This celebrity news is a little awkward. What do you do if tragedy strikes mid-divorce proceedings?

Cupid's Advice:

Divorce and moving on from someone is a hard thing to go through. It can be even worse when tragedy strikes and you still really care about your ex. Cupid has some advice on what to do if tragedy does strike mid-divorce:

1. Think things through: When tragedy does strike, take a quick moment and think about what you are going to do. Do you still want to be that person who is there for your ex? If so, then be by their side. But it is ok to not want to, you are getting a divorce for a reason.

2. Talk to each other: Talk out the situation with your ex. If they do not want you around during this time, then it is ok to leave. But if they feel they need you, then that is up to you to stick around. Either way it is ok to be there for your ex and make sure they are ok. You are the one who knows them best.

3. No feelings: Do not let your feelings get involved. Let your choices be made wisely when it comes to being there for your ex. You do not want to get pulled back into something that you are almost out of. Be there as a friend.
