Cupid's Advice:

It's that time of year again! The holidays are in full force, and with that comes holiday outings. Your family will most likely expect to see you this year, but you also want to spend time with the person you love. An easy solution to this predicament is to invite your partner to your home, however, keep in mind that this should be done with care. Let Cupid help you figure out if it's the right time bring your loved one home for the holidays:

1. Consider the timing: Before you invite your loved one to your house for the holidays, you need to think of how long you've been together. Will your family appreciate this new addition to their gathering? Also make sure you've given your partner enough notice so they can figure out their plans, you could be pulling them away from their family's festivities.

2. Let your family know: Surprises are nice and all, but most people don't enjoy having surprise visitors at their doorstep. Be considerate and let your family know you want to invite your loved one well before the holidays. Especially if you're not the head of the household. You want everyone to feel as comfortable as possible.
