The Bachelorette has more success stories than The Bachelor. What are some ways to tell the difference between lust and love?

Cupid's Advice:

The start of a new relationship is exciting! It's easy to get swept up with a new partner, but are you excited for the right reasons? If you're not sure if you're in love or in lust, Cupid has some advice for you.

1. You enjoy talking to them: Anyone in a new relationship will want to see their partner, but talking over the phone consistently might show that there's a deeper level of connection. If you only talk to your new partner while seeing them in person, love may be taking a backseat to lust.

In celebrity baby news, Ali Fedotowsky opened up about her recent miscarriage. How do you support your partner through a miscarriage?

Cupid’s Advice:

Miscarrying is painful, whether you were the pregnant parent or not. It’s important to lean on your partner during this difficult time. If you’re not sure how to support your partner through the loss of your pregnancy, Cupid has some advice for you.

1. Let them know how you’re feeling: Make sure to let your partner know that you’re grieving with them. To start healing from the loss of the child you never met, you need to let out your emotions. Even if your grief is different than your partner’s, it’s so important to work through this together.

2. Remember it’s no one’s fault: It’s very common for those who lose pregnancies to think they’re “broken” or that they’re to blame for the miscarriage. If your partner was pregnant, make sure they know you love and support them, regardless of their ability to have kids. If you were pregnant, focus on the happiness you already have in your partner and family.

1. Do things alone: While going out with friends might be your default, it's hard for a new person to approach your group. Taking yourself out can help you meet fun, new people that you normally wouldn't. If you're nervous about going out alone, ease into it by bringing a book or a journal with you.

Cupid's Advice:

When you're in a relationship, it can be hard to hear about your partner's past relationships, but acting as if they don't exist isn't the way to go. If you find it hard to hear about your partner's exes, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Remind yourself that you're together now: It can be so difficult to hear about partners' past relationships, but you have to remind yourself that this is your partner now and whatever they may have done with someone else is irrelevant to your relationship. Keep your head on straight and be able to separate their past relationship and your new relationship.

Cupid's Advice:

You and your partner won't always see eye-to-eye, but there are some things that are harder to compromise on. If you've recently realized you and your partner have different moral values and don't know how to approach that, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Understand where they're coming from: It's easier to understand your partner's opinions if you understand why they think that way. Consider how they grew up: heir family, their neighborhood, their education. Have productive conversations with your partner to better understand their values.

2. Find common ground: Even if you and your partner are disagreeing about a topic overall, there is bound to be something you agree on. Break-ups can get really messy which leads to some embarrassing moments that you later regret. If you've been humiliated in a relationship and you're looking for ways to move on, Cupid has some advice for you:

1. Joke about it: If you take a lighter mood to your embarrassing moment then so will everybody else. Make fun of yourself whenever someone else brings it up and you won't feel embarrassed at all.

In the latest celebrity news, Bachelorette Becca Kufrin disagrees with fiancé Garrett Yrigoyen's recent Instagram post. Yrigoyen posted a photo of the "Thin Blue Line," a symbol showing support for police officers. "With so many friends and family in law enforcement, I couldn't sit back and not support them," said Yrigoyen on the post. On a recent episode of the Bachelor Happy Hour podcast, the reality TV star spoke out: "I believe that he is a good person... I do think [the post] was tone-deaf, and it was the wrong time and message and sentiment." Kufrin's co-host, Rachel Lindsay, was more critical of his silence about the Black Lives Matter movement: "I don't think Garrett is malicious, but Garrett is what the problem is."

In celebrity news, Becca Kufrin opened up about her fiancé Garrett's recent social media posts supporting the police during the Black Lives Matter movement. What do you do if you disagree with your partner's social views?

Cupid's Advice:

It's impossible to agree with your partner on everything. However, differences in political and social beliefs can feel harder to find a compromise. If you're not sure how to talk to your partner when you disagree on these views, Cupid has some advice for you:

- 1. Acknowledge each other's views: You don't have to agree, but you both need to understand where the other is coming from. Acknowledging and understand your partner's views will let you understand their thought process. Being able to have healthy conversations will prevent misunderstanding their views.

2. Be specific: Focus on the issues you're discussing. Don't diminish each other's beliefs to political parties or candidates. Even if you're registered to different parties, there are still issues you might have similar views about. Having pointed discussions about the issues you care about will prevent you or your partner from generalizing.

3. Agree to disagree: It's almost impossible to change people's beliefs. You need to decide when it's time to give yourselves space to disagree about topics. Some topics can easily be left alone. Other topics that you're passionate about may be harder. Celebrity News: Clare Crawley Is Announced as Season 16

'Bachelorette'

By Hope Ankney

In the latest celebrity news, a Bachelor alumnae was announced as the new Season 16 Bachelorette! According to UsMagazine.com, Clare Crawley is officially continuing her journey to find love. The 38-year-old reality star revealed herself on Good Morning America, stating she had only found out two days prior. She told Lara Spencer, “[It was] So unexpected. I cannot believe it. I mean, six years later. What is happening?” Crawley makes history being the oldest Bachelorette to lead the show. Rachel Lindsay was previously the oldest with her season when she was 32. Crawley made her first appearance in 2014 on Juan Pablo’s season and is famously known for telling him off when he didn’t propose to her. She went on to join the franchise three more times with Bachelor in Paradise and The Winter Games, where none of her relationships kept a spark.

In celebrity news, there's a new Bachelorette in town! What are some unique ways to go about finding love?

Cupid's Advice:

Finding love in this modern dating scene can seem almost impossible. With the many dating apps, the insensitivity that's come with technology and social media, and knowing that traditional ways of finding love are sometimes too unrealistic to play out, it can look pretty bleak out there for all the single folk. But, there are still some unique ways to find love that doesn't rely on apps or constant worrying over social media. You might not get the opportunity to land yourself on a reality show to find love, but Cupid has some love advice on original ideas on finding love yourself:

1. Ask your friends for set-ups: I know that blind dates can seem terrifying and over-dramatized in film and media, but bringing back this model of finding others can actually work to your advantage. In fact, most young people do find love interests based on their friends. So, if you want to shoot your shot and trust a friend, ask them to help set you up with someone they know. Don't give them any pressure! Just tell them that you're open to anyone new, so they aren't stressed to find you the perfect date.

2. Live your life for you: When you begin to start getting to know all the facets of who you are, and you live for yourself and no one else, you'll go down a healthy life path. Doing what is right for you means you will be around jobs, places, and near people who further align with your life plan. You'll have a much better chance of meeting a soulmate because they will also have a similar life path.

3. Use Uber as often as possible: Not technically a social media, this ridesharing service can actually connect you with others you might never meet elsewhere. When you choose the option to UberPool, you are meeting new people that you could have a connection with. It's like a sort of speed dating that can end the moment you arrive at your location.

It all begins to pile up after a while, making it harder and harder to stay hopeful about finding someone you're excited about. If you're in a dating rut, don't worry! Cupid has some love advice on some unique ways to meet your next romantic partner:

1. Volunteer your time: Making time to volunteer is great for multiple reasons. Besides giving back to your community and making a difference, you could meet someone that shares like-minded interests with you. You're both helping others and spending quality time together. A perfect place to forge a deeper bond.

By Meghan Khameraj

In celebrity news, DWTS pro Alan Bersten calls Bachelorette alum a “female version” of himself, according to UsMagazine.com. Bersten also revealed, “Honestly, I’ve said it before. I just want Hannah to win...it’s incredible for a pro to get a mirror ball, but it's all about Hannah's journey, and she's grown so much. Even though we're a team, I want her to win. I guess if I'm a part of that I'll take the mirror ball!" This potential famous couple has sparked celebrity relationship rumors since the season began in September. The rumors got even more intense after Brown brought Bersten as her date to the Country Music Awards. The pair, however, have denied that they are anything more than friends.

In celebrity news, Alan says his DWTS partner is a female version of him. What are some benefits of dating someone similar to yourself?

Cupid's Advice:

While Brown and Bersten are adamant that they are just friends, there are still many benefits of dating someone who is similar to yourself. Cupid has some relationship advice to help you determine the benefits of dating someone who is similar to you:

1. You like (and dislike) the same things: Every relationship, whether romantic or platonic, is based on the foundation that you have something in common. However, when you're dating someone who is similar to yourself you go beyond just a few common interests. You both tend to like and dislike the same things which can make decision-making much easier.

2. You can be yourself around them: There are few things worse than having to pretend that you're someone you're not. Luckily, if you and your partner are similar then there is no need to hide who you truly are. Being in a relationship with someone who is just like yourself allows you to be more free and open.

3. You finish each other's...: Sandwiches! Just kidding, sentences! More times than not, you two will be on the same page so when an issue arises you and your partner are more likely to solve the issue than argue about how to solve the issue. Besides making disagreements less frequent, being on the same page as your partner allows you to make wonderful and spontaneous memories.

She discussed how sweet it was that Cameron brought his mother as his date. When asked if she was nervous about seeing him, she replied positively, "I think I have so much going on right now. I mean, I came straight from practice for the show tomorrow, so there's no place for nerves and honestly, I'm just really focused on myself right now and I'm just really glad that I am able to be here and to celebrate the nomination of the award."

These celebrity exes crossed paths at the People's Choice Awards. What are some tips for keeping your cool in the presence of an ex?

Cupid's Advice:

A break-up is never easy. It's even harder when you know you're going to have to see your ex again whether you plan on it or not. Standing in the presence of someone that you have a history with would make anyone sweat bullets, but it doesn't have to be an interaction you dread. Instead, if you're worried about keeping your blood pressure down the next time you see your ex, don't worry. Cupid has some relationship advice on how to stay as cool, calm, and collected as possible in their presence:

1. Think about the positives: If you know you're going to have to be around an ex in a public setting, make sure you don't focus on the negatives of your relationship. Associating their presence with hurt will only hinder you from having a cordial interaction with them. Try to keep your mind on the positives of your guys' time together. Then, when the time comes, you'll be level-headed enough to have a friendly passing conversation.

2. Be surrounded by friends: Being around an ex, alone, can be a daunting task. You'll feel much more confident and positive being around them. And, you won't have to worry about suffering through any awkward silences that might occur.

3. Focus on yourself: The best advice to keeping your cool when you're around an ex is to do what Hannah Brown did and focus on yourself. Don't allow yourself to think too much about their presence. Keep doing what you're doing, and don't worry about them being there. This helps in alleviating the stress of seeing your ex and acting kindly towards them when you do bump into them.

If your dating history consists of relationships that seem to fizzle after the first few dates, Cupid has some dating advice to help you find love in new and exciting ways:

1. Take a class: Do you like painting? Or maybe dancing or sports? An easy way to meet someone new is to take a class on something you're interested in. If you're both in the same class that means you already have one thing in common which will make it easier to break the ice.

Celebrity Exes: Tyler Cameron Sets the Record Straight on Feelings for 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown

By Hope Ankney

In celebrity news, The Bachelorette runner-up, Tyler Cameron, has officially set the record straight about where he stands with Hannah Brown. According to EOnline.com, the star popped on Twitter Wednesday to dismiss claims that he had been shading The Bachelorette star. What started with an accidental liking of a tweet shading Brown ended with Cameron writing a series of tweets defending her. Sharing how much respect he had for Brown, he stated "...that girl deserves no shade and nothing but success. She empowers women and deserves all the accolades. She empowers women and created so much conversation on how women should be treated. I am grateful for our time together and all that I learned from her."

These celebrity exes are keeping their feelings positive all the way around. What do you do if your ex is throwing shade at you?

Cupid's Advice:

When an ex decides to throw shade your way, it triggers an almost immediate emotional reaction. It's hard to ignore the issue and not let it affect you or your behavior. It's even worse if this ex has thrown something like this at you before. But, is it worth giving them the satisfaction of visibly showing how upset it made you? Not at all. Take a look at a few of Cupid's suggestions for relationship advice on how to deal with an ex that is trying to shade you:

1. Delete their social media from your accounts: A big mistake people make is keeping their exes on their social media as friends, followers, etc. It not only keeps a break-up fresh, but it's easy to go on their pages and keep up with their every move. Deleting them as friends or unfollowing their accounts will help you deal with an ex that might cryptically tweet about you or like shady tweets that could be indirectly addressed towards you. In fact, after wiping them away, you might not even know they're doing it anymore.

Perhaps there will be a celebrity wedding on the horizon finally for this Bachelorette couple. What are some ways to make your partner feel special during a long engagement?

Cupid's Advice:

Wedding bells are in your future, but the road to the chapel is a long one. Fear not! Long engagements are challenging, but there are ways to reassure your partner and reaffirm your love during the process.:

1. Remember the date: Commit to small gestures that remind your partner you are excited for your nuptials, however far down the line they may be. Write the date with doodled hearts on your fridge's whiteboard, or leave your partner a sticky note reading "one year to go!" However you remind your significant other of your excitement, make it a fun, any day surprise.

2. Keep the romance going: Wedding planning can throw your brain into overdrive. While the details may be tempting to take over your life (and all your conversations), share a world with your partner outside of your wedding. Find a balance between excitement for your wedding and commitment to your love life by scheduling date nights where wedding talk is off the table.

Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown Says 'Thank You, Next' to Questions about Tyler Cameron & Gigi Hadid

By Ashley Johnson

In a celebrity interview with UsMagazine.com, Hannah Brown made it clear that she is ready to take on life as a single woman after her celebrity break-up with Tyler Cameron. The reality TV star says she is focused on exploring her new opportunities as a single woman and is ready to move forward from The Bachelorette with or without a man.

In celebrity news, Hannah isn't letting anyone draw her into talks surrounding Tyler Cameron's dating life. What are some ways to move on when you see your ex moving on?

Cupid's Advice:

While all celebrity relationships do not last, the relationship you have with yourself does. We are rooting for

Hannah in her new journey! Cupid has some advice on how to move on from an ex like Hannah Brown and many other single celebrities:

1. Focus on yourself: Self-care is always the best way to go. When we take care of ourselves and give ourselves all the love and affection for a change, we realize just how much we needed it and realize that self love is enough. Focusing on yourself and taking the time to heal on your own can help you rediscover yourself and learn more about who you are. You can learn more about your likes, dislikes, and everything in between.

2. Enjoy your hobbies and friends: Just taking the time to do things you enjoy again can remind you what you really value in life. You can now focus all your time and energy on everything you have ever wanted to do, whether it be painting, going to concerts, traveling the world, or spending more time with friends. Friends are there for you when you need them the most. They can help distract you from your ex and past relationship and can be a shoulder to lean on when you just need to vent.

3. Take a break from social media: Focusing on yourself means you can't have any distractions. Social media is the easiest way to stay up to date with your friends, and unfortunately, your ex. With just one click you can get lost in your ex's feed. Being single means you now have time to focus on yourself, not your ex and their whereabouts. Embrace the distance from your ex... this may even mean blocking or unfollowing them on all social media for the time being.

Celebrity News: Hannah Brown's 'Bachelorette' Runner-Up Goes On Date with Gigi Hadid Days After Spending Night with Hannah

By Ashley Johnson

In each and every season of The Bachelorette, former bachelors and bachelorettes alike (along with a few athletes) inevitably make their highly anticipated return to the show to drop some relationship truth. Whether it's Ben Higgins having a one-on-one with Colton Underwood or Hannah Brown sitting court-side with Jaylen Brown, the singles are coached on "finding the one" and what to look for in a significant other. However, this is no simple task and may include a lot of casual dating before getting serious with anybody and making that commitment. According to UsMagazine.com, on Sunday, August 4, in celebrity news, Tyler Cameron and Gigi Hadid were spotted together on what appeared to be their first date night ever in NYC, just two days after The Bachelorette runner-up was seen leaving Hannah Brown's apartment in L.A.

In celebrity news, Tyler Cameron isn't committed to Hannah and is dating around. What are some things to be careful about when you're dating around?

Cupid's Advice:

While Tyler seems to have been getting cozy with more than one woman (Gigi Hadid being one of them) and seems to be living a true bachelor life outside of reality TV, Cupid has some dating advice on how to date around like the model himself and other single celebrities:

- 1. Be transparent: Being transparent means being truthful and being clear about your intentions. Sometimes being honest with people can be difficult, but you are not going to get what you want out of any relationship by hiding your true feelings. Relationships only work when the people involved are on the same page and have both of their wants and needs met.

Related Link: Celebrity News: 'Bachelorette' Hannah Brown Speaks Out About Jed After Finale

2. Have patience: As we know from many years of The Bachelor and Bachelorette, you do not just fall in love on the first date (or maybe you do), and dating is a process. It is highly unlikely you are going to commit to one person after just one date, and you may find yourself going on numerous dates with numerous people until you find what you are looking for, and that is okay. You just have to be patient!

Related Link: New Celebrity Couple Shawn Mendes & Camila Cabello Kiss in Miami

3. Take the time to discover yourself: Use the opportunity of getting to know various new people to also get to know more about yourself. By intimately being exposed to all different personalities and behaviors, you are going to find some that you absolutely love, and others that you absolutely cannot stand. Dating different people only reaffirms your own wants and needs, and helps you figure out what you want more of (or less of) in life.
