

Ben Higgins

Ben Higgins is a reality TV star who first appeared on The Bachelorette season 11 as he tried to win the heart of Kaitlyn Bristowe. Finishing third, he was named the leading man on The Bachelor season 20, which kicked off in January 2016. An only child, he grew up in Indiana and now lives in Denver, where he works as an account manager for a software company. In his free time, he loves to golf and enjoy the outdoors. There's no doubt that the 26-year-old wants a committed relationship and love: As he recently told reporters, "I'm definitely ready to find that person. That's not a question in my mind."