This celebrity couple news has been drama-filled this week. What are some ways to support your friend or family member when you don't approve of their relationship?

Cupid's Advice:

There are going to be times when one of your family members brings someone home who you may not approve of or your friend invites their partner out with everyone, but you're just not a fan. Knowing how to handle this sensitive situation is important for a stable relationship between you and your family member or friend. Cupid is here to share some advice:

1. Be polite: You don't have to be best friends or even friends with their partner; just be gracious. Greet them with a simple "hello" or interact with them in a small conversations. Make them feel welcomed.

2. Everything is not meant to be said: We understand you have negative feelings toward their partner, but don't drag their name in dirt. This is disrespectful to your friend or family member and can harm your relationship with them. You don't want to annoy them about their partner to the point where they'd rather not speak to you.

3. Don't push them away: You don't want to ruin any relationship with a friend or family member because you don't like their partner. Try not to talk about their relationship with them, but also be supportive and listen if they need an ear to vent to. The bottom line is that who they date is their decision, and you can only offer advice. Don't be pushy.
