Cupid's Advice:

New relationships can be exciting, but also a little scary. Jumping into a partnership takes a little bit of courage. Cupid is here to help with some dating advice:

1. Ask questions: Since you know little to nothing about the person at the start of a relationship (unless they're your friend first), ask lots of questions on the first date. It's important to know things about your partner, but also to see that you are compatible. If he's going on and on about topics that don't interest you, it's best to be aware from the start.

2. Go on dates: Try out different hot spots and restaurants at the start of your relationship. See which activities excite your partner and which you wouldn't try again. It's a great way to see if he's spontaneous or if he's more routine oriented.

3. Tell it like it is: Be outright when it comes to what you like, too. Don't just nod and agree with everything he says, but put in your two cents. If he won't let you share your opinions, it's not going to be a fun run.
